EASTERN ISLAND
PLACE OF EXILE FOR 'UPRISERS'

Committee in Chile New Proposes Rule to United States.

Eastern Island, in the Pacific Ocean, was frequently visited by a group of men who, in 1895, had been sentenced to death in the United States. They were later pardoned and sent back to their homeland, but they refused to leave the island and were exiled there. The United States government has now proposed to impose a new rule that would prevent such a situation from occurring in the future.
