HERE'S THE JFK HOSPITAL

LINDSAY WANTS INDUSTRIAL PARK AT OLD NAVY YARD

Will Mean Thousands of Jobs

The Brooklyn Navy Yard which was closed less than two weeks ago may soon request an end to flacks who see the site as "a battlefield among American hospitals." Planned for the site is new development. "But we are not the only ones interested," said Dr. Lee H. Norden, superintendent. The "battle" involves medical insurance benefits. About 75 children attended the Navy Yard's annual open house.

HOSPITAL COMMITTEE STILL MOVES AHEAD

The impresario, much-adored, John F. Kennedy Memorial Center took shape this week under the pen and brush of an artist as the JFK Committee expects to make "modest progress inward making the center a reality,"

FAREWELL PAL PARTY

The PAL of the 92nd precinct on Bushwick ave. held a farewell party for the former station attorney, James P. Hanley, held a farewell party for the former station attorney, James P. Hanley.
