

Saturday's Folk Concert

Kitty Macey will perform a concert of folk music this Saturday, February 6 at 9 pm at the Coffee House, 183 Water Street in Oswego. Macey performs Irish songs, traditional ballads and contemporary folk music by such performers as Simon and Garfunkel, Billy Joel and Judy Collins. She also plays some original songs.

Macey has been playing since age 16 and helped put herself through school playing. Originally from the Pittsburgh area, she has played clubs in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, as well as the Oswego area. She has lived in Oswego for five years, where she is Assistant Professor of Costume Design in the Theatre Department at the State College in Oswego.

This concert is sponsored by the Ontario Center for Performing Arts, Inc., and not-for-profit educational corporation, in cooperation with The Coffee House Group, a community organization which manages The Coffee House. It is part of a series of informal concerts by Central New York performers being held this winter. Upcoming shows include Bob Doolittle on Feb. 13, and Boop & Bird on Feb. 19.

The Ontario Center for Performing Arts will resume its presentation of concerts by nationally-known performers in the Market House Music Hall on Feb. 28, when Dakota Dave Hull and Sean Blackburn, a Minnesota swing guitar duo appear. For information about any of these shows, call 342-1733.
