FOR BACHELORS TO READ.

Latest Version of Old Roads to the Happy State of Matrimony.

From year to year bridal lore changes slightly, and brides continue superstitious enough to believe in anything handed out by so-called oracles. Here is the latest version of old roads to connubial bliss:

January bride—Prudent housekeeper and sweet-tempered.

February — Affectionate wife and tender mother.

March — Frivolous chatterbox and given to quarreling.

April — Inconstant, not intelligent, fairly good-looking.

May—Handsome, amiable, and a happy disposition.

June—Impetuous and generous.

July—Pretty, smart and quick-tempered.

August—Amiable and practical.

September — Discreet, affable and much liked.

October—Pretty, coquettish and jealous.

November—Liberal and kind, but of a wild disposition.

December—Well proportioned, fond of novelty, entertaining and extravagant.

It is unlikely that any tried, true and sensible bachelor can be persuaded to choose an ugly old maid for a partner because of a belief that if they marry in May she will be "handsome, amiable and of a happy disposition."

MAKES HIM THINK OF HOME

Negro Woman Servant Causes Turkish Minister to Astonish Guests.

When the first Turkish minister, Mele Mele, came to Washington a grand ball was planned in his honor. Hundreds of invitations were sent out and nearly everybody who received one came, for there was much curiosity to see the important Turk in his native dress.

Particularly were persons anxious to examine the splendid dress turban which had been described and talked about, made, as it was, of plaster of paris, yet looking like the finest muslin. When the evening arrived Mele Mele seemed to be the only one who was not having a good time. He stood looking as if he did not know that everybody was admiring him and altogether was very much bored till suddenly he caught a glimpse of a big negro woman who was assisting in serving the supper.

Instantly he rushed up to her, and, throwing his arms about her neck gave her a good kiss, explaining that he could not help it, she reminded him so much of his best and most expensive wife, and while the company thought it a very odd thing to do, everybody could understand that he was a homesick man and nobody minded it in the least.

LEAN-TO OF GOTHAMITES.

New Yorkers Bound to Prop Against Something When They Stop in the Street to Talk.

"I wonder," said the man from Minnesota, "why so many New York people have the lean-to habit? It makes them look very queer. When in motion their bodies lean backward or forward or sideways like an animated inclined plane, and when they are in repose they flop still worse.

"No matter where you stop to talk to a New York man, he is bound to lean against something. In stores he leans against counters, in saloons he braces himself up against the bar, in hotels the pillars and chairs contribute to his support, in restaurants he leans on the table, and in the street against the walls of projecting buildings. And the women are just as bad as the men. Nobody seems to have spunk enough to stand up straight.

"Perhaps the people here are tired, or it may be that they are seeking a graceful pose. At any rate, they flop on all occasions. The proprietors of some of the shops evidently deprecate the universal tendency to lean against something, and wish to discourage it, for they have distributed signs about the stores warning customers not to lean on the counters, but, so far as I can see, these notices are only a bluff. At any rate, New Yorkers don't heed them; they keep on leaning just the same."

Diamond Drills Needed.

"Warmth and softness will never melt a girl's heart," sighed the young man who had tried to make an impression on a young lady by saying sweet things.

"I should say not," replied the chap who had been jilted and learned by experience. "It is hardness and coldness that melts their hearts—diamonds and ice cream."—Stray Stories.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Frank I. Henderson, Said to be from Watertown, in Canton Jail for Alleged Theft of Express Money Orders at Massena.

Ogdensburg, March 23.—Frank Irving Henderson of Watertown is being held at the county jail for the alleged theft of express money orders which for a time caused several Massena people much embarrassment. Henderson worked at the St. Lawrence Inn, Massena, during December. One night the Massena agent for the American Express Company took some mail to the hotel to go out on the early train. One letter contained $14* in money orders made out to the order of T. K. O'Keefe, an Oswego liquor dealer.

A couple of months elapsed before the theft of the letter became known. O'Keefe had begun to investigate the failure of the express company to turn the money or report failure to deliver the goods. Then it was found that the orders had been cashed and were in the possession of the express company cancelled as paid. The orders were, it is alleged, finally traced to Henderson. Three of them had been cashed at a Watertown bank and the other at the express company's office in Syracuse.

Henderson was found in the Military School at Manlius, where he was employed as a cook. He waived examination when arraigned at Massena and was taken to Canton to await trial.

OBITUARY.

Funeral of Chauncey Patterson.

The funeral of Chauncey Patterson was largely attended from the home, 15 Mullin street, at 2 this afternoon, Rev. C. L. Peck officiating. A quartet from the State street Methodist Episcopal church rendered hymns. Among the floral pieces were a large wreath on an easel from the Agricultural Insurance Co., and one from the Exempt Firemen's association, of which Mr. Patterson was a member. The officers of the Agricultural and members of the Exempt Firemen attended in a body. The bearers were W. H. Stevens, L. F. Phillips, H. W. Steele and James S. Boyer. Burial was made at Brookside.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Transactions in Beeves, Veals, Sheep and Hogs.

New York, March 23.—Beeves receipts 47[illegible]. Good medium and light steers steady, others slow and 10c @ 15c off. Four cars unsold, bulls firm. Medium and common cows steady, fat cows strong. Steers $4.95 @ 5.78½; oxen 4.5[illegible]; bulls 2.25 @ 4.6[illegible], cows 2.1[illegible] @ 4.2[illegible].

Calves receipts 175, steady and prime heavy firm, all sold. Common to prime veals 4.00 @ 9.00, few choice 9.50. Dressed calves strong, city dressed veals 9 @ 13½ per lb., country dressed 8 @ 11½.

Sheep and lambs receipts 3,150. Sheep nominal, very little inquiry for lambs. 8 cars held over. Medium to good lambs 7 @ 7.40, choice natives would sell at 7.50 or upwards, but none here.

Hogs receipts 4,073 head; market steady; good state hogs sold at 7.00.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

J. O. DeFrank, formerly proprietor of the Lincoln resturant, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by C. V. Burroughs, charging him with grand larceny in selling mortgaged property. The case was set down for trial at 3 tomorrow afternoon.

THE SPAS OF CALIFORNIA.

Matter of Economic Interest to Americans Who Go Abroad for Their Health.

The spas of Europe are a vast source of profit to the countries in which they are situated. In these Meccas of the healthless are annually spent millions upon millions of dollars which rent to the enrichment, not only of landlords and tradesmen, but, more or less, of the whole resident population. It is, therefore, says the San Francisco Argonaut, a matter not alone of medical but of economic interest that, in the opinion of Dr. Simon Baruch, a distinguished practitioner in hydrotherapy, who is now within the borders of the state, there are "springs in California, the waters of which rival in curative powers, those of Baden-Baden, Bad-Nauheim, Carlsbad, Cannes, and many other famous springs in Europe." As is well known, particularly such affections as rheumatism, gout and nervous disorders yield to hydrotherapic treatment, and while the human mind is so constituted that remote and expensive cures are more highly considered than near and inexpensive ones, it is certainly to be hoped that California springs will shortly have a place in the cure of these and other diseases, such as, in the opinion of Dr. Baruch, they deserve to have.

Swedes in Finland.

A Finland correspondent writes: "It is not generally known that the Swedes in Finland form a large proportion of the population, there being about 400,000 of these in a total of 2,590,000. The Swedes—or more correctly Finlanders whose mother tongue is Swedish—are mostly farmers or workers on the land, only 25 per cent of them inhabiting towns. During the craze known as 'Fenno-mania' many Swedes changed their Swedish family names for Finnish ones, like their national hero Georg Forsman, who died as Irjo Koskinen. Of the 2[illegible] newspapers published in Finland 81 are printed in Swedish."

MOTOR-CAR MECHANISM.

Propulsive Power Is Obtained Through the Process of Explosion.

The working principle of the motor which has given the automobile this wonderful new life is, roughly, the principle of the rifle, says the American Illustrated Magazine. The charge of gas is the equivalent of the gunpowder, and the piston is the bullet; the gas is exploded and the piston flies forward, and the piston rod delivers its motion to the crank shaft of the steam engine. In the steam engine the steam works against both sides of the piston; in two revolutions of the flywheel the steam presses against the piston four times. In the explosion engine, according to the prevailing system, the gas operates against only one side of the piston (the end of the cylinder through which the piston rod works is completely open), and there is an explosion but once in two revolutions of the flywheel—that is, there is but a single explosion to four movements of the piston. Those four movements are the power stroke (caused by the explosion in the cylinder), which supplies the energy to drive the automobile and the force required to complete the three non-power strokes; second, a backward stroke which pushes the exploded gases out of the chamber through a valve which opens for this purpose; third, a forward stroke which sucks the charge of gas into the chamber through an inlet valve, and, fourth, a backward stroke which compresses the gas, for compression is necessary to secure the best energy of the gas. The fifth stroke is the first stroke over again—the gas explodes and the piston shoots bulletlike forward.

THE STOCK MARKET.

New York, March 23.—Prices of the stocks most prominent in the market today opened generally lower, but a sprinkling of gains amongst specialties made the tone irregular. Amalgamated Copper fell ⅜ and Reading and United States Steel preferred ⅛. The transactions were small.

New York, March 23.—Noon—Strength developed among the trans-continental stocks and the entire list followed. The advance carried up Reading 2⅜, Central Railroad of New York and Great Northern preferred 2⅜, Sloss Sheffield Steel 2. The principal activity was in Reading. The demand subsided and prices slipped back, but there was no urgent selling pressure and prices rose to the best again at noon. Bonds were irregular.

New York, March 23.—2 p. m.—Improvement in the general list paused when Reading commenced to sag on profit taking. That stock went back a point. Little reflection of a rise of 6½ in Northwestern could be found in the other grain carriers although prices held well in view of the stagnation of the market.

NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET REVIEW.

Today's New York Commercial gives the following review of the produce market.

New York, Mar. 23

Butter.

The demand for fresh stock is fully equal to the supply, and with few exceptions buyers are obliged to pay outside figures for same. Receivers are complaining of continued liberal shipments to this market of old butter of medium quality. Stock of this description is selling slowly and in a wide range.

Cheese.

There is a notable absence of offerings of western cheese. Home traders show extreme confidence in their ability to move old cheese at full prices.

Eggs.

The downward tendency of the market continued yesterday, prices declining on western firsts and seconds and on fancy western.

Milk.

The price is 3 cents per quart on $1.51 per 40 quart can in the [illegible] zone.

Beans and Peas.

Pea beans were a shade firmer. Marrows and mediums were quiet.

Potatoes.

Stock was quiet in about the former range of prices. The demand for all sorts since the week opened has been restricted by difficulties of carting.

State and western bulk [illegible]

Hay and Straw.

The market was firm for hay with a good demand. Straw was dull and unchanged.
