EDITORIAL COMMENT.

—Now that the Cubans have full swing and are running their own government, the features of the celebration in taking possession of the new government, at Santiago, were cock and bull fights.

—The National Prohibition leaders protest against wine being served at Lincoln banquets at the one hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth February 12th. It is claimed that he never indulged in liquor, therefore it is not right to drink wine at the banquets.

—The House of Representatives has adopted a resolution ordering expunged from the congressional record the abusive speech of Congressman Willett, democrat, of New York, against President Roosevelt. The speech was filled with personal abuse, innuendo and black guardism generally.

—A strawberry grower from Crystal Springs, Mississippi, has shipped 15,000 strawberries to rich people in Chicago and New York for which he receives two cents a berry. If that grower can keep the price at the same figure for a month and has plenty of fruit he will have a better thing than cotton.

—We can tell more about the proposed system of direct nominations when the bill is finally perfected. Very few persons are interested in the question hereabouts. Any one can now vote at the primaries and vote as he chooses. And if any instructions are wanted the delegates can be instructed.

—The Oregon legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the ladies from wearing hat pins more than ten inches in length. This legislation may be in consequence of some murders committed by ladies with hat pins 12 or 15 inches long. The Sun thinks the legislature will soon fix the legal length of cigars and noses.

—When in Albany lately Senator-elect Elihu Root was asked if he had anything to say regarding direct primary nominations. "That's not my business," he replied. "I will have enough to do to look after federal legislation." Mr. Root conferred with political and legislative leaders to get their opinions on a variety of subjects.

—Governor Magoon, who has had charge of the Cuban government until the installation of General Gomez as president, recommended that the battleship Maine be raised, as it is a menace to navigation in the harbor of Havana. President Roosevelt has sent a message to Congress asking for an appropriation to remove the wreck. This should have been done long ago.

—Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher, is having a hard row to hoe in England, yet she rather enjoys it. She has been pelted with ancient eggs and driven off the platform when she attempted to speak. She receives a great many communications, which she calls "letters from hell." Carrie started in to pull tobacco pipes and cigars from men's mouths in London but has quit that kind of business.

—The quarterly report of the United States Steel Corporation, for the fourth quarter 1908 shows net earnings of $26,225,486 as compared with $32,553,995 in 1907. The total surplus of the corporation is now $133,143,178. The usual dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred payable March 1st, and ¼ of 1 per cent. on the common, payable March 30th was declared at the late meeting. While the last report shows considerable falling off from the previous report, the total surplus for the twelve months is over $10,000,000.

—The St. Louis Globe Democrat, the leading republican paper in Missouri, says the various results of senatorial elections by primaries fail to show that the senatorial elections are any closer to the people than they have been. In fact, the actual outcome is further removed from popular sentiment than it was before. The situation has been extensively confused, not brought closer to a genuine majority of the voters of any state. And if this is not the object of senatorial primaries of what value are they, or what rational reason can be given in urging them?

—Senator-elect Elihu Root does not seem to be impressed with the direct election programme, especially that part relating to the election of United States Senators. In his excellent speech before the New York State legislature he said: "I am opposed to direct election of senators as I am opposed to the initiative and referendum, because these things are based on the idea that the people cannot elect legislatures whom they trust. They proceed upon the idea of abandoning the attempt to elect trustworthy and competent state legislatures. But if you abandon that attempt; if you begin to legislate or to amend constitutions upon that theory, what becomes of all the other vast powers of the state legislatures in maintaining the system of local self-government under the constitution?

—John Binns, the wireless operator of the wrecked steamer Republic has suddenly become famous. His pay was $12 per week only. The French government has awarded him a medal. Binns is an Englishman.

—What a contrast! The other night a banquet composed of a lot of "plutocrats" held a banquet at the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York, the cost being about $50 a plate, with expensive souvenirs. The gold service was used. A short distance away several hundred persons stood in the "Bread Line" to get some bread to keep them from starvation. So goes the world.

—James S. Whipple, state forest, fish and game commissioner, expects within a few days that a bill will be presented to regulate tree cutting on private lands. The bill will prohibit the cutting of trees below a certain diameter. This would affect pulp companies, which cut small as well as large trees. Mr. Whipple says a committee of three including John G. Agar, of New York is preparing a draft of a bill which will establish a fire patrol system in the Adirondack forests.

—Lieutenant Governor Horace White says the railroads will control the ships that bring the grain through the great lakes to the barge canal, that they will own the elevators, and barges and terminals. But Mr. White's home, Syracuse, voted heavily in favor of the canal and so did the big cities, and the project was carried. When the canal is completed at a cost of one hundred millions of dollars, or more it will not be what is wanted and it will probably be twenty-five years before it is completed.

—Assemblyman William M. Bennett has sent to the 13,000 voters in the fifteenth Assembly District, New York county, where Governor Hughes votes, postal cards asking them to say whether they oppose or favor direct nomination. This is a good thing to do, although rather expensive. We have asked several Republicans from different towns in this county their opinion, and we have not found one who seems to take any interest in the matter or who cares particularly. They think the primaries are all right as they are now.

—New York Sun: "While no friends of the senatorial primary in Wisconsin or anywhere else, we can't but admire the impudence of LaFollette's friends in making months at Isaac Stephenson for his use of money at the primaries. Old Uncle Isaac 'put up' freely for LaFollette. It was good and honorable for him to spend money for that flower of the virtues; and, if we remember right, charges of corruption and fraud were made when LaFollette was nominated Senator. Stephenson cannot spend too much to elect LaFollette. When he spends money to elect Stephenson, what a wicked and intolerable man he becomes! This Wisconsin row lights up not only the senatorial primary but the sweet consistency and heaven kissing rectitude of the LaFollettians, who swear by that great means of bamboozling the people."

—Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, has denounced the proposition of the Democrats in Maryland to amend the State Constitution of Maryland in a manner to disfranchise the negro. In an article published in the Baltimore American he says he cannot favor any proposal to violate the spirit (if not the letter) of the Constitution of the United States. His view is that the laws should be enforced impartially against all unfit, venal voters, vote-brokers and vote-buyers, without regard to color of their skins. "The negroes of Maryland," he says, "are vastly superior to their brothers in the extreme Southland in the matter of intelligence and education, and while they perhaps, fall short of all the requisites of good citizenship, they possess many good traits, which time can but improve under proper treatment." The Cardinal is not a politician, but he will not tamely submit to a wrong if he can help it. In addition to his other virtues he possesses unusual common sense.

—The Governor don't seem to like what he calls political "bosses." Let us look back a few years. "Boss" Tom Platt brought out Theodore Roosevelt for Governor and he was elected by a few thousand majority. "Boss" Roosevelt insisted on the nomination of Charles E. Hughes for Governor in 1906, and again in 1908. "Boss" Roosevelt and "Boss" Taft insisted that Elihu Root should be elected United States Senator, and this obeyed. "Boss" Roosevelt insisted on the nomination of William Howard Taft for the Presidency. Now we must have "leaders" or "bosses," whatever you may call them, in all conventions, some one to direct. There is a great deal of "sham reform" in politics, and especially among those persons who are always howling for innovations in management new commissions, with their burdensome expenses, and lots of new schemes for spending the money of the state. Now the Governor is an able and honest man but he is considerable of a "boss" himself, and a pretty good boss, take him all in all. We never knew a really good "boss" who did not have the people with him, that is a majority of his party. You cannot ram down the throats of the people what they don't want, for they can speak at their primaries and if things don't go right then, they have a chance at the polls, and they vote as they please. Under our present system of voting we have had in late years, such leaders as McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft and such Governors as Odell, Black, Higgins and Hughes. As Senator Raines says: "If direct nominations will give us any improvement, let us have direct nominations.

HARRISBURG.

Death of the Venerable Stephen S. Vary, a Highly Esteemed and Honored Resident for Many Years.

(MRS. W. A. VARY, Correspondent.)

—Kent Vary of Carthage was in town last week.

—E. E. Hodge returned from Canton Saturday.

—Marion Sheldon and bride have returned from Canada.

—Mrs. James Lampman is passing some time at Clark Vary's.

—N. Stoffle and sister were guests of relatives in Pinckney, Friday.

—Henry Hanno has been passing several days at Milon Taylor's, in Martinsburg.

—Mrs. George Roberts, of Collinsville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vary last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodard returned Saturday from visiting their daughter at Amsterdam.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Guepe left Monday for Little Falls to attend the State grange as delegates from Harrisburg grange.

—Stephen S. Vary died Saturday morning, January 30th, at 9 o'clock. On Monday, January 11th, Mr. Vary had the misfortune to slip and fall on the ice, injuring his hip very badly. He had been troubled for years with organic heart disease, with which, in his advanced years, his strength and vitality were to weak to recover. Up to the time of the accident Mr. Vary had enjoyed excellent health, taking a walk to the farm or to a neighbors every day. Stephen S. Vary was the eldest son of the late Deacon Willetre Vary, of this place. He was born in Steventown, N. Y., and reached the advanced age of 87 years, 8 months and 21 days. His wife died March 10, 1905. In the death of Mr. Vary this community has lost a most noble character, a wise counselor, a kind father, and obliging neighbor; but despite all that kind and loving ones could do, he passed very peacefully away to a brighter and better home, for which he was fully prepared. Mr. Vary was a most devoted christian. For fifty years he had been a faithful member and supporter of the Free Will Baptist church of this place. He was always present when able and his testimonials, so often listened to, will long be remembered by young and old, touching a tender spot in every heart. He was always ready and willing to assist in every way to upbuild all that is good, in all benevolent work, and truly it may be said, a pillar of the church has gone. None knew him but to respect and regard him as a dear friend. He will be greatly missed in the community where he has lived for more than sixty years. Mr. Vary has lived on the farm and at the place where he died, but a few rods from the old homestead place, for more than sixty years, where his family was reared and where four of his sons have resided nearly all their lives. The deceased leaves to mourn his death, five sons, Edward E., Horatio N., Fred S., and Clark Vary, of this place, and Burton Vary of Copenhagen; eight grandchildren and one brother, John B. Vary, of this place, together with a host of relatives and friends. The funeral was held from the Baptist church at this place Tuesday at 2 p. m. Interment at the cemetery in the family plot here.

The Land of Sunshine.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 27, 1909.

Mr. Editor: Enclosed please find check for three dollars, which will continue my subscription to the JOURNAL & REPUBLICAN to February, 1910.

I notice a constant improvement in your always excellent paper and anticipate its coming each week as I would a visit from an old and valued friend. You see from my address that we are now living in the land of sunshine. It is almost perpetual summer here in Florida and it hardly seems as if we could be in the same country as you in northern New York, for while you are having a temperature of several degrees below zero, the mercury with us is above seventy every day. We are sitting on our porches without wraps, enjoying the warm sunshine, fruit and flowers of this southern winter. There are thousands of tourists in the city and more coming in every day. as St. Petersburg, with its fine locality on Tampa Bay, is one of the most popular resorts in Florida.

EDITH ADAMS BEVERLY.

—A man must have a certain amount of pull to take time by the forelock.

—U. S. Senator-elect Elihu Root has considerable trouble with one of his knees, the result of a fall some time ago. He has gone to the Hot Springs, Arkansas, for a six weeks rest.

—We do not think the so-called Massachusetts ballot is any improvement over the New York state ballot. The people are now used to voting under the present system and are against any change.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Prices Paid by New York City Jobbers for Farm Produce.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Butter—Just a shade firmer feeling was shown to-day on fine and fancy grades of fresh creamery. Demand has improved a little, and the quality of stock offering that will come up to the classification of these grades is quite moderate. The medium qualities of both fresh and held are in excessive supply, very dull and of uncertain value. Process in light demand and feeling easy. Factory steady. Creamery specials, per pound, 30@30½c.; (official, 30c.); extras, 29@29½c.; firsts, 27@28c.; seconds, 26c.; thirds, 23@24c.; held specials, 29@29½c; lower grades, 28@28½c.; state dairy, common to fair, 21@25c.; process, 18@24½c.; western factory, 18@22c; packing stock, 18@20c.

Cheese—Trading has been more quiet of late, as most all classes of dealers have evidently supplied their immediate requirements, but stocks are not considered excessive, and holders are firm in their views and confident regarding the future. Skims in moderate supply, but selling slowly, though finer grades held about steady. One exporter has taken a fair quantity of good grades of skims during the last 10 days or so, but otherwise very little export business on the local market. State full cream specials, 14½@15½c; large or small-colored or white fancy, 14½c.; good to fine, 14c.; winter made best, 13½c.; good to prime, 12@13c.; common to fair, 10½@11½c.; skims, 1½ pound specials, 13½c.; skims fine, 9@10c; fair to good, 7½@8½c.; common, 4@5c.; full skims, 2½@3½c.

Eggs—Our town orders exceeded the quantity available to-day, and there was considerable stock needed to cover short sales. To-day storm reports from the west have increased the speculative feeling and prices have made sharp advances, closing firm. State, Pennsylvania and nearby selected white fancy, 36c.; fair to choice, 34@35c.; brown and mixed fancy, 34c.; fair to choice, 32@33c.; western and southern, 28@32c.; refrigerators, 25@28c.
