Thomas G. Sherman says that a protective tariff is in reality a "blind pool." Will ex-governor Cornell please explain?

The subject of fire escapes is up. Couldn't we get at the thing better by hanging a few men—builders, hotel proprietors and the like.

The one hundred and twenty-fourth anniversary of Robert Burns has just been celebrated with enthusiasm. Scotland's great poet is enshrined in the hearts of all English-speaking people.

Charles J. Hynes, formerly of the Ogdensburg Advance and afterward connected with the Watertown Dispatch, has recently purchased the Quincy (Ill.) Herald.

The female lobbyists are still a power in Washington. It is reported that the whisky men have a number of [illegible] ones employed to help them get through the bill to amend the bonding period.

"How we are ruled" is a heading in the Argus, but the explanation which follows is not satisfactory. We do not know how we are ruled, and probably we never shall know.

Fifty physicians have enrolled themselves under the banner of the night medical service of New York provided by health commissioner Raymond, and now the poorest in the city can obtain medical assistance at any hour of the night.

The Rochester Union censures the authorities of that city for allowing a glove fight in the principal hall, and patronizing it as well, and even honoring and protecting it "by the attendance of a detail of police above and below, within and without." We can't see that any respectable reply to the Union is possible.

According to Lloyd's Register the total value of the merchant shipping of Great Britain may be estimated at $650,000,000, of which $450,000,000 represents steamers having a net tonnage of 4,000,000 tons, and $180,000,000 sailing vessels of 3,688,000 tons.

Mr. Walcott, who is trying, on a bet of $350, to eat thirty brace of quail in thirty days at Gabe Case's hotel in New York, is having a hard time of it, but one of his admirers says that he has "a beautiful jaw-motion." The bets are now against him, and George Francis Train has sent him some discouraging rhymes.

Prof. Siemens in a recent address before the British scientific association, predicted that before many years there would be on board the ships and in the factories of the country, engines with a fuel consumption not exceeding one pound of coal per effective horse power per hour, in which the gas producer takes the place of the somewhat complex and dangerous steam boiler.

Right or wrong, the transactions in futures increase yearly, and are enormous. The total grain and pork future in Chicago during 1882 amounted to $8,000,000,000. There has been sold for future delivery fifteen times as much grain and meat as was received in the city. New York last year sold 28,700,000 bales of future cotton, or six times the crop of the country, and at Oil City 20,000,000 barrels of future oils were sold each day.

N. Y. Commercial Advertiser: "It is announced that the wood-pulp Senator has not been opposing General Ketchum. If that is so, the case against J. Q. Howard must have been worse than was generally supposed, for Mr. Miller, since he found himself tumbling about in a senatorial chair, has never been known to omit making his feeble and petty opposition to every nomination made by the president."

The Brooklyn Eagle believes that the bill to abolish the bureau of elections in New York and transfer its duties to the judges of the courts of record is a bill in the success of which every friend of honest elections will be interested. So long it says, as the bureau is a portion of the machinery of the police department just so long will that department be characterized by the disgraceful partisanship that has brought it into such discredit.

According to the estimates of a Paris correspondent only 1,000,000 of the 10,000,000 voters in France are genuine republicans. Of the other 9,000,000 about 3,000,000 are monarchists and imperialists, and 6,000,000 are republicans, monarchists, or imperialists, as circumstances make them or as political currents or self-interest may determine. So long as the republicans are in the ascendant the floating or variable vote is with them, but should the republican government lose public confidence 6,000,000 men might easily be subjected to influences that would make them dangerous to the public.

The N. Y. Financial Chronicle considers the present financial outlook of the country quite satisfactory. Although there is some complaint in business circles concerning the tariff and internal revenue measures, there are indications of improvement in various important industries, and the reported failures are not greater than in former years. Foreign trade is favorable, and months to come we are likely to be doing [illegible] than we are spending. [illegible] while a large part of the great crops of last year [illegible], in the hands of the miners, [illegible] for the [illegible] and commerce, with good [illegible].

The president returned the visit of the Marquis of Lorne yesterday afternoon.

The house has decided that the general debate on the tariff bill should close today at 5 o'clock.

The treasury department has appointed Edgar Harriott of New York general inspector of freight.

Lake Champlain is frozen over and the closing is earlier than for several years past.

The expenses of the defendants in the star route trials are said to be $300,000. Gen. Brady and ex-senator Dorsey are reported to have spent $75,000 each.

Ensign Hunt has arrived at Irkutsk with a party en route to the United States. It is probable that Superintendent Chipp's party will be abandoned for the present.

The Colorado republican senatorial caucus last night nominated T. M. Bowen of Rio Grande, for United States senator for the long term. No nomination was made for the long term.

The post office department estimates a surplus of $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 for the next fiscal year if the two cent letter postage is not authorized. It is estimated that there will be but little, if any, deficiency in consequence of a reduction of postage.

The carnival sports at Montreal continued yesterday and concluded with a grand ball at the Windsor hotel last night. The wealth, beauty and refinement of New York, Boston and other American and Canadian cities was largely represented. All Mr. Vanderbilt's married daughters and many of their friends came specially to attend the ball.

The national association for the protection of insane, in session at Philadelphia yesterday, adopted a resolution recommending to the consideration of the physicians and superintendents of institutions for the treatment of mental disease, the value of regular and pleasant employment for their patients, as a remedial agency in the treatment of mental disorders.

Bradstreet's agency reports 280 failures during the past week, a decrease of 26 as compared with the last week. The middle states had 66, an increase of 1; the New England states 26, a decrease of 3; the southern states 71, an increase of 2; the western states 97, a decrease of 14; the Pacific states and territories 18, a decrease of 14, and Canada 26, an increase of 1. The majority of failures continue to be those of small traders.

In writing to a friend in the city, The Hon. B. S. W. Clark says: "The politicians did not win in the appointment of Mr. Shanahan. It is a most excellent one. He will give the boatmen a good canal and he is honest in the best sense of the word. The governor did not make any mistake, and I hope all my friends everywhere will give Mr. Shanahan their earnest and hearty support."

The senate pensions committee has split into three parties on the proposed measure to increase the pensions of soldiers and sailors who lost an arm or a leg during the war of the rebellion. The majority of the committee are against the proposition. The minority (Messrs. Blair and Mitchell) favor enlarging the scope of the measure, so as to increase the pensions also of those whose eyesight or hearing was impaired by reason of war service. Mr. Platt is unable to agree with the majority or minority and proposes to offer a bill embodying his ideas. The minority estimate the increase of the pension roll by reason of their additional provision at $12,000,000 a year.

A Boston special says that the war between the executive and legislative departments is so fierce as to be ridiculous. Every recommendation of governor Butler is treated with contempt by the majority of the legislature. Their refusal to print the usual number of extra copies of the governor's message has increased the antagonism. The Butler organs have raised the cry that the republicans of the legislature are afraid to have the facts of the inaugural message laid before the public. This action of the republicans has created an extraordinary demand for the document, and it will be supplied by the governor from his private printing-press. The Butler men are furious because all their schemes have been thwarted, and the republicans are determined to do all things possible to make it unpleasant for them and prove that Butler can accomplish no radical change in state affairs.

The largest dredging machine ever constructed will be launched at Philadelphia within a few weeks. It is being made for the Panama Canal company, and is 180 feet long, 50 feet wide and 12 feet deep. When all the machinery is in place it will contain 450 tons of iron. On each side of the these monster dredges there will be eight separate engines, the pair of high pressure engines which run the dredge being of 250 horse power and the other of about 80 horse power each. The dredges are of a new pattern, and work with a series of buckets on an endless chain. There are 16 of the buckets to each machine, which can dig and dispose of 1,000 cubic yards of dirt in an hour, or a combined capacity per hour for the three dredges of 3,000 cubic yards. The dirt is dropped into a hopper, and forced from this through a large pipe 150 feet long, to its place of deposit. To insure the easy passage of the dirt a heavy stream of water is kept running through the pipe.

Buffalo Courier, to-day: His excellency governor Cleveland arrived in the city last night at midnight and sought the seclusion of his room at once. He will remain over Sunday and possibly longer.

A message from the president was laid before the house yesterday relative to the joint resolution "to refer certain claims to the court of claims," which becomes a law without his approval. The president says the apparent purpose of the resolution is to allow certain bankers to sue in the court of claims for the amount of internal revenue tax collected from them without lawful authority, upon showing as a matter of excuse for not having brought their suits within the time limited by law, that they had entered into an agreement with the district attorney which was in substance that they should be relieved of that necessity. The president finds no sufficient grounds for the legislation demanded, but prefers to let it become a law without his approval, not finding it so objectionable as to demand disapproval.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH

Dispatches to Three O'clock To-Day.

A BAD MAN.

New York, Jan. 27.—The Sun's Rondout special says: "Horatio Fowks, editor of the Morning Courier, is missing since last Saturday. His departure is connected with the disappearance of Lizzie Foster, a school girl. It is reported that Fowks for some time has made preparations for his departure. He has borrowed money daily and on the day of prior to the disappearance obtained $1,500. He was formerly editor of the Daily Freeman and was a leading member of the Methodist church. It is reported that his liabilities are over $10,000.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Winooski, Jan. 27.—This morning a car ran off the track, colliding with a car loaded with kerosene oil. It exploded and a store house near by and contents were consumed. Loss $130,000.

STEAM EXPLOSION.

New York, January 27.—Steam escaping from the pipe of a steam heating company corner of Maiden Lane and Broadway to-day caused a loud explosion, shattering the windows in the neighborhood. Two men were injured.

Later—It is now said that the explosion was due to the accumulation of escaped gas.

ANOTHER SMASH UP.

Wabash, Ind., Jan. 27.—Last night near here the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific express struck a broken rail. The chair car and sleeper rolled down a forty foot embankment. Eight persons were [illegible]. None were seriously injured except the porter of the sleeping car. Among the wounded is M. Knight, general freight agent of the Wabash line.

CREMATION.

Washington, Pa., January 27.—The remains of Robert Holm of New York, aged 2, were cremated yesterday, the first case of a child's body being cremated in this country.

The child's father, Dr. Holm, was cremated three years ago. This is the sixteenth cremation here.

RUN ON A BANK.

Yonkers, Jan. 27.—There has been a run on the Yonkers savings bank yesterday and $60,000 was withdrawn by the depositors. The run is ascribed to vague rumors that the bank is going to fail. The officers claim that the bank has a surplus of $119,000 and is amply prepared to meet any further run.

HARVARD OBSERVATORY.

Boston, Jan. 27.—At the request of the [illegible] of European astronomers, the Smithsonian institution has transferred to the observatory of Harvard college, the work of collecting astronomical information in this country. The observatory now becomes the centre for astronomical information for the United States.

A TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 27.—In Madison county during a drunken fight, Bythell Briggs, was cut to pieces and killed. Henry and Chingeman Metcalf, concerned in the murder, fled, but afterwards returned, got drunk, quarrelled and killed each other.

THE CAVE IN.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 27.—People are rapidly moving from the vicinity of the cave in. A further cave in is feared. Settling earth broke water pipes, causing much distress. Those who deserted dwellings find difficulty in obtaining shelter. In many cases there is distress.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

New York, Jan. 27.—J. W. Humphrey & Co., dealers in oil well supplies, Bradford and Clarendon, Pa., and Bolivar and Richburg, N. Y., assigned. Liabilities $100,000, nominal assets much larger.

Le Roy, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Samuel Howard, hardware, has assigned. Liabilities, $20,000; assets less.

COLLISION.

Canton, O., Jan. 27.—A freight and passenger train collided near here last evening. John Russell, fireman on the passenger train, was killed, Geo. Stoner, engineer, probably fatally hurt. Several others were badly hurt, but none fatally. The accident was caused through the mistake of a train order.

AN INSANE SUICIDE.

Warsaw, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Carl Johnson of Jamestown, L. I., supposed insane, jumped from a car nine miles west yesterday while the train was running forty miles an hour. Both his legs and neck were broken.

A LINGUIST DEAD.

New York, Jan. 27.—Dr. Wm. Gottlieb Schauffler died yesterday, aged 85. He was a well-known missionary worker, and master of sixteen languages, and could preach extemporaneously in six.

WESTERN POLITICS.

Lincoln, Neb. 27.—Sixty-seven republicans attended a caucus last night, [illegible] enough to elect a senator. The caucus adjourned after eleven inefficient ballots.

TO-DAY'S OLD WORLD NEWS.

VIOLENT STORMS—AN OVER DUE STEAMER—THE EMPEROR WILLIAM TO THE POPE—OTHER MATTERS.

Pesth, Jan. 27.—Violent storms prevailed in Hungary Friday. In the district of Oravitza most of the houses were destroyed.

EMPEROR WILLIAM TO THE POPE.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—In a letter from the emperor to the Pope, December 22, after a hearty return of the good wishes expressed in the letter from the Pope to the emperor, the latter declares that the Pope's letter has strengthened the emperor's hope that the satisfaction felt by the Pope at the re-establishment of a Prussian legation at the Vatican will afford ground for his holiness to reciprocate by similar advices. The emperor believes that the advance made by the Vaticanis in regard to the duty of giving notice of ecclesiastic appointments to the government is even more in the interest of the Catholic church than to the state. If the emperor was convinced that his desires for an understanding were reciprocated, he would be able to concede that the diet should reconsider the way laws which are not permanently required for the maintenance of peaceful relations with the Vatican.

PARIS TROUBLES.

Paris, Jan. 27.—Jaureguiberg, minister of marine, has resigned.

AN OVERDUE STEAMER.

London, Jan. 27.—The steamer sighted in distress Jan. 13, in latitude 45 north longitude, 20 west, is believed to have been the overdue steamer Quebec, from Portland for Liverpool.

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 27.—Peirce's woolen factory and Fowld's factory were burned to-day. Loss $20,000.

MARINE ACCIDENT.

London, January 27.—A German bark, the Admiral Prince Adalbert, is ashore at Mumbleshead, Wales. A life boat going to the rescue was stove in and six of her crew drowned. A large steamer was wrecked near Swansea. The crew perished.

XLVII CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, January 27.—The tariff bill was taken up.

Mr. Hogan—It was so stated to me by someone who had it from the president.

Mr. Kelly—I don't think the president proposes to offer a bribe to the democratic party to prevent legislation on this subject.

Mr. Kelly said the bill was the best measure congress could draft. Any [illegible] would be [illegible].

HOUSE.

The house went into the committee on the tariff bill.

Mr. Bland said it had been whispered that unless this congress passed this or a similar bill the president would call an extra session. That was a threat held over congress to prevent due consideration of the subject.

Mr. Kelly—Has the gentleman any authority for that statement?

Mr. Bland—I say it is so stated in the papers.

Mr. Kelly—Oh, yes.

The windows and galleries of the capitol were swarmed with agents of the millionaires and monopolists, urging the passage of a bill which meant death to agricultural interest. According to the newspapers lobbyists are thicker in Washington this session than ever before.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Middle states—Much warmer, cloudy with rain or snow, southerly veering to westerly winds, falling followed by rising barometer. To-morrow—Warmer, cloudy, rainy. Lower lakes—Cloudy, with rain or snow, westerly winds, stationary or lower temperature, higher pressure.

DISHONEST PRINTERS.

New York, Jan. 27.—Adam Schneider, John Hogge and James Robertson, employes of Boyd's Dispatch office in Park Place, were arrested to-day on a charge of stealing from the safe property valued at $4,000. It is also alleged that they stole stamps valued at $20,000. One thousand one hundred worth of stamps were recovered.

BRIDGE BURNED.

Syracuse, January 27.—One section of the draw bridge at Cayuga, on the Auburn road, burned this morning. It will be repaired to-day.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—Mohr & Mohr, distillers, assigned, estimated liabilities $150,000.

KILLING OF JUROR FIELD.

THE MURDERS ON TRIAL—TESTIMONY OF AN EYE WITNESS.

Dublin, Jan. 27.—Brady, Kelly, Hanlon, Dwyer and Kavanagh appeared in court to-day charged with conspiracy in the murder of juror Field. The court was crowded and carefully guarded.

Alice Carroll, aged 17, deposed that on the evening of November 27th she saw a car with three passengers and a driver stop in Hardwick street. Three men got off. Two were Kelly and Brady. [illegible] follow Field, whom Brady [illegible] saw the glitter of the [illegible]. Two other men were behind Brady. When Field fell, he was again stabbed by Brady or Kelly. The three men then [illegible]. Kavanagh was the driver. Witness positively identified Brady, Kelly and Kavanagh. Witness said an accidental conversation with the policeman caused her examination. She did not inform in consequence of a reward of £500. She saw Brady stab Field in the house at [illegible]. The prisoners smiled at the evidence and joked.

The girl refused to go on the witness stand. The next witness also refused. They were examined from a side bench. Counsel stated that he intended only to prosecute five prisoners in the dock.

Michael Farrell, aged 16, deposed that on the evening of the attack upon Field he saw three men on the corner of Hardwick street. A car was on the opposite side of the street. Witness knows Brady, Kavanagh and Kelly. Kavanagh was in charge of the car. The other two men [illegible].

BAILEY'S CASE.

Washington, January 27.—Before the house committee to-day Smith, journal clerk of the house, testified that chief clerk Bailey asked him about the bill pending in regard to gas companies and asked him in regard to Harmon, the lobbyist.

Bailey gave witness and other clerks theatre tickets, understood to be distributed by the gas company.

Barclay, formerly journal clerk, testified that the company furnished him gas free.

Bartol, president of the Washington gas company, testified that he had nothing to do with Bailey's appointment. He was a cousin of Bailey's wife and stopped at Bailey's house when here. He employed Harmon as attorney on the recommendation of a friend.

SERVED THEM RIGHT.

Rock Hill, S. C., Jan. 27.—Two Mormon missionaries arrived Thursday. A committee of young men warned them to leave the country within 24 hours on pain of being tarred and feathered and ridden on a rail. The missionaries departed yesterday.

THE ORLEANISTS.

Paris, Jan. 27.—It is announced that the government and a committee of the chamber of deputies has agreed to accept the proposal that the Orleans princes shall be prohibited from filling civil or military posts.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.

Independence, Mo., Jan. 27.—Deputy marshal Holland took Frank James to a theatre. Judge Waite revoked Holland's license and appointed another custodian. The case creates a sensation.

LOWER RATES.

New York, Jan. 27.—All the steamship companies have decided to make steerage rates of passage from points in Europe $21, a reduction of $9.

THE CARNIVAL.
