President Warns Congress Soviet Leaders Out "To Take Over World, Step By Step"

IKE in France after flying from Washington

New Navy Building Program Outline in $2 Billion Bill

Washington, D.C. — Navy shipbuilding programs and more defense strength were outlined today by Secretary of the Navy Forrest P. Sherman. Mr. Sherman, in a speech delivered at the National Press Club yesterday, said the Navy would build 33,000 vessels over the next 20 years for the United States and its allies.

In addition to the present 20,000-ship Navy, Mr. Sherman said, the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.

Mr. Sherman also announced that the Navy would build a new fleet of 10,000 ships, including 2,000 destroyers and 1,000 aircraft carriers. The new fleet would cost $2 billion and would be ready for service by 1953.