Vincent refuses allegations

By PETER NOEL
Amsterdam News Staff

Charles Vincent, head of C.A.V. Enterprises has refuted allegations that he no longer has financial clout over the operation of a building on West 125 Street.

Mr. Vincent denied reports that the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Bank has foreclosed on the first floor had taken over the building.

"The bank is not the owner. It only handles all the mortgages. Nowhere will you find any instrument showing anyone as owner of the building other than the C.A.V. Enterprises," Mr. Vincent said.

Mr. Vincent also said that he closed the second floor, which housed Vincent's Place cafe, because "it was not a profitable floor." But according to Miss Vivian Doldron, Banquet Manager at C.A.V. Enterprises, she is honoring all banquet, catering and disco functions previously contracted with her department.

"Some people are concerned about their duties with a militant honesty at last week's Memorial Day service held at Grants Tomb in Manhattan. (Correen Simpson Photo)

Bedford murder suspect's wife released

The release of the wife of one of the four suspects in the recent upstate Bedford murder case was ordered today (Thursday) for further hearings. The release of the wife of one of the four suspects was ordered today (Thursday) for further hearings.

Bedford murder suspects in the recent upstate Bedford murder case were held in $100,000 bail pending further hearings.

The release of the wife of one of the four suspects was ordered today (Thursday) for further hearings. The release of the wife of one of the four suspects was ordered today (Thursday) for further hearings.

The release of the wife of one of the four suspects was ordered today (Thursday) for further hearings. The release of the wife of one of the four suspects was ordered today (Thursday) for further hearings.

Death over dog

Mrs. Dolores (Red) C. Peartree who was stabbed to death during an argument over a dog was buried in Calverton National Cemetery on Long Island. She is survived by her husband and sons. The police are still seeking the killer.