Yellow-Red School Bell Rings Again

A bell, now ringing from the steeple of a Wolcott church, has become a tool once again. The new sound has lent usefulness to the bell and filled a void, since the steeple of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church had reportedly been empty 63 years, while the bell had spent the last 28 years nearly forgotten in a barn.

The bell had a known history in the belly of an old schoolhouse at the intersection of Routes 370 and 104, just west of Red Creek. The school was known as the little Yellow-Red School, and when it was closed the bell became the property of the parsonage Mrs. Mabel Demarue.

Mrs. Rita Russell and her daughters, who live on West Port Bay Road, donated the bell to the Wolcott church.

Much of the bell's history is obscured, according to Mrs. Demarue, who has asked to hear from anyone who may know something of the bell's past.
