Jubilee Tickets

Nearly 1,000 tickets have been sold for the Syracuse musical jubilee. Seats can be secured by telegram from this city.

Crimes in this Vicinity

Patrick Norris, a kid of ten years, who has been for several years an inmate of the house of providence at Syracuse, was kidnapped yesterday afternoon soon after 3 o'clock. It is supposed that the boy was taken by his father.

A grand jury will soon be established in Watertown.

Commander J. S. Bayles of Rome will inspect Post O'Brien to night. Mr. Bayles is said to be an eloquent talker and commander Ketchum would like to have all the members of the post hear him.

Three from One Family

An insane convict named Harrison has been transferred from Auburn prison to the insane asylum. Harrison's two sons were in prison with him for a crime into which they were forced by their father.

A Regular Cracker

A pool cheater named Crunch from Syracuse worked Utica to the extent of $50 Tuesday afternoon. He is a green looking chap and easily mistaken for a fat. His violence caused his hat before he got away. Crunch worked Rochester Monday.

Something Unusual

Eight years ago Logan Hay of Hartford Hills, Cortland county, was convicted of criminal assault on circumstantial evidence and was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. A man who died that he committed the crime, thus establishing Hay's innocence.

News for Firemen

The Kingsford fire company elected the following officers: Engineer, Thomas Kingsford; foreman, T. P. Kingsford; first assistant foreman, H. K. Gill; second assistant foreman, Geo. W. Gell; secretary, J. B. Spencer; treasurer, S. G. Howe; organizer, F. Schilling; chorister, W. L. Muehler.

Government Reform

This evening Mr. Alexander R. Davis will lecture at the academy of music on government reform. The DeRuyter Gleason says: A. R. Davis spoke at Utica last Monday evening on the subject of government reform. His audience was small, owing to the other meetings in session; but all present listened with deep interest to his earnest presentation of the defects in the political, financial and administrative systems now in vogue. We regret that space will not permit even a brief summary of his address. He is a forcible speaker, and may feel assured of a larger house should he happen this evening in the future.

Altogether Too Real

Phonix Register: At the rendering of Ten Nights in a Bar Room at Windsor opera house, Thursday evening, when the distinguished son of the hotel proprietor his father on the head with a bottle, the rubber imitation bottle had been mislaid, and one of genuine glass was employed. The blow was so hard as to resound throughout the hall, and besides knocking the old man down in reality, laid the fish upon the stage. A physician was summoned who dressed the injury, bringing the sides of the wound together and retaining them in place with plaster.

Mr. Vanderveer's Estate

Correspondence Mexico Independent: Mr. William Vanderveer of North Valley, has some things of "the olden time" that are worthy of notice. The first is a sword carried by his grandfather, John Vanderveer, in the French war; a chest brought from Holland long before the said war, by the same person, and a tobacco box used by the grandfather 130 years ago. There is a story connected with the box which I will relate. During the French war John Vanderveer had a watch and the tobacco box stolen. The penalty at that time for stealing twenty pence, was hanging. The thief was caught and put on trial. Mr. Vanderveer was disposed to save the man's life, and when asked by the judge what the watch was worth, he answered, ten pence. In answer to the worth of the tobacco box he replied, ten pence. When asked if he would take ten pence for the watch and six pence for the box, he said he would. The articles were then handed to him, and the thief received a light punishment.

For Laws Back, Side or Chest, use

Shank's Force Paste. Price 25 cents. For sale by John A. Stone.

Why Will You cough when

Banton's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10c. 50c. and $1. For sale by John A. Stone.

The Ice Crop

Five tons, one foot thick, is being taken from Cayuga lake. The finest ice seen for years is being harvested in this vicinity. The blocks are about a foot thick and are as clear as crystal.

Business Notes

The old established Syracuse firm of Inguoid, Walls & Co., saddlery and hardware, is succeeded by the new firm of G. W. Lyons & Co., composed of O. W. Lyons, G. H. Sanford, J. H. Dealey, Jr., H. L. Duguid and J. E. Wells. Messrs. Duguid & Wells will continue the manufacture of goods handled by the new firm.

Bent to Jail at his Own Request

A middle aged man, giving the name of Ira Sutherland, and claiming to hail from Chatham, N. Y., met chief Baker on the Albany street and asked to be sent to jail, as he was afraid he was about to have delirium tremens. He was accommodated.

The Installment Plan

In the case of one Pioneer of Syracuse, who bought an organ on the installment plan, Judge Van has decided that notwithstanding there was an agreement that the seller could take the instrument in case the payments were not made, he has no right to do so without returning the money already paid, with interest.

The Week of Prayer

January 18, Saturday—Prayer for Missions—That all missionaries and others engaged in mission work and in the circles of the helplessness of those who are afflicted with the holy spirit, and that great success may crown their efforts; that all converts may be kept steadfast in the faith, and made earnest and efficient in seeking to bring souls to the service; that many more faithful laborers may be called into the Lord's vineyard; that the Mohammedans and the heathen may be won to Christ; and that the Jews may be constrained to receive Him who is their long expected Messiah. That the blessings of God and the power of the spirit may abundantly rest upon the conference of Christians of various nations proposed to be held this year in Stockholm. La. H. 7-13; Book. xxviii:14; Luke xiv:49.

A Valuable Historical Contribution

In an address before the Onondaga county historical society, Hon. L. W. Leydard of Oswego spoke of the location of the Indian encampment and fort that was the objective point of the expedition of Champlain, the French invader, in 1616, ten years before the founding of the village on Cayuga Rock, and gave an account of the expedition as taken from Champlain's journal, which recited the details of an attack made on an Indian fort with arrows as stones. Personal investigation by the lecturer and general Clark of the Onondaga institute, located these battle grounds east of Perryville, Madison county, near the Mile Strip four corners on the Nichols' farm, and general Clark had made an accurate map of this place. They thus brought to light the earliest historic point in central New York. General Clark was guided only by Champlain's journal. The implements found were of bone. The trappers brought arrow heads of iron, which took the place of first ones. Their arrowheads were of different classes. The head of the hunting arrow was fixed to the shafts so that when it was pulled out the head would come with it. Their war arrows were so made that the head would remain in an enemy's body when the shaft was pulled out. Things found near Caspovia will connect the history of those who lived there with the marvellous civilization of the New Mexican race.

The New Game Law

A game law has been introduced in the legislature which makes the following changes in the existing statutes: Limiting the killing of deer to the months of September and October. The season now consists of four months, August to November inclusive. Limiting the spring shooting of ducks and geese to the month of April. Fixing the season for shooting woodcock and partridge from September 1 to December 1, and making the statute apply to the whole state. The present law makes exceptions in favor of Onondaga and Herkimer counties. Prohibiting altogether the setting of pigeons. Fixing the season for catching trout from May 1 to September 1. This cuts off the month of April. The sale of trout under five inches long, and catching trout of any size through the ice, are to be prohibited. The provisions as to setting fish are to be made more stringent particularly as regards the St. Lawrence river. Having been in possession out of season of also to be made an offense. The season for taking bass is to open June 15. The law for restriction to the water game protectors is also to be amended. The present law provides for the appointment of eight of these officials. The amendment gives the governor discretion to appoint sixteen.

THE P. M. B. MEETING

The condition of the Association Rating Agency—Officers Elected—President Nat'l's Address.

The fourth annual meeting of the people's mutual benefit association was held at the Temperance hall last night, and was called to order by president Natting who delivered a very interesting address. The president said that it was not his duty to say anything on this occasion, but that it was a pleasure to do so. He said as the days, weeks and months in life go by, responsibilities multiply and accumulate. A man now at the age of 25 years knows more than a man of 40 knew 50 years ago. Before 100 years shall have passed away, men will be born who are leave off, in education and intellectually. We build and transmit our knowledge through this paper may have the benefit of it. This P. M. B. A. will exist 100 years hence in honor and integrity. There is only one thing that can prevent this, and that is selfishness, bursting out in disobedience. There were 518 men belonging to this association. What do they represent? Back of them were 8,000 people. If any member died to night, he would get $1,000. It would be paid to his wife and children, or those who are dependent upon his labor for living. The responsibility of keeping the organization pure will rest upon the members individually. He concluded in February, 1879, when three or four men met to consider the advisability of organizing such a society in this city. No one was very responsive for it became in Syracuse, in Rochester, or in any other city. A man who came here with a watch as big as the moon, people would then respect the organization. But people were made to respect it because it was pure and honest. The beautiful and good thing about this society is that every member is the treasurer. It is regular insurance companies a premium is paid between $20,000 and $30,000. We pay no salaries here. If I should die to-night, you are the members in whose pockets the money which should be paid to my family is kept. Yes, in this society 500 members are the treasurers who keep the money. He said that this insurance companies were good and dangerous corporations and they were all that associations similar to the P. M. B. A. should fear.

Winter Navigation Notes

The straits are still open for navigation. Captain J. H. Burrows, who commanded the propeller Dromedary last season, will be master of the big steamer St. Margus during the coming season of navigation.

Gun, Gum, Girt

Frank Lottswell and James Weston of Orwell returned a few days since from the North woods, bringing with them one hundred and ten pounds of spruce gum, for which they had made a sale at six cents a pound.

A Priest Remover

Father Lannan, the popular assistant pastor of St. John's church at Utica, has been removed by the bishop. A great deal of regret is expressed. The parish has hardly recovered from the removal caused by Father Terry's removal.

Real Estate Purchases

Now Thomas Hunter of Sterling, of the firm of Paine & Hunter, furniture dealers, has bought the lot north of the Oliphant block on West First street for $4,000. A building similar to Mr. Oliphant's will be erected for Paine & Hunter's business, and will be finished about May 1.
