

A Nation's Tribute to Buick

There is an inspiring tribute to an industry in the universal recognition annually accorded the National Automobile Shows.

Thousands come to these exhibitions from every section of the continent and from foreign lands as well, and their advent is widely heralded the world over.

In the twenty-third National Automobile Show, just opening in New York, and later in Chicago, the nation is provided with a display of its chief means of personal transportation. This display is so complete and so magnificently set forth that all who come may easily carry away a perfect picture of the latest accomplishments in motor car building.

Year after year the national shows receive the homage of the entire country. Year after year they mark by their own increased magnitude and splendor, the increased growth of the automobile industry.

In occupying first place at both national shows for the fifth consecutive year, Buick continues the position in the industry awarded it by universal public opinion.

The statement has no ill-effects about the handling of this compulsory exchange of populations will entail on the individuals affected. They justify their action by pointing out the beneficial influence it will have on the maintenance of peace in the near east, which conference was summoned to proclaim.

That peace in some form will be signed at Lausanne seems more probable in consequence of today's developments. It is reported that Kocouli oil disputes will be settled outside the conference, and earnest efforts are being made to find some satisfactory formula concerning guarantees for foreign residents in Turkey which will be acceptable to the Turks.

Today's events were of a nature to propitiate the Greeks, for the Turk announced that the Greek patriarch who is prime of the orthodox church can remain in Constantinople, providing he abandons all political and administrative activities and devote himself exclusively to spiritual matters.

Also as an exception at the general arrangements for the compulsory exchange of populations, the Greek colony in Constantinople will be allowed to remain there. The compulsory exchange will be carried out as humanely and justly as possible under the direction of a special commission which will appraise the value of all individual properties and endeavor to effect a reasonable exchange of families and communities.

About 400,000 Mohammedans who settled in Greece Macedonia and the plains of Thrace, famed as the scene of wars of antiquity, will be asked to emigrate to Turkey. So many Greeks have already fled from Asiatic Turkey that it is difficult to estimate the number at present there, but it is believed about 900,000 will be affected. The stupendous nature of the problem of readjustment of populations is realized by everybody and it will be especially difficult for Greece, whose national life has been disgraced by the presence of almost a million Greek and Armenian refugees.

The allies have asked the Turks to exempt all religious institutions from taxation, and the Ottoman delegates have taken this question under advisement.
