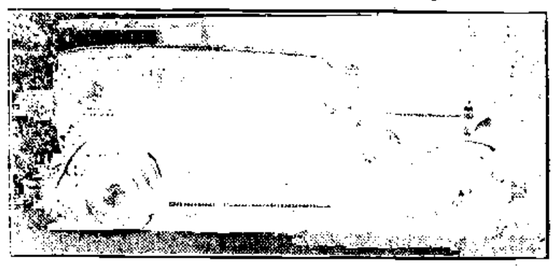
1930 Buick Has New Body Lines



The 1930 Buick makes its debut this week on the showroom floors of approximately 4,000 dealers throughout the country and, according to factory officials at Flint, Michigan, this new creation will prove one of the outstanding sensations of the year in both performance and appearance.

The Buick line, as in former years, is divided into three series. The wheelbase and the horsepower of all models of the three series have been increased. The wheelbase of the six models of the 40 series has been increased from 116 to 118 inches and the engine has been stepped up to 80½ horsepower.

Wheelbase on the two models in the series 50 line is increased from 121 inches to 124 inches and on the six models of 60 series from 129 inches to 132 inches. Models in the 50 and 60 series have an engine which will develop 99 horsepower. All models in all series have an actual speed well up in the seventies.

In addition to lengthening the wheelbase, the car has been built lower. Body lines and contours have been refined, the shape of the radiator revised, the margin of the radiator shell diminished and thermostatically operated shutters added to the front. The result is a car of unusual beauty, fleet lines and obvious comfort. The body bears the stamp of Fisher craftsmanship.

Many mechanical advances have been embodied in the 1930 Buick. A steering wheel road-shock eliminating device is one of them and this feature, coupled with a fully adjustable worm and roller type steering assembly, makes the new car singularly easy to steer and handle at high speeds on the open road and in slow moving heavy traffic.

Semi-elliptic springs and double acting shock absorbers are used, together with four wheel internal expansion controlled Servo brakes, redesigned transmission and clutch, improved rubber motor mountings and a wider and sturdier chassis frame. A sloping non-glare windshield is another advancement incorporated in the new Buick.

Performance tests, conducted over a period of several months at the General Motors Proving Ground, have demonstrated that its speed, hill climbing ability and riding comfort set a new all-around precedent in the field of automobile travel.

New Spaghetti Dishes For Hungry Husbands

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

SPAGHETTI in Tomato Sauce with Cheese, which can be purchased ready to heat and serve, is a well-known and favorite luncheon and supper dish. But many women do not realize the surprising number of economical and savory "one-dish dinners" that can be prepared from just a can of Spaghetti, plus a bit of ground meat or a few sausages with a touch of spicy seasoning. Even plain pot roast becomes a special treat when served with a liberal portion of Spaghetti.

Some evening when you want to prepare a pleasant surprise for your family, try stuffing green peppers with Spaghetti, instead of with ground meat or rice. And everyone is sure to like that old Southern dish—Creole Pork.

The following Spaghetti recipes should go far in helping you solve that never-ending problem of "what can I serve today?":

Casserole of Meat and Spaghetti—1 pound ground round steak, 1 medium size onion, 1 large green pepper, 1 medium can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 medium can Cooked Spaghetti, ¼ pound American cheese (grated).

Fry finely chopped onion in bacon fat until slightly brown. Add meat and cook until brown. Then add Cream of Tomato Soup and chopped pepper, and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Add Cooked Spaghetti, mix thoroughly, and add grated cheese. Heat in a moderate oven until cheese is melted.

Creole Pork—1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 small can Cooked Spaghetti, 1 pound ground raw pork, 2 onions, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ pound grated cheese, ½ cup grated crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter.

Chop onions fine and fry with ground pork until brown, (In additional fat). Drain off excess fat. Add Cooked Spaghetti, Cream of Tomato Soup and grated cheese. Turn into baking dish, cover with crumbs and butter. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese in Green Pepper Cases—Wash six large green peppers, cut in half and remove seeds. Place peppers in boiling water, turn off heat and allow to remain in water about five minutes to remove their strong taste. Cool, and fill the peppers with 1 medium can of Cooked Spaghetti. Dust lightly with salt, and cover with buttered crumbs Place in casserole, add a small amount of water, and bake in a moderate oven until peppers are tender and crumbs are nicely browned.

Brown Sausages and Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese—Brown one pound of sausages. Drain off the excess fat and pour in a large can of Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese. Stir thoroughly until the Spaghetti is heated. Place the Spaghetti in the center of a platter and surround with the brown sausages. Garnish with parsley, and serve very hot.

Spaghetti with Pot Roast—Prepare a Pot Roast in the usual manner. When it is done, add a can or more of Cooked Spaghetti, according to the size of your roast. Simmer for a few minutes, adding water to replace the gravy absorbed by the Spaghetti. In serving, place the meat in the center of the plate and heap the Spaghetti around it. Sweet Mustard Pickles are very good with this.
