

WITH SIX DAYS MORE TO GO.

Contestants and Their Friends Are Demonstrating Daily That Work Is Being Accomplished in Every District. Winners Will Soon Be Preparing to Enjoy a Memorable Vacation.

"Upward" is the motto of the contestants in the Tour of Europe contest and yesterday was another day of advances. The friends of the candidates for the tour across the ocean are working with zeal and during the remaining six days changes may be expected daily. In each district the rivalry is as keen as it is friendly and surprises may be looked for every morning from now until the result is announced in Friday morning's issue.

In the first district Miss O'Grady increased her vote considerably yesterday, as did also Miss Lawrence. In the second district Miss Murphy leads this morning, though Miss Golden and Miss Devlinne are well up in the figures. In the third district Miss Mary Wilson of Heuvelton is a leader with Miss Melrose of Rossie second and Miss Helen Rose of Waddington third. In the fourth district Miss Mae McEwan of Massena is now a first place with Miss Lantry of Helena, and Miss Williams of Massena and Miss Rossette of Canton closely following.

For the information of inquirers it is stated that papers subscribed for at the present time need not necessarily start going at once. They can be paid for to start any time, to-day, next month, next year, three or five years hence.

R. C. KIRKPATRICK GAVE BRIDE AWAY

Norton Kirkpatrick of This City, Brother of Bride, Led the Bridal Party.

Niagara Falls, July 2.—Society's most brilliant wedding this season was solemnized at fashionable St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Dorothy Vivian, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howat Kirkpatrick, of Toronto and Charles Coghill Egbert, of Morristown, N. J., were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William M. Hughes, S. T. D., of Morristown, assisted by the Rev. Phillip W. Mosher, rector of St. Peter's Church in the presence of nearly 300 relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The edifice was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns, white peonies, roses and marguerites, the chancel being banked with palms and ferns. The bride was escorted down the aisle of the church. It was exactly on the stroke of 4 o'clock that the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march announced the arrival of the bridal party led by the ushers, Norton Kirkpatrick, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., a brother of the bride; Thomas L. B. Lyster, and Regiland Meek of this city and Gordon Hoxsey, of Morristown, N. J. They were followed by two little flower girls, Ruth Rankine and Julia Porter of this city. Back of them came the three bridesmaids, Miss Jessie McMurrick of Toronto, Ont., who wore pale yellow faille silk; Miss Jean Alexander, of Toronto, who wore pale lavender faille silk, and Miss Enid Hendrie of Hamilton, Ont., who wore pale pink faille silk. Each wore a white picture hat and carried sweet peas to match their gowns. Miss Lois Egbert, a sister of the bridegrooms, was the maid of honor. She wore pale blue faille silk, and carried an empire bouquet of sweet peas centered with forget-me-nots. The bride was preceded by her sister, Mrs. Vincent M. Porter, who acted as the matron of honor. She wore a lace robe and carried lavender orchids. The bride entered the church with her brother, Richard Cummings Kirkpatrick of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and was given in marriage by him. She wore an empire gown of ivory satin trimmed with Brussels point lace and court entrain. Her tulle veil was fastened to the coiffure with a large wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mason Young of Short Hills, N. J., was the best man.

A reception on the lawn of the Gables, the palatial home of Mrs. Vincent M. Porter, which overlooks the majestic rapids of the Niagara river, followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Egbert received the best wishes of their assembled friends. Luncheon was served in the dining room.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Egbert left on an extended wedding tour, and on their return will spend the summer in this city. Mr. Egbert is a consulting electrical engineer at present supervising the construction of numerous power houses at the locks on the barge canal.

Dean Cook's Trip.

Dean Herbert E. Cook and Prof. Ward Priest of the state school of agriculture at St. Lawrence university, Canton, are making an automobile trip through northern New York in the interests of the school and the university. Two meetings, one before the Tylerville grange and another before the Copenhagen grange, have been arranged, at which Dean Cook and Prof. Priest will speak. The purpose of the tour and meetings is to create a deeper interest in this section in the Canton schools, the only collegiate institution in the state north of the Mohawk valley. The instructors propose to visit the homes of the young people whom they desire to interest in the work.

Never Absent.

Miss Mae Gertrude Fitzgerald who was graduated from the Classical High School at Worcester, Mass., last week, has a record of 13 years' attendance in the public schools without being absent, tardy or dismissed a single time. The records show that Miss Fitzgerald started in the first grade and went through all the grammar grades and high school without losing a minute from her school duties. The School Board voted to make a special reference to the remarkable record on the official minutes and to send her an engraved message of congratulation signed by the members of the high school committee and superintendent.

COMMENTS OF THE WATERTOWN PRESS

Refer in Eulogistic Terms to the Hospitality Extended in Ogdensburg.

The Watertown Standard says: After that they again embarked on the Castanet for Ogdensburg, where they arrived at about 5:30. A large number of automobiles were at the dock to take the Watertownians, who were greeted by Mayor Douglas, Deputy United States Marshall E. C. J. Smith and a number of other officials, about the city. A trip over some excellent road to Point Alry was first made and thence back to the city and about its streets for some time, before going to the Seymour house for dinner. At Ogdensburg Alderman Gary M. Jones was picked up. While eating dinner the band, under the direction of Former Sheriff Bellinger, played several selections in the lobby and afterward the officials were entertained at the Century club and the Ogdensburg club. The welcome was a warm one and everyone in the Watertown party appreciated it.

The Watertown Times says:

Ogdensburg particularly outdid herself in her welcome to Watertown. Across the streets in colored banners and flags were the words "Welcome Watertown." Money was absolutely useless in the city. Part of the crowd went to the Century club and part the Ogdensburg club as guests of members. The handsome club rooms of the Ogdensburg club were filled with representative business men of Ogdensburg. After introductions had been made to the mayor and other prominent citizens, refreshments were served and cigars passed. Frank Wilson made himself toastmaster and everyone was pleased with his choice. He first called on Mayor Francis M. Hugo. Mayor Hugo spoke of the mutual interests of Watertown and Ogdensburg and said that their interests were for the whole of the north country. He referred to the Northern New York Development League which he believed would help the interests. Paying a high tribute to Ogdensburg for what it has done, he predicted that much more could be done by hustling.

Mayor E. W. Douglas of Ogdensburg responded in telling how glad Ogdensburg was to welcome Watertown and the kindly feeling that existed between the two cities.

"Ogdensburg has advantages that Watertown has not; Watertown has advantages that Ogdensburg has not," he said. "And I believe Ogdensburg is at the beginning of a remarkable growth."

At the Century club a similar entertainment was taking place. Finally the crowd was rounded up and, headed by the band, marched down to the station, followed by the Ogdensburg folks, who wanted to say good-bye and wish good luck. With cheers and invitation to come again, the special pulled out a little before 10.

CORPORATION TAX BILL A SURPRISE

Washington, July 2.—The corporation tax amendment which was suggested by President Taft, drawn by Attorney General Wickersham, and presented to the Senate by Senator Aldrich, chairman of the committee on finance, is an integral part of the tariff bill as that bill now stands. The amendment was agreed to today by the large vote of 60 to 11, with all modifying amendments disposed of. Many Democrats voted with most of the Republicans for the amendment. Only three Democrats voted against the provision on the final vote, but some refrained from voting at all. The test vote was on the substitution of a corporation tax amendment for the income tax provision, and so that vote 45 senators cast their ballots in the affirmative and 31 in the negative. The reaching of a vote came as a surprise to a large majority of the senators, and even to Senator Aldrich and his intimate advisors. First came the vote on a motion by Bailey and Cummings to substitute the corporation tax for the income tax amendment. Next came the vote upon the corporation tax provision upon its own merits. The climax was then reached and the final vote was taken. Of the eleven negative votes eight were cast by Republicans and three by Democrats.

COACH COURTNEY IS DELIGHTED OVER CORNELL'S THREE VICTORIES

Aquatic Struggle Resulted in Glory for the Well-Trained Ithacans, Who Not Only Made a Clean Sweep But Established Two New Records Over Two Mile Course.

Poughkeepsie, July 2.—Charles E. Courtney, Cornell's veteran coach, is delighted at the triple victory won by his varsity freshmen, and four-oared crews on the Hudson this afternoon. He said he was not surprised at the result as far as his crews are concerned, but he had expected Syracuse to be second in all three races. Cornell's crews made a clean sweep of the fifteenth annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing association. But Cornell did more than defeat the crews of the other four universities. She established two records for the two mile course, one in the varsity four-oared and another in the freshmen eight-oared. The official time of the races was as follows:

Varsity eight-oared shell—four miles, Cornell, 19 minutes, 2 seconds; Columbia, 19 minutes, 4 2-5 seconds; Syracuse, 19 minutes, 15 1-5 seconds; Wisconsin, 19 minutes, 24 1-5 seconds; Pennsylvania, 19 minutes, 32 1-5 seconds.

Varsity four-oared shell—Two miles, Cornell, 10 minutes, 1 second; Syracuse, 10 minutes, 10 2-5 seconds; Columbia, 10 minutes, 12 seconds; Pennsylvania, 10 minutes, 27 seconds.

Freshman eight-oared shell—Two miles, Cornell, 9 minutes, 7 3-5 seconds; Syracuse, 9 minutes, 14 4-5 seconds; Pennsylvania, 9 minutes, 21 seconds; Wisconsin, 9 minutes, 22 4-5 seconds; Columbia, 9 minutes, 26 seconds.

MACHINE FORCES SUFFER DEFEAT

Such the Sentiment of Editorial Comments Upon the Paddock Victory in Franklin.

It is likely St. Lawrence county will follow suit, notwithstanding the efforts of Mr. Merritt of Potsdam, whose anti-Hughes speech the other day is said to have disgusted all St. Lawrence Republicans who want the Governor sustained. Mr. Paddock had only been in the field a few days, and Kilburn supposed he had the nomination pocketed. —Buffalo Commercial.

Most conspicuous of all, however, is the selection of Frederick G. Paddock, the present Franklin county judge and surrogate, as the county's choice for senator to succeed the late Senator W. T. O'Neil. This ensures Paddock's nomination and election in the district comprising St. Lawrence and Franklin counties as the St. Lawrence delegates are pledged to support Franklin's candidate and as that candidate is a Hughes Republican there will be no excuse for the treachery and repudiation of the pledges that was promised if an anti-Hughes candidate was elected in the Franklin county convention of republicans on Tuesday.

Judge Paddock was a candidate put in the race by Governor Hughes. The Governor was a party to the interference in local politics and it is well understood that Paddock would not have entered the contest had not Gov. Hughes desired it. Until the Governor interfered it was conceded that former Bank Sup't. and former Senator Fred'k D. Kilburn would be the candidate for senator. The primaries proved this. But the threat of the Hughes delegates led by Ledyard P. Hale, attorney to a Hughes State commission, to bolt Kilburn or any other anti-Hughes candidate had its effect apparently. Judge Paddock had agreed he would pull out if Kilburn carried Malone. Kilburn carried it by a large margin. Paddock's name did not appear in the balloting till the fifth ballot when it was seen that Kilburn could command no more than fifteen delegates, M. E. McClary, C. R. Matthews, C. E. Brush, H. P. Coates were among the candidates and Brush got 17 votes for a while. Kilburn dropped out after the eighth and on the ninth Paddock was named by a vote of 32 out of 51. —Albany Argus.

This is the most startling defeat that the machine forces have yet suffered. Considering the short time allowed for a canvass and the fact that Kilburn had the nomination in his pocket months ago, the Hughes forces had no reason to expect success. Nothing but an overwhelming popular movement could have prevented Kilburn's nomination. His failure is a sign of the times which the most perverse of machinists cannot fail to see and to understand. At this rate, there will be nothing but a grand rush for the band wagon when the legislative primaries really begin. —Buffalo Express.

THIEF ESCAPED WITH $500,000

London, July 2.—A Paris jeweler named Goldschmitt, went to the lavatory at the Cafe Monci today to wash his hands. He placed a bag containing eleven pearl necklaces, more than a thousand rubies and pearls, and a number of loose diamonds, the whole valued at $50,000 in front of him. While the jeweler's hand were immersed in water a man shoved against him and another snatched the bag and bolted from the place. Goldschmitt started in pursuit but was impeded by a third man who fell in front of him. The thief escaped.

GUESTS ESCAPED IN LIGHT ATTIRE

Hotel Ruiseaumont at Lake Placid Destroyed by Fire Yesterday Morning.

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—The Ruiseaumont Hotel was burned to the ground this morning. The fire started at 12:45 a. m. in the top story (in tower next to where the bell boys slept,) and the hotel was completely burned at 3:30. The cause of the fire is unknown. The guests barely escaped with their lives. There were about 40 of them in the hotel at the time. One was rescued from a third story window by a man named Roche from the Stevens House. This scene was very thrilling.

The scantily clothed guests were cared for in the surrounding hotels and camps. From all appearance the fire was of incendiary origin. The night watchman, William Washburn, last night used his time clock for the first time and it shows that he was in the tower at 12 o'clock and at that time everything was all right. No electricity was used in the hotel so the fire could not have been started by wires.

He returned to the office and in a short time heard the cracking of the flames. Investigation showed the tower to be ablaze and the alarm was quickly given. The bell boys aroused all the guests and the building was quickly emptied.

C. F. Whitman, room clerk at the Ruiseaumont, who was in charge in the absence of Manager Evan H. Patrick, was injured about the back in his effort to fight back the flames.

One of the young ladies was unnerved by the excitement and had to be cared for by the others of the party. It was necessary to drag her bodily from bed to a point of safety. A large number of the guests at the hotel were from New York city. None of these saved more than enough clothes to wear.

The Ruiseaumont was built in 1893 and has long been known at one of the largest and finest hotels in the north woods. The hotel was owned by the Lake Placid Improvement Company, of which N. Z. Larned of New York city, is the president. The total loss is estimated at about two hundred thousand and is covered by insurance.

ANOTHER HUGHES VICTORY SCORED

Cooperstown, July 2.—The Otsego county Republican convention held here today unanimously nominated Stephen C. Clark of Cooperstown for the assembly. Assemblyman Charles Smith, who sought a renomination but was defeated in the caucuses, withdrew his name and supported Clark. Clark made the canvass as an outspoken champion of direct nominations and other policies of Governor Hughes. Resolutions endorsing Hughes were adopted by the convention.
