DEMOCRATIC SUPERVISOR IN SCRIBA.

The Democrats in Scriba have nominated James Sears for supervisor against John E. Coe. If the city could vote upon the question it might help Mr. Sears, but as the matter is to be decided by Scriba people it may not be so well. Mr. Coe resides in Scriba and pays all his taxes in that town. Mr. Sears resides in Scriba, but pays most of his taxes in Oswego city. We notice that Mr. Sears last year made nearly or quite $150 taxes in this city, and we have been told that he only paid about $20 in the town of Scriba. If the town should happen to elect him his large interest in this city would make him a good man for us.

Vote early.

FLORIDA strawberries fell one dollar a quart in New York last week.

Republicans give the whole of to-day to your ticket.

The Hudson River is now open from Troy to New York. Ferry boats are running and freight line boats are getting ready to start.

The anniversary of Andrew Jackson's birthday occurs March 8th. Preparations are being made in some cities to observe it in an appropriate manner.

At last Roscoe Conkling has decided to decline the judgeship. His letter of declination was received by the President yesterday. People will now breathe easier and wonder what is in store next in this direction.

THE New York Bulletin gives reports from 261 western Counties in regard to winter wheat. The counties include Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Indiana and Kansas. They show a considerable increase in acreage and a general promising outlook.

CONKLING HEARD FROM.

He Respectfully Declines.

His Letter in the Hands of the President—No One Particularly Surprised—What his Friends Say—Blatchford for Judge if he will Accept—If Not, Clarence A. Seward.

New York, March 6.—The President has received from Roscoe Conkling his declination of the supreme court judgeship.

The Telegram's Washington special says: Conkling has formally declined the position of judge of the supreme court. His letter of declination will probably be sent to the senate this afternoon.

The Mail's Washington special says: It is understood the President has received a letter from Conkling, but declines to give out its contents till later in the day.

From this fact senators and others reason that Conkling will not accept the judgeship. It is said that the letter gives Conkling's reasons at considerable length for his actions.

Washington, March 6.—Conkling's declination occasioned little or no surprise here. The President refuses to make public his letter at present. Conkling's friends say the only reason given was his disinclination to abandon a lucrative law practice.

It is definitely stated to-night that the name either of Judge Blatchford or Clarence A. Seward will be sent to the senate to-morrow; the former if he will accept, otherwise the latter.

Bradlaugh's Election—Gladstone's Argument of no Avail—157 to 243.

LONDON, March 6.—In the house of commons to-day Mr. Gladstone spoke in opposition to Sir Stafford Northcote's motion to prevent Bradlaugh, who has again been returned by his district to parliament, despite his recent expulsion for not taking the oath. Gladstone strongly urged the defeat of this motion and support of Majoribank's amendment, which so alters the law regulating admission to the house as to allow affirmation as well as swearing.

Gladstone said that the position of the house on the question was painful and was every day becoming more so, and the amendment would secure a proper solution of the difficulty.

Notwithstanding Gladstone's argument, the motion of Sir Stafford Northcote was carried by a vote of 257 to 243.

Deluge in the West.

Leaves Gone Out—People Driven From Their Homes—Living on House-tops and in Boats.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 6.—The levee at Red Fork landing, on the Arkansas river, broke Sunday night and this morning at a place three miles below. In Desho county the river has completely flooded all the houses, and at Watson station, forty miles back, the people are living in boats, dug outs and on rafts.

Many sticks to their houses though they are driven to the roof. A break at Riverton Tuesday last has caused the waters to the north to go down, and the cry for help is not now so urgent. No great damage has taken place in the general aspect in the last three days.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 6.—The levee is broken all along the river and many persons have been drowned.

Superintendent of State Prisons.

Baker's Confirmation Assured.

ALBANY, March 6.—The committee of the senate on State prisons will report on Wednesday relative to the nomination of Baker in place of Pillsbury for superintendent of State prisons. It is stated to-night that all the Republicans and the Tammany men will vote for the confirmation, besides several anti-Tammany men. Among the latter, Mr. Browning, of New York, is included, because of his record in the previous legislature against Pillsbury's system of contract labor; and Titus, of Buffalo, for guarantees during his canvass. Several senators, it is understood, will advocate a change for the same reason, and it is believed Baker will be confirmed.

Democrats in Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Democratic representatives held a caucus immediately after the adjournment of the house, to consider Reed's proposed amendment to the rules, which in effect extends the morning hour indefinitely, and gives to the committee holding the floor the right to ask the house to consider and carry to final action any measure the committee may propose, regardless of its place on the calendar. Gen. Rosecrans presided, and Perry Belmont secretary. After an hour's discussion, Mr. Keam offered the following, which was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, that in the judgment of this caucus the amendment to the rules of the house of representatives proposed by a majority of the committee on rules are destructive of those just rights and necessary privileges of the minority, which a Democratic majority, in former congresses never denied to Republican minorities, and that we will resist their adoption by every parliamentary method at our command.

Resolved, further, that we will cheerfully support any amendment to the rules by the house which tend to promote their improvement, the proper facilitation of public business, and are not destructive of the rights of the minority and people they represent.

No other subject was brought before the caucus, which adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Explosion of a Gas Generator.

WILKESBARRE, March 6.—The generator in the gas works of this city exploded this afternoon with a force sufficient to shake the city from center to circumference. The greater part of the building and machinery was completely destroyed. The concussion broke window panes a quarter of a mile away. There was nobody in the building at the time and it is supposed that the fire was left so carelessly as to over heat the generator. The company uses the Love process for the manufacture of gas from kerosene. It is known as the Wilkesbarre gas company. Loss will reach $10,000.

Severe Hail Storm—Circus Tent Broken Down.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 6.—An unprecedented hail storm prevailed here last night, covering the ground to the depth of three inches with large hail stones and causing much damage to crops in the city and surrounding country. The tent of the performance of an American circus, the tent, which was filled with the best of Mexican society, fell in from the pressure brought to bear upon it by the storm, causing a great panic and rush for an exit. The lights were extinguished and a number of persons were trampled on, but no serious injuries to any of them has as yet been reported.

Blizzard in the West.

The following dispatches show status of blizzard in Minnesota:

BRAINARD, March 6.—Snow nine inches deep. Lumbermen will get in extra work on new snow.

AUSTIN, March 6.—Strong west wind, indications of blizzard.

BRECKENRIDGE, March 6.—Snow began falling Saturday. A blizzard followed. Six inches of snow fell and drifted badly.

Glucose—Terrible storm; several inches of snow fell, blocking the roads worse than at any time this season.

Ortonville—A storm began Saturday, with sleet and snow yesterday and this morning. It is blowing quite freely to-day and snow is falling, but it is not cold. If snow remains on the ground it will help Wisconsin lumbermen.

Hudson River Steamers.

New York, March 6.—Wednesday evening the steamer City of Troy, the first through boat up the Hudson river this season, will leave for Troy. Last year the first through boat did not make a trip until March 21, the season being nearly two weeks later than the present one.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—In regard to the publication of the notorious Garfield dispatch sent by Whitlaw Bold to John Hay last March, District Attorney Corhill says, after thorough investigation, that the copy was certainly procured through a great violation of faith on the part of some one entrusted with the message or stolen from the wires, but he cannot find anything in the transaction which would subject the parties to punishment under the law of the district.

OPENING OF THE CANALS.

Approximate Date Fixed by Superintendent of Public Works Dutcher.

The Rochester Herald says: "State Superintendent of public works Silas B. Dutcher was in the city Saturday in conference with Assistant Superintendent Bedel in regard to canal matters. Mr. Dutcher informed a Herald reporter that the yearly repairs on the canals would be commenced at once and pushed as rapidly as possible. Beyond the reworking of the Lyons aqueduct the repairs this spring will be considerably less than usual, the canal having been left in exceptionally good condition last fall. It is the intention of Mr. Dutcher to be 'ready for business as soon as business is ready,' and he will upon the canal for navigation at the earliest date possible. Hot repairs that all repairs on the canals can be completed by the end of the present month. About one week more will be necessary to fill the canal with water, so that if matters progress as expected the canals will be opened by the second week in April, an earlier date than at any time within forty or fifty years. Mr. Dutcher expressed the opinion that the constitutional amendment providing for free tolls on the canals would be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection the coming fall. He was unwilling to give an opinion regarding the bill recently introduced for licensing elevators and regulating the prices to be paid for storage, but intimated that the workings of the Buffalo elevator rings should be investigated by the newspapers.
