EUROPE.
A Partial Reaction in Favor of Grevy—Social Security Disturbed at Berlin—The American Homicide in London—Etc.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—Paul Deroulede had an interview with President Grevy last evening, in the course of which he disclosed the nature of the alleged Russian objection to M. Ferry becoming president. He said the grave and critical position of home affairs requires that he (Grevy) should retain his post, for there is sure to be an insurrection, if Ferry is elected. M. Deroulede apologized for his recent hostility to President Grevy, which he told him was occasioned by the expulsion of Gen. Boulanger from the war office.

M. Grevy denied that he had done anything underhand against Gen. Boulanger. La Lanterne accuses the Ferryists of offering bribes right and left. The paper appeals to President Grevy to remain in office to save France. The latest in regard to the situation is, that all efforts to induce President Grevy to remain in office have proved useless.

A LEADING TOPIC AT BERLIN.

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—The holding of a meeting at Court Chaplain Stoecker's residence to discuss the [illegible] question has caused a sensation among cathedral [illegible]. Doctors Koegel and Frommel were among those present. According to the Post, Count Waldersee wrote:

"The meeting is intended to produce a closer connection among the conservative elements in church affairs for the pecuniary support of the mission of the town church of Berlin, whose head is Doctor Stoecker; because this spiritual province by Doctor Stoecker is the only effective means against anarchistic and revolutionary tendencies."

SO DOHERTY, TOO, IS AN AMERICAN.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A coroner's jury has brought in a verdict of manslaughter against [illegible], of Philadelphia, United States, for shooting George E. Graham, of Rochester, N. Y. The police say that next Monday the case will go to the jury as one of murder, because there were two shots fired by Doherty and both could not have been accidental, as the coroner's jury seemed to think.

A SCRIMMAGE WITH STUDENTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 1.—The police yesterday raided a lodging house in the Peski quarter, occupied by students who were supposed to be nihilists. A desperate resistance was made and many persons were wounded.

A CHANGE OF RIFLES.

SOFIA, Dec. 1.—The Bulgarian government has adopted the eight millimetre repeating rifle, with slight modifications.

MORE FROM FRANCE.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The Official Gazette at noon today, published the withdrawal of the resignation of the Rouvier cabinet. The withdrawal was made at the request of President Grevy.

The Journal des Debats advocates the election of M. Ferry to the presidency. The party of the right has resolved not to support any republican candidate. Gen. Ferron, minister of war in the Rouvier cabinet, has been appointed a grand officer of the legion of honor. Threats have been made of a revolutionary demonstration in front of the chamber of deputies today, but they are not regarded as serious. Extensive military and police precautions have been taken, however, to guard against an outbreak.

SHEEHY ARRESTED AT LAST.

DUBLIN, Dec. 1.—Mr. Sheehy, an Irish member of parliament, has been arrested, and is now in the Sligo prison. He will be brought before the court at French Park, county Roscommon, for examination, on the 15th inst.

EARTHQUAKE IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A shock of earthquake was felt at Chorley, county of Lancaster, at seven o'clock this morning. A rumbling noise accompanied the shock. Buildings shook and the people left their houses greatly frightened.

DISSENTING KNIGHTS.
They Keep on Flourishing their Standard of Revolt, at Their Chicago Headquarters.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The Tribune of this morning says: "The chief movers in the attempt to organize another order of the Knights of Labor issued a circular, addressed 'to the local assemblies of the Knights of Labor' in Cook county, requesting the local assemblies to co-operate in re-organizing the order on an honest and [illegible] basis."

The plan of action is, that each assembly shall refuse to pay further tribute to the general treasury, unless an itemized account of the receipts and expenditures of the general assembly be presented to the local assemblies. This circular is sent out from the headquarters of the so-called "provisional committee," of which Charles F. Seib is secretary.

The committee say they wish to sever their connection with the order as at present established, because of their "indignation at the usurpation of powers, the gross violation of the law of justice to one's neighbor by those high in authority." The committee say further that they are utterly disgusted with those whose loyalty to the present ring, has been gained by the privilege they are able to get as a reward for their services as fawning sycophants, who crawl on their knees in slavish submission to the most corrupt, the most hypocritical, the most aristocratic and tyrannical clique that ever controlled a labor organization.

Following this, all sorts of charges are made against the general officers and general assembly, similar to those set forth at the time these "kickers," as they are called, first made their revolt against the general assembly, directly after the adjournment of its annual convention at Minneapolis, a few weeks ago.

A Wedding Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—A well dressed couple crossed the Delaware river from this city last night and drove to the residence of Rev. J. W. Bagley, pastor of Tabernacle church, on Broadway, at Camden. The clergyman noticed that the couple were plainly dressed and that they seemed very nervous and anxious for the marriage ceremony to be performed. The groom was a fine-looking man, but the bride's features were concealed by a heavy veil.

Mr. Bagley took out the certificate book and began asking the usual questions. The groom gave his name as Joseph H. Rice, 26 years of age, an Englishman by birth, now living at Overbrook, Pa., his occupation that of taking care of horses.

The bride gave her name as Emma Pye, 20 years old, living also at Overbrook, employed at the same place with her intended husband. These were satisfactory, but Rev. Mr. Bagley had his suspicion aroused by the woman keeping her veil down. He requested them to stand before him in order that he might declare them husband and wife. But before beginning the final ceremony he asked the bride to remove her veil.

This she declined to do, and Mr. Bagley said he would not perform the ceremony until she did so. She still objected, when the reverend gentleman drew away the veil suddenly himself. To his astonishment he discovered that her face was still covered by a gauze mask. Mr. Bagley was indignant and quickly tore the mask from the woman's face, disclosing the face of an unusually black negro woman. He then directed the couple to leave the house, which they did, having made no satisfactory progress toward matrimony, by their attempted ruse.

A Mother Saves a Child—The Father Leaves One to Perish.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Fire broke out at 5 o'clock this morning in a tailor shop on the first floor of the five-story tenement house, No. 346 West 43d street, and spread so rapidly that the eight families living in it were driven from the house before they could save any of their property.

Mrs. Jacobs, on the third floor, escaped from the house with her youngest child, a three-year old boy, in her arms. Her husband followed, leaving behind him their elder child, Joseph, five years old, who was burned to death. Mr. Jacobs says that in his excitement he forgot the boy. The house was completely burned out, only the walls being left. Loss $20,000, insurance $6,000.

Striking Seamen Use Dynamite.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Business at San Diego and other southern California ports is affected by the attitude of the coast seamen's union toward vessel owners. The old fight for higher wages and the right to dictate rules, as to crews, etc., is what is the matter, and as it is now renewed with vigor, the union has resorted to force, in southern California ports.

Some one at San Diego, on Monday night, threw a dynamite bomb against a three-masted schooner that had been boycotted by the seamen, smashing a hole in her side. The officers of the union boldly declare that they understand the manufacture and use of dynamite, and will use their knowledge in the fight against the ship-owners.

Crazy or Other Anarchists.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 1.—A crazy German, supposed to be John Schwartz, has been arrested at Lima. He raves continually of the anarchists and says he will "make it hot" for Gov. Oglesby and "all men who have blood on their hands will have trouble." Before his arrest he was engaged in a protracted search for President Cleveland. He threatened to kill the chief magistrate before he was locked up, unless the president would "give up his crown and come down from the throne." The man will be taken to the insane asylum.

A Blaze in a Cold Spot.

DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 1.—Fire early this morning in the Metropolitan block damaged the building slightly, while water damaged the dry goods stock of J. Farnsworth to the extent of $10,000 and the contents of some lawyers' offices $6,000. The Duluth press club rooms were flooded. The losses are covered by insurance.

TOPICS AT WASHINGTON.
The Vacant Land Commissionership—The Proposed Government Telegraph—November Revenue—Democratic Caucus—Etc.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—It is reported that Judge Daniel M. Browning, of southern Illinois, will be selected by the president to succeed General Sparks as commissioner of public lands.

A growing and general sentiment in favor of a government postal telegraph is observable among returning congressmen of both parties and of both houses, and the Edmunds bill providing for the establishment of an independent government telegraph system, without any connection with existing lines, is evidently favored by a majority of those who are friendly to the idea in general. The president and the postmaster-general, it is understood, also regard the idea with favor, and perhaps, without directly recommending it, will undoubtedly call the attention of congress to the matter, and present it in a friendly aspect.

The promoters of a postal telegraph argue that it would cheapen telegraphing for the public, remove the dangers arising from an overwhelming monopoly, and increase the revenues of the government to such an extent as to render the postal system self-supporting, and provide a large income for the government, over and above the expenditures. It is certain that a strong effort will be made in this direction in the fiftieth congress.

THE GOVERNMENT REVENUES

from all sources during the month of November, amounted to about $30,500,000, being an average of a little more than $1,000,000 a day. The disbursements during the month were unusually heavy, and nearly equaled the receipts. Over $18,000,000 were paid out on account of pensions. It is estimated at the treasury department that there has been an increase of nearly $1,000,000 in the public debt during November.

A DEMOCRATIC QUARREL.

The correspondence between Hon. C. R. Breckenridge and Captain Samuel Donelson, doorkeeper of the house of representatives, growing out of the canvass of the latter for re-election, is made public. Bishop Ryan takes with him an illuminated address from the clergy of the diocese of Buffalo, a beautiful work of art, tastefully decorated and hand-painted. CAN'T GO A STEP FARTHER.
Mrs. Rooney's Offspring Draws the Line at Number Four.

HOBOKEN, MO., Dec. 1.—The marriage of Mrs. Thomas Rooney, a four weeks' widow, to Frank Hall, took place on Tuesday last. Yesterday, Hall and his wife returned from their wedding trip and were about to enter the house, when Mrs. Hall's two sons came from the door armed with shot guns, and ordered Hall to leave the place.

He left; but last night he returned to the house of his bride, and was greeted by a volley of buck shot; one or two of the shot entered his arm. So he hastily retired and went to the house of the eldest son, to endeavor to have him pacify the younger ones [illegible] of his new family; but his reception there was no better; he found a revolver presented at his head. He was ordered to leave, and did so.

This is Mrs. Rooney's fourth matrimonial venture, and her children by her former three husbands object to their latest step father.

SHARP IS OUT ON BAIL
He Changes His Quarters at Ludlow Street Jail for the Comforts of His Home—Bonds for $40,000 Given.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Jacob Sharp was taken from Ludlow street jail this morning, and brought down in a carriage to the county court-house. He was accompanied by Ward McKeating, Sharp's grandson and another relative.

Sharp was warmly wrapped up and appeared to be a very sick man. He has changed greatly in his appearance since the trial, is feeble and cannot walk without assistance. The warden and a deputy sheriff almost carried him from the [illegible] to the office of Sheriff Grant. There he was met by his counsel.

The order granting a new trial was settled before Judge Barrett, and by mutual agreement between District Attorney Martine and Mr. Bourke Cockran, counsel for Sharp, it was decided that Sharp's bond should be fixed at $40,000. The district attorney had agreed to make no opposition to the application for his admission to bail.

The bond was prepared, Isaac Hendrix and George Stoppard each justifying in the sum named. Sharp was then discharged and was helped into his carriage and driven to his house, where Mrs. Sharp and his family had arranged things for his comfort.

DOWN IN FORTY MINUTES
Rapid Destruction by Fire of a Great Lithographing Establishment.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—The whole fire department was called out at one o'clock this morning to the Strobridge lithograph company's building on the corner of East and Canal streets. In forty minutes the walls fell in, and the ruin of the building was complete.

The loss is a difficult thing to state, at this time, as there are many different accounts of expenditure to reckon upon in forming an estimate. Some who know, in a general way, what such a building, with its probable contents, should be worth, place the figures at $250,000, while others say half a million would be nearer the correct amount of loss. There is an insurance of $100,000, divided among forty companies. The company has offices in New York and London, but all their work is done here.

The building was a fine structure, five stories in height and fronting over a hundred feet on the north side of Canal street. It was filled with costly machinery, including fifteen lithographic presses, its stock of paper and the amount of finished and partly finished work was very large, estimated to be worth nearly $100,000.

Most of the winter's work for theatrical companies was finished, but a large portion was still in the building, and a number of theatrical companies will be without the material properly to bill their plays.

The scene during the fire was startling. The height of the building, the combustibility of its contents and the substantial style of its structure, seemed to make the fire fierce, and it burned floor after floor, and the falling of the heavy lithographic stones [illegible] like the discharge of a battery. Later the falling of the walls sent sheets of flame and showers of sparks high into the air. During this part of the catastrophe, a fireman, John Shale, who was on a ladder, thirty-five feet from the ground, missed his footing and fell to the ground. He was taken to the hospital and his injuries may be fatal.

The business was probably the largest of its kind in the world. One hundred and twenty-five men were employed. The building was supposed to be fire proof.

James Barclay, printer, and the Halstead stocking company were tenants of the building. Their loss will be $10,000 each.

The loss to the lithographing company is now estimated at $300,000. The insurance is $150,000 instead of $100,000, as at first stated.

Shoe Manufacturers Combine.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—An important secret meeting has been held in this city, in which shoe manufacturers participated from several of the centres for that trade in the United States, including Rochester, Newark, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and New York. It was the second secret meeting held for the purpose of reorganizing all the local shoe associations into a National league. At the third meeting, which will be held here in about thirty days, it is expected all the preliminaries will be completed for the scheme of organization.

"It is said this step has been brought about by the frequent and expensive strikes in the shoe trade, several of which are in force now, brought about by the Knights of Labor. Several methods were considered at the secret meeting just mentioned, which, if adopted, the manufacturers think will do away with most of the annoyance incident to strikes in their trade.

"We will soon be able to meet the Knights of Labor on their own ground," one manufacturer said last night. "The shoe trade has been so harassed and annoyed with strikes that the time has come for action, and manufacturers everywhere seem ready to join with us in making a stand. The various plans presented at our meetings are now under consideration; any one of them will improve on the present situation, for ultimately all the shoe manufacturers of the United States will be united."

The reporter asked if a "shoe trust" was intended. The answer was:

"We don't know what scheme will be adopted; perhaps the trust plan may be the winning one, though I don't think so. It will in any case, organize capital against organized labor in some of its bearings."

And the manufacturer said he favored the organization of an insurance league of manufacturers. It would be heavily capitalized and every member could be insured against strikes. Aside from preventing loss, this plan would be of great benefit to employers, for it would lessen the influence of agitators.

GREVY CHANGES HIS MIND
An Extraordinary Reaction in His Favor, Making His Resignation Unnecessary.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—This is the day on which the senate and chamber of deputies were to be officially informed of the resignation of President Grevy. But the president this morning notified the ministerial council that in view of the change in the situation, he did not purpose to make a communication to parliament today.

M. Rouvier will announce this decision of M. Grevy to the chamber of deputies and will again tender the resignation of the cabinet. It is rumored this forenoon that the president finds himself able to form a new cabinet and thus carry on the government, in which case his resignation is not a supposable thing, after all.

SOME LIGHT BY WAY OF CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—A special dispatch from Paris to a newspaper here says it looks as if Clemenceau's efforts to "pull down the pillars of the temple" would be frustrated. The radicals, even fire-eaters like Rochefort, and obstructionists like de Renieds, have abandoned the conspiracy to overthrow Grevy under a pretense of wiping out a national shame. There is no longer any show at concealing the fact that the legion of honor scandal, with which Grevy's son-in-law's name was connected, was but a subterfuge for demanding Grevy's resignation.

The people of the interior of France are beginning to take a hand in the political situation, as they have rarely done before; the centres of rural population are for Grevy, and are pouring in protests against deposing him; and mayors and magistrates of interior cities are forwarding telegrams to their deputies saying that the persistence of the radicals will be the ruin of the republic, if their aims are attained. But the radicals at the capital, as already stated, have changed their policy and are now for Grevy's retention of his office. As the possibility of his being succeeded by Ferry seemed to grow, there were many besides the radicals who preferred holding to Grevy.

Eight regiments of cavalry are held in readiness at Versailles, and the streets have been placarded, in all directions, with posters which were torn down as fast as possible by the police. These read:

"People of Paris! The republic is in danger. The congress is about to name Grevy's successor. At Versailles there is a monstrous conspiracy to deliver the country to Ferry, the famine-breeder; to Ferry, the Tonquinist; to Ferry, the valet of Bismarck.

"Republicans of all shades! Socialists or revolutionists! Shall we allow such a crime to be perpetrated? No, a thousand times no! Blood must not flow recklessly; but we will shrink from no sacrifice to save France from being represented by the meanest of traitors.

"Citizens, let us be ready and watchful. The republic is in danger."

There was great excitement in the corridors of the chambers, where M. Mazor, director of Le Lanterne, and Henri Rochefort, declared that they would begin a campaign in Grevy's favor.

Alarmed by the support they had unwittingly given to Ferry, many who have been loudest in demanding the deposition of Grevy, now offer him their support. Clemenceau himself, disconcerted by the vision of ruin he had helped to prepare, humbles himself to support President Grevy.

THE FRENCH CONGRESS [illegible]

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The chamber of deputies met as usual, at noon. The house is to consider this letter. In the chamber, Mr. Rouvier, Grevy's premier, announced that the president had re-considered his decision to send a message to the chamber [illegible] his resignation, and therefore the cabinet had again resigned.

The announcement of the cabinet's persistence in resigning was greeted with cheers from the left. M. Picard, president of the left, moved a suspension of the sitting. This was objected to from all other quarters.

It was known all over the chamber that at the ministerial council this morning, President Grevy had told M. Rouvier that he believed public opinion was now in his favor, and that he could form a new cabinet.

The chamber of deputies took a recess until four o'clock.

It is reported that M. Floquet is trying to form a cabinet. The crowd in front of the parliament building is tremendous and increasing.

Occasionally they send up great shouts of "A bas Ferry." "Vive Grevy." The police manage to keep the crowd moving about, but they do not leave the square. Vehicles and passers-by have plenty of space kept clear for them.

The chamber reassembled at four o'clock, but a further recess was taken until six o'clock. The senate took a recess until eight o'clock.

Paul de Roulede addressed a section of the crowd outside the chamber and gave them a statement of the situation.

He was answered with shouts of "Vive Grevy," "Vive Boulanger," "Vive La Republique." The police then cleared the crowd, assisted by the guards republicaine, without resistance or disorder.

Base-Ball Reorganization.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The affairs of the defunct international base-ball league were wound up today, at a convention held at the Fifth avenue hotel. Only three clubs were represented namely: Wilkesbarre, Scranton and Newark.

It was determined to hold another meeting this afternoon for reorganization. Jersey City will then be represented. The present title will be changed and four other clubs admitted. There are a dozen or more applicants, among them Waterbury, Conn.; Allentown, Pa.; Elizabeth, N. J.; Harrisburg, Pa., Newark, N. J. There is some talk of increasing the number of clubs to twelve.

And Further Demands Coming?

FARM, MARKETS AND COMMERCE.

Watertown Wholesale Quotations.
Office of TIMES AND REFORMER,
Thursday, Dec. 1, 1887.

The offering of butter is a little light, but no one is complaining of a shortage. Prime fall stock is in good demand, however, and values remain steady.—Eggs are still very scarce and tending toward higher prices. A number of the trade were found short today, while the amount on hand is generally small.—There is no change in the movement or value of poultry. The market is amply supplied for present requirements.—Pork is in fair supply and working off at $6 per hundred, light hogs being preferred.—There was some addition in the beef supply today, but no noticeable change was made in values. It is now generally believed that there will be an abundance of beef this winter.—The potato market continues steady, with 70 cents the general market price. Two lots, aggregating 135 bushels, were sold to the trade in this city yesterday at 70 cents per bushel. The offering is generally light.

The market, however, is a little firmer. Current quotations are:

Large Hogs.

Mr. R. G. Lewis, the live member of Watertown, took in 2 dressed hogs yesterday that weighed just 645 pounds. The hog was raised by Mr. Royal Fuller. Mr. Lewis says it is about the heaviest hog he ever had in his shop. However, he thinks a few years ago he did have one that weighed something like 660 pounds.

Off for Clayton.

Mr. R. E. Hungerford, the produce dealer of Watertown, went to Clayton today. "Bert" says he don't read anything but the telegraphic reports in the TIMES. [illegible] the whole cheese trade that he reads this notice before the ink on the paper gets dry.

R. B. Miller, of Lowville, has bought 20 bales of hops of Charles Plopper at 10 cents per pound. F. K. Leonard of Lowville, is reported to have sold his crop, 22 bales, at the same price, and Russell Burdick 120 bales at 13 cents per pound.

The Stock of Cheese.

The stock of cheese now in store at New York, is estimated at 150,000 to 165,000 boxes, but the majority seem inclined to believe that the amount actually on hand does not greatly exceed 140,000 boxes, though there is believed to be a larger quantity in the country than last year. Through a private letter just received from responsible parties we learn that the shipments from Canada during September, October and November were 468,000 boxes against 527,000 boxes same period last year, and the excess of exports to September 1st was about 200,000 boxes. They estimate stocks at 80,000 boxes for Montreal, 80,000 boxes in country east of Toronto and 150,000 boxes west of Toronto; a total of 310,000 boxes. Last year, from the close of navigation until 30th of April, Canada shipped 225,000 boxes, and on the assumption that the above estimate is correct, there will be about the same quantity to go forward this season.

The Western Combinations.

BUFFALO, Dec. 1.—Only three of these combinations were represented Tuesday at the Beesler house cheese sale. The agent of the Wyoming was present and offered 1,300 boxes of August, September and October make, but receiving no bid, withdrew them. Marshfield and Cloverfield combinations offered 1,200 boxes each, but buyers bid only 10¾ cents, and they refused to sell.

This is their last offering of October cheese, and each combination has 1,300 of November make on hand. Last week Litchfield sold 600 boxes of October make at 11 cents; Ellington, 800 boxes at 11⅞ cents.
