COMMERCIAL TIMES

Oswego, Tuesday Eve'g, July 1, 1862.

CITY AND COUNTY.

Only Waiting.

A very aged man in an alms-house was asked what he was doing now? He replied, "Only waiting."

Only waiting till the shadows
Are a little longer grown;
Only waiting till the glimmer
Of the day's last beam is flown;
Till the night of earth is faded
From the heart once full of day;
Till the stars of heaven are breaking
Through the twilight soft and gray.

Only waiting till the reapers
Have their last sheaf gathered home;
For the summer time has faded,
And the autumn winds have come.
Quickly, reapers! gather quickly
The last ripe hours of my heart,
For the bloom of life is withered,
And I hasten to depart.

Only waiting till the angels
Open wide the mystic gate,
At whose feet I long have lingered,
Weary, poor and desolate.
Even now I hear their footsteps,
And their voices far away;
If they call me, I am waiting,
Only waiting to obey.

Only waiting till the shadows
Are a little longer grown;
Only waiting till the glimmer
Of the day's last beam is flown;
Then from out the gathering darkness
Holy, deathless stars shall rise,
By whose light my soul shall gladly
Tread its path way to the skies.

☞ FALSE REPORTS.—The city to-day has been in a feverish state of excitement relative to the war news. This excitement has been increased by the many reports put in circulation concerning Federal successes or reverses. Our office has been literally beseiged the entire day by anxious inquirers concerning the reliability of the various street rumors. No matter how absurd the story started it would obtain credit from some, and after being retailed a few times, from the exaggerated additions would have seriously puzzled the originator of the canard to have recognized the offspring of his own imagination. The safest way is to place no credit in the rumors floating through the streets, which, in the main are merely originated by some would-be wag. Whenever any news of importance comes over the wires we will announce it upon the bulletin.

☞ NEW CANAL REGULATION.—Instructions from the Auditor to Canal Collectors state that the Canal Board has adopted a resolution that after the 1st of July, no boat of any description shall have the right of preference at the locks, or of lockages, by reason of paying double the usual rates of toll on boats. This embraces steamboats, steam-tugs and boats in tow, as well as all boats towed by horses or other animals. This prohibition or repeal of former regulations on this subject, does not apply to or affect boats of all descriptions used chiefly for the transportation of passengers, on which the usual rate of toll fixed in the toll sheet is paid. Collectors will therefore not charge more than two cents a mile tolls on all boats whose preference is taken away by the resolution of the Canal Board above specified.

☞ FOURTH OF JULY—STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL—The ladies of St. Mary's Church have made arrangements for holding their annual Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival at Doolittle Hall on the 4th of July, afternoon and evening, and Saturday evening, July 5th. The ladies desire us to say that they have made ample arrangements for furnishing an abundance of Strawberries and Ice Cream, and will have no difficulty in meeting the demand that may be made upon them for those delicacies. We have no doubt that it will be a very pleasant affair, and as there is no prospect of a celebration in Oswego on the 4th, it will give our citizens an opportunity of enjoying themselves in the afternoon and evening of that day in a most agreeable manner.

☞ WORTHLESS NOTES.—Last evening a young man named Jonas Gilbo, stepped into the shop of MR. JOHN BOBZIN, on East First street, and purchased a glass of beer, tendering in payment therefor, a bill purporting to be an issue of the Merchant's Bank of Brooklyn, Michigan, of the denomination of $2. The bill was taken, and the man departed. He soon returned however, in company with a comrade named William Millan, who purchased a pair of boots of Mr. B. paying for them in similar bills. Putting the boots on, Millan departed. Gilbo also expressed a desire to purchase a pair, and having fitted himself, tendered two $3 bills on the same bank. The suspicions of MR. BOBZIN were slightly aroused, and he sent out to make enquiry concerning the currency. His messenger returned, and informed him in the German language that it was worthless. Mr. B. then directed him in the English language to go out and procure the change, adding, however, in German, to procure the presence of a police officer. This was done and the young man taken to the lock-up.

After considerable hesitation he gave the name of the vessel on which himself and comrade are employed. This morning MILLAN was arrested, and a search of the forecastle detected between $100 and $200 of the same worthless trash. As the bank which the bills purport to represent never had an existence, the parties could not be held for issuing counterfeit money. For the attempted fraud, however, they were guilty, and were fined $50 each. Their comrades on the vessel contributed and raised the money. It will be a lesson which the parties implicated will be apt to remember.

☞ VERDICT.—Below we give the result of the inquisition held on the body of ROBT. FLETCHER, found on the lake shore on the morning of Thursday, the 26th ult., and bearing evidence of death from violence:

"We, the undersigned Jurors empannelled to inquire into the cause or causes of the death of ROBERT FLETCHER, do, after carefully investigating the case, find that the said ROBERT FLETCHER came to his death on the night of the 25th of June, 1862, from blows inflicted on his head, by some person or persons to the jury unknown.

J. H. WARN, Foreman, SERDIS ALLEN,
E. C. MARY, S. O. SHERMAN,
JOHN BALYEA, E. A. POTTER.

☞ A FAT OX.—WM. PITTOCK exhibited in our streets this morning a very handsome fat ox, weighing 2,000 pounds, which he proposes to kill to-morrow night, preparatory for the Fourth of July. His market is on Water street.

☞ THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—The readers will not forget the concert this evening at Doolittle Hall. Every arrangement has been completed for rendering it one of the most pleasing entertainments given in our city for a long time. Let the children be encouraged by witnessing an overflowing house. The selection of songs and choruses for the occasion presents a programme which cannot fail to please an audience. Go early to secure good seats.

☞ PETERSONS' COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR.—Messrs. T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, of Philadelphia, have sent us the July number of their Counterfeit Detector. It is an octavo pamphlet of forty pages, issued monthly at $1,00 per annum. and semi-monthly at $2,00. It is very complete and systematic, containing full descriptions of new counterfeits, and accurate financial news, also a valuable lists of "closed, failed, fradulent and worthless banks," in addition to the usual bank note list. We think that merchants and business men will find it the best and only reliable Detector published in these days of universal paper money—much of which is spurious. Remit one dollar for a year's subscription, to T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ RARE STRAWBERRIES.—Mr. SCHUYLER WORDEN, of the town of Oswego, sends us a box of the largest, most delicious strawberries we have yet seen. They are called Worden's seedlings, and for size and flavor, excel anything of the kind ever raised in this vicinity. They have but to be seen and eaten to be admired.

☞ The local column of the Oswego Times of the 26th, contains the account of one murder, one death from accidental poisoning, one boy shot, probably fatally, one runaway in which an old man had his leg broke, besides the usual amount of other notices. Oswego evidently is a great place for "local" items. Here we should have to push somebody in the river to get up a first class sensation.—Ogdensburgh Journal.

Perhaps the trouble with our friend is that he does not use his eyes. We have not noticed that any paper noticed the "shad flies" at Ogdensburg, until we mentioned them through the TIMES. Most persons consider them a great curiosity and a most outrageous annoyance. An enterprising "local" might elaborate columns on such a theme.

☞ O. M. MOSHER hereby notifies his friends and the public in general, that he has removed to the St. Nicholas Hotel, on the corner of Bridge and West First street, which he is fitting up in tip-top style—and where everything usually found in the way of eatables and drinkables will be kept on hand for the accommodation of his customers. Warm and cold meals will be furnished on short notice to all callers. He will be happy at all times, day and night, to meet and wait upon old as well as new customers.

Taylor's and Dunlap's Albany Ales kept at all times; Lobsters, Oysters, Trout, Pickled Tongue always on hand at the St. Nicholas.
O. M. MOSHER, Agent.

OSWEGO AND FULTON
Directory and History,
FOR 1862.

THE SUBSCRIBER having been solicited, by some of the most prominent business men of this city, to issue a Directory and History for Oswego and Fulton, has commenced the canvass and will have the book ready for delivery about the fifteenth of August next; and from his extensive experience in this and other States, feels safe in promising a work superior to any thing of the kind heretofore issued for this city.

The Work will Contain

A complete List of all the Business and Professional Men, Mechanics, Clerks, Salesmen, Book-keepers, Milliners, &c., &c., residing or doing business in Oswego or Fulton, together with a

Perfect Classified Business Directory of the above named places, and

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY!

from the first settlement to the present time, accompanied by A GENERAL PORTRAIT OF ITS PRESENT BUSINESS, written by one of

OSWEGO'S CITIZENS,

and if sufficient patronage is extended the work will be embellished with Cuts of the Prominent Buildings.

The Commercial interests and advantages of the place will receive due attention, and the Statistics of the Business will be full and reliable.

It will be readily seen that the expense attending the issue of such a work must necessarily be great, rendering the cost of the book more than the subscription price, leaving the publisher dependent upon the advertising for pay for his labor, and it would be superfluous to here mention the advantages of advertising in a book of this character, which is to be found in the most public places in all sections of the county and vicinity, where the card must be seen scores of times every day; but it is hoped that the business men will duly consider and appreciate this and extend their patronage.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

Commercial Times Office,
Oswego, July 1, 1862.

Our market for wheat, under the influence of the favorable advices per steamship Scotia, is better although quiet. Buyers do not meet sellers at the advance, and operators generally are waiting for New York advices. No transactions this morning. Sales yesterday afternoon, 6,000 bu winter red Indiana at $1,10. Corn firm and market better, under the foreign news, but the supply offering at the close is light. Sales before the steamer, 1000 bu Ohio at 44½c, 7,800 bu do at 45c—since the news, 10,500 bu Indiana at 46c. Rye in demand. Sales 8,200 bu Illinois on private terms. Other grain scarce and quiet.

SALT.—Market steady. Fine is selling at $1,46 ⅌ bbl., 14lb sacks 11c.

WATER LIME—Is selling at 90c ⅌ bbl.

PLASTER—Market steady at 75c ⅌ bbl.

CANAL FREIGHTS—This morning, not fully established, in consequence of the scarcity of boats, shipments have been made at 84c on flour, 9c on wheat, and 7½c on corn to New York. Corn 5½c and lumber $2,50@$2,62½ to Albany.

Received by lake, last 24 hours, 67,481 bu wheat, 27,045 bu corn, 466,100 hoops, 180,600 lath, 18 cords cedar, 218m shingles, and 1,829,014 ft lumber.

Shipped by Canal, 2,930 bbls flour, 16,951 bu wheat, 27,149 bu corn, and 424m ft lumber.

NEW YORK, July 1.

The steamer City of Baltimore arrived at 2:30 A. M., from Liverpool June 18th, via Queenstown, June 19th.

English papers regard the battles before Richmond from different points of view.—Some contend that it was a victory for the Federals. Others look upon it as a drawn battle, and some give the palm to the Confederates.

The Times thinks it very hard for Confederate Generals to win victories in Northern papers and insinuates that the first day's fight was a success for the Confederates; but this success was neutralized by the second day's drawn battle.

These battles tell no more than that both parties are strong enough to shed each others blood, and weak enough to do it.

The Daily News treats the affair as a decided victory for the Federals. It regards it as a good illustration of the soundness of the British policy in refraining from mediation.

The Star and Telegraph also claim a victory for the Federals.

The Morning Post argues that the Federals were worsted, and says no one can read McClellan's dispatch without being convinced. It tells a story of surprise and defeat.

The Herald thinks McClellan's plans were spoiled by the vigilance of the enemy.

The Times in a second article thinks such battles cannot fail to have the effect on Northern minds of showing the difficulty of the task undertaken. Every month clearly shows the impossibility of restoring the Union by force of arms. It hopes it hot weather suspends hostilities the voice of reason will be heard.

The News defends Butler's proclamation, but rejoices at his removal from military command at New Orleans.

Earl Canning died on the 17th

In the House of Lords, the Duke of Newcastle explained the rejection of the militia bill by the Canadian Parliament, and thought another bill would be introduced, as all parties in Canada desired effective measures for self-defence.

Mr. Hopwood gave notice that he would on the 1st of July, move a resolution that it was the duty of the British government to use every exertion consistent with the maintenance of peace, to bring the warfare in America to an end.

NEW YORK, July 1.

The Scotia arrived this morning with dates to the 22d.

The Times publishes a letter from its New York correspondent in which he says that if England and France intend stepping in at the last moment, now is the time to urge submission on the part of the South, and magnanimity on the part of the North, for unless Beauregard and other leaders succeed in escaping to Texas there is not the slightest hope for their cause. The dream of independence has vanished, and they will do nothing to realize it except by guerrilla warfare.

The Morning Herald represents the Confederates as very strong, but is doubtful that they will risk another engagement at Richmond, is assured that the Federal loss at Fair Oaks was 18,000.

The Army and Navy Gazette argues that the Confederates are rapidly giving way before the steady and scientific resources of the North.

The Paris Constitutionnel regards mediation as a mere question of time. Public opinion in favor of it gains ground in France and England. It is for Government to seize upon a favorable opportunity.

In the House of Commons, Lindsay in postponing till 11th of July his motion relative to affairs in America, expressed a hope that the government would see the necessity of recognizing the South, as it was now perfectly clear that the Confederates were able to assert and maintain their independence.

Earl Russell in response to Lord Brougham promised to produce the correspondence relative to the Emily St. Piere, the subject being now closed. The opinion of the law officers was that there was no power in England to surrender the vessel. At first it was supposed there was no precedent, but one had been found in which under similar circumstances, England failed in obtaining redress from America during Adams' Presidency.

Rev. Dr. Fayette Jewett, American Missionary at Constantinople, died suddenly at a hotel in Liverpool.

There is great activity in France in sending reinforcements to Mexico. The number is now stated at 12,000.

One report says Gen. Forey is Commander-in-Chief.

Garibaldi is again at Turin. Negotiations are reported as taking place. Parties of action called upon him to declare if he was with them or with the government. In consequence he resigned the Presidency of the Society.

The Great Battle—McClellan's Plans Carried Out.

NEW YORK, July 1.

The Tribune makes the following statement from unquestionable sources. There is reason to believe the statement is, in the main, correct, as information from other sources deemed reliable, corroborates it:

Latest advices from McClellan received at Washington yesterday M. were up to 2 P. M. of Saturday. Up to that time he had successfully carried out the plan he pointed out some time ago, which plan was to swing his right wing toward the rear, which included all the forces north of half-way between Bottom Bridge and New Bridge, and at the same time advance the left wing towards James River opening communication with the gunboats.

The attack of the enemy on Thursday, in great force, necessitated this stragetic movement, and in changing his base, of course White House Landing was abandoned.

All the sick, wounded, ordnance stores, troops and property were embarked under superintendence of Gen. Casey, and on Monday were at Turkey Island on James River, eight miles below Fort Darling and fifteen miles below Richmond.

After an interruption of communication between Gen. McClellan and Washington for forty-eight hours, his left wing touched James River yesterday near Turkey Island Bridge.

He immediately opened communication with Commodore Rogers of the Potomac flotilla, and through him with Washington.

The result may be that the steam transports may relieve his soldiers of the fatigue of marching on Richmond by landing them near the rebel capital, after the gunboats have cleared the obstructions.

Our army is now extricated from malarious swamps of the Chickahominy, and is on the high grounds of James River.

Further from Richmond.

NEW YORK, July 1.

Morning papers correspondence contain nothing more from before Richmond.

The Herald's correspondence of the 26th states that Hooker's Division had been ordered to have one day's rations in haversacks, and be in line of battle at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning.

A movement was made at 8 o'clock by the 1st Massachusetts as skirmishers across the open field, driving in the rebels, when the 1st was reinforced by the remainder of Grover's brigade, and the Excelsior and Jersey brigades, driving the rebels out of works which our troops took possession of.

This occupied the time till 11 o'clock, when two guns were brought into play doing great execution on the enemy.

Between 12 and 1 again advanced, receiving and returning several heavy volleys of musketry, when the rebels fixed bayonets and started at double quick toward the 1st and 11th Massachusetts and 26th Pennsylvania, who were ready for them.

On came the rebels with a yell, but the firm front of our boys alarmed them, and the scoundrels broke, retreating in great disorder, our troops driving them more than half a mile at the point of the bayonet.

The rebels fell in masses in this inglorious charge, more of them falling in this charge that at that of Fair Oaks.

Our men drove them from their rifle pits and occupied them till reinforced.

Gen. Sickles had two horses shot under him.

Wounded of New York Fifth.

BALTIMORE, July 1.

Numerous inquiries are received here as to the wounded and killed in the 5th New York Regiment. We have no information beyond what is already published, except reports that are probably exaggerated, and which it would be improper to publish.

The friends of the wounded officers and privates may rest assured that if brought here for treatment, they will be among friends, who will omit no effort to alleviate their sufferings.

Thirty-Seventh Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 1.

SENATE.—On motion of Mr. Willey, the bill for the admission of Western Virginia, as a State was taken up.

The question being on the amendment offered by Mr. Sumner that after the 4th of July 1862, within the limits of said State of Western Virginia there shall be no slavery or involuntary servitude, otherwise than for the punishment of crime whereof the party shall be duly convicted.

Mr. Sumner said that the bill proposed that all children born after 1863 shall be free, but allowed the present generation of slaves to continue slaves, thus admitting another Slave State with two Senators for a whole generation. He (Sumner) would not consent for the admission of a State in the Union with a constitution recognizing slavery for a whole generation. He quoted Mr. Webster on the admission of Slave States.

Mr. Hale said that Webster in his latter and perhaps wiser years, repudiated every word of those speeches. He (Hale) should not vote for this bill because Webster said one thing or another.

As he (Hale) did not make this world, he was willing to take it as he found it, and meet the question practically. It is not for us to set ourselves up in dogmatic wisdom against the convictions of other men who may be, possibly, as wise as we are. He wanted to deal with this thing as a practical fact and he would hail the advent of a slave state into this Union, with a clause for gradual emancipation, more gladly and with greater satisfaction than the admission of a free state. Why? Because there is more joy among the angels over one sinner that repenteth than over ninety and nine that need no repentance.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill.
