From the Boston Intelligencer 6th

ANOTHER WITNESS FROM CALIFORNIA.—Mr. Melius has [illegible] from California — He [illegible] the gold region and is more sanguine [illegible] than that of Capt. Phelps. He thinks that many millions, thirty we believe he said, would probably be gathered the first year.

Mr. Melius brings with him one piece weighing six ounces, and valued at $90, which was originally purchased from an Indian, about the time of the first discovery, [illegible] red shirt. He also brings the following authentic document relative to the finding of a piece weighing over twelve pounds.

Outline of a piece of gold taken from the Placer near the Stanitas by Indian Tuerto, in the month of October, 1848, weighing twelve and one quarter pounds troy, to MELIUS.

This piece of gold is almost entirely five [illegible] one of its surfaces; it averages [illegible] inches about ¼ of an inch; in parts more than ¼ inches; it is still in the possession of the finder, who has been offered $12,50 per oz. notwithstanding the highest cash price at this place is $10 per oz.

Angelo, Nov. 25, 1848.

The above statement in the manuscript is enclosed within a line drawn to indicate the size and shape of the piece of gold—The lines thus drawn covers a space of about 24 square inches.

From the National Intelligencer.

General and Mrs. Taylor have no children young enough to be "going to school" in Baltimore or elsewhere. They have there a daughter married to Dr. Woods of the army, and now on that station. Col. Taylor, the General's brother, whose lady is a daughter of the Hon. John McLean, is also in Baltimore, and attached to that station.—The public attention and curiosity seems to have been won away by the General entirely from his better half: for his biographers have not told us who she is. Now, for the honor of old Calvert county, in Maryland, be it known, that she produced the only person to whom Gen. Taylor ever has surrendered. Mrs. Taylor comes not only from Calvert county, but from, it is believed, the very estate on which Mrs. Adams' father, if not she herself, was born—on the shores of that river, the Patuxent, which navigators have said was the boldest and most beautiful they had entered. Mrs. Taylor's father was Capt. Walter Smith, an independant and highly respectable farmer, whose estate was situate on the right bank of St. Leonard's creek, in which Commodore Barney's flotilla was blockaded in the latewar. She is the sister of the late Maj. Richard Smith, of the Marine Corps, well remembered in Washington and New York especially, for his gallant and soldiery appearance and bearing, and his fine social qualities. It was in Kentucky that the General, then a very young man, saw her, and was conquered. With that reservation, it may be said, to use the words of young Crittenden to Santa Anna, "General Taylor never surrenders."

PRESIDENT TAYLOR.—From a Baltimore letter in the Charleston News we take the following brief but vigorous notice of the President:—

Party and personal prejudices aside, the political circles of Washington will never have been more mistaken, than in their estimate of this remarkable man. One of strong penetration, who was thrown much in his company during a portion of the route, and was favored with familiar intercourse, said of him, that no one has kept a better pace with the times, better understood the calibre of our prominent men, or is better informed upon the policy and administration of our government. So far from being a fit subject for imposition in the hands of the designing, he has a will of his own and a firmness in enforcing compliance to it, that falls little short of imperiousness. Already has he been subject to toadyism in every shape. Where it did not pass the bounds of toleration, it was annoticed, but when it became impertinence, the intruder was instantly brought up all standing by the sternness of his rebuke. I could particularize instances, but will, no further than to say, that one personage returns to New York rather disappointed in his man.

☞ A Tripple line of Telegraph, it appears, is to connect New-York and Buffalo. The O'Reilly line, with Bain's printing apparatus, is to be "set up" between the two points as soon as the ground is thawed out—taking the east side of the river. Another line of Morse's telegraph is to connect Newburgh and Albany on the west side of the river, making another circuit, as a branch of the New York line. There cannot be too many of them, either for the public convenience or for the advantage of stockholders. They will all find employment, and pay well. The telegraph is daily growing into public favor and use, and will never be dispensed with until the lightning is not run by something else.—Argus.

A Deserted Room—Few things are calculated to make a more painful impression than the view of empty rooms once containing within their walls so much of the warmth and light and joy of life. There is a voice in their silence ever proclaiming the mutability of human beings; the dull ashes in the cheerless grate are emblematical of the decaying embers of a time bright by burning in the bosoms, now changed and cold; the remnants of things which lie about on the floors are types of the broken straws which bound fond hearts to a cherished object—served now, but still refusing to quit their hold.

☞ The following toasts were given at a supper of the New England society in Chicago, Illinois, on the 22d ult:

The fair union-weeders of Wethersfield—Angels among vegetables; they always weave a smile on their lip and a tear in their eye."

Yankees—Plymouth rock their birthright, and a "pocket full of rocks" for their inheritance.

New England's Daughters—Industry and virtue being their inheritance; they blush upon being kissed by the rising sun in the morning, and are not ashamed of being kissed by the rising sun in the evening.

FOUR PERSONS POISONED.—A Gilfordtown, N. H. correspondent of the mail writes, under date of March 5th, that four persons were poisoned in the family of B F. Blaisdell of New Boston, N. H. by morphine, and that two of them died, one an old lady: Mrs. Blaisdell) and the other a young child. An adopted daughter of the old lady has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime. She is known to have purchased twenty-five cents worth of morphine in Manchester, and it is supposed that she put a part of it into a preparation of liquorices which the old lady was in the habit of taking; as she was found dead in her chair in a few hours after partaking of it. The dose to the child was given more copiously, and caused her death in twelve hours.

GENERAL SCOTT.—There will be universal pleasure felt at the special invitation which General Taylor has extended to General Scott to honor the ceremonies of inauguration to-day by his presence. This is a circumstance that puts an end to the suspicion some of the worthy politicians on the other side would have inculcated, that there was alienation and unfriendly feeling between these two eminent soldiers. Here the great man speaks to the great man; and the hero of Buena Vista expresses the same magnanimous feeling which has always been the characteristic, the very soul, of the hero of Churubusco.—North Amer.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

— OSWEGO —

Wednesday Even'g, March 14, 1849.

☞ The Palladium of this week contains a communication over the signature of R. T. Hancock in which an attempt is made to refute a statement made by us some days since to the effect that a whig supervisor was last year elected in the town of Palermo and counted out by loco foco canvassers. Mr Hancock pronounces our statement false, and gives some details of the canvass at the Palermo town meeting to show it so, which may be true enough as far as they go, for aught we know. Our statement was based upon information, derived from authentic sources, that a considerable number of ballots given for D. Jennings for Supervisor, and clearly intended for David Jennings the whig candidate, were rejected. The ballots thus thrown out were abundantly sufficient, we were informed to elect Mr. Jennings, and according to usage and principles of justice should have been allowed to him. Mr. Jennings was pressed by his friends to apply to the Supreme Court for a revision of the canvass, so strong was the conviction that injustice had been done him. If Mr. Hanchet can show this to be erroneous and unsustained by the facts in the case, our original statement, of which he complains, will be withdrawn.

LIEUT. JOHN P. HATCH.—For the details of Legislative proceedings we are accustomed to look in the Evening Journal. The following proceeding took place on the 7th instant, but did not come under our notice till we received the Journal of that date, which came to hand to-day. Our citizens will be gratified with the contemplated compliment to the gallantry, good conduct and high character of Lieut. Hatch, who is now on his way, in obedience to orders, for Oregon with the mounted rifle.

Mr. FITZHUGH presented a joint resolution providing a Gold Medal to Lieut. JOHN P. HATCH. (Referred.

Mr. FITZHUGH had known this young man from his youth up. He is now but 24 years of age. He graduated in 1845, and was immediately put into active service.—He was in eight battles in Mexico, and in five of them he was honorably mentioned for his gallantry. He has been Acting Adjutant of the Rifle Regiment from its creation, and he is now Adjutant in fact. He is withal unassuming and of high moral character. For so young a man he has few equals. It is seldom one of his years acquire such deserved distinction.

Death of Senator Williams.

Intelligence of the death of Hon. TIMOTHY S. WILLIAMS a Senator from the 25th district of this State was communicated to the Senate by Telegraph during its sitting on Monday. The Senate appointed a committee and immediately took a recess till 4 o'clock, at which hour Mr. S. H. P. HALL, from the select committee, reported the following resolutions:—

Resolved, That the Senate have heard with profound regret of the decease on the morning of the 11th inst. at his late residence in Ithaca, of the Hon. TIMOTHY S. WILLIAMS, late a Senator from the 25th Senate district, and that in testimony of their high appreciation of the exalted private and official character and cherished memory of their late associate, the members of the Senate will wear the usual badge of mourning during the remainder of the session.

Resolved, That the members of the Senate deeply sympathise with the family and relatives of the deceased, and tender to them their condolence upon the sad bereavement, which has removed from their domestic circle its esteemed and virtuous head.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, attested by the President of the Senate, be transmitted by him to the widow and family of the deceased.

Resolved, That the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. CORNWELL seconded the resolutions, and addressed the Senate in feeling and eulogistic terms of the character of the deceased. Mr. BOND followed as follows:

One word sir, as it will be the only opportunity afforded me, of paying a passing tribute to the memory of the deceased. My acquaintance with him commenced when I became a member of this body. During an intercourse of two years, he has endeared himself to me, and I think I can truly say to all of us, by his many good qualities. In his temper, I have always found him cheerful, amiable and kind. In his department he was manly and dignified, yet, at the same time simple and unassuming. He had a heart to appreciate, a mind to conceive, and a judgment to execute, all the purposes for which God had created him. As a man, he was unimpeachably honest; as a citizen, eminent, useful in all the stations he was called by his fellow-citizens to fill. As a member of this body, he was able and faithful in the discharge of all the duties which devolved upon him, and at the same time courteous and affable towards all who differed from him in opinion and sentiment. As a christian, he was remarkable for his piety—for that kind of piety which was constant and truthful, and which exhibited itself in his daily walk and conversation. It seemed to be the very habit of his soul and inseperable from his existence. It was this piety which no doubt sustained him when the earthly house of his tabernacle was dissolving, and when his spirit, which for fifty years had tabernacled that tenement, was balancing its wings to soar away to its final caravanseral of rest to that building of God, to that House not made with hands, eternal to the heavens. The Hon. Senator sleeps with his fathers, with the righteous dead. The memorials of his many virtues are now enshrined in that most blessed and consecrated sanctuary, the bleeding hearts of his wife, children, relatives and friends. Theirs be the consolation that their sorrow is not as those who have no hope—for if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also who sleep in Jesus will God bring with him. This event is fraught with instruction to every reflecting mind. It is an impressive moralist, teaching us all how inconstant uncertain and temporary are all the hopes, enjoyments and expectations of human life. It admonishes us all in language not to be misunderstood—

"That life is short, that time is fleeting,
That our hearts, tho' stout and brave,
Still like muffled drums are beating
Funeral marches to the grave."

The resolutions were then unanimously adopted, and the Senate adjourned.

☞ We are requested to call the attention of capitalists and others to the Auction sale of Jacob Hansen, which takes place at the Wetland House to-morrow. See advertisement in another column.

The British ship Cambria, which put into Delaware breakwater a short time since, arrived at New York on Monday. She had 100 passengers: 78 deaths had occurred on board since she left Ireland, and 50 are now sick on board with ship fever.

FROM WASHINGTON.—Washington dates of the 11th say a large number of appointments were to be sent to the Senate on Monday.

Edward W McGaughey of Indiana, formerly a member of Congress, is appointed Governor of Minnesota, and Mr. Washburn of Indiana, Judge.

Baylie Peyton of Louisiana, is talked of as Minister to Mexico.

Thomas M. Foote of the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, for Constantinople.

Ex-Governor John Gayle, late M. C. of Alabama, is mentioned for Circuit Judge, in place of Wm. Crawford deceased.

Thos. L. Smith, formerly Register of the U. States Treasury Department, has been re-appointed in place of Mr. Graham.

Mr. Brady of Pa., is to be Second Auditor.

Mr. Penrose of Va., is to have a bureau.

Mr. Pendleton of Virginia, it is said, will have the Chilian Mission.

The Select Committee of five—Messrs Benton, chairman, Felch, Mason, Webster, Peirce, have unanimously agreed to report on Monday, that Gen. Shields has no right to a seat in the Senate.

Reverdy Johnson acts as Secretary of War until Judge Crawford comes.

An order has been issued by Secretary Meredith to ascertain who was removed and who appointed, under the administration of Mr. Polk; also, the reasons for removal.

Hon. MILLARD FILLMORE has been appointed to succeed Hon. G. M. DALLAS, as one of the Trustees of the Smithsonian Institute.

PASSENGER VESSELS.—The new Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular of instructions to the collectors and officers of the Customs, calling their attention to the Act of Congress, approved March 3d, 1849, to extend the provisions of all laws now in force relating to the carriage of passengers in merchant vessels, and the regulations thereof, providing for their ventilation and their proper supply of water and provisions.

UNIVERSAL HISTORY OF THE MOST REMARKABLE EVENTS OF ALL NATIONS.—No. IV of the second volume of Dr. HENRY'S History of the World, has been received and is for sale by J. L. Post, Periodical Depot, East Oswego. It is a work of uncommon interest, elegantly executed on fine paper, and the No. before us contains over 100 pages—price 25 cents.

Messrs. Porter and Robjohn, projectors of the "burial ship," advertise to sail for California on the 15th of April, through in five days. Fare, $50 and found. A large vessel is being coppered.

Thos Morris, esq., for many years U. S. Marshall for the Southern district, and a son of Robert Morris of Philadelphia, died at an advanced age in New York on Monday.

Col. Thos. H. BENTON was expected in New York yesterday, to arrange for a passage to California for his daughter, Mrs. FREMONT.

The Olio Company.

As was anticipated, the Tabernacle was well filled last night, and the performance went off with a deal of gusto. No better proof of an acceptable entertainment can be adduced than that of last night; every body was there that attended on Monday evening and a great many others besides. Mr. WILLIS made a most favorable impression. He sings again to-night—The great attraction of the evening, however, was the dancing by the inimitable Misses Kendall. They are sweet creatures and their dancing is in perfect harmony with their pretty faces. Ravages made lots of fun in the afterpiece; and Mr. LINDEN gave his imitations of Forrest and Kean to the life.

CHOLERA AND RUM.—An eminent New York Physician, writing about the Cholera, from his experience in the cholera season of 1832, remarks:

"The man who drinks is as ready for the cholera as oiled paper is for taking fire.—Nine tenths of all that were attacked, drank."

Dissipation of every kind is a known promotive of the Cholera.

ANOTHER RAIL ROAD COMMUNICATION.—We observe that the owners of the Ithica and Owego Railroad are endeavoring to have their road relaid and rebuilt, so that the locomotive can go directly through the village and to the Erie Road. This is true policy in our sister village, and the sooner it is done, the better it will be for her trade and for every department of her prosperity. We see no reason why a large business should not be immediately done, upon this thoroughfare.—Courtland Whig.

Legislative Summary.

MONDAY, March 12.

IN THE SENATE, a number of bills were reported complete and ordered to a third reading—generally of a local character.—Mr. Fuller made a written report in favor of the bill to amend the act to simplify and abridge the Code of Procedure. The Albany Basin bill was then debated, when the death of the Hon. T. S. WILLIAMS being announced, the Senate took a recess until four o'clock.

In the afternoon, resolutions of condolence were adopted. Adj.

HOUSE.—The Senate bill amending the General Banking Law, was among the bills favorably reported on. A bill was reported for a work house in New York. A large number of private and local bills passed.—The Troy and Rutland Rail Road bill was made a special order. A call was made on Union College for a statement of its affairs. The Champlain Bridge bill was discussed in committee. No question. The death of Senator WILLIAMS was announced, and a committee appointed to report resolutions of condolence,—when the house took a recess.

On re-assembling, Mr. Roosevelt submitted resolutions in relation to the late Senator WILLIAMS, which, after appropriate remarks from him, were adopted unanimously. Adj.

From the Montreal Herald, March 1.

THE REBELLION LOSSES.—Meetings it will be seen by our present issue continue to be held throughout the length and breadth of the province, for the purpose of petitioning Her Majesty's representative to withhold the assent of the crown from the ministerial measure, by which, it is sought to remunerate the defeated insurgents of 1837—8, at the cost of their conquerors, the loyal people of Canada.

* * * * * * *

We say again, if the majority of the Canadian people are base enough to lend a hand in riveting their own chains, we know of no constitutional remedy for so foul, so fatal a disease in the body-politic. The specific of the physician must be cast aside, and the knife of the surgeon be resorted to, otherwise the poisonous virus may spred from the offending limb to the vitals of the empire, of which Canada, after such an act, would be all unworthy.

But, we repeat we will never believe that the assent of the crown to its own degradation will be given until, at least it can be constitutionally demanded, as a result of a general election. What that result will be we have not the shadow of a doubt; but, whatever it may be, surely the loyal defenders of her Majesty's throne make no unreasonable demand upon her prerogative, in asking that they should not be consigned unheard—that they should have an opportunity of constitutionally revising their decision at the last election, when the slightest whisper of the [illegible] justice intended them was carefully avoided.

A REMNANT OF THE REVOLUTION.—On Monday morning, bright and early, Mrs. Sarah Lonnington, aged nearly one hundred and five years, appeared before Mr. Loman, a commissioner of deeds, of this city, to execute some papers connected with a pension which she is entitled to receive as the widow of a revolutionary officer.—She is in the possession of all her faculties—has a wonderfully retentive memory—is remarkably active and cheerful, and full of rich and interesting anecdotes. She resides at the house of her son-in-law, Mr. Thorn, a city marshal, in Canton-st., Myrtle avenue, and as the relic of a by-gone age, has no living compeer. She is in the highest spirits at the accession of General Taylor to the Presidency of the United States, as she regards him as one of the best and purest men that have been elevated to that high office since the days of Washington.—*N. Commercial.

COMMERCIAL TIMES OFFICE,
March 14,—21 P. M.

SALT.—A bill has been introduced into the Senate of this State and is now pending, to equalize the canal tolls on foreign and domestic manufactured salt. The present rates of toll are much higher on the foreign than on the domestic article, and operates as protection to the home manufacture of salt, in the absence of any protection afforded by the light duty imposed on foreign salt by the tariff of 1846. Of the wisdom of the proposed equalization under the existing duties we have doubts, if it is conceded that the state has the power to impose discriminating duties in the form of canal tolls.

NEW-YORK MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, March 12—7 P. M

Flour is heavy and low grades are cheaper; sales 3500 bbls at $5,37½@5,50; nearly all, however, at 5,44@5,50: pure is $5 and firm, the stock of sound is reduced to 150,000 bbls.

Cotton steady. Saltpetre's price are obtained without difficulty.

Grain—There is some milling inquiry for wheat but no sales except of Long Island: Genesee can be had at 135@136c which is a decline on the prices of last week. There has been a good deal of corn moved in store, the british having been free, but there is a considerable decline in prices: the sales reach 60,000 bush at 53@54c for southern white and mixed, 56@57c for southern yellow, 58c for Jersey yellow and 54c for Jersey white; yellow shows a decline of 3c per bush. Rye is dull at 82@83c. There is some demand for barley but no sales. Oats are 40c for northern and quiet.

Provisions—The market for pork is firmer, and sales of 1200 bbls at $9 and 10,62½@10,75, closing at 10,75 and 9,12½ asked; sales of prime mess at about 11,50. Beef dull, with small sales at previous rates. Beef hams are nominally $15@16. Sales of smoked beef at 10@11c. In cut meats but little doing, no contract but the market is heavy: sales 150,000 lbs shoulders at 4½c in bulk, and 200,000 do hams at 5½c, also in bulk. Lard is less firm; sales 700 bbls and tierces on private terms, but at easier rates than could be obtained on Saturday. Cheese is held more firmly, in consequence of the better news from the other side; sales 60 tons Ohio at 7c.

Iron—Sales 200 tons merchants' bars at $58,50 which is an advance; pig iron is dull.

Freights—Is dull.

Balance in the Sub-Treasury $1,849,981.

Money is easier: our stock loans 6@7 per cent

AUCTION SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,
In the CITY & COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

WILL BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION, on THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1849, at the Wetland House; in the city and county of Oswego, the following described Property, viz —

No. 1.—All that certain piece or parcel of land, known as part of lot number nine, (9) in the city of OSWEGO, formerly known as the village of West Oswego, bounded as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner of lot number nine, and running easterly on the division line of lots numbers 9 and 10, forty-six (46) feet, thence northerly parallel with First street, thirty-two (32) feet, thence westerly parallel with the division line of lots numbers 9 and 10, forty-six (46) feet to First street, thence southerly along First street thirty-two (32) feet to the place of beginning, with the Frame Building thereon, now occupied as two stores.

This property is eligibly located in the best business part of the city, and as an investment for any other, for a wholesale or retail trade.

Also—No. 2.—All that certain piece or parcel of land on Second street, West Oswego, being parts of lots numbers thirty nine (39) and forty (40), containing about eighty and one-half (80½) feet of land on Second street, and extending one hundred and thirty (130) feet deep from Second street, be the same more or less.

This Property is immediately contiguous to the most improved and business part of the city, and is desirable not only for its present value, but also for its prospective and rapid improvement.
