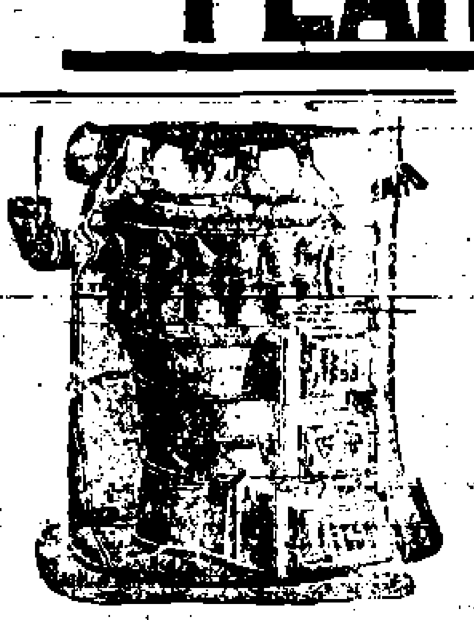
Good morning
Have you used
PEARS' SOAP?



It is getting cold, don't wait any longer, come and get a

Carton Furnace.

No dust, no gas, will heat all of your house as cheap as one stove.

FOR SALE ONLY BY

Smith, Van Horne & Co.,
20 EAST BRIDGE STREET.
10,3,dlw

Hot Clam Juice
Fresh From "Little Neck" Clams
Hot Chocolate
HOT BOUILLON
Hot Coffee
HOT BEEF TEA
AND
Beet and Celery
Popular Cold Weather Drink.
ALSO COLD SODA
AND MINERAL WATERS
SUMMER AND WINTER
—AT—
AUSTEN & POOLE'S.
Successors to E. W. Austen,
DRUGGISTS,
200 West First street, Oswego, N. Y.

Attention

is called to my New and Complete Line of Goods for the Fall trade. Beautiful new designs in Gold Jewelry, consisting of Pins, Ear Drops, Rings, Etc. Just look at the elegant styles in Gold Pens, Pencils and Tooth-Picks. They cannot be beaten; just the thing for a Birthday Gift. Fountain Pens too, and in fact if you want anything in the Jewelry trade, it will pay you to call and look over my stock. 'Honest Goods at Honest Prices' is the motto. Also a first-class Sewing Machine for sale cheap for Cash.

J. W. Hoyt,
3 ARCADE BLOCK.

DR. M. M. POUCHER, V. S.
Graduate Ontario Veterinery College
Member N. Y. State Veterinery Society.
Office J. S. Poucher's Livery Stable West Second Street.

GAYLORD, DOWNEY & CO.,
Successors to Irwin & Sloan.
Grain Commission Merchants
NORTHWESTERN ELEVATOR
OSWEGO, N. Y.
O. F. GAYLORD, ROBERT DOWNEY, D. M. IRWIN

EMPIRE MILLS.
Patent Roller Flour
Buckwheat Flour,
Wheat, Feed, All kinds
Corn Meal and Oats
Wheat, Buckwheat and Oats bought and exchanged.
D. DOOLITTLE, 66, 68 70 East First St.

Beecham's Pills cure Sick Headache.

PRESIDENT POLK'S OBSERVATIONS.

What the National President of the Farmers' Alliance Sees to Cheer Him.

Hon. L. L. Polk, president of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon for the purpose of addressing the county Alliance this afternoon. Seated in front of a sociable grate fire in a modest room at the United States hotel, surrounded by a score of well known citizens of the county, he was found by a reporter last night. He was engaged in an earnest talk to his auditors, who were listening with impressive attention. When through he stated that he was on his way home from an extended visit to the Alliance in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois. He had heard such encouraging reports from Ohio that he concluded to spend a few days in the Buckeye state.

"The growth of the Alliance is remarkable," he said, "and particularly so in the states I have just visited. The enthusiasm displayed by the farmers in joining the organization is demonstrated by the fact that in December, 1889, when the Alliance was organized in the state of Kansas, the scattering alliances contained only 35,000 members, and today it has over 145,000. In the northwest we have a rapidly growing organization, and in Michigan we have a model Alliance. We have now alliances organized in thirty-five states, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and Canada to the Gulf. We have over 34,000 alliances, containing a membership of nearly 2,000,000. In a year we will have over 2,500,000 members."

"What do you think of the progress of the Alliance in Ohio?"

"It is remarkable, but it is the same in every state. I find that the alliances in Ohio are larger than in any state I have yet visited. The result here is encouraging, and you need not be surprised to see 1,200 alliances in the state next October, with a membership of 150,000."

"Is it not one of the objects of the Alliance to seek a confederation of all other farmers' organizations in the country?"

"It is. There is now another organization known under the name of the Alliance, which is a strong and powerful factor among the farmers of the western states, particularly in Nebraska. The objects of this and our organization are practically the same. We have a mutual understanding, and it will not be long until the two are confederated. We want to get all the organizations of the farmers together and are not attempting to do so by absorption, but by uniting with them."

"The Alliance appears to be causing the two prominent political parties some fright in particular sections of the country?"

"Yes, but the local alliances are responsible for this. The chief principles of the Alliance are non-partisanship and non-sectionalism. When a man enters the lodge room he leaves his party and religion behind him. The Alliance is united by ties of financial and home interests. We want to labor for the education of the agricultural classes in the science of economic government in a non-partisan spirit, to develop a better state mentally, morally, socially and financially, and to suppress personal, local, sectional and national prejudices."

Col. Polk is a striking man in appearance and a typical southerner. He was born, raised and has since lived in North Carolina. He is one of the leading farmers of the south, and is the owner of one of the finest plantations in his state. He is well educated, is an eloquent speaker and a most interesting conversationalist. —Ohio State Journal.

The Embattled Farmers.

The farmers of the United States are up in arms. They are the bone and sinew of the nation; they produce the largest share of its wealth, but they are getting, they say, the smallest share for themselves. The American farmer is steadily losing ground. His burdens are heavier every year, and his gains are more meager; he is beginning to fear that he may be sinking into a servile condition. He has waited long for the redress of his grievances; he proposes to wait no longer.

Whatever he can do by social combinations or by united political action to remove the disabilities under which he is suffering he intends to do at once and with all his might. There is no doubt at all that the farmers of this country are tremendously in earnest just now, and they have reason to be. Beyond question they are suffering sorely. The business of farming has become, for some reasons, extremely unprofitable. With the hardest work and with the sharpest economy the average farmer is unable to make both ends meet. Every year closes with debt, and the mortgage grows till it devours the land.—Rev. Washington Gladden in Forum.

The Remedy for all pain, Salvation Oil 25 cts.

It would make a stone image turn green with envy to observe the expression of profound disgust that settles down on the face of the doctor when he hears his patients praising Dr. Bull's cough syrup.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Flower Cushions, Sachets, Screen Panels and Toilet Table Slips.

Silk cushions are made in a variety of shapes. Those that imitate flowers are the prettiest. The rose cushion, consisting of three full blown roses—a red, a yellow and a pink—is charming. It can be secured to the back of a chair. The poppy cushion is one large flower instead of a cluster. The stalk of the flower is utilized to fasten the cushion to the chair. These things would be regarded as purely ornamental in a room. They look too fragile for use.

Beautifully modeled pansies in velvet are used for handkerchief sachets as well as cushions. Another cushion takes the shape of a sea shell.

Handsome screen panels may be made by using unbleached linen toweling as a foundation, covering it with darned work in gold colored silk, closely applied. Upon this background a few blossoms worked in solidly may be scattered over the surface, or a design in outline with a little shading here and there will be found very effective. The design should be traced upon the linen before the background is darned in.

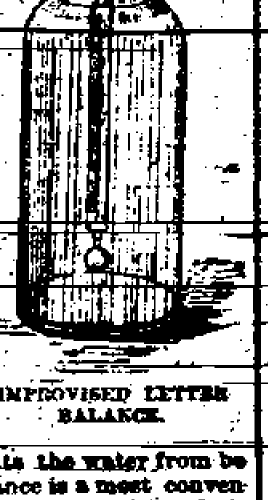
For toilet table slips nothing can improve upon drawn threadwork, and as elaborate stitches are by no means the most effective, some simple pattern nicely worked will give an admirable finish.

The Care of Lamps.

All parts of the burner of a lamp should be thoroughly clean. A little kerosene or alcohol on a cloth is as good for this purpose as anything else to clean the burner, providing it is polished clean and dry afterward. Every part of the outside of a lamp should be rubbed dry and free from oil when it is filled, daily. Do not cut the wick of a lamp after it is first put in and has been evenly trimmed once, but each day brush off the charred portion. The wick will last longer and the light be evener and clearer if this last rule is strictly adhered to. Always avoid filling a lamp to the brim or burning it when the oil is nearly exhausted. There is no special economy, says The New York Tribune, which gives the foregoing advice, in turning down a lamp; nearly the same amount of oil is consumed, what is not burned in the blaze passing off in a gas, which is often strongly noticeable on going into a room where the lamp has burned low for some hours. In case only a little light is desired, a night lamp, adapted to a small wick, should always be used.

Balance for Letters, Etc.

A simple way of making a neat little balance for weighing letters and other small articles is shown in the cut. To one end of a round stick of wood is attached sufficient weight to keep it about five inches under water, as shown in the illustration. To the top end a piece of cardboard is glued, and on this weights of one, two and three ounces are successively placed, the points of submersion in every case being marked on the stick. An admixture of glycerine or spirit prevents the water from becoming foul. A balance is a most convenient article to have on one's writing desk, as many of us have realized when in doubt as to the amount of postage requisite to carry some little package safely to its destination.



IMPROVISED LETTER BALANCE.

Mixed Fats for Frying.

Good Housekeeping tells of an amateur cook who, when about to fry oysters, discovered a dearth of lard and concluded, rather than lose the feast, to try some mixed fat she had on hand, which consisted of odd quantities of beef, mutton, ham fat and lard. To the surprise of the partakers the oysters proved to be unusually good. On the second occasion pure lard was used, as heretofore, with the expectation of an improvement in flavor; but, much to the surprise of the cook, the oysters seemed to lack a certain richness they had before and a peculiar, attractive flavor. It was also found that the mixed fats were best when some time had elapsed before using them. Mutton fat, not generally used for frying, cannot be detected, except by experts, if half lard or other fat is mixed with it.

Escalloped Onions.

To prepare escalloped onions stir together one tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of flour, add one cupful of sweet milk and cook in a saucepan, stirring constantly until smooth. Boil the onions till soft, adding a little salt to the water; then fill the baking dish with onions and cracker crumbs, having a layer of the crackers on top. Season with bits of butter and a little pepper, pour the sauce over all and bake until nicely browned.

Squash or Pumpkin Soup.

Squash or pumpkin may be made into a very good soup. Chop about half a small squash or pumpkin into small pieces and stew; season with butter. If the flavor is liked add two or three onions. Stir in half a pint of milk, two teaspoonfuls of sugar and salt to taste. Mix two tablespoonfuls of flour with one quart and a half of milk—half milk and half water may be used instead—and boil all about ten minutes and serve with toasted bread.

A Variation in Potatoes.

Potatoes are very good baked in their skins, cut in halves and emptied of their contents, which should be well mashed with plenty of butter, raw egg, grated cheese, chopped parsley and eschalot, nutmeg, pepper and salt, and—if handy—a little cold boiled rice. The half skins should be refilled with the mixture, put in the oven for ten minutes and served in a napkin in a wooden potato bowl.

Quince Preserve.

A rich preserve is a nice way of preparing quinces for winter use. Allow a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit. Cut the quinces into small, neat pieces and cook, adding the yellow rind and the pulp of oranges agreeably to your taste. The flavor imparted is an improvement on that of the quince used alone.

Waxed Paper.

Waxed paper, which is very useful for wrapping up articles that are to be kept dry and not exposed to the air, may be prepared from tissue paper. Inclose a piece of wax or paraffin in a piece of muslin, lay the paper on a hot, flat surface, rub it with the wax, and as it melts spread it evenly over the paper.

NOT CONSUMMATED.

A Tale from Arkansaw of True but Timid Love.

During several seasons young Parks had been a constant visitor at the house of Abemleich Morrison. Sunday after Sunday the young fellow would come, and after sitting nearly all day stealing glances at Sooky, old Abemleich's daughter, he would go home. He was so bashful that when the time came for his departure he would glide out the door, jump over the fence and run like a jack rabbit. Last Sunday he took his place as usual.

"Sam," said old Abemleich, "what's your daddy doin'?"

"Makin' uv a steer yoke, uh, huh, huh."

"What's Lige doin'?"

"Ain't doin' nothin'. Dun gone to meetin' with a gal, uh, huh, huh."

"What's your mother doin'?"

"Just sorter behind on her quilt an' is a cardin' uv her bats today."

"Made your plant bed yit?"

"We've made one uv them, but we ain't made the big one what we 'lowed to make."

"Sam!"

"Yes, sar."

"What's the usen actin' sich a blame fool. You love Sook?"

"No, I don't, uh, huh, huh."

"Yes, you do."

"I don't nuther."

"Yes, you do, an' you wanter marry her."

"I don't now, no such a thing, uh, huh, huh."

"Yes, you do."

"Would you give her to me ef I wus ter wanter marry her?"

"Yes, you may have her. Come here, Sook," calling the girl.

"What do you want, dad?" she said, entering the room.

"Hold on, Sam, come back, you blamed fool!"

Sam had jumped over the fence and was running like a jack rabbit. Old Abemleich says that the marriage may take place as soon as Sam "ken be hemmed up an' fotch to the house."—Arkansaw Traveler.

High Art in the Kitchen.

The genius of fashion is evidently penetrating into the culinary regions. An up town domestic recently informed her mistress of a new wrinkle in her department. She had been reminded that the range needed polishing, and the reminder was the cause of her saying:

"Did you know, Mrs. Blank, that it isn't fashionable now to polish stoves? The correct style is to smear on the polish and leave a dull black. Highly polished stoves are now considered quite lacking in refined taste."—Sun and Voice.

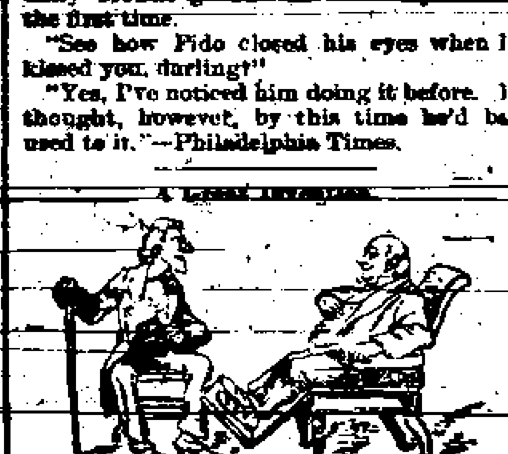
Ought to Be Used to It.

He had just kissed her for the first time. According to the census they had already taken of each other's love they had mutually broken ground in that respect for the first time.

"See how Fido closed his eyes when I kissed you, darling!"

"Yes, I've noticed him doing it before. I thought, however, by this time he'd be used to it."—Philadelphia Times.

A [illegible] Invention.



"Yes; most comfortable chair in the world. Now, if I wish to recline at ease all I have to do is to press this little button, and up she——COMES!

—Life.

Violent Exercise.

Athletic Girl—Do you know, I think an hour in a rowboat before breakfast is delightful. It gives you such an appetite.

Mr. Slimly—Yes, indeed, and it makes one so stwong.

Athletic Girl—Oh, you row then, Mr. Slimly?

Mr. Slimly—N-No, I steer.—Exchange.

Very Unfeeling.

Dashley—Miss Tarpon is the most unfeeling girl I ever met with.

Wigler—How so?

Dashley—Why, last night she refused me, and I said I'd cut my throat.

Wigler—Yes.

Dashley—And she offered to lend me her father's razor.—Sun and Voice.

What City Girls Miss.

Modern Miss (wearily)—Life doesn't seem worth living, aunty.

Aunty—I don't wonder, stuck up here in a stuffy flat. What a girl of your age ought to have is a nice little flower garden and a good, strong, old fashioned front gate.—Street & Smith's Good News.

A Shrewd Woman.

Mrs. Wicketts—Don't you object to your husband betting on the races?

Mrs. Picketts—Oh, no. I have an agent on the field who takes up all my husband's bets. I have almost made my fortune out of him.—Munsey's Weekly.

A Theory on Rain.

"Where does the rain come from, papa?" asked Willie.

"I judge, my son," replied the old man, "that if things celestial are like things mundane, it comes from the milky way."—New York Herald.

The Worm Will Turn.

Badgering Attorney—Insanity runs in your family, I believe.

Long Suffering Witness—Well, my grandfather quit gathering rags to become a lawyer.—New York Sun.

A Base Slander.

Teacher—Now, can any one of the pupils tell me what is meant by the nave of the church?

Bright Boy—The man who takes up the collection.—America.

That Depends.

"Papa, is it correct to say 'the nose has it,' or 'the noes have it?'"

"Depends, my son, on whether you are talking about a vote or a cold in the head."—Light.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Governor Hill Proclaims Nov. 27 as the Day to be Observed.

ALBANY, Nov. 11.—Governor Hill issued the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation at 5 o'clock last evening:

It has been a custom, hallowed by many years of observance, for the people of the state, upon one day in each waning year, to lay aside secular cares and employments and to express in such manner as has seemed fitting their appreciation of the happiness and prosperity which the year has yielded.

In recognition of this custom, therefore, and by virtue of the power vested in me as governor of the state of New York, I do hereby designate Thursday, the 27th day of November, to be such a day of thanksgiving.

I ask that upon that day, in religious observance or at family reunion, the people will recall with grateful hearts the blessings which have been granted us during the year now closing; that the spirit of charity and human fellowship may pervade every community manifesting itself in deeds of kindness to the unfortunate and in good will to all; and that amid our rejoicings and our acts of mercy we may devoutly acknowledge our responsibility to the Divine Ruler and invoke a continuance of His watchful care and goodness during the year that is to come.

Brutal Murder in California.

MERCED, Cal., Nov. 11.—John Ivett, 71 years old, one of the oldest residents and wealthiest citizens of this county, was murdered near his home on the Merced river Sunday night. His head was beaten to a jelly and the brains were scattered for several feet. There is no clue to the assassin.

No Property to Levy On.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The sheriff's office has been obliged to return the executions on the three judgments, aggregating over $97,000, entered against the Duchess of Marlborough for money borrowed in England, unsatisfied, as the office has not been able to find any property to levy on.

An Old Negro Burned to Death.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 11.—Daune Patterson, colored, about 65 years, was burned to death here. He was helpless and in bed, and endeavoring to light his pipe, set fire to the bedding and burned to death.

Buffalo Hay Market.

BUFFALO, Nov. 11.

The following were the closing quotations yesterday: No. 1 timothy, new, per ton, $11.00@12.00; No. 2 do, $10.00@11.00; common mixed, $8.00@9.00; blue grass, $10.00@11.00; oated hay, $9.00@10.00; clover, $11.00@12.00; rye straw, $9.00@10.00; baled do, $10.00@11.00; bundled rye do, $11.00@12.00.

Little Falls Cheese Market.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 11.

The cheese market was very dull yesterday, several factories are closed and the majority of those that remain open are making only every other day. Transactions: Six lots at 9¼c, 25 lots at 9½c, 49 lots at 9c, 1 lot private sale, 13 lots commission; total, 666 boxes.

Farm dairies—Sales of dairy cheese amount to 840 boxes, and the prices were from 8½@9½c, with the bulk at 9c.

BUTTER—Twenty-seven packages of farm dairy butter sold at 21@25c, and a few packages of creamery at 25@26c.

Utica Cheese Market.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 10.

CHEESE—It is said that in northern and western New York there is a large amount of September cheese remaining unsold. The ruling price yesterday declined ¼c, but the extreme quotations held up at 9½c at which figure quite a good many lots were sold. Transactions: Four lots, 400 boxes, 8¾c; 45 lots, 4,050 boxes, 9¼c; 6 lots, 575 boxes, 9¾c; 19 lots, 1,799 boxes, 9c; 11 lots, 898 boxes, 9¾c; 28 lots, 2,852 boxes, 9½c; 21 lots, 1,557 boxes, on commission. Total 137 lots, 12,068 boxes, ruling price 9½c. Transactions same date last year 8,975 boxes, ruling price 9c, extreme 10c.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK

A HOUSEHOLD FAVORITE.

A young girl here had been suffering for 12 years with blood diseases until she had lost the use of her limbs and was subject to many troubles incident to the disease. The physicians declared her case incurable and predicted that her life would come to a speedy end. After taking S. S. S. she recuperated so fast that it was plain that she had obtained a new lease on life, and she has continued to grow better until her permanent cure is assured. Many other patients in our hospital have obtained signal benefit from S. S. S., and it has become quite a favorite in our house.

THE ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL,
Highland, Ill.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

LOCAL TAX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the following local assessments have been placed in my hands:

No. 18. For constructing a public sewer in the Fifth ward, beginning at the D. L. & W. R. R. culvert at West Albany street, thence along Albany and Tenth streets to a point three feet North of the middle line prolonged of block 69, thence Easterly along a line within three feet North of the center line of blocks 69, 70, 71, 72 to Sixth street with the necessary inlets, wells and connections.

No. 19. For constructing East Seventh street sewer with the necessary wells, inlets and connections between East Seneca street and a point 100 feet South from Schuyler street.

As provided by resolution of the Common Council, the above mentioned taxes may be paid without fees, during thirty days from the date of this notice; during the following thirty days with three per cent fees; thereafter for sixty days at 5 per cent.

JOHN DOWDLE,
City Chamberlain.

Oswego, N. Y., Oct. 17, 1890.
oct17d80t

Every Daughter, Wife or Mother

Suffering from any of the innumerable derangements peculiar to respectable members of her sex, will neglect her duty towards herself, her friends and society, if she fails to communicate with Dr. Marchisi, the world's renowned gynaecologist, who will send her two trial bottle of his famous Uterine Catholicon free. Address Dr. J. B. Marchisi, 180 Genesee St. Utica, N. Y. deod&w!

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A slight earthquake was felt in Monmouthshire Saturday. The rumbling lasted nine seconds.

MELLIN'S
FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS
FOOD
THE ONLY
Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk.
INVALUABLE
IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING.
A quickly assimilated Food for DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS.
A PERFECT NUTRIENT in all wasting diseases.
REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES.
SEND for our book "The Care and Feeding of Infants," mailed free to any address.
DOLIBER-GOODALE CO., BOSTON, Mass.

If suffering from any kind of headache take
HOFFMAN'S
HARMLESS HEADACHE POWDERS.
MAKE THE TRIAL.
It will only cost 25 cents for a box and cannot hurt you.
They do not affect the bowels
6,18,60daw1yarm No. 3.

Coal.

SCRANTON COAL.
The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company, will sell until further notice the Celebrated
SCRANTON COAL,
received direct from the mines, screened and delivered at the following prices:

GRATE	$4.40	STOVE	$4.65
EGG	4.65	CHESTNUT	4.65

A. G. COOK, Agent.
Office at West End of Lower Bridge

LACKAWANNA COAL,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
The Delaware & Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
Dry, Well Screened, and delivered to any part of the city.

GRATE	$4.40	STOVE	$4.65
EGG	4.65	CHESTNUT	4.65

Telephone call 99.
J. B. McMurrich, Agt
Office corner East First and Bridge Streets.

SCRANTON COAL.

	Ton	½ Ton	¼ Ton
EGG	$4.65	$2.45	$1.25
GRATE	4.40	2.25	1.15
STOVE	4.65	2.45	1.25
CHESTNUT	4.65	2.45	1.25

D. DONOVAN, OSWEGO, N. Y.
Telephone 114.

SCRANTON COAL
DELIVERED.

GRATE	$4.40
STOVE	4.65
CHESTNUT	4.65
EGG	4.65

Wright & Hunt.
WEST SECOND STREET.
Wilkesbarre, Pittston and Reading
COAL,
Also STEAM and SMITHING COAL
Trestle on line of R. W. & O. RR.
RETAIL PRICES OF

	Ton	½ Ton	¼ Ton
EGG	$4.65	$2.45	$1.30
GRATE	4.40	2.25	1.20
STOVE	4.65	2.45	1.30
NUT	4.65	2.45	1.30

MOLLISON & DOWDLE,
Office Doolittle Block, Corner First and West Oneida Streets.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

	Ton	½ Ton	¼ Ton
GRATE	4.40	2.25	1.15
EGG	$4.65	$2.45	$1.25
STOVE	4.65	2.45	1.25
CHESTNUT	4.65	2.45	1.25

Bituminous Coal for Steam and Blacksmithing.
Office and Yard foot of Cayuga Street
Telephone No. 180.
W. K. NIVER & CO.

LACKAWANNA COAL.

	Ton	½ Ton	¼ Ton
EGG	$4.65	$2.45	$1.25
GRATE	4.40	2.25	1.15
STOVE	4.65	2.45	1.25
CHESTNUT	4.65	2.45	1.25

J. DONNELLY,
Office 214 West First street, City Savings Bank Building.

C. B. POOL, Agent
DEALER IN
ANTHRACITE AND BITUMINOUS
COAL.
4 East First St. OSWEGO N. Y
9,2,90dly

WM. MULDOON,
SCRANTON COAL
West First between Schuyler and Van Buren Streets.
OSWEGO, N. Y.

J. C. HANLON,
Successor to A. D. Inman & Co., Dealer in WOOD AND COAL,
Of all kinds in large or small quantities.
Office and Yard, Cor. East Ninth and Bridge Sts. OSWEGO, N. Y
All orders promptly filled. Telephone
10 4 1dly

Chemic.
The Most Effective and Safest Washer and Bleacher Known for Family Use.
Immediately softens hard water.
It softens and frees oil, grease spots and dirt so that it is easily removed.
It cleanses, clears, whitens and brightens the goods without injury to the finest fabric.
It does not injure the hands of the washer.
It does not increase the expense of washing.
It uses much less soap.
It does not require the boiling of clothes.
It shortens the time and labor of washing.
It will remove stains and mildew.
It is used with goods of fast colors as well as those of white.
Its steam from the tub is a disinfectant. It will clear and purify the air of the house and when thrown into the sink will destroy the decaying organic matter that is clinging to it.
Price 25c Per Bottle.
Made and sold by
J. A. Beckwith Chemist
312 West First St., Oswego.
8,4,d6t