

OSWEGO HAS A CANDIDATE.

N. B. Smith Will Take Congressional Nomination.

That is, he is inclined to do so and his friends are urging him to enter the race—something about the time.

PULASKI, May 14.—(Special.)—Friends of the Hon. N. B. Smith, of this village, announce that he has consented to stand for the nomination for Representative in Congress in the Oswego-Jefferson-Lewis district. When spoken to on the matter today by a PALLADIUM reporter Mr. Smith said: "The matter has been discussed and I have been urged by my more intimate political friends to stand for the nomination and I have more than half consented. There is a feeling that the nomination belongs to Oswego county and there being no disposition on the part of others to become candidates I have been urged to enter the race."

"From all accounts it looks as if there was going to be a division in the Jefferson county delegation, and as Lewis county has had the Representative for several years, there is a feeling that a candidate from Oswego should now be selected. I have made no formal announcement of my candidacy yet, being in the hands of my friends. There is no secret, however, in the fact that I have been urged to enter the contest by some of the most influential Republicans in the county and I have more than half made up my mind to take their advice. I will probably permit my friends to make formal announcement of the fact in a few days."

The Hon. N. B. Smith is one of the best known Republicans in Oswego county. He was born in Vermont, graduated from Middlebury College in 1858 with the highest honors, served in the army of the Potomac, returning to Vermont studied law in the office of Governor John W. Stewart, of Middlebury, Vt., came to Pulaski in 1865 to accept a position as teacher of languages and the higher classes. The law held greater attractions for him than the school room and he continued his study and was admitted to the bar in 1868 and has since practiced his profession in Pulaski. In 1869 he was elected to the Assembly, served as a member of the Judiciary Committee and the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and at the expiration of his term declined a re-nomination and resumed the practice of his profession. He afterwards served as District Attorney of the county for three years, and is at present the Retiree in Bankruptcy for Oswego county. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity and of the Congregational church of Pulaski. With the Republicans of the Eastern end of the county Mr. Smith stands particularly well, and they were ready to support without solicitation, despite the fact that many of them have announced that they favored General Winslow. That, however, was before an Oswego county man had been seriously considered for the place and many of those who had expressed a preference for General Winslow have said that they will give their support to Mr. Smith.

The fact that one of the Jefferson county candidates has been embraced in a scandal in connection with the failure of the Carthage National Bank and that the Republican leaders of Jefferson and the leading Republican newspapers are against General Winslow encourages the friends of the Oswego candidate to believe that he can be nominated without any great difficulty. Richard, one of the largest and strongest Republican districts of the county, has been practically ignored in the contest of public patronage and office, and the candidacy of Mr. Smith is a brand to secure the united support of his neighbors and friends.

THE CONGREGATION SINGS.
An innovation at the Mission at St. John's Church.
Large crowds are in attendance at the mission services at St. John's church. The evening services draw large congregations, but the early morning masses are also well attended. Even at the five o'clock service, when the sun has just risen, there are few vacant seats in the church. This week is for the women only, and they have thus far proved most faithful.
Last evening the Rev. Father Burke delivered an impressive sermon, and Father Daly gave a brief instruction. The same course of services will be followed during the entire mission. A feature of this mission is the organ recital, which is an innovation for local Catholic churches. The exercises are made more impressive by the singing.

Henry Shriners Make a Pilgrimage to Watertown.

A class of twenty candidates was initiated into Media Temple, Mystic Shrine, at Watertown last night at a meeting attended by Shriners from this city, Malone, Canton, Ogdensburg and other northern towns. The Shriners arrived in Watertown shortly before three o'clock and were met by a reception committee consisting of Fred W. Babcock, D. L. Cornwell, O. C. Babar, James E. Smith, Carl Hill and J. M. Dorsey, of Watertown, William Root, of Carthage, and W. D. Carnes, of Cape Vincent.

The visitors were first taken for a ride in a special trolley car and were shown the new city park and inspected some of the manufacturing establishments on Factory square.
In the evening the initiatory work was performed in Masonic Hall followed by an elaborate banquet. The affair was hugely enjoyed by all privileged to attend. The Oswego Shriners returned this morning, tired but happy.

OBITUARY.

William Carley.
PARSON, May 12.—William Carley died at his home here on the 8th inst., after a short illness, aged eighty-five years. He came with his parents from Oswego county in 1828 and settled in the town of Hastings. After working on the farm for several years he started a wagon and in 1850 opened a store in Hastings, which he conducted for ten years. He then removed to Parish and was in the dry goods business up to the time of his death. He married Maria Wightman, of Parish, December 31st, 1839. She died November 1st, 1900.
Mr. Carley was an athletic man and was considerably over six feet in height. He never used glasses. He made two business trips to New York each year, and intended to have started last Monday, but postponed it because of a slight indisposition on Sunday. About noon on Wednesday he was stricken with paralysis and died in the evening.

The community has lost an honored citizen who enjoyed the respect of everybody. By fragility and thrift Mr. Carley amassed considerable property.
A brother and two sisters survive: L. B. Carley, Miss Malinda Carley and Mrs. Malinda Strickland. The funeral was held on Saturday.

Frank Kinslow.
PHOENIX, May 13.—Frank Kinslow, son of William Kinslow, a prominent farmer about three miles East of this village, died at the home of his brother James in Lock street on Thursday afternoon of consumption. Mr. Kinslow was born in the town and was thirty-six years old. For the last six years he had been superintendent of a large laundry and dining plant in Chicago. A few weeks ago he was brought to this village and was thought to be getting better until Thursday, when death occurred very suddenly. He was well known in Syracuse, having lived in that city for several years. He is survived by his father and mother and mother and six brothers and five sisters. The funeral was held from St. Stephen's church this morning.

Death of Peter Leacy.
Peter Leacy, son of Mrs. James Keat and the late Peter Leacy, died at his mother's home, 308 West Third street, last night after a lingering illness. The deceased was nearly twenty-three years of age and has lived in this city all his life. He is survived by his mother and brother, William Leacy, of San Francisco, Cal., formerly a member of the Ninth United States Infantry. One sister, Miss Lizzy Leacy, of this city, also survives. Burial will occur tomorrow.

THE WATER STREET TRACK.

Conference With Railroad Officials Yesterday Afternoon.

The Proposed Plans, if Carried Out, to Abolish the Bridge Street Crossing, Will Be Away With the Old Academy of Music—Plans to Be Made.

The prospects for a settlement of the question of removing the Luskawanna tracks in Water street are very bright. Yesterday afternoon Superintendent Schwars, Chief Engineer McFarland and Local Agent Taylor, of the Luskawanna, conferred with Mayor Hall, City Engineer Ormsby and Messrs. Mullen, Skinner and Toomey, comprising the Common Council Committee in regard to the matter. The gentlemen inspected the crossing at West Bridge street and the route on the docks, suggested by the PALLADIUM.

Mr. McFarland was inclined to think that the plan suggested was the most feasible, but he said that until measurements are taken and plans made, he could not be sure about the matter. He had no maps with him, and not being familiar with the location, he was unable to offer a definite formal proposal. Assistants would be sent here at once, he said, and the measurements and other work should be completed in two weeks.

The details of the plan mentioned are to run from the tunnel at Utica street bridge along the docks to the lower bridge tunnel, thence along the docks to a point between Market and Cayuga streets, and then, by easy grading, to Water street, at Cayuga street. The present route to the tracks will then be followed.

The plan contemplates the removal of the old Academy of Music building which stands in the way. The present grade crossing at Bridge street would then be abolished and no harm would be done to the shippers below Cayuga street.

The city officials and authorities are in favor of the proposition and believe that if the plan is carried out all trouble will be removed and all interests satisfied.

THE LOCAL STAGE.

Magician Keller Will Be Seen at the Richardson Theatre Tonight.
Magician Keller, who will be seen at the Richardson theatre tonight, is justly entitled to rank as the greatest magician the world has yet produced, for in his entertainments, as they are given this season, he so far outstrips all competitors as to stand absolutely alone. His methods are his own, and, declining all the flagrant and apparent subtleties usually resorted to by unskilled performers, he apparently has but to command the most unheard-of things to happen, and his word is obeyed. Everything he does is presented upon a truly lighted stage, and he never uses screens or traps or coverings to hide any part of his work. Long years of practice have made him the greatest living adept in pure sleight of hand, and this portion of his entertainment he will offer some startling novelties.

Election of Officers.
A meeting of the trustees of St. Peter's Cemetery Association was held at the office of John Dain last evening and the following officers elected for the coming year:
President, Louis Waigand.
Vice-President, Frank Schilling.
Secretary, Fred W. Baltes.
Treasurer, Frank Hoffman.
The reports of the officers were encouraging and showed a goodly sum in the savings bank to the credit of the association, with no liabilities. The trustees have been elected to succeed themselves and are Louis Waigand, John Bauer and W. Brock.

VERDICT FOR $5,500.

William Stanley Recovers For the Loss of a Foot—Victory For Lawyer Cahill.

Telegraphic information received from Bay City, Mich., shortly before three o'clock this afternoon, announces that a verdict of $5,500 has been awarded William Stanley in his case against Amie W. Wright. Stanley sued for $10,000 damages for the loss of his right foot while working in the Wright & Boyls saw and blind factory some years ago. The suit has been on trial in the United States Circuit Court at Bay City for nearly a week. Attorney Fred T. Cahill represented the plaintiff in the action and D. P. Morehouse the defense.

It was necessary for the attorneys to go to Boston two weeks ago for testimony of several witnesses. Stanley and W. H. Boyle, of this city, were in attendance in Bay City and returned on Saturday. Messrs. Cahill and Morehouse returned this noon. The case was given to the jury at four o'clock yesterday afternoon with the result mentioned above.

Princess Chic Last Night.

Marguerite Sylva, clever and fascinating, delighted a fair sized audience at the Richardson Theatre last night. Miss Sylva, with the combination of a fine rich soprano voice, an attractive personal appearance and naive foreign accent and expression, was an ideal "Princess Chic." She was surrounded by a company of experienced people who sang or talked themselves into immediate favor. The comedians were Thomas O. Leary, an Oberlinite, Steward to the Duke, Joseph C. Brown and W. A. Lawrence as Brevet and Braban soldiers of fortune, and Neil McNeil as Pomard, steward to the Princess, were all exceptionally clever and were scored six times in the third act. Herbert Wilke as the Duke of Burgundy, was satisfactory, and Isabella Underwood and Agnes Paul deserve mention for self-effacement in the presence of the star, and clever work in her absence. The male chorus in "War is a Bountiful Jade," as led by Mr. Miron, was inspiring, but taken generally the choruses were not good.

MERRY FIGHT IN MEXICO.

The Supervisorship Likely to Divide the Town.

Mr. Huntington Being Urged to Enter the Race Again—Mr. W. A. Robbins and Ex-Superintendent Sampson Are in the Field—Contest Will Be Bitter.

MEXICO, May 14.—(Special.)—There is going to be a lively fight here for the nomination of Supervisor this Fall. In fact it is already in progress and for the past few days there have been rumors in circulation that many of the heaviest taxpayers in the town have been urging former Supervisor H. C. Huntington to reconsider the announcement that he made in the PALLADIUM some weeks ago that he would not be a candidate for reelection and to again enter the contest.

When Mr. Huntington's announcement was made A. L. Sampson, W. A. Robbins and A. J. Ross were mentioned as his possible successors. Mr. Robbins has been receiving about $1,000 a year from his position in Albany, received from Senator Branahan. That position will be continued next winter and it is believed by many taxpayers that if elected to would not give the attention to the duties demanded of the representative from the town of Mexico on the Board. Then there are others who do not believe in a plurality of offices and salaries for one man; who believe in passing around the honors and the emoluments, particularly in a town where there is such a surplus of talent as in Mexico. Mr. Sampson has served the town long and faithfully, but he belongs to a faction that has never showed the most cordial feeling for the Robbins-Huntington machine. A. J. Ross, of the North part of the town, is a strong man and his name has been prominently mentioned for the place, but it does not appear that he has the backing that will insure his nomination. The machine Republicans do not want Mr. Sampson, and they are doing everything possible to nullify his strength in the farming community, where he has been strongest. They say that a serious misunderstanding which he has had with the State Milk Inspectors will have the effect of losing him many votes in the caucus, but his friends declare that there is no occasion for worry; that Mr. Sampson's integrity can not be impeached on that account, and that instead of harming him the trouble will result in bringing to his support many who believed that the attempt to injure him was inspired by political enemies. If the fight continues, and there is every prospect of it, the struggle will be a bitter one. The farmers and careful thinking men of the town are alive to the situation and if the Democrats can put up a good strong man for the place he may be elected.

The opinion is that Mr. Robbins is not a candidate in good faith, that the machine does not want either Mr. Ross or Mr. Sampson and that the way is being paved to again bestow the nomination upon Mr. Huntington. The latter has made a good official and his friends point with pride to the fact that the town is at present enjoying the lowest tax rate of any town in the county.
