MANY VETERANS WERE PRESENT.

Permanent Organization of the Iron Brigade.

Meeting at the State Fair Grounds in Syracuse Yesterday—A Rousing Meeting Held—The Gallant Twenty-fourth Elects Officers—Speechmaking.

Fifty-one surviving members of the gallant Twenty-fourth New York Volunteers attended the annual reunion at the State Fair Grounds, Syracuse, yesterday. There was handshaking and visiting, after which the following officers were elected:

Honorary President, Major W. G. Ferguson, Fulton.

President, P. O. Wright, Oswego.

Vice-President, F. C. Mosier, Fulton.

Chaplain, the Rev. John N. Fulford, Fulton.

Secretary and Treasurer, Thomas Cole, Fulton.

The executive committee was not named. When named it will fix the place for holding the next reunion. Speeches were made by Norman G. Cooper, of Brooklyn, Major Ferguson of Fulton, and Major Penfield, Oswego.

In the afternoon the reunion of the Iron Brigade was held and a permanent organization perfected.

Speeches were made by Justice Maurice L. Wright, of Oswego, who served in the Navy during the rebellion; Comrade Matoon, the old Commissary Sergeant Fulford and President Wright, of the Twenty-fourth. Yesterday was the anniversary of the day when the old regiment broke camp and began its march, which was to end at Antietam. Many were the events of camp and army life recalled.

The Nominating Committee, composed of Frank Schilling, of Oswego; Peter Peterson, of Oxford; Thomas Cole, of Fulton; Z. M. Knight, of Alpena, Mich.; B. H. Searing, of Syracuse; F. A. M. Ball, of the Harris Light Cavalry, Fred H. Cramer, of the Twenty-second and A. Wright, of the Second Berdan Sharpshooters, made the following nominations, which were acted upon, the men being elected to office immediately:

President, Major W. D. Ferguson, of Fulton; Secretary and Treasurer, B. H. Searing, of the Thirteenth; First Vice-President, Z. M. Knight, of Michigan; Second Vice-President, Fred A. Cramer, of the Twenty-second; Third Vice-President, Peter Peterson, of Oxford; Fourth Vice-President, Captain A. Wright, of the Second Brigade, and Chaplain, John M. Fulford, of Fulton. The Executive Committee was as follows: Major A. R. Penfield, of Oswego; Captain J. M. Andrews, Captain J. S. Fassett and Captain A. S. Ball.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the State Fair next year, the date to be fixed upon later. The temporary chairman of the meeting was Norm G. Cooper, United States Pension Attorney, of Brooklyn.

There was a proposition set forth to abandon the custom of holding regimental reunions and to join in the brigade reunion, but no action was taken.

The next reunion of the Twenty-fourth Regiment will be held in Oswego county, probably on the fair grounds at Fulton.

Life Saving Record, 1902.

The life saving service of the country recently rendered its report for the year 1902 showing most gratifying results of this organization in the number of persons rescued and the amount of property saved. The record of cures made by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past fifty years constitutes another very gratifying aspect. This celebrated family medicine has done more to restore health and prolong life than any other medicine in existence. It gets right at the root of the trouble—the stomach—and by making it strong and healthy the blood is made pure, the appetite returns, the liver and kidneys are eliminated and you will not be bothered again with headache, heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation or biliousness. A fair trial will convince you of its value.

SEARCHING FOR MISSING PROPERTY.

Police Again Visit the Home of Mr. Kuhn.

Doctor Todt's Palm Was Not Found Today—Accused Says That His Wife Told Him the Property Was Purchased at Rummage Sales.

At Police Headquarters this morning it looked as if the whole Third ward had lost rocking chairs, piazza chairs and flowers from their porches, and they were all seeking search warrants and the police were kept running to the home of Peter J. Kuhn, 191 West Fifth street, looking for the alleged missing property. The chair taken from the Millot home at the corner of West Fourth and Mohawk streets and the two chairs taken from the home of D. T. McInerny were awarded to their owners, as was the jardiniere taken from the home of Dr. A. A. Sullivan. The two charges of larceny on which Kuhn was arrested were adjourned, at the request of the prisoner's attorney, F. D. Culkin, until September 16th.

Among those who called at Police Headquarters looking for stolen property was Doctor W. C. Todt, who claimed that a palm was taken from his house. Policemen Haganey and Roach, who searched the Kuhn house yesterday, had told Chief Doyle that there was a palm in the house and a search was made for it this morning, Doctor Todt accompanying Policeman McGrath. The palm could not be found and the policeman returned empty-handed. It was claimed that flowers had been taken from the home of A. H. Ames and Policeman Roach was sent to the Kuhn house to see if they were there.

When Kuhn was arrested yesterday afternoon he was held in $500 bail for examination this morning. John McDonald, Armorer at the State Armory, was the surety. It was proposed to have the examination on the charges of larceny this morning, but Attorney Culkin claimed that his wife was sick in bed and could not be present. Mr. Culkin claimed that Kuhn knew nothing about the alleged stolen property that was found in his house; that his wife had told him that she had purchased it at auctions and rummage sales. The police claimed that Mrs. Kuhn was perfectly able to attend court; that she was up and about the house this morning when Policeman McGrath went there, and that Doctor Todt did not find any evidence of her being sick. Chief of Police Doyle and Captain Culkin had a wordy war over the matter, which was pacified by Acting Recorder Higgins. Mr. Culkin did not make any objection to the property, which was at Police Headquarters, being turned over to the owners.

Peter J. Kuhn is an ex-soldier and a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He was a member of the Regular Army and before the breaking out of the war was stationed at Fort Ontario as a member of Company C of the Ninth and served with that regiment during the Cuban campaign. He was through the Philippine campaign as a member of the Twenty-fourth regulars. It was while he was at Fort Ontario that he met Mrs. Peterson, who lived in West Mohawk street, and they fell in love with each other. Kuhn on his return from the Philippines was taken sick and was confined in a hospital at San Francisco, and Mrs. Peterson went there and nursed him back to life and they were married at the city of the Golden Gate and returned to this city, where they have since resided. Kuhn has been employed at the Herrmann Lumber Company's plant, and was at work there when arrested yesterday. He had heretofore borne a good reputation.

This afternoon a rocking chair, which is said to belong to Mrs. Leonard Ames, was brought to the Police Station from the Kuhn house and is now in Chief Doyle's charge.

CAPTAIN SCOTT, LIFE SAVER,

Went to the Assistance of Joseph Moss Jr.

Latter Was Capsized in Squall That Came Down the Lake About Five O'clock Yesterday Afternoon—Movement to Present Captain With Medal.

Captain William Scott, of the tug John Navagh, has rescued seven persons from drowning since the season opened and four of the rescues were made during the past two days. Wednesday afternoon a small sailboat was seen to capsize half a mile off the Sloan malthouse, by Captain Scott who was lying with his tug at the East pier. He immediately gave the signal for the engineer to put on full steam and went to the rescue. He found that the boat had overturned and that three men had all that they could do to keep their heads above water by clinging to the boat. When asked, Captain Scott declined to give the names of the men, saying that he had promised them that he would not do so. As soon as the tug reached them the men were taken on board and the boat taken in tow. The only bad results from the accident was the wetting the men had received.

Yesterday afternoon when the squall swept down the lake about five o'clock, the Navagh was on duty and was near the outer lighthouse. Captain Scott saw the squall coming and also saw a small rowboat with a sail up about a mile out in the lake. The occupant of the boat saw his danger and took in his sail before the squall struck him, but when the squall had passed it was seen that the boat had been overturned and quite a heavy sea was running. The occupant of the boat could not be seen. Captain Scott ordered the lines of the Navagh thrown off and immediately headed out into the lake, where the boat, bottom side up, could be seen bobbing up and down on the waves. Captain Scott had used the best of judgment, for when he arrived he was just in time to save Joseph Moss, Jr., from being drowned. Moss, when the boat had overturned, had clung to the side and had succeeded in keeping his head above water, but the exertion had been such that he was nearly exhausted by his efforts and had the arrival of the tug been a few minutes later, would have been unable to have held his position. He was taken aboard the tug and the rowboat taken in tow and brought to this city. Moss today is none the worse for his experience.

Early this Spring three young women in a rowboat got caught in a squall near the gap in the new harbor and were unable to manage their boat, which ran into the pier and was capsized. Captain Scott saw the accident and steamed with his tug to the scene and saved the three from drowning.

Every year the tugmen at this port make several rescues from drowning. These tugs are on duty looking for incoming boats and from the beacon light are in a position to immediately see the distress of any person and they do not hesitate to go immediately to the rescue. It has been Captain Scott's good fortune to be on hand and to make many of these rescues. Just how many lives he has saved he himself does not know, as he has never kept any record, but not a season goes by that he does not add to the long list. There is a movement on foot, which should grow, for the purpose of presenting Captain Scott with a gold medal for his bravery and in appreciation of the many lives he has saved along the lake front.

EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN.

New Law Receiving Attention From Health Officer.

Children Under Sixteen Years of Age Must Spend One Hundred and Thirty Days in School Each Year—Health Regulations at the Normal.

Health Physician James K. Stockwell is kept busy these days preparing for the new law which governs the employment of children in factories who are under sixteen years of age. The new law goes into effect October 1st, and it has been necessary to make out a full set of blanks to be used in connection with the issuance of the certificates. These blanks are made out in accordance with instructions sent out by the State Board of Health.

While the new law in no way changes the age limit of children who can be placed to work in factories, there is a change in the number of days that a child must have been in school prior to the issuance of the certificate. The old law made the time eighty days. The new law makes it 130 days. The making out of the new blanks is necessary on account of the numerous questions that the teachers, parents or guardians of the children are forced to answer.

There is some doubt expressed whether it will be necessary to re-examine all the children who have secured certificates under the old law and make them comply with the provisions of the new law. There are about 500 children in this city working in factories who are under sixteen years of age. An average of 300 certificates a year have been issued by Health Physician Stockwell and so far this year 200 certificates have been issued.

Last year the controversy over the diphtheria scare in the Normal school has been the cause of the following notice being printed and a copy of it will be hung in every schoolroom in the city:

TO TEACHERS.

The Board of Health, of the city of Oswego, N. Y., respectfully calls the attention of teachers and all others having charge of pupils in the various schools of the city, to the following excerpts from the Health laws of the State of New York, and from the rules and regulations of the Board of Health, of the city of Oswego, N. Y.:

Laws of 1888, chapters 148 and 309, section 3—"The several Boards of Health constituted under this act shall have power, and it shall be their duty: To require the inoculation of all persons and things infected with or exposed to contagious or infectious diseases."

Health Regulations, section nine—"And also such special care and disinfection as shall be needed in order to prevent the spreading of such (contagious or infectious) disease to others."

All children from families in which contagious or infectious disease exists shall be excluded from school during the prevalence of such disease, and until such time as they procure and present to the teacher, or person in charge of the school, a certificate from the Health Officer authorizing admission to the school.

Pupils must not be required or permitted to use pens, penholders, pencils, etc., in their school work that have been used by others.

In the interest of public health it is requested and required that the above rules and regulations be rigidly enforced. By order of the Board of Health. — E. A. COOKE, Clerk.

The notices will be ready and distributed to the different schools Monday morning.

RAIN CAME IN SHEETS.

Severe Electric Storm Yesterday Afternoon.

Wilber Odell's Barn at New Haven Struck by Lightning and Destroyed—Wind Blew Down Many Trees in Pulaski—The Rainfall.

The most severe electrical storm of the season, accompanied by a heavy rain, visited the city yesterday afternoon and evening. The wind, which had been southwest during the day, shifted to northwest at half-past four and about fifteen minutes later the storm broke. The rain came down in torrents, and over an inch fell during the squall. The lightning was sharp, and all trolley cars were forced to stop for a considerable time.

The fire alarm system was injured, electric lights were disabled and many telephones did not work. A tree near the canning factory was struck by lightning and for a time the large number of girls and women employed there were in a panic.

The total precipitation during the twenty-fours up to 8 A. M., was 1.30 inches, of which amount 1.21 fell before 6 P. M. While the wind was equally and blew down some fruit, it is not thought that the storm damaged the crops to any great extent. A good rain was needed.

Barn Burned in New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 11.—During the severe storm yesterday afternoon lightning struck Wilber Odell's barn and burned it to the ground. Mr. Odell lives about one and one-half miles Southeast of the village and one-half mile South of Captain H. J. Daggett's. Fortunately there were no animals in the barn.

Storm at Pulaski.

PULASKI, Sept. 21.—A severe electrical storm prevailed in this section last evening. Not within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has a more severe storm visited this village. It was accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning and the wind blew a perfect gale. It is estimated that its velocity was not less than fifty miles an hour. Streets were inundated. In Maple avenue the water in some sections was over twenty inches deep and the board walk fronting the Ontario Iron Works was raised from its fastenings and floated some distance by the water.

Wires of the Empire Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Black River Telephone Company and of the Pulaski Electric Light and Power Company are down in several parts of the village.

A door and a large window in the farmhouse of Thomas Stewart, North street, were blown in, and a door on the barn was torn from its fastenings and blown several rods away. Large trees in nearly every street in the village were blown down. Chimneys on the residences of Frank B. Rickard, A. Percival Holmes and George D. Lindo, all in North street, were blown down.

Fruit trees and the crops were injured to a considerable extent.
