Storm Heroes of Our Coast.

This lecture by Hon. Arthur K Peck on the United States Life Saving Service will be given this (Wednesday) evening as the fourth number of the Public Library Entertainment course.

The particular merits claimed for this lecture are that it is upon a timely topic of intense interest; that it is instructive for the heroic work of rescue by the surfmen is little understood; that the whole story is a fascinating, thrilling narrative; and the illustrations both from a photographic and artistic standpoint are really wonderful. The collection is one which has no duplicate, and the difficulties of illustrating a subject dealing with scenes of action in a storm, have been met only by years of patient search for the real photographs.

In all 175 views photographically perfect and colored by the leading colorists of this country are used to supplement the lecture.

Entertainment begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

Tobacco Growers' Meeting.

The regular annual meeting of the New York State Tobacco Growers' Association will be held January 15th at 10:00 a. m. at the city hall, Baldwinsville. The proposed plan of giving prizes for the best exhibitions of samples of native tobaccos has been abandoned, but there will be an interesting and instructive exhibition of wrapper and filler tobaccos grown in the Onondaga district, with a statement of the yield per acre and the fertilizers used to produce them. Notwithstanding the unfavorable season for producing tobacco, growers are urgently requested to bring samples of their crops. Mr. Harris will speak on the results of the government experiments in the district during the past season and a number of other speakers are expected to be present. It is proposed to make the meeting one of general discussion and mutual exchange of ideas and experiences.

Everybody come.

F. W. FENNER, President.

It is very important and in fact it is absolutely necessary to health that we give relief to the stomach promptly at the first signs of trouble —which are belching of gas, nausea, sour stomach, headache, irritability and nervousness. These are warnings that the stomach has been mistreated; it is doing too much work and it is demanding help from you. Take something once in a while; especially after meals; something like KODOL for Dyspepsia and Indigestion. It will enable your stomach to do its work properly. Sold by all druggists.

Foster Theatre.

That old saw of "Be good and let who will be clever" is all right of course, but in these days it should read "Be good, if you can, but you must be clever" if you want an audience. It is many seasons since a comic opera has been put out, but we are blessed by not only a new one but a clever one, written by Charles Felton Pidgin, who also wrote the novel The Toymakers. The music is just as snappy and sparkling as the words and the whole opera is pleasing and melodious. "The Jollities" are a happy company of singers, comedians and dancers and will give a clean, wholesome presentation at the Foster Theatre on Thursday evening, January 16th for one night only.

The main feature of this comic absurdity is an electric doll that is brought to life by its owner, an old toymaker, who has spent life and fortune in its construction and finally brings it to life, whereupon the droll performances cause the most ludicrous situations upon the stage and furnish great fun for the audience who are kept in a happy mood by Miss Daisy Dane, the village belle, who unknown to the inventor takes the place of his beautiful doll.

"The Jollities" company have been enlarged, a chorus having been added since its last appearance here.

County Taxes Due.

Taxpayers are reminded that the County taxes are now due and can be paid during January without fees. During February the fees will be three per cent and during March five per cent.

Mild Hazing.

The proprietor of a plumbing establishment downtown has a poor opinion of goat imitations. A young man, dapper and twenty, came into his plumbing shop and asked to see an expensive porcelain bathtub. The proprietor explained at length the good qualities of a certain make.

"This seems to be an excellent one," said the young man.

Without warning he jumped into the bathtub, drew his coat closely around him and exclaimed: "Quick, turn on the water! I want to try it."

The proprietor thought he was insane and, soothing his head, said, "There, there, you're all right."

"Yes," the young man gurgled, splashing in the imaginary water; "it's very comfortable."

Then he began to squirm and splutter.

"Quick, quick!" he cried. "Turn off the water! I'm drowning!"

"Wait till I reach the faucet," said the proprietor softly, side stepping to the telephone.

Just at this moment two other young men, a trifle older, entered.

"Well, Bobby, had your bath?" they inquired.

"Yes."

"Then come down to the vegetarian restaurant and order a side of roast beef."—New York Globe.

Dickens and His Beard.

Frith painted Charles Dickens' portrait when the novelist began to grow a beard and told this anecdote of the occasion.

"Well, one day when Dickens was sitting the servant came up to tell me Sir Edwin Landseer was below. Dickens said, 'Let's have him up; he hasn't seen my beard and mustache yet.' Charles Landseer and Edwin had been abroad for some time together in Italy, and they hadn't all met for months. Edwin came up and took no notice of the beard, and at last Dickens said: 'Well, Lanny, what about all this? D'you like it? Think it's an improvement?' 'Oh, a great improvement,' Landseer said quite gravely. 'It hides so much of your face.' Dickens wasn't the least offended. He'd let 'Lanny' say anything."

Good as a Corkscrew.

"Do you know how to take a tight cork out of a bottle without a corkscrew?" was asked by a woman the other day at a gossip party. "It's a mighty good thing to know in an emergency.

"My sister and I were coming back from the mountains, and she got faint on the cars. I had a bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia in my bag, but when I tried to get the cork out I simply couldn't make it budge.

"'Let me take it out for you,' suggested a man across the aisle.

"Then, borrowing my pocketknife and using his own with it, he removed the cork in a jiffy. He inserted the blades on opposite sides between the bottle and the cork, each one turned in a different direction. Then when the blades were firmly pushed in he simply pressed the two together, gave them a wrench sideways, and the cork came out without any trouble. I have since tried it on larger bottles with success. It is a trick worth knowing."—Exchange.

He Knew of but One.

Many years ago De Scott Evans, the artist, took a trip to Jamaica, and upon his return to New York he exhibited a number of pictures that he had painted during his outing.

One day a man who had been looking through the studio stopped before a certain picture and asked:

"What does this represent?"

"That," said Mr. Evans, "is a scene in Jamaica."

"Jamaica?" echoed the visitor. "That's strange. I don't remember ever seeing anything like that in Jamaica."

"You have been there, then, have you?" the artist inquired.

"Oh, yes! I live there."

"Well, you surely must be acquainted with this place then. It is a street scene in the principal town of the island."

The man from Jamaica looked at Mr. Evans for a moment as if he thought the latter must be daft. Then he emphatically declared:

"I live in Jamaica, and there isn't a street in the town that bears the remotest resemblance to that picture."

The mention of Jamaica as a town cleared away the mist.

"I see," said Mr. Evans, "you live in Jamaica, N. Y., don't you?"

"Yes," replied the suburbanite. "Is there another Jamaica anywhere?"

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY COURT. Oswego County.—S. [illegible] Lockwood, plaintiff, vs. Robert McCarthy, et al., defendants.

Pursuant to a judgment of foreclosure and sale, rendered herein on the 25th day of November, 1907, and duly entered in Oswego County Clerk's office on the same day, I, the undersigned, referee, duly appointed for such purposes by said judgment, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, on Saturday, the 25th day of January, 1908 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at my office in the village of Hannibal, New York, the real estate in and by said judgment directed to be sold and therein described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land situated in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego, State of New York, being on sub-division number six (6) of military lot, number forty-one (41) in said town of Hannibal, being twenty (20) acres to be taken off from the south end of the following described parcel of land, viz.: Beginning at the southwest corner of the States' Hundred, so-called, running thence northerly two (2) degrees east along the west line of the same to the northwest corner of said States' Hundred, thence north eighty-eight (88) degrees west, fourteen (14) chains to the center of the highway leading north from North Hannibal to Oswego Center, thence south thirty (30) degrees, thirty (30) minutes east, along the center of said highway, thirty-one (31) chains and seventy-three (73) links to the four corners at North Hannibal, thence east along the center of the east and west highway leading from North Hannibal to the Oswego River, to the place of beginning, containing twenty acres of land, more or less. The north line of these premises is a straight line, drawn parallel to the center of said east and west highway; the south line of these premises across such described parcel far enough north to include twenty (20) acres of land, excepting and reserving therefrom the parcel of land containing four (4) acres of land from the southwest corner heretofore sold to Martin H. Cox, also one-fourth (1-4) acre, being the North Hannibal Grange lot.

Dated Nov. 25, 1907.

The Statue of Liberty.

"I wonder if local mariners appreciate the optical illusion which the statue of Liberty presents to a man arriving in this port for the first time," said the skipper of an East Indian tramp, who a few days before had entered New York harbor upon his first voyage here. "I saw the statue before I got to the Narrows, and it seemed as if it were just about where quarantine is. Later the thing seemed about abeam of the Kill von Kull. It kept getting farther and farther away, until I finally wondered whether I should ever bring it abeam. I suppose its great height accounts for this."—New York Post.
