their anxiety seems to be an unnecessary one.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "He stands on the platform erected by the Convention, as far as it goes, and adds another plank to please himself."

"Our readers know that we do not believe in that plank, but we shall not quarrel with General McClellan regarding it with favor, simply because, under his administration, it would never be brought into use."

And last, but not least, the Hon. Fernando Wood says:

It is an error to suppose that Gen. McClellan and the peace men so widely differ. It is true, that he does not use the precise language of the platform adopted at Chicago—he says nothing of an armistice—of a cessation of hostilities, nor a National Convention—but he says nothing against them, but does most explicitly declare a sentiment, or, if you please, a dogma, which covers the ground."

The very Honorable Fernando Wood adds: "He is our agent, and the creature of his choice," which is sufficiently couched alive."

Are these men mistaken? If not, then such a candidate is not fit for the President of the American people. The man who allows Fernando Wood to claim him as the "creature of his choice," unrebuked, is not fit to have control of the Government and the armies, at any time, and especially so during a struggle for national existence.

The people of this nation have too much at stake—the brave men of our armies have made too many sacrifices—to hazard all by the election of a "creature" of Fernando Wood!

There is no mistaking the measures and sentiments of the Republican nominee. The consistent record of four years has shown that he is in earnest, and will do whatever can be done to preserve the Union and to keep inviolate the liberties of the people of this nation. There is no two-facedness about ABRAHAM LINCOLN. It is safe to vote for him every time, and for him the soldiers and the people, who really care for the restoration of the Union, will vote in November.

The Ladies Drawn.

If any man of Democratic proclivities is hesitating as to how he shall range himself in the pending Presidential canvass, let him examine the following classification, remembering that a man will be known by the company he keeps.

On the one hand, in this contest, is found all that really desire the preservation of the Union, and are willing to make any sacrifice for the salvation of their country. On the other hand will be found hand together, all that are traitors at heart, all that really desire the destruction of the nation, all that sympathize with the traitors, and are willing to see them succeed, all that hate republican institutions, and are anxious that they should fail, all that have worshipped at the shrine of slavery, and would rather see the Republic lost than slavery should suffer, all that hate Justice and Freedom, and all that are so much attached to party and the empty name of Democracy, that they would sacrifice the dearest interests of the country for a temporary success of their party organization. This classification follows no party lines. The men of the nation are choosing sides without reference to former politics. Below we give a short list from among those who have been formerly Democrats, or opposed to the Administration, and the ground at present occupied by them:
