Schaus Tells Rotary Of Greater Potential For Community Service

Arthur Schaus, a renowned figure in the business and civic life of Queens, spoke to the Woodhaven Rotary Club about the potential for community service.

Schaus, a Rotarian and former Mayor of Queens, highlighted the benefits of Rotary and its many programs. He emphasized the importance of community involvement and the need for Rotarians to take an active role in making a difference.

Schaus discussed the many opportunities available for community service, from supporting local schools and hospitals to international projects. He encouraged Rotarians to use their skills and resources to make a positive impact.

He also spoke about the importance of Rotary's international programs, such as the club's support of Rotary's new member of the Richmond Hill High School, and the need for continued involvement in community service.

In conclusion, Schaus urged Rotarians to recognize the potential for community service and to take an active role in making a difference in their communities. He concluded his speech by thanking the Woodhaven Rotary Club for the warm welcome they gave him.
