How World Saw Malcolm X's Death

(Amsterdam News Special Summary)

The assassination of Malcolm X has produced various reactions around the world, ranging from a single column item in Moscow, in coverage as one of the year's biggest crime stories in London, to the possible adoption of the slain black nationalist to the status of a minor martyr in some African nations, notably Algeria and Nigeria.

All in all, however, the assassination touched but a fraction of the worldwide effects of international agencies, as part of its contribution to the process of transformation and integration in this post-World War II period.

Underwood, Catherine

1018 Prospect Avenue, corner 165th St.

Catherine Underwood, 70, of Prospect Avenue, was buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn, following services at Bronx Union Chapel.

She was a member of the New York Mission of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the New York branch of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Vardino, Johnny

1018 Prospect Avenue, corner 165th St.

Johnny Vardino, 42, of Prospect Avenue, was buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn, following services at the Bronx Union Chapel.

Splinter of wood

A splinter of wood, which wounded an eye, was removed yesterday from the head of a Negro, aged 75, at 1018 Prospect Avenue, home of a Negro woman, aged 65, who was struck by a vehicle yesterday.

Mrs. Lester Granger Dies After Long Illness

Funeral services for Mrs. Granger will be held at St. John's Church, where she was a member of the St. John's choir. She died at 1018 Prospect Avenue, where she had resided for many years.

Mrs. Granger was a native of Oklahoma City, Okla., and had lived in the New York City area for many years.

Mrs. Granger was buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn, following services at the Bronx Union Chapel.