THE OUTRAGE MILL.

The "Utica Herald" and "Watertown Times" have abandoned Grant, and turned their attention to the "bloody shirt" business. The alleged killing of six negroes at Hamburgh, South Carolina, recently, has gave them an opportunity to set their mill running, and they are now turning the cranks with a vigor that is truly wonderful, and that surpasses all their former efforts. They have no apologies to offer for Grant, nor any words of rebuke to offer to him for the course he is pursuing, and the injury he is doing his party. Nothing but the "bloody shirt." It is the same old song which they and papers of their kidney have sung on the eve of every presidential and gubernatorial election since the war closed.

These "outrages" always occur just at that time—soon after the opening of the campaign, and continue till after election, when they cease, and we hear nothing more from them till the next campaign opens, when they break out again with ten-fold fury; the mills being kept running night and day. No matter how often the stories of these outrages are denied and disapproved by reliable persons and papers, these journals persist in repeating them to their readers for no other purpose than that of stirring up and keeping alive the old feeling of hatred between the North and South, and never caring for the result, so long as the object they have in view—the election of their candidates, is accomplished.

This line of policy has been pursued by the party in power till it has lost them every Southern State but two, and they will shortly follow, unless a different course is followed.

South Carolina is largely Republican, so much so that the Democrats have made no nominations in several years, the blacks outnumbering the whites two to one, therefore it looks rather suspicious that these outrages should almost always happen in such a Republican stronghold, and always just before an election. They always occour, however, and are used for political effect by those and kindred journals generally with availability. They are available because nearly all the readers of those papers read no other, therefore they have no opportunity to see them contradicted. The intelligent readers, those who have an opportunity to read other papers, will disbelieve them, and they will only have an effect among the rabble, which is just the element they are calculated to influence.

It would be better, we think, if those papers which are turning the cranks of the outrage mills so industriously, would hand down their bloody shirt and devote a little more space to airing Grant and his whisky ring, of whom, just now they are making no mention. Such a course will win their party more votes than will all the outrage mills they have running.

Late News.

The Soldier's Home of the Grand Army of the Republic has been located at Bath, Steuben county.

The Senate has passed the bill extending the duration of the Alabama Claims court of January, 1877.

The House has passed a bill, granting $50 a month each to the father, mother and widow of the late General Custer.

There were 1,398 deaths in New York last week, against 856 of the previous week. The cause assigned is hot weather.

Tom Scott and Vanderbilt have informed the postmaster general that the fast mail trains will be discontinued Saturday, the 22d.

The New York Herald, always a weather cock, after pummeling Grant and the Republican party with all the ability it possessed, has gone into the bloody shirt business.

The House Committee report, in the matter of Robeson's Navy Department Corruption, that he ought to be impeached. Only honest officials are ousted now-a-days, therefore Robeson's chance to remain may be considered good.

Some of the Court Journals are making more noise and overflowing with with much more sympathy over the demise of half-a-dozen negroes at Hamburg, South Carolina, the other day, than they do over the loss of General Custer and his men.

IOWA CORRESPONDENCE.

CROP PROSPECTS—CENTENNIAL, POLITICS.

CLINTON, Iowa, Saturday, July 15, 1876.

EDS. HERALD:—Thinking that perhaps a few lines from Iowa might not be uninteresting to your readers, I concluded to write you concerning our condition and prospects in this State. The weather here has been rainy to a great extent since early in the Spring, and it is only lately that we have had very many warm days.

The farmers are anticipating a good crop of corn hereabouts, and oats are always good in eastern Iowa; wheat is way below the average, but is much better a little farther south. Fruit, of all kinds, is or has been abundant, especially cherries, black raspberries and black berries, which are very fine. During a trip from Clinton to St. Louis, and return, about two weeks ago, I saw but little good corn, but the small grain averaged well.

In regard to money, the times are scarcer here than they are with you, that is, as far as I can learn. There is considerable building going on in our city, and labor is in good demand, especially among mechanics. There is more business being done in Clinton now than ever before, notwithstanding the hard times, and our saw mills (of which we have eight) and grist mills are prospering finely.

Clinton celebrated the Fourth with considerable enthusiasm, and the night succeeding it "Old Boreas" contributed his share towards the demonstration in a terrible gale of wind, accompanied by rain which destroyed one half a million dollars worth of property, along the line of the Mississippi River in Eastern Iowa, to say nothing of the loss of life which in the aggregate was over fifty persons.

The Centennial has caused a great many citizens of this locality to pay a visit to the east this summer, and many more will go when cooler weather comes. Railroad fares are very cheap, and the only objection to going seems to be the idea of exhorbitant rates which will be charged after one arrives in Philadelphia.

I was very much surprised to see by the HERALD, that you did not celebrate the Fourth at home this year. Adams has always been enthusiastic every year, on Independence Day, ever since I can remember, and I should have supposed it would have celebrated this year above all others; but I imagine a large number went to Henderson where they had more patriotism. I had a programme in my mind's eye, which I was sure would be carried out in Adams this year, including the reading of the Declaration of Independence by T. T. Carter, Oration by H. W. Gunther, Fantasties under the command of Gen. S. P. Armsbury, with a foot-race by Jim Hungerford (the merchant) Charlie Jennings, "Lans" Kilby, and Charlie Snow. I told some of my friends that I thought the programme would be as above, and they said they did not care so much about anything else as the foot-race; and when we heard that it did not come off, they all came to me (Frank Whitney, Alden Searles, Alsom Hall, Hi. Hull and others), very much disappointed, and wanted me to ask Charlie Jennings what was the matter that the race was a failure, whether it was because Jennings was too much for Kilby, or because Charlie Snow got mad.

"The political cauldron has commenced to boil" in Iowa, and the interest is on the increase. Before the Conventions had selected the standard bearers for the respective parties, the feeling here among the Republicans was almost unanimous for Blaine, and among the Democrats for Tilden, and as it is both sides seem to be very well satisfied. Of course the state is conceded to the Republicans by 20 to 40,000 majority and the only fight will be on Congressmen. The Republicans of Iowa sent a solid delegation of 9 members to Congress in 1872 as they had done since 1860; in 1874 the Democrats sent one member from this State, and this year they hope to send two or three Democrats to represent Iowa in the National House. This Congressional district is very close, and there will be a great effort made here this fall; the Democrats have never been successful in this district, but came within 175 votes of it 4 years ago, when the Republican majority had been up to that time over 3,000. Last fall the Democrats elected every one of their nominees in this county at the state election, and are very confident at present.

Many here are watching with a great deal of interest to see which way the most of the Liberals. Independents and Germans will go, and without a doubt the position of the leaders of the Greeley movement will have no little effect on the many Germans of Iowa. The Chicago Times, which was founded by the supporters of the lamented Stephen A. Douglass, and which has a larger circulation and influence than any newspaper outside of New York city in the United States, and which has been independent and non-partisan since the war, has come out straight for Tilden, and its position will make a vast difference in the northwest, while ex-Senator Trumbull and Gen. John F. Farnsworth both formerly leading Republicans of Illinois have taken the same stand as the Times.

The general sentiment here is, that who ever wins we shall have a good president, and one who will be a 100 per cent. improvement on Grant, and so say I, and may the best man win, although in my opinion, it would doubtless be much better for the people at largest if Sam Tilden succeeds the sphinx who has been called president for the past eight years. My letter has become much longer than I intended when I commenced, and I must close or I take up too much of your valuable space. If agreeable, I will write to you again before many weeks, and in the meantime, I remain

Yours friend,
SWANHOPPER.

Fastest Stallion Time On Record

A splendid day, with the track in first class condition, and the horses likewise, produced great results, yesterday, at Belmont Park. The attendance, we are sorry to state, was limited to several hundred, but that "choice band" have every reason to congratulate themselves on being present at one of the finest exhibitions of speed and gameness it has been our fortune to witness for some time.

The occasion was a special trot between the stallion Smuggler and the famous Judge Fullerton. Both horses were in fine form, as is evinced by their not breaking once in the four heats, and were driven in the most brilliant manner. Charlie Marvin as usual held the reins over Smuggler, and Budd Doble did the honors for Judge Fullerton.

Smuggler won every heat except the second, which was declared "dead." Doble's skillfull management producing that result, when everyone felt that the stallion should have won.

Smuggler now stands champion of America, his successive heats of yesterday—2:17¼, 2:19, 2:17 and 2:20, being without a parallel. Previous to this performance, he divided the laurels with Mambrino Gift, both having a record of 2.20, the fastest stallion time on record up to yesterday.

The Judges, who gave entire satisfaction, were A. F. Gerald, of Maine; Wm. Johnston, of New York city and Rufus P. White, of Adams, Jefferson Co., N. Y.—Spirit of the Times.

S. R. Pratt, of the Carthage Republican, advertises his paper for sale in George P. Rowell & Co.'s Newspaper Reporter.

The Father Mathew Total Abstinence Society, of Watertown, will make an excursion to Henderson Harbor, July 27. The 35th Battalion Band will accompany the party.

Rodman has a Hynes and Wheeler club with the following named officers: President—George A. Gates; Vice President—Wm. R. Dean; 2d Vice President—Anson Miller; Secretary—James B. Lyon.

Fourteen carloads of excursionists from Utica visited the Thousand Islands on Tuesday. Two steamers were chartered to take them down the river from Clayton. The Thousand Island Park and Alexandria Bay were visited. Dinner was served at the Crossmon House.
