

Church of Christ

REV. F. MICHAEL EATON, Pastor

The Missionary Society will hold its executive meeting with Mrs. Halstead Friday, at 2:30. The ladies for the April and Easter meetings are requested to meet with the officers and division leaders.

The District Missionary Convention is to be held Friday, April 7 with the First Church of Christ, Auburn. There will be two sessions, afternoons beginning at 2:00 and evenings beginning at 7:00 and supper will be served. There will be a fine corps of speakers: Mrs. F. A. Higgins, state president; Mrs. D. J. Schneider, general secretary and Mrs. Eda T. Moore of St. Louis and A. E. Cory of New York City from the United Society. All who possibly can, should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these fine representatives of our Brotherhood.

April Missionary meetings will be held next Wednesday at 2:00 in the church parlors. There are only 3 more meetings in the missionary year in which to improve our record of attendance. All come!

Owing to illness several families were kept at home Sunday and there were only 68 in the Bible School. We missed the Terpenings, Bennetts, Adamases and several other families who usually come.

The Assistant Superintendent, Albert Slater, proved himself equal to his task and only one teacher was absent. Mrs. Slater was back after several weeks' illness. The Pastor had two fine sermons Sunday. Mrs. Knapp sang a solo in Bible School for the surprise.

Our hearts are saddened daily, at most hourly, by the serious illnesses and deaths among members of our congregation. Several have been out to see Mrs. Terpening who is recovering from an operation in the City Hospital at Auburn.

Mrs. Parker had been a member of this church about 68 years, and had passed the 67th anniversary of her marriage and she would have been 88 years old next month.

The Philathea Class held a most successful and enjoyable social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hopkins last week, Tuesday evening, and proved themselves fine entertainers. Success to them in all their undertakings. Miss Staub made an appeal to our Bible School to have a part in establishing a chair of Religious Education at Hiram College for the training of efficient religious leaders, as memorial for Jessie Brown Ponds, the sweet songster and writer of so many of our most beautiful and cherished hymns. We will do our part in this as in other things.

Practicing is already begun by the choir and various classes for the Easter exercise which will be given Easter Sunday.

Mrs. A. E. Counsell (From St. Johnsbury at Republican March 30)

Mrs. Counsell, a widow of Almus E. Counsell, former head of the A. E. Counsell and Son, died Saturday night at Brightlook hospital of pneumonia, following a week's illness. Stricken with the grip she was removed to the hospital for special care but pneumonia developed and the end came quickly. The funeral will be held at the home of her son, Merrick M. Counsell, Tuesday afternoon, with burial beside her husband in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Counsell had been a resident of St. Johnsbury for the past 11 years and in that time had won for herself many warm friends. She was quiet, reserved, a woman of various attainments, whose home was her sphere. She was a member of Grace Methodist Church and was connected with the Ladies Aid Society rendering effective assistance when strength permitted.

Lillian Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Palmer, was born in Hannibal, N. Y., October 28, 1884. She was carefully educated and taught in the schools of New York for a few years preceding her marriage. This took place in 1888 in Hannibal. Mr. Counsell came to St. Johnsbury in 1900 and was the successful head of the A. E. Counsell firm, distributors of farm machinery. Mrs. Counsell and their only son, Merrick M. Counsell, the present manager of the firm came to St. Johnsbury in 1911 the year Mr. Counsell completed his education in New York. He entered the firm and has continued the business since the death of his father in June, 1920. Mrs. Counsell is survived only by her son and two grandchildren, Merrick and Barbara Counsell.

William A. Allanson The death of William A. Allanson occurred Saturday night, following a brief illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Allanson was born on the homestead where he died 68 years ago and always lived in this vicinity where he was held in the highest esteem by many friends. For several years he was engaged in the furniture and undertaking business here but the most of his life was spent on the farm. He was past-master of Cato Lodge, F. & A. M., and one of the most loyal members of their order. He was a man of integrity and unfailing courtesy and a model citizen.

The near relatives left to mourn his demise are his widow, a son, Edward Allanson and a grandson, William Allanson.

The funeral was held from the house, Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Ralph DeKay officiating. The Masonic committal service was conducted by Rev. H. A. Sloane.

Grange Hall, Tomorrow Evening The popular farce, "Fun on the Pot-dunk Limited" will be presented in Grange Hall, tomorrow evening by the Dramatic Club of the Bennett Presbyterian Church. The cast is composed of 26 well known church and grange people and the show made a great hit at Bennett. The conductor colored porter, newlyweds, fat man, Chinaman, news-boy and eccentric characters provide no end of wholesome amusement. The price of admission is only 25 cents; children 15. The play will be followed by a hop

Grange Notes

At the meeting of Cato Grange Saturday evening, the Misses Barbara Haws and Edna Wells rendered two piano duets, Mrs. Leyburn read a poem, "You're Wealthy" and Mrs. Bales read an article giving the gist of the Capper-Voelstead bill recently enacted which will prove of great benefit to farmers connected with cooperative organizations.

Several good features are being arranged for the evening of April 5th. The grange will be called to order at 7:30 for a business session. Commencing at 8 o'clock there will be an open meeting for the lecturer's program, which opens with a community song led by Miss Grace Smith, the new Home Bureau manager. W. E. Davis, manager of the Farm Bureau and his new assistant, Carl O. Chamberlain, have accepted invitations to be present. An invitation has also been extended to Miss Ruth Timerson, violinist and Miss Marguerite Hager, pianist. Mrs. O. A. Bartlett will appear in a couple of impersonations in costume and a representative of the Columbian Rope Co. will exhibit a series of pictures showing how hemp is converted into twine and rope.

The final event of the evening will be a banquet tendered the ladies of the by the grange men. This is in charge of a committee composed of Loren Blake, S. E. Jewell, Philip Meachem and Floyd Easton. The dining room will be in charge of Overseer Roland O'Neil.

Oscar Hoyt

The death of Oscar Hoyt occurred at his home Tuesday, after a short illness due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Hoyt was born at Savannah, 97 years ago. Fifty-five years ago he was united in marriage to Josephine Elfridge of Butler, whose death occurred four months previous to that of her husband.

Mr. Hoyt was a veteran of the civil war, having enlisted as a private in Co. M. New York Vol. Engineers. He was honorably discharged in June 1865.

Beside a wide circle of friends those left to mourn his demise, are two daughters Mrs. Elmer Bennett and Mrs. Truman Barber, two granddaughters, Hazel and Lawrence Bennett.

The funeral in charge of Frank Briggs was held from the home Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. B. Sloane officiating, after which the remains were laid to rest in the family plot in Union Hill Cemetery.

Revelations by a Queen of the Underworld

A "Vamp" has come into such common use that it is being included in the new dictionaries, and why not when at least a third of the news of today is concerned with their activities. Ah! But there are all kinds of "Vamps"—ranging from the one who wrecks homes, lives and fortunes to the innocent little big eyed girl who practices the lure of her sophisticated sisters, merely to get a dance partner. In the New York Sunday American an amusing series of articles, the confessions of a professional "vamp"—Mrs. Margaret Hill, begins next Sunday. This young and attractive woman was in partnership with some of the ablest criminals in America. She had a wide acquaintance with other "vamps," and other collines of criminals, and her revelations of these newest and wickedest snare of the underworld may save some readers of these pages from falling into one of the traps she explains and exposes.

Ten Nights in a Barroom

"Ten Nights in a Barroom," at the Rialto Theater, April 6th. Hundreds and thousands of people have wept and laughed and thrilled over one of the best known stage plays of the last six decades. "Ten Nights in a Barroom." Now it has reached the films and thousands more will weep and laugh and thrill just as hard, if not harder, than those who saw "the speaking." For "Ten Nights in a Barroom," showing in the Rialto April 6th, has all the requirements for a regular oldtime melodrama and the addition of the modern requirements for a successful photoplay. The picture opens with unusually beautiful scenes filmed up in the New Hampshire mountains. The action takes place in a logging camp and the Stickle and Sheaf saloon provides much of the excitement. The climax of the picture comes with a series of scenes that are thrillers—the burning of the Stickle and Sheaf, the breaking of a log jam on a river and the rescue of a man just as he is about to be carried over the rapids on a log.
