DAILY PALLADIUM.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1874

Observations.

The new election of officers of Phelps Hose Co. will occur to-night.

Personal.

Mr. C. C. Case, lately ass't supt. of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad, is improving in health and likely to recover.

Business.

The Rome Sentinel says that Mudge & Ames' Knitting Works, formerly of Oswego, have orders ahead for three months' work.

Entertainments.

The ball of the Father Mathew Temperance Society will occur in Doolittle Hall to-night. The music will be mainly by Fairtile & Dickenson's band, though some of the waltzes will be by the Father Mathew Band.

Police Topics.

A horse and buggy belonging to Hamilton Littlefield was taken from the corner of 1st and Cayuga streets by unknown persons. Probably it was done with proper motives, however, for the property was afterward found safely housed in Dunsmore & Rogers' stables.

I. O. O. F.

At a regular meeting of Kenoshioni Encampment No. 98, I. O. of O. F., held at their rooms on the evening of January 13th, 1874, the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing term:

C. P., G. Meyer; H. P., T. J. Tifft; S. W., C. T. Mills; J. W., S. Goldberg; S., J. F. Sytz; Treas., H. H. Herron; Sent., C. D. Comstock; Guide, Wm. H. Corrigan; 1st Watch, A. J. Hooker; 2d Watch, J. H. Tibbits; 3d Watch, R. T. O'Neil; 4th Watch, Wm. Blackwood; Guards, Chas. O'Neil, J. H. Kelly.

Sudden Death.

Peter Donnavan, a machinist, employed in Ames's Iron Works, died suddenly this morning, at his house on East Oneida street, between 11th and 12th streets. He was in good health, so far as appeared.—He got up about 2 o'clock this morning and then was well so far as known. At 4 o'clock he got up to dress himself, went to the chair where his clothes hung, and after standing still a moment, fell to the floor and died immediately. He leaves a wife and four young children.

THE SECOND NATIONAL BANK.

A Question Raised as to the Eligibility of a Director—Mr. E. P. Burt claims still to be in that Cashier and a Director—Statement of His Position.

In our statement of the election of Directors of the Second National Bank, yesterday, we printed Mr. L. H. Conklin as elected in place of Mr. E. P. Burt. Mr. Burt claims that he is still a director and cashier of the Bank. Some weeks ago, it will be remembered, he was deposed from the office of cashier, and he claims that the law which requires that his successor should have been named immediately, has not been complied with, and no other person having yet been appointed to the place, his office, in point of law and fact, still continues.

At the stockholders' meeting yesterday, Mr. A. A. Howlett was declared elected a director. Mr. Burt states that he bought Mr. Howlett's stock some months ago, and hence he (Mr. H.) cannot be legally a director; also that he (Burt) having the number of votes next highest to Mr. Howlett, was elected a director.

Mr. Burt intends to press and substantiate his claim, and has forwarded to the Comptroller of the Currency the annexed papers in pursuit of that purpose and with a view to secure what he considers his just rights:

SECOND NATIONAL BANK, OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 13th, 1874.

Hon. Jno. Jay Knox, Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir—Enclosed I send you oath of office as Director of Second National Bank of the city of Oswego, N. Y. The Second National Bank is entitled to only eight Directors. If the name of A. A. Howlett is forwarded to you as Director, I wish to inform you that he is not eligible to the office of Director, he having sold his stock to me, and I having received the largest number of votes next to him, at an election for Directors this day.

Yours, &c., E. P. BURT.

(COPY.)

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF OSWEGO, ss.

I, the undersigned, Director of The Second National Bank of the City of Oswego, of the State of New York, do solemnly swear that I am a citizen of the United States, and resident of the State of New York, and that I will, so far as the duty devolves on me, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of said Bank; and that I will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of the Act of Congress under which this Bank has been organized; and that I am the bona fide owner, in my own right, of the number of shares of stock subscribed by me or standing in my name on the books of the said Bank, and required by said Act, and that the same is not hypothecated, or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt.

E. P. BURT.

Subscribed and sworn to this 13th day of January, 1874, before the undersigned, a Notary Public of said County.

J. D. W. CASE, Notary Public.

The situation creates considerable stir in financial circles, and the result will be looked for with interest.

THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

Rather an Important Meeting—A Rambling Discussion on Various Topics—Sub-Committee Appointed.

The Citizens' and Common Council Committees on revision of the city charter met in the Common Council chamber, last evening, all present except Messrs. Burt and Fort, of the Citizens' Committee.

Upon suggestion of Mr. Richardson, the Mayor was called to the chair.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the City Clerk was called to act as secretary, and not being present, Deputy Clerk Cooke kept the minutes.

Judge Churchill said it is true as said by Mr. Richardson and by Mr. Rhodes in his excellent address, which has been printed in the city papers, the people expect much of the committee, and they were never before in so good temper to support whatever action we may take here if it be wise and prudent. We are raising and spending two much money; for the money we spend we do not get value. One method is to secure less expenditure and to make what is spent go further. Our street fund of $20,000 ought not only to give us clean streets, but to add each year some miles of macadamized and other durable streets. Our streets are the worst of any in the country, and it is not the fault of the present Street Commissioner, but in the system. We must devise some measure whereby the expenditures may fall into more skillful hands. We must appoint more competent and experienced men. The people, so far from grumbling at taxes, would be proud if they could see, for instance, a permanent return for the expenditure of $20,000 a year on our streets.

Mr. Smith asked if it wouldn't be wise to put a limit to every expenditure. He would commence at the school fund. He would suggest $25,000 as the limit for that. He thought the fire department can be run for less money than at the present time.

Mr. Richards did not know as the present number of companies can be run any cheaper. The only way he knew to reduce the expense would be to reduce the number of companies. It would be no less expensive to make a paid department. It couldn't be run with less than six companies with twelve men to a company, and come to pay them and pay repairs and incidental expenses, would make the bills run up pretty well.

Mr. Smith said it would cost too much to run a paid department in this city. It costs Albany $2,790 to a company; she has six steamers and two hook and ladder companies. He favored decreasing the department. The salaries altogether costs $40,000 a year.

Judge Churchill asked the cost of the Oswego Department.

Ald. Rhodes said it costs from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, including new buildings, etc. This year it will be more than that, but part of it will be paid by sale of an old building. Reducing the number of companies is entirely within the control of the corporation. No amendment of the charter is needed to secure that. He had no doubt that our fire department is as efficient as any volunteer department in the State and nearly as efficient as many of the paid departments. He thought ours as efficient as Albany's. He favored reducing the number of members per company. He doubted whether it is wise to keep three steamers in commission—one should be kept in reserve in case of accident. We have too many companies, yet the expense does not wholly depend on the number of companies. He thought expenses might be reduced by making firemen's dues pay in full for a certain class of expenses. Steamer companies are limited to 100 men and hose companies to 40. Ten men ought to be sufficient for a hose company. But what effect will a change have on the morale of the department. It is desirable to preserve good feeling between the department and citizens. There is much more work done on the streets than people suppose; when it is considered that we have from 70 to 80 miles of open streets, with calverts and crosswalks, it requires a large amount of money to keep the streets in the repair they are now in. The street fund is $15,000 and $5,000 for bridges, culverts and crosswalks. We have two important bridges on which $3,000 have been expended this year. Four other bridges have been rebuilt and the expenses have been unusually large, and will not be incurred again in three or four years. He would have the money expended under the responsibility of one person. He thought a proper appreciation of the responsibility of the street commissioner when the appointment is made and putting the responsibility on him a desirable thing. The question is, how shall he be appointed? By the Council, by election, or by a commission. He favored limitation of expenses by the charter. A strict limitation as to the amount to be levied and expended is useful. He alluded to the fact that now any citizen may sue for any illegal expenditure of public money and to the individual responsibility of aldermen for expenditures in excess of the funds.

Mr. Edland would like some gentleman to point out where street money has been extravagantly expended. The trouble here is that men worth $300,000 or $400,000 were exempt from taxation. On one block in the 3d ward, cut up by the Midland, it will cost $8,000 to repair the streets. He tried to buy some gravel from his friend, Mr. Churchill, and he couldn't get it for less than 25 cents a load. You may make the streets as pretty in summer as any in the State, but when the frost and rains come away go your streets. He favored abolishing the street fund and establishing a pavement fund. He received notice that the upper bridge was unsafe. Upon examination the nuts that held it up were found to be all off except 250, and it cost $2,270 to fix it. Then they found the abutments sliding out, the abutments are found not to be set into the rock more than a foot and a half. He denied the charge made in Doolittle Hall that he had put men on the street for charity's sake. He had appointed no men except on individual application. The gas and water companies dig up the streets in winter and leave them in bad shape. He received application the other day for permission to dig up the street in front of Mr. Richardson's new block and refused it. Mr. R. told him he had permission of the aldermen and would dig it up. What will it cost to relay the pavement there next spring if it is torn up now?

Ald. Phelps suggested that the Mayor appoint a committee of two from each committee to suggest amendments at a meeting to be held a week hence.

Mr. Smith suggested that the chairmen of the committees name the sub-committees, which was agreed to by Mr. Phelps.

Mr. Perry named Mr. Phelps and Mr. Rhodes from the Council Committee.

Mr. Smith named Mr. Kinyon and Mr. Richardson from the Citizens' Committee.

It was resolved that the Citizens' and Council Committees act as a joint committee.

Adjourned till a week from Thursday evening.

Bank Elections at Fulton.

The following are the bank directors and officers elected yesterday:

Citizens' National Bank—Directors: C. G. Case, R. H. Tyler, Willard Johnson, G. M. Case, Timothy Pratt, Samuel Hart, C. M. Lee, W. S. Nelson, M. C. Lee, V. W. Cheesbro, P. F. Conger. Executive Committee: C. M. Lee, T. W. Chesebro, P. F. Conger. C. G. Case, President; W. S. Nelson, Vice-President; George M. Case, Cashier.

First National Bank—M. L. Lee, President; Geo. Salmon, Vice-President; D. W. Gardner, Cashier; A. Youmans, Assistant Cashier. Directors—M. L. Lee, George Salmon, R. H. Tyler, Geo. M. Case, H. C. Howe, H. C. Gardner, O. H. Hastings, J. G. Reynolds, Alfred Rice, John T. Sheridan, D. W. Gardner.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

There and Here.

To the Editor of the Palladium:

SIR—I see they held a meeting of tax payers at Syracuse last night to amend their charter. They appointed a committee of six from each ward—there are eight wards—to frame and report amendments to be submitted to another meeting. At our meeting it was proposed to have each ward represented by two on the committee; but no, the gentlemen who run the concern wouldn't allow it. They must be sure to get the Committee small enough. When you see men trying to amend the charter and excluding the tax payers from a voice in them you may look out for Ring schemes.

FIRST WARD.

Oswego, Jan. 14, 1874.

Prof. Armes' Lecture.

To the Editor of the Palladium:

SIR—There was such a crowd last evening that came to Prof. Armes' lecture that hundreds went away, not being able to gain admittance. We wish the whole city could have witnessed the proceedings, which were of surpassing interest. His science was "weighed in the balance" fairly, and not found wanting. The youth who had received 1½ hours of teaching, answered more questions by the rules taught him than he could have done in a week ordinarily, and this information was of a nature that all should be in possession of. The merits of his system seem to be beyond all doubt. Prof. A. should have a large class here, as he certainly deserves. We advise Mr. Armes to repeat his exercises in a large hall. All persons interested can meet him at the Fitzhugh House, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

Yours truly, PHONEMAS.

C. L. J. H. SOCIETY.—This society hold their fifth party to-morrow (Thursday) evening at Lyceum Hall, Jan. 15th.

A CARD.—I desire to inform the public that I do not approve of the ball this evening, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. The object may, or may not be a benevolent one, but "the end does not justify the means."

J. F. LOWERY, Pastor of St. John's Church.

Calico Party, Mansard Hall, Jan. 16.

NOTICE.—There will be a meeting of the Machinists' & Blacksmiths' Union, this evening at 7½ o'clock, to make arrangements for attending the funeral of our late Brother, Peter Donovan. Every member is requested to be present.

Schauber is manufacturing more shirts than any firm outside of New York.

NUMBER EIGHT SPECIAL.—The members of Phelps Hose Company No. 8, as organized by the Common Council, Nov. 1st, 1873, are requested to meet at their rooms on Wednesday evening, Jan. 14th, at 7½ o'clock P. M., for the election of officers, and none but members will be admitted to the meeting.

By order of the Fire Council,

COUNTY TOWNS.

Phoenix.

JAN. 13.—At an annual meeting of the stockholders of the Phoenix Bank held to-day, the following Directors were elected: S. Avery, G. G. Breed, Ira Betts, E. Merry, M. T. Butts, D. Conger, C. Youmans, S. O. Howard, H. H. Smith, E. S. Brooks, E. G. Hutchinson, E. C. Fitzgerald, H. T. Sweet. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, G. G. Breed was elected President; E. G. Hutchinson, vice president; E. Merry, cashier. Discount committee: Ira Betts, S. Avery, C. Youmans. Tellers: M. Melvin, R. Diefendorf, I. L. Breed.

Fulton.

JAN. 14.—Erastus Dexter, of Dexter's Corners, who has been extensively engaged in the lumber business and manufacture of barrels, died very suddenly, yesterday afternoon, of heart disease. He had been indisposed for some time, but was able to be about until the time of his death. His funeral takes place to-morrow at 1 P. M.

One of those enjoyable sandwich parties, gotten up by the young ladies, came off last evening at the residence of W. S. Nelson. They had the best of music, Messrs. Andelfinger and Schilling, of your city.

The new four wheel hose carriage, belonging to No. 1, is being remodeled, and when finished will be second to none for service and durability.

Schauber says instead of trade being quiet these times he has had to put on more help in order to get his custom shirts off on time.

Opinions as Is Opinions.

(From the Ontario Sun.)

This railroad it is said is safe financially, and will be built within two years as far as Lewiston. The grade from Ontario west to the Genesee river is, with the exception of a few furlongs, nearly ready for the ties. The company continue to run between Ontario and Oswego, the same number of trains which they did in the Fall, and business in both freight and passengers is on the increase. No serious casualties has occured since the first locomotive ran over the route.

It does a Railroad Superintendent or any railroad officer no particular benefit to puff him in a newspaper. But we cannot but admire the ability displayed by Mr. G. A. Bennett, Superintendent of the L. O. S. R. R. He examines accounts, scrutinizes errors, and corrects them with the greatest promptness. The merchants who receive freight via the L. O. S. R. R. give the credit to him of receiving freight with less delay than by any other route. The L. O. S. R. R. Co., are fortunate in securing such an efficient Superintendent.

The company are also to be congratulated for having secured Mr. P. B. Mooney as conductor of the morning train running East from Ontario. Mr. Mooney ran on the Oswego and Syracuse Railroad as conductor, seventeen years and for all that time no accident in any shape happened to the train under his charge.

This is a statement which few railroad men can reliably utter. The passenger who travels over the Lake Shore Railroad need not feel the least apprehension for his safety. Mr. Mooney is a practical joker and it is worth any man's fare for the time he rides with him, to listen to his side shaking anecdotes and scintillations of genuine wit. He would make a first class Lyceum lecturer too, but the Railroad Company could not supply any one to fill the place he now occupies who would handle babies off and on the cars so tenderly, and lead old enfeebled humanity to a seat in the cars with such kindness.
