LOCKER ROOMS AT RIS PARK MADE LARGER

Facilities at Queens Beach Playground Extended to Handle Crowds

A modernized beach bathhouse at Rockaway Park is to be built by Park Commissioner Moses A. Riis. It is located on the beach, according to a news release issued by the Park Department.

The new building, to be built of concrete, will be equipped with showers, lockers, and rest rooms. It will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily during the summer season.

The work is expected to be completed by the end of the month.
