THE KICKERS' SIDE.

A SUNDAY CATECHISM FOR MAYOR HIGGINS.

Two Important Matters Discussed by Citizens—Pertinent Inquiry as to the Proposed Street Improvement—What is the City's Responsibility Where Wheelmen Run Down Pedestrians on the Sidewalk?

To the Editor of the Palladium:

SIR—A week from next Monday, May 11th, the taxpayers of Oswego are to hold a special election to decide whether or not the highway fund shall be increased $10,000 a year for three years, or $30,000 in all, for the purpose of paving the streets of the city. The voting of that $30,000 means an expenditure of $90,000 by the property owners of Oswego. Under the city charter, the property owners, in front of whose places the pavement is constructed, will have to pay two-thirds of the cost and the taxpayers at large, one-third.

The question is an important one; one that should be seriously discussed and considered by every taxpayer. There is no doubt but that Oswego needs street improvement, but is it wise to spend $90,000 for paving streets in which there are no sewers? Wouldn't it have been best to first construct proper sewers? In other words has the Department of Works, which is not yet a complete body because of Mayor Higgins not having appointed a successor to Mr. Crimmins, resigned, made the necessary preliminary arrangements for paving? What streets are to be paved? What material or materials are to be used? What company is to be allowed to perform the work? How are bids to be received and opened and by whom? Is there to be any restriction in the bidding? Will bids be received from a local asphalt company if one were to be organized? Has the Department of Works, as constituted to-day, the capacity for intelligently administering such an important work and expending such a large sum of money? These are questions which taxpayers are interested in having answered before they can vote intelligently, unless they wish to trust blindly to providence and the men at present constituting the Department of Works. Will the fourth man, who is to be appointed, have greater or less capacity for such a work than the three gentlemen already in office? Why this hesitancy in making the appointment? Surely it should be just as easy to select the fourth member as it was the first or the second or the third. The person selected should be a Democrat. What manner of a Democrat has Mayor Higgins in mind? Is he to be a "basswood" Democrat; a man who can be twisted this way or that by any class of men? Or is he to be a level-headed, stiff-necked Democrat, recognized as a man of sound judgment? Not a self-willed, opinionated man, but a man with plenty of good common sense, who will post himself on the subject under consideration and who will act for the best interests of the taxpayers—a man in whom the people will have confidence? A Democrat not susceptible of hypnotic influence. There are too many such already in office. Doesn't Mayor Higgins owe it to the taxpayers to tell them what manner of man he is going to appoint to this now doubly important office? Is there any good reason who the Mayor should not be frank in this matter?

As a rule the taxpayers can be relied upon to take care of their own interests and this coming election will not be an exception. If they wish to expend $90,000 for pavements and nothing for sewers they will certainly do so and it is their own business. If they do not favor such an expenditure they have a perfect right to record themselves as being against it; it is their money.

To an observer, however, it looks as if the proposed improvement would have been surer of success had the subject been carefully discussed and a detailed plan of the work agreed upon and laid before the people by the PALLADIUM.

As the matter now stands there is no system. To insure the best results the work should have been systematized months in advance. Without a system it will be hard to obtain good results. If my memory does not trip me the PALLADIUM, months ago, called attention to the fact that an improvement of this kind was contemplated and at that time suggested the importance and necessity of arranging the details for this important work. Has that suggestion been followed? Let us have light.

M. A. O.

Wants Wheelmen to Take the Road.

To the Editor of the Palladium:

SIR: I see by the PALLADIUM that City Clerk Wheeler is receiving fees for registering bicycles, which money goes to the city's treasury, and which gives to the owner of wheels thus registered a permit to ride on the sidewalks. I may be considered a "crank" on this subject, but if there is any such an ordinance at present, I believe that the Common Council should annul it at once. The Appellate courts have held that bicycles are vehicles. If that is true they should keep in the road.

In Fulton, Syracuse and other surrounding cities and villages they are not permitted to use the sidewalks. Why should Oswego be an exception? It may be comfortable and agreeable to the cyclist to ride on the walks, but it is annoying and dangerous, particularly so to elderly men and women and to children. Only a short time ago a very distinguished citizen and a man who was riding very carefully, came upon a group of youngsters while on his wheel. They darted to one side and then to the other and in the confusion a child was knocked down, but fortunately was not hurt. Had the child been injured there is no doubt but that the city would have been liable for damages in a large amount because that wheelmen had been licensed to ride upon the sidewalk.

I have in mind a case that created a great deal of attention in Canada. A woman was permanently injured by being run down by a bicycle. The city was sued, a verdict of several thousand dollars rendered. An appeal to the court of last resort confirmed the verdict and the taxpayers had to pay.

The complaint is made that the streets of the city are too rough for riding. I don't think that is an honest plea. We all admit that our streets are not over smooth, but they are infinitely better than the roads throughout Oswego county, and we hear little grumbling from wheelmen who put from ten to twenty miles over them every Sunday. With all due respect for the rights of wheelmen, I think that our Common Council should insist that cyclists should be kept in the road and not be permitted to use the sidewalks excepting as pedestrians. That will not prevent accidents, but if I am correctly informed it would exempt the city from liability and leave violators of the law amenable to the criminal courts and also to the civil courts for injuries they may cause others.

Mr. Lyman's Confidential Agents.

Rochester Post Express, Rep.

The old proverb reminds us that it is good to begin well. We regret to say that Mr. Lyman, the Commissioner of Excise, does not seem to be beginning well. The new broom is by no means sweeping clean. This fact is brought out by an examination of the record of the men whom he has selected in New York and Brooklyn as his "confidential" agents. It was to be assumed, certainly the public had a right to expect, that in picking out these officials he would exercise at least as much prudence and discretion as one would use in picking out clerks to assist him in his private business. Indeed, seeing that private prosperity is largely conditioned upon public prosperity, Mr Lyman obviously ought to have been even more particular in making up his staff of confidential agents than he would have been if he was simply a private citizen managing his private business.

The New York Post has has been at pains to look up the record of a large number of these agents of Mr. Lyman, and it spreads the result before its readers. Assuming that this directory which is thus furnished is accurate—and it seems to have been carefully prepared—it looks as though Mr. Lyman had selected his agents in palpable violation of the axiom that a public office is a public trust. One of his agents was indicted for perjury in 1887 and his business is "a bookmaker at race courses." The principal occupation of another, aside from office-holding and politics, is stated to be "presiding over lunch counters on excursion steamers." A third is "a race track hanger-on." A fourth is a retired Tammany Hall official. A fifth occasionally dispenses drinks in his father's saloon. Several others have records which go far to prove that they were appointed in payment of debts rendered some leader or sub-leader, rather than because of any proved fitness for the offices for which they were named.

Mr. Lyman can not plead that these confidential agents of his are not charged with the performance of important duties. In any event the excuse would be a wretched one, since the public service ought to be protected at all points. But the duties which involve upon these agents are of a serious nature. The Raines law contains this provision touching their duties:

Such special agents shall be deemed the confidential agents of the State Commissioner, and shall, under the direction of the Commissioner and as required by him, investigate all matters relating to the collection of liquor taxes and penalties under this act, and in relation to the compliance with law by persons engaged in the traffic in liquors. Any such special agent may enter any place where liquors are sold at any time when the same is open, and may examine any liquor tax certificate granted or purported to have been granted in pursuance of law. He may investigate any other matters in connection with the sale of liquor and shall make complaints of violations of this act as provided for other officers in section 37 hereof. The State Commissioner of Excise may designate for any county in which there is not a special Deputy Commissioner one of such special agents to perform the duties conferred upon Special Deputies in relation to the transfer, surrender or revocation of a license existing at the time this act takes effect and as to prosecuting violations of laws repealed by this act.

It will be seen from this that Commissioner Lyman's confidential agents ought to be not only men of ability, but of character. They are to be exposed to temptations which unless they are made of sterling stuff they will yield to, thus bringing the law into discredit and injuring the public welfare. A weak and corrupt agent would be sure to discover many a golden opportunity for bribery and for blackmail.

The Raines bill, as Mr. Lyman must know, failed to receive the approval of a large number of the best citizens of the State. Will his appointments tend to reassure them? By no means. They now think worse of the bill than ever before, and the fact that they do is to be credited to them. He has done much to confirm the suspicion, which many have entertained from the first, that the law is to be administered so as to keep the saloon in politics.
