THE OSWEGO PALLADIUM,

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

THE PALLADIUM PRINTING COMPANY—Grant Mergeson, President; [illegible], Secretary and Treasurer—No. 120 West First street, Oswego, N.Y. Publishers of the Oswego Daily and Weekly Palladium. Job printing in all its branches, in the latest style of art, and at prices to suit the times.

THE DAILY PALLADIUM.—The Daily Palladium is published every evening, except Sunday. It has a bona fide circulation much larger than that of any other daily paper in the state north of the Central railroad. This circulation is rapidly increasing. Its columns are filled with full and free discussions of current topics of public interest, all the varied and interesting news of the Associated Press—by telegraph; all the local news of the day, ably edited and attractively presented; liberal and carefully selected extracts from a large and valuable exchange list; interesting correspondence from every town in the county, &c., &c. Subscription price, $6 a year, $3.00 for six months, $1.50 a quarter, 50 cents a month.

THE WEEKLY PALLADIUM.—The Weekly Palladium, published every Wednesday morning, contains a carefully edited digest of the news of the week as printed in the Daily, and is the cheapest and best weekly paper printed in Oswego county. Its circulation is rapidly increasing, giving promise of a more wide and general reading than other journals in the county. Subscription price $1 50 a year, 80 cents for six months, payable invariably in advance. No paper will be sent after the term of pre-paid subscription has expired.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.—Subscribers to the Daily Palladium in the city will be served at their residences or stores by carriers. Any neglect or failure on the part of carriers should at once be reported at the counting room. The Weekly Palladium will be sent, mail free, to subscribers in all parts of the United States.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Terms of advertising in Daily and Weekly made known on application in person or by letter at the office.

FOR MAILING.—Single copies of the Daily or Weekly Palladium in wrappers for mailing can be had at the counter, price 5 cents. This arrangement affords means for friends to conveniently communicate with each other, [illegible] them at a distance acquainted with the growth and progress of our city as shown forth by the vigorous and enterprising Palladium.

TO CONTRIBUTORS.—The Palladium will grant a portion of its space to correspondents on topics of local and general interest. Letters, to secure publication, [illegible] the paper and devoid of offensive [illegible]. The name and address of each writer must accompany the letter, not necessarily for publication, but for our own security.

THE TAXATION OF BANKS.

Superintendent Lamb of the State bank department, in his recent report to the legislature, while discussing the general banking business of the state and its relations to the general government, says: "The retirement of some banks from business, the reduction of capital in others and in the passing of dividends in some, are all expressions of the difficulties which surround the banking business. The expectation of those who establish a bank is that its transactions will be remunerative; as money is invested and risked with some risk the business ought to yield a fair profit." The Superintendent suggests two reasons why at the present time the profit of the banks is reduced to a minimum, if any is made—first, the onerous and inequitable taxation which is imposed upon the banks. He shows that during five years the tax that was paid by the State banks having a capital of $21,-916,600 was $4,773,767 or a sum over one fifth of the capital. The total tax upon capital for five years was at the rate of 13.73 per cent., the annual average being 04.36 per cent. The superintendent claims that the taxes imposed both by the nation and by the state are oppressive and unjust; that the United States government collects an income tax from the banks, while no income tax is collected upon no other capital than that of banking; that the personal property of any city or village is not so fully assessed and taxed as heavily as the bank property, and that it is frequently the case that persons of large means pay small taxes, while the bank shareholders pay large ones upon their investments, and the well known fact is asserted that it is women, minors, estates, etc., who as owners of bank stock, pay the largest relative taxes both to the state and to the national government.

A HOME MISSION NEEDED.

The faithful who are burning with zeal to carry the gospel to the heathen will find much of interest in the story of Rev. W. F. Checkley, assistant minister of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Toronto, Ont.; who starved to death about two weeks since. Some years ago he was engaged at $600 a year, but the congregation could only pay $400, and on that sum Mr. Checkley had to keep him alive and his own family of five or six children, including an adult son who had both his hands amputated, two children of a dead brother and an invalid sister. Nothing was known of the extreme poverty of the family until Mr. Checkley's death, when it was ascertained that the household had lived on bread, and bread alone, for two years, forgetting the taste of meat. Sometimes not even bread was to be had. Mr. Checkley was so enfeebled by hunger that he sank at once under a slight attack of typhoid. As soon as the real state of things became known, the neighbors and congregation offered assistance lavishly, the matter was alluded to from the pulpits of some of the churches, and it is likely that an ample fund will be raised and settled upon the widow and her family.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

THE SPEAKERSHIP AND THE SENATORSHIP.

ALBANY, Jan. 19, 1878.

To the Editor of the Palladium:

SIR—You get your news by telegraph, and do not depend upon the mails, especially in seasons when the trains which carry them are in daily danger of being blockaded by snow, when they are trying to run to you.

But you can't get impressions by telegraph—impressions of the bearing of distant doings—as well as you could by actual contact; neither could I. It is a realization of this fact that makes me send you some of my impressions, taken on the spot. They are not of a nature that will spoil by a few hours' or a few days' delay on the road, should that fate overtake them; but I will not be responsible for the result if they should happen to be detained for a week or two. If "time rots the diamond," as some eminent poets assert, is there any wonder that it should have some effect on this correspondence?

You observe I am approaching my subject by oblique lines, as it were. I am not afraid of it; but it is so vast, so far reaching, both in front and rear, that I kind of hesitate about attacking it. There is so much that might have been said with advantage, and to some purpose a fortnight ago; and so much that must be said with prudence and regret that it wasn't said a month ago, now!

You had a candidate for speaker in the New York assembly—you, THE PALLADIUM, and you, the people of Oswego, except the Oswego Times, which is not the people of Oswego. It was creditable to you and to them that the candidate was clean and competent; but it is not creditable to him and his friends that he was beaten. Please do not attach any significance to the silence of his party organ in your city, nor to the known hostility of its manager. They were "neither here nor there," and have not been discovered to be much of anywhere else.

The fatal blunder was, first, in relying too much on circumstances—otherwise, luck; in placing too much confidence in human integrity; in being too easily satisfied with assurances and not allowing enough for shrinkage; in being content with enough for a contingency likely to arise, but not enough for any emergency. Second, there was clearly a lack of vigor and courage in prosecuting the canvass.

Grant that there was activity and persistency and zeal on the part of Mr. Sloan's friends; there was not that immovable front; that determination crystalized into what is about as good as accomplished fact; that force of will which never contemplates defeat as a possibility, because it never leaves open any avenue that may lead to defeat. A good cause, or a man who is the representative of a good cause, deserves as many sacrifices and the expenditure of as much vital energy in his behalf as a questionable cause or its representative. I need not elaborate.

What was the failure of Mr. Sloan and his friends with regard to the speakership, will be their weakness with regard to the just-at-hand struggle for United States senator, not to attach any special significance to the term "struggle," for it won't admit of it.

Notoriously, Mr. Conkling's intimate, prominent and personal friends turned the fortune of the day against Mr. Sloan. Possibly he did not dictate, but he at least knew and could have controlled so as to have given no opportunity for complaint by either party. Cornell, who, I am told, had pledged himself in "black and white" to be neutral, was conspicuously hostile to Mr. Sloan, and the same is substantially true of other equally decided friends of Mr. Conkling.

Mr. Sloan's opportunity now is to defeat Mr. Conkling's aspirations for the United States senatorship. I think, as you probably do, that he will not improve it; but it thrills my blood to contemplate the possibility—yes, the certainty—of achieving such a result, in the hands of some bold, good man.

The man who can concentrate and array in a common interest the elements in the legislature naturally opposed to Mr. Conkling, can be the biggest man in the estimation of everybody but Mr. Conkling; and of him, fortunately, he would not have need to ask any favors.

I have no expectation that this will be attempted; certainly not unless the project has been quietly taking shape for several days past, which is doubtful. But it would gratify me to be made aware, by actual demonstration, that a man competent for leadership had arisen in the republican party, who preferred to be the champion of the rights of the whole people, rather than an obsequious subserver of the interest of a tyrant whose sole ambition is to oppress them.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

Last Night's Despatches.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

ALBANY, Jan. 19.—The governor has pardoned Josiah Brandon of Columbia county, convicted of assault and battery and sentenced to the penitentiary for six months; Adolphus Bruce of New York, convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to Sing Sing for three and a half years—restored to citizenship; David Pierce of Oneida county, convicted in 1876 of arson and sentenced to Auburn prison for life—sentence commuted to four years from January 19, 1879.

WRESTLING MATCH.

DETROIT, Jan. 19.—In the wrestling match last night between Col. McLaughlin and Andre Christol, the latter had his collar bone broken in the first round, and the match given to McLaughlin.

THE WAR ON TAMMANY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Irving hall democracy passed resolutions last night demanding that Tammany hall be opened to all democrats, and endorsing Governor Robinson's message.

LOUISIANA LOTTERY.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19.—The house has passed the bill to repeal the charter of the Louisiana lottery, by a vote of 69 to 20. It is doubtful about its passing the senate.

NEW YORK'S LAST SCOURGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—There were 196 cases of scarlet fever in this city last week, and 62 deaths against 274 cases and 58 deaths the week previous.

STOLEN BONDS.

THEY TURN UP IN GERMANY AFTER A [illegible] YEARS' WANDERINGS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A reputable firm of this city, to-day presented coupons of six Missouri Pacific mortgage bonds for payment. They were identified as part of the bonds stolen from the Northampton bank three years ago. The company will contest the payment. The coupons are stamped with the name of Gumperts, of Frankfort on the Main, and came to this country through a highly respectable firm. They are supposed to be part of the $100 000 stolen securities of the Northampton bank. The robbers negotiated them in Europe.

NEWS BY CABLE.

FURNISHING EMIGRATION MONEY.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The North Wales miner's association have resolved that the sum of £7 be given to every member of the union who desires to emigrate to America, and £14 to emigrate to Australia.

REDUCTION OF WAGES.

Notices were posted on Saturday by the iron trade employers' association in the iron ship building yards and foundries in Liverpool and the district around of a reduction in wages of 7½ per cent. after the 31st of January. It is thought that the men will strike.

THE FRENCH CRISIS.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Gambetta's organ says that the ministry, by choosing the policy of inaction, signed its own doom.

INFIDELITY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Henry S. Zimore, a former trustee of Talmage's tabernacle, from whom his wife obtained a divorce on the ground of illicit intimacy with Mrs. Hutchins, of Brooklyn, married Mrs. Hutchins in Hamilton, Ont., on Thanksgiving day, in order to evade the law of this state. The marriage notice was not published. The parties have since lived in Brooklyn. The second Mrs. Zimore has now become insane. Her hallucination is that she committed an unpardonable sin against her first husband now dead, and that he will never forgive her.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S TROUBLES.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 19.—An effort will be made to adjust the financial troubles of Archbishop Purcell by placing a large portion of the church property in the hands of trustees, who will issue five per cent. bonds, payable after three years and within twenty. It is now ascertained that his liabilities are half a million dollars. Strenuous efforts are being made to have the Pope decline to receive his resignation.

COLLEGE BOYS ON A LARK.

TRENTON, N.J., Dec. 19.—Twenty four students of Princeton college were arrested here last night on charge of disorderly conduct. They came in two large sleighs, and by their noise and hilarious conduct disturbed the peace. Each was fined $8.60.

SHERIFF BRENNAN DYING.

NEW YORK, January 19.—Matthew T. Brennan is dying. He has been police captain, police justice, comptroller, and finally sheriff. Worriment caused by suits against him in the matter of his bills as sheriff is said to have undermined his health.

LOOKING BAD FOR RENO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A Chicago special says: The testimony of Scott Girard, as a whole, was more damaging to Major Reno than any evidence yet taken by the court of inquiry.

A Bismarck special states that Captain French, who is to testify before the Reno court of inquiry, states that Reno was hid during the hardest portion of the fight.

IDAHO'S EXECUTIVE.

SILVER CITY, Jan. 19.—The governor's message favors the extinction of the land ing Indian reservation in order that valuable lands may be opened to settlement; it also favors a larger military force in the territory.

SUIT AGAINST BEECHER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The agricultural society at Cumberland, Md., threatens to sue Henry Ward Beecher for $10,000 damages, for failing to keep his engagement to lecture at the fair held in that place last October.

Coughs and Colds

yield readily to Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, which is a most agreeable remedy. It heals the soreness, loosens the phlegm and expels it from the system with scarcely an effort on the part of the patient.

Dyspepsia, loss of vitality and all the accompanying diseases may be positively cured by Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic. It restores a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle and giving tone to all the organs of the body. The Sea Weed Tonic contains no cheap and injurious spirit of which many of the so-called "Tonics" are made, but is scientifically compounded of the purest ingredients.

Biliousness and Liver Complaint cannot withstand Schenck's Mandrake Pills. They act upon the stomach and liver without occasioning or griping and are perfectly safe and harmless.

These three remedies together are a sure cure for Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter in the lungs and purifies the blood; the Mandrake Pills create a healthy bile, remove all diseases of the liver and assist the Pulmonic Syrup by carrying off the putrid matter; the Sea Weed Tonic strengthens the stomach and digestive organs and thereby ensures healthy blood.

The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of Consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines is persevered in.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.
