World's Fair Parking Plan Hit

A plan to use a large section of the proposed land for parking purposes has been announced for the 1963 World's Fair site today in Flushing. None of the proposed land has been used for anything since the proposal was made some months ago. The tract is bounded roughly by Main and Lawrence streets and Crescent, Delta and Eider avenues.

The COTEY CONSCIOUS Government of Greater Flushing has moved果断ly to protect the area for parking in connection with the fair. The tract was acquired by the city government last year under the 1928 law authorizing the purchase of land for public purposes. The tract is on the corner of Main and Crescent streets, a few blocks south of the fair grounds, and will become available when Assistant District Attorney Arthur Walsh and Robert McCarthy arrive at 58-34 192nd street, Flushing. The tract is zoned for commercial use, but is now used as a parking lot.
