COMMERCIAL TIMES.

Oswego, Thursday Evening, July 2.

CITY AND COUNTY.

☞ No Paper To-Morrow. — It is against the established rule of printing offices to publish papers on the 4th of July. In order to give our compositors an opportunity to celebrate Gen. Meade's victory, we shall issue no paper to-morrow.

☞ The "Elopement" Case.—The investigation of this matter, came off yesterday forenoon before the Recorder, and excited considerable interest, judging from the crowded attendance, The charge preferred against Finneral was grand larceny, but no evidence was forthcoming sufficient to retain him. Porter swore positively to conversations overheard between his wife and Finneral, and allusions made to the missing money, which, had it been corroborated by other evidence, would have implicated him. The People, however, made a witness of Mrs. Porter, and there were some slight discrepancies between her evidence and that of her husband. In fact, she contradicted totally every assertion made by him, and asserted that no arrangement for an elopement had ever been talked of between her and Finneral, or even thought of by her. Her object, she asserted, in taking the steamer on Tuesday morning was for the purpose of leaving her husband, who had subjected her to great abuse since the money was missed which he now claimed she had appropriated.

Finneral was discharged on this evidence from immediate arrest though the case is still held over for further investigation.

Mrs. Porter was retained to answer a charge of selling liquor without license.

☞ Runaways.—Last evening a team attached to a wagon mounted with a barrel rack, became frightened and started along East Bridge street at a speed which gave indications the race though swift would be short. At the intersection of Fifth street they shyed on to the sidewalk and the hubs of the wheels committed more damage in an instant than a carpenter would repair in a day. The fence in front of the premises was completely stripped of its pickets. The wagon was overturned, and the horses continued their course to Sixth street, down which they turned, finally falling at the corner of Sixth and Oneida streets, where they were secured.

But a few moments passed after the above runaway when another occurred, also on East Bridge street. The latter was a farmer's team attached to a wagon. They disappeared near Ninth street, but whether they continued their flight to their home in the country we have not ascertained. People will learn after paying a bill of damages that it is far cheaper to properly secure their horses when in the city.

☞ Theatre.—A great bill is offered at the theatre this evening. The performance will commence with the charming comedy, in two acts, entitled "The Merry Monarch, or Charles the II" which will be followed by the laughable farce of the "Dead Shot." The entertainment will conclude with a grand National tableau which is dedicated to the 24th Regiment, N. Y. S. V. The first tableau will be a representation of the "Charge at Antietam;" the second "The Night after the Battle" followed by the allegorical tableau of "Liberty," "Justice" and "Fame."

☞ Festival for the Soldiers. — The ladies of the Fourth Ward are hereby notified that they will not be visited in behalf of this festival, the Committee having full confidence that they will respond without further solicitation to a call which appeals so strongly to the patriotism of all. They are requested to send their contributions on Tuesday morning to Mrs. C. Ames or Mrs. W. H. Wheeler.

☞ Castor Oil Administration.—The medical men of Paris recommend the following way of administering castor oil to children: The quantity of oil prescribed is poured into a small earthen pan over a moderate fire, an egg broken into it, and stirred up so as to form something like what cooks call buttered eggs; when it is done, a little salt, or sugar, or a few drops of orange water, or some currant jelly, should be added. The sick child will eat it eagerly, and never discover the fraud.

☞ Made Useful.—The Detroit ladies put their old crinoline to good use. They suspend them by a pole running through the centre, thus forming a circular trellis around which cypress vines and morning glories clamber in the wildest manner.

☞ Lutheran Church.—Services in the English language will be held on Sabbath evenings' during the summer season, at 7½ o'clock.

☞ Juvenile Singing School. — Mr. Virgil's Juvenile Singing School meets at 5 o'clock this afternoon at his rooms in the Jefferson Block. It affords a rare chance for young people to learn music. See advertisement.

☞ Strawberries. — We are indebted to Mr. N. Goodsell, of New Haven, for a couple of boxes of most delicious strawberries of elephantine size. Some of them were five inches in circumference.

☞ A New Colonel. — Brigadier-Gen. John A. Green, graduate of Salt Point, has appointed James A. Beckwith of this city, Colonel of the 48th regiment, over the heads of a number of senior officers. The appointment was arranged a few days since at a caucus of Copperheads held in this city. The new Colonel has not yet mounted his epaulettes, but has received his commission.

☞ The Peak Family.—This renowned troupe of Bell Ringers will give two entertainments in this city, commencing this evening. The company has appeared before Oswego audiences so often and their ability is so well known that an overflowing house is sure to greet them. Mansard Hall is well adapted to give effect to the the bells. Go early to secure good seats.

☞ Amusement — Read the advertisement of "Ball's Great Colloseum" in another column. Oswego is represented in the company.

☞ Post Office Notice.—The Post office will be opened on the 4th, from 9 to 10 A. M., and from 7 to 8:30 P. M.

H. Fitzhugh, P. M

☞ Will Be Appointed Now.—We understand that the Common Council of Minetto have passed unanimous resolutions demanding the appointment of Gen. McClellan as Commander-in-chief. Of course, when the President hears of it the thing will be done at once.

☞ For the West.—The Northern Transportation Company's splendid propeller Buckeye, Captain E. Chapman, will leave here on Saturday at 6 P. M., or directly after the arrival of the stage from Pulaski—for Chicago, Milwaukee, and intermediate ports—going through without change. For freight or passage apply to J. H. Crawford & Co., or Thomas Bryan, Passenger Agent.

☞ Summer Travel on the Lake.—The steamer Cataract, Captain Ledyard, will leave her dock, foot of West Seneca street, at 11 o'clock this evening, for Ogdensburgh and intermediate ports. The Bay State, Capt. Morley, will leave here at 7 to-morrow morning for Rochester, Toronto and Lewiston.

The down boat on Thursdays and Saturdays will touch at Sacket's Harbor.

[Business Notice.]

☞ The Draft — Circulates freely through the "Monitor," and visitors pronounce it the "coolest place in town!" And so it is. Call in, drink an ice cool —whatever you like—and go on your way refreshed and rejoicing.

[Business Notice.]

☞ Buy White & Moore's Malt Coffee. None equals it. Try and judge for yourselves. For sale by J. C. Luce, Jones & Co., and E. D. Stacy, East Oswego; and H. M. Cooper, West Oswego, and by D. Herrick, wholesale and retail.

☞ New Wood Market.—John Dunn, No. 64 West First street, begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has on hand, opposite his store, a large amount of fine wood, consisting of good body beach and hard maple, which he will sell cheap for cash. my11d3m

Wood delivered to all parts of the city.

☞ New York Life Insurance Company.—"Among the most significant facts marking our high civilization is the grand idea of Life Assurance. It is a safe and sure way to provide prospectively for wife or child, or sister, or brother or friend. It is a ready and certain way of accumulating a competency for those who depend upon us. It is a people's fund o which all may have access." The New York Life Insurance Company has an accumulation of $3,145,-67 08, and an experience of eighteen years. The affairs of this Company show a lively prosperity, and each successive year this great society, after disbursing hundreds of thousands of dollars to the insured, are adding to their capital a like amount Policies issued in all the usual forms. MARINE NEWS.

Large Grain Cargo.—The barque Robert Gaskil consigned to Messrs. Glassford, Jones & Co, arrived at this port, from Milwaukee, on saturday last, at noon, with a cargo of 21,450 bushels wheat This is the largest cargo probably ever brought to Kingston by one vessel The weight of this cargo is 1,287,000 lbs, and the grain was elevated by the elevator of this firm, in seven hours. The Robert Gaskin is now taking in a full cargo of wood for Milwaukee.—British Whig.

New Tug.—One of the new tugs which has been expected to arrive here this morning with a tow of vessels which she brings direct through from Cleveland. She is highly spoken of by many who have already visited her at Cleveland, both as regards model, finish and power of propulsion. She is commanded by Capt. Joe Kimball, formerly of the tug Oswego, but of Joe and his new steamer we propose to say something as soon as the opportunity may offer.—Detroit Free Press.

Large Timber Raft.—The tug Winslow, which left here some ten days since for Penetanguishine for a raft of timber to take to Port Maitland on Lake Erie, returned as far as this point on Sunday evening, having brought the same through without loss or damage, performing the distance inside of eight days. This raft consists of ten cribs, containing 100,000 cubic of choice oak timber. At Port Maitland it will be divided up into sections and taken through the Welland Canal, thence to Quebec, its ultimate destination. All is the property of John Cameron, Esq., of Toronto.—Detroit Trib.

GLORIOUS NEWS!

THE BATTLE NEAR GETTYSBURG.

THE REBELS BADLY WHIPPED.

CONSPICUOUS BRAVERY OF THE ELEVENTH CORPS.

CHANCELLORVILLE WIPED OUT.

ANOTHER GREAT BATTLE EXPECTED.

A SEVERE BATTLE NEAR VICKSBURG.

DEFEAT OF THE REBELS.

The Battle of Gettysburg.

New York, July 3.

The Herald has the following special: It says a column of 25,000 rebels passed through Gillsburgh yesterday in the direction of Gettysburg.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT FROM THE FRONT.

Some gentlemen who arrived here this evening from Gettysburg represent the condition of affairs at the close of the fight Wednesday evening as having been still more favorable for the Union arms than previous information.

They state that the rebels held Gettysburg some time before the approach of our army, and had not only fortified but had commenced fortifying the hills west of the town where they proposed to check our advance towards Chambersburgh.

The movement of Gen. Reynolds, and the rapidity with which he advanced after entrenching the east end of the town took them by surprise, and he soon obtained a prominent position which the rebels were fortifying.

The fight thorough the balance of the day was a futile attempt on their part to regain this important position from which they were frequently repulsed.

Early in the afternoon both Longstreet and Hill combined their forces for a grand effort to turn our right flank, when Gen. Howard's 11th corps, which broke and run at Chancellorsville, dashed in to regain their lost laurels, and most nobly did they repulse these two veteran corps of the rebel army.

The repulse was so complete that no further attempt was made by the enemy during the balance of the day, and night closed in with our holding the position chosen by the enemy to give us battle upon.

The 3d and 12th Army Corps came on the field after the last repulse of the enemy, but owing to the lall of Gen. Reynolds and the lateness of the hour as well as the exhaustion of the men, and the desire to take care of the wounded, it was determined not to push the enemy for a renewal of the conflict.

When our informant left the field Thursday morning, Gen. Meade had arrived and the main body of our army was in position and ready to push the enemy as soon as day should dawn.

Gettysburgh is 25 miles east of Chambersburgh, over a fine rolling country most of the way, which will doubtless be the scene of the great battles of the rebel invasion.

Special Dispatches.

New York, July 3.

The Tribune's special dated Columbia, Pa., July 2d, says:

The battle was renewed this morning, and continued up to 4 o'clock, our forces gaining upon the rebels when our messenger left the field.

Since 5 o'clock, the firing has been much heavier and more rapid, pertaining to a general engagement.

Gen. Lee's forces are said to be concentrating 4 miles north-east of Gettysburg.

This afternoon Sedgwick's corps is reported pressing on the rear of the enemy.

The Second Army Corps is moving up to Hanover this morning.

The reported burning of Gettysburgh by the rebels is unfounded. Only two buildings were destroyed by shells in the suburbs.

The Tribune's Washington special says:

Dispaches from Gen. Meade received today, says:

All appearance indicate a pitched battle between the two armies to-day (Thursday).

A Glorious Victory.

Washington, July 3—12:30 A. M.

Highly important advices reached here at midnight of yesterday's battle in Pennsylvania.

There seems little or no doubt a brilliant victory has been won. The enemy has not only been repulsed, but several thousand prisoners have been captured, together with corresponding stand of arms, ammunition, &c.

Our loss has been quite large, but has thus far resulted in decided success.

So far as can be learned the battle has not been renewed to-day.

Details of the first engagement are momentarily expected.

Rumored Surrender of Vicksburg.

Philadelphia, July 3.

The Inquirer of this city has the following posted on its bulletin:

A dispatch from Washington just received at the Navy Yard and read to the workmen, says Vicksburg has surrendered.

LATER.

At noon to-day, a Captain of marines at the Navy Yard read a dispatch to the men announcing the capture of Vicksburg.

CAPTURE OF RICHMOND.

Philadelphia, July 3.

The Press has the following:

Baltimore, July 2.—Rumors from Fortress Monroe, by the Old Point boat, have given rise to the serious impression that Richmond has been totally invested by Gen. Dix, and is probably captured.

Affairs at Vicksburg.

New York, July 3.

The Times prints the following special:

Rear of Vicksburg, Wednesday, June 24.

Up to yesterday, skirmishing has been going on along the whole line of our rear-front, or rather that portion of it from the Bluff to the Railroad crossing.

The rear-front was put in order to resist an assault.

During the night before we lost a picket of 300 near Bear Creek, seven miles from Snyder's Bluff.

On the same day the 4th Iowa cavalry was attacked by a superior force of rebel cavalry on the Bridgeport Ferry road.—They were repulsed after a hard fight.

Yesterday Osterhause was attacked on the Big Black. A severe battle ensued.—The rebels fought with most obstinate spirit and were, after a long engagement, repulsed with great slaughter.

The guns of the Cincinnati have been removed by Gen. Steele, and put in position in a land battery. They opened this morning.

A fleet of transports coming down with ordnance and commissary stores was fired into at Cypress Bend, day before yesterday.

The Prima Donna received twenty two shots and was disabled. The Kentucky towed her down.

Jas. Thompson, clerk of the Quartermaster at Helena, was killed by a six pound shot, on the Kentucky.

The rebels had six six pounder guns. The gunboats drove them off.

The fleet come through safe.

ACCIDENT AT HARPER'S FERRY.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says:

A distressing accident occurred at Harper's Ferry yesterday, as the garrison were evacuating the fortifications at Maryland Heights, which resulted in the death of ten soldiers, and the wounding of almost forty. The killed and wounded belong to the 6th and 8th Maryland regiments.

The accident resulted from the carelessness of some of the soldiers in knocking to pieces barrels of gunbower. The explosions took place about 3 o'clock.

The men wounded by the accident, with all the wounded at Harper's Ferry, were removed to this city to-day by boat down the Cumberland. The wounded are in charge of Dr. B. B. Buest, U. S. V.

A regiment of cavalry stationed at Frederick, reached Washington to-day, coming by way of Poolsville, Edward's Ferry, Seneca and Rockville.

The country between Frederick and Poolsville is undisturbed, the farmers being engaged in harvesting their crops.

There was no trace of rebel forces in the vicinity except now and then a deserter.

Three brigades of rebels passed through Seneca on Monday, toward Middleburg.

Another Report from Gettysburg.

Philadelphia, July 3

The Bulletin learns from parties who have arrived in this city the following particulars:

The fight opened at Gettysburg when our forces were about half a mile beyond the town. But one brigade of the corps of Gen. Reynolds was in position to do service at the opening of the struggle.

Gen. Reynolds gallantly pushed that brigade to a commanding position on Seminary Hill, and endeavored to hold it till the rest of the corps could come up.

Reinforcements were, however, delayed and our forces subsequently fell back of the locality called Seminary Hill.

About 10,000 of our men were engaged in this fight and 30,000 of the enemy.

The last position taken by our troops was held up to the latest dates.

Gen. Reynolds was killed early in the action, while placing the brigade in position.

During Wednesday night about 75,000 of Gen. Meade's forces came up and took a favorable position for the re-opening of the battle on Thursday morning, while at that period some 35,000 other Union troops were so near as to be immediately available for the contest.

The rebels have mainly concentrated their forces near Gettysburg.

Fighting at Vicksburg

Memphis, July 1.

Official advices from Gen. Grant's army to the 28th, says:

Vicksburg garrison is very active, making a desperate resistance in the hope relief will soon reach them.

Additional re-inforcements are said to be on the way from Bragg and Johnson, and the latter is perfecting arrangements to attack Grant's rear.

Marmaduke, Price and Kirby Smith, are combining to get at some point on the Mississippi. Probably an attempt will be made to capture Milliken's Bend, and stop navigation.

Gen. Hurlbert is vigilantly watching all movements of the enemy in the country adjacent to his lines.

Weather extremely hot.

Another Battle Begun.

New York, July 3.

Special dispatches to the New York Times says:

Battle Field, near Gettysburg, July 2d, 4:30 P. M.

The day has been quiet up to the present moment.

The enemy is now massing a heavy force on our left, and have just begun the attack with artillery.

The probability is a severe battle will be fought before dark.

The rebel sharp-shooters have been annoying our batteries and men all day, from the steeples of the churches in Gettysburg.

We hold the Emmitsburg & Baltimore road.
