Development of City's Great Harbor, Jamaica Bay, To Be Pushed by Owners of Large Waterfront Tract

An announcement of intentions to push development of City's Great Harbor, Jamaica Bay, by the owners of large waterfront tracts, was made recently by the officials of the Large Waterfront Tract Company. They stated that a large tract of land along the waterfront in Rockaway has been purchased for the purpose of development. The tracts are located near the southern end of the Rockaway peninsula, where the proposed harbor will be constructed. The company plans to develop the land into a beautiful residential suburb, with streets, parks, and other amenities. The project is expected to be completed within the next few years, and will provide a new residential area for New York City.
