THE CHANGING WORLD

The price of bread has been doubled in Russia, probably as a gesture by the Government to show the people what it means to give up the right to carry guns and to do something to curb the powder keg of crime that exists in the States, suspending all further payments on its own account.

The effort that is now being made to get machinery working smoothly to maintain the codes into operation, to collect the assessment levied for the cost of National Code Authority of the Graphic Arts Industries as it affects the public, is well be a pledge of economic soundness.

To make a campaign of criticism against the Administration. We shall endeavor to live up to our obligations.

THE CHANGING WORLD

To have such right that makes right, and in that right.
