SIR THOMAS MAKES A DENIAL.

Sir Thomas Lipton must certainly have an enemy in the person who originated the story that he objected to the Irish flag in the dining-room of the Manhattan Beach Hotel, at a dinner given in his honor the other day. The Palladium had grave doubts about the authenticity of this story when it first appeared. But the statement was made with such detail as to give it the semblance of truth. The demand was evidently gotten up for the purpose of injuring his popularity with the people of his own nationality in this country and across the Atlantic. Sir Thomas makes the following emphatic denial: "It is a lie from beginning to end. It would have been a piece of impertinence on my part, for being invited to dine in a man's house, to even criticize any part of the decoration or anything else. If a man did that in my house he would go out of it and never come back. Besides, you know I could not do such a thing. I wouldn't do it. I'd rather cut off my right arm than do it. Besides, I love the Irish flag as well as any in the world. Why shouldn't I, when many of my best friends are Irish?"

WILL BE AMERICAN LABOR.

Opponents of the one-thousand-ton canal contend that the work will be performed by foreign pauper labor, to the injury of the citizens of the state, with the final result of leaving an undesirable foreign population after the work is completed. The Canal Improvement State Committee has issued a circular showing the fallacy of this statement, by the publication of the full text of the law relative to this view of the canal proposition, which became a law April 10th, 1902 by the approval of the Governor. The law reads as follows: "The law provides that the construction of public works by the State or a municipality, or by persons contracting with the State or such municipality, only citizens of the United States shall be employed; and all contracts for public works, preference shall be given citizens of the State of New York. In each contract for the construction of public works, a provision shall be inserted, to the effect that if the provisions of this section are not complied with, the contract shall be void. On and after May first, nineteen hundred and two, all boards, officers, agents or employees of cities of the first class of the State, having the power to enter into contracts which provide for the expenditure of public money on public works, shall file in the office of the Commissioner of Labor the names and addresses of all contractors holding contracts with said cities of the State. Upon the letting of new contracts, the names and addresses of such new contractors shall likewise be filed. Upon the demand of the Commissioner of Labor, a contractor shall furnish a list of the names and addresses of all sub-contractors in his employ. Each contractor performing work for any city of the first class, shall keep a list of his employees, in which names he set forth whether they are naturalized or native born citizens of the United States, together with, in case of naturalization, the date of naturalization and the name of the court which naturalized them."

FIFTY CENTS A MONTH.

A small bottle of Scott's Emulsion costing fifty cents will last a baby a month—a few drops in its bottle each time it is fed. That's a small outlay for so large a return of health and comfort. Babies that are given Scott's Emulsion quickly respond to its helpful action. It seems to contain just the elements of nourishment a baby needs most. Ordinary food frequently lacks this nourishment; Scott's Emulsion always supplies it. Imitations always cost less than the original, hence the substitutes for Scott's Emulsion can be sold for a few cents less. But you're not saving anything when you buy them. Cod liver oil has a market value and you get the pure oil in Scott's Emulsion. That's the difference. SCOTT & BOWNE, 108 Pearl Street, New York.

was granted. Such lists and records shall be open to the inspection of the Commissioner of Labor. A violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty nor more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

In view of the foregoing, it must be plain that the thousand-ton barge canal, when constructed, will be constructed only by citizens of the United States, and preference shall be given to citizens of the State of New York, and that the most rigid regulations and most severe penalties are imposed for any violation of the law in regard to the employment of labor on this public work.

ODELL'S LIBERALITY.

In Governor Odell's speech at the Albany county fair at Altamont last week he endeavored to impress upon the people the great responsibilities resting upon him as chief executive of the State, and to extol his own administration of affairs as something that had never before been equalled by any of his predecessors. A single quotation from his address will sufficiently show the scintillating basis on which he made himself. In speaking of his alleged abolition of direct taxation, he said:

"This action (abolition of direct taxation) upon the part of the Legislature has been more marked during the past three years than in any period in the history of the State. With constantly increasing demands made upon the public purse through the growth of its benevolent institutions which serve to ameliorate the condition of those who are unfortunate and who need the restraining power which is to be found in our charitable institutions there would have been the necessity for greatly increased tax burdens were it not for the enactment of these laws. The administration of the State affairs is not a niggardly one, and it is to be commended in the amount of appropriations it will be found that it is more liberal than ever before, with, perhaps, one or two exceptions."

It will be seen the Governor asserts that there is nothing niggardly in the expenditure of money which will serve to ameliorate the condition of those who are so unfortunate as to need the restraining power which is to be found in our charitable institutions. What truth is there in this assertion? Take the State Hospitals as an illustration. These institutions until two years ago, furnished the unfortunate inmates good substantial food and plenty of it. But when Governor Odell got the "no direct taxation" theory in his head, he caused a revision of the bill of fare in the State Hospitals. The following are a few of his new liberal regulations, showing how the inmates are now fed:

Butter—Daily ration, 1.45 ounces. Cheese—Daily ration, 3.10 ounces. Eggs—Daily ration, 1 egg. This ration will be allowed in full only at a maximum cost of $1.15 per dozen; when this cost is exceeded, a proportionate reduction in quantity must be made.

To illustrate when eggs are twenty cents per dozen, the allowance will be twenty-five per cent less. Potatoes—Daily ration, 8.55 ounces. Full ration will be allowed only at a maximum cost of fifty cents per bushel. When this cost is exceeded, the equivalents referred to in circular letter under date of August 24, 1901, or dried beans in the proportion of fifteen pounds to 100 pounds of potatoes may be used. In regard to the use of equivalents the hospital must consider always the maximum cost of fifty cents per bushel, and the expenditures for the same must not exceed the total cost on this basis. It will be seen that when eggs are sold at a price exceeding fifteen cents a dozen, the unfortunate inmate has the liberal allowance of one-half an egg a day cut down. The same with potatoes. Should the laborer advance to seventy-five cents or a dollar a bushel, then the inmate can tighten up their belts and go on half rations. Since this "Odell bill of fare" was inaugurated the records of recoveries in the State Hospital have decreased. Another lamentable accompaniment of the Odell dietary is the appearance of scurvy among the inmates, a disease unknown previously in the State hospitals, and can be attributed solely to starvation and improper food. Governor Odell may assist his "no direct taxation" theory by continuing his bill of fare for the State Hospitals. Continue it and soon there will be little or no expense attached to them except the salaries of the officials. The inmates will be dead.

Representative Lattimer, of glove scandal fame, is arranging the reception for Governor Odell in Fulton county this week. Odell does not possess pardoning power for offenders against the Federal Government. Perhaps Lattimer thinks that in the general whirl the Governor may have a little influence left.

The Elizabeth Palmer, the second largest sailing vessel in the world, and the largest five-masted, has just been launched at Bath, Me. She cost about $1,350,000, all fitted, and will carry 5,000 tons of coal. Her dimensions are: Length, 300 feet; beam, 48.5 feet; depth of hold, 28.3 feet; gross tonnage, 9,065.

Is it possible that ex-Senator Hill thought he was stirring up such a heroic feat in his remarks on "speculation", in his speech at Ogdon Beach? The Republican press of the State seem to think he was driving at an individual, and some of the Republican papers point out the individual and say it was not mean on the part of the Senator. And the latter didn't mention a name. Queer, isn't it?

The failure to assassinate Vice-Consul Magelsen was not owing to lack of intent, but to poor organization. The British may congratulate himself that the masterminds was poor.

The new battleship launched from a British shipyard last week will be capable of hurling ten tons of metal shot into any opposing warship. What kind of a warship will have to be built to withstand such an attack?

THE TURKISH MINISTER.

Has a Long Conference with Secretary of State Hay. WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Cheikh Bey, the Turkish Minister to the United States, in spite of the fact that his credentials have not yet been received at the State Department, and he has not been personally presented to the President, had a long conference with Secretary Hay at the State Department this morning. He was accompanied and escorted by a few days' growth of whiskers on his face, but exhibited a spirit of exaltation when he emerged from the diplomatic chamber. He was asked the subject of the conference and replied:

"What can I say? It is all false news. The Vice-Consul was not killed. What can the United States do?"

Directly following the conference, Secretary Hay went to the Navy Department, where he closeted himself with Acting Secretary Darling.

MACCABEAN LEAGUE.

A Large Attendance at Annual Gathering in Gilbert's Grove. The third annual reunion and picnic of the Maccabean League of Oswego county was held in Gilbert's Grove, Richard, August 31st. The attendance was large and enthusiastic. Elias L. Strivings, Great Trustee, delivered a strong and well received address. He clearly stated several principles of Maccabeanism and showed their value to Maccabees. Almar and Sandy Creek played a close and exciting game of base-ball, the former winning by a score of 10 to 6. The thoroughly furnished Richard Cooper Band furnished very acceptable music for the occasion. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Joseph Cogswell, Orwell; Secretary, Herman Kahler; Almar; Treasurer, W. Hamer, Lacota.

A TRINITY OF EVILS.

Cured by Dr. Kenney's New Remedy After Other Treatment Had Failed.

A prominent citizen of SUVARA, Penn., formerly of Roxbury, N. Y., writing to Dr. David Kenney, of Kennedy Row, said: "Your NEW medicine, Cal-cura Solvent is marvelous. It cured me of liver and kidney troubles, and rheumatism, after a lot of weary doing with things that did not good. It is a record breaker and no mistake." As in this gentleman's case, rheumatism is often indeed almost always complicated with kidney and liver trouble. It is because Cal-cura Solvent acts on the kidneys and liver and at the same time expels bile from the blood, that it is such a reliable remedy for rheumatism and the attendant diseases. It cures by removing the cause, therefore, the cure is permanent, safe and sure. Write to the Cal-cura Company, Kennedy Row, Roadout, N. Y., for a free sample bottle. Remember: Only one Dr. David Kenney ever lived in Roadout, City of Kingston, N. Y., and be sure you get his new and latest medicine, which is sold only in 25¢ bottles.

The Rev. E. A. Horton, of Boston, at a banquet of the Unitarian Club there, told of a fellow-minister who went fishing last summer. He was perched in a precarious position when he got a bite and in his excitement he fell into the stream. He yelled lustily for help and a fisherman came along and pulled him out. "How did you come to fall in?" inquired his rescuer. "I didn't come to fall in," replied the dripping preacher, "I came to fish."

There are no lost diamonds, race-track winners, or successful Wall street speculations in this, but it is good advertising nevertheless.

Errol MacGrath sat in his club at Syracuse looking very disconsolate. He had recently decided that strong drink is raging and had resolved to put it behind him forever. A glass of seltzer and lemon, untouched, stood on the table at his side. The club's calm was broken by the entrance of a telegraph boy armed with a message for MacGrath. "Wait and see if there is a reply," called the boy to "The Grey Cloak" as the Western Union boy was shouting out the message. The message was from an old and tried companion "Up State." It read: "Come up for the fireworks!" MacGrath thought of his new-made resolve, and wired back: "Inside or out?" Then he settled in his chair determined to wait until reply came. The seltzer and lemon was still untouched when the young man came back with another message to develop. "Both," was the friend's message, and MacGrath adds, as he tells the story, "I'll give an autograph copy of 'The Grey Cloak' to any one who can guess what the next word is."
