GRAND JURY MADE REPORT

The Alleged Blackhanders Have Been Indicted.

About Thirty Bills Returned by the Grand Jury—Arraignments Will be Made Before County Judge Coville on Monday.

The Grand Jury in session this week, reported to Justice Hubbs in Supreme Court this noon, handing down among the thirty bills returned, open indictments against Mariana Pagone, alias Manny Perry, and Cologero Trieno, charging them with blackmail in trying to extort money from Joseph Cosentino, the Italian fruit dealer. Both are now in the County Jail.

The Grand Jury finished its actual work early this morning and then went to the County Jail, where they made an inspection. They filed also with the court a report commending the administration of that institution.

In reviewing the batch of indictments, Justice Hubbs, who came here from Pulaski for that purpose, thanked the jury for their conscientious work and their co-operation with the authorities in the interest of economy.

Another open indictment was returned against Ira Carlton, charged with robbery, first degree, in snatching a purse from Jennie Young in East Second street, between Oneida and Mohawk, on Christmas Eve.

Other open indictments were found against Happy Jack Williams, sodomy; William Ball, attempted sodomy, and Byron Salisbury, grand larceny, first degree, in stealing a horse from Hallack's livery.

All indictments were remitted to County Court and arraignments will be made before County Judge Coville on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Bench warrants were issued at once for the prisoners under sealed indictments.

The trial term of Supreme Court will reconvene on Monday and the day calendar will be as follows: 68, 75, 47, 54, 55, 58, 80, 91, 94.

SOME PIECE SCULPTURE.

Will be Two Miles Long and Carved Out of Georgia Marble.

A work of art so stupendous in its proportions that it will cause the fabled Colossus of Rhodes to seem like a pigmy and that will make the largest bas relief ever carved appear in comparison like a cameo. This piece of sculpture will be two miles long, carved out of a single piece of Georgia marble, without a break or fissure in it. It will comprise more than 2,000 figures of men, each one about forty-five feet tall, and each one will be the portrait of a man who served in the Confederate army. It will cost between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 and will consume eight years. A New York sculptor, Gutzon Borglum, won the commission because of a statue he made of Lincoln and will do the work. The enormous piece of sculpture, whose title to the eighth wonder of the world no one can dispute, will be a few miles out of Atlanta, Ga., and will be carved on the face of Stone Mountain, a landmark which has been donated to the cause by Samuel Venable. The Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association has charge of the undertaking.

Mrs. Borglum, wife of the artist who will do the work, is the daughter of the late Rev. George Montgomery, for a number of years pastor of the Congregational church in Phoenix.

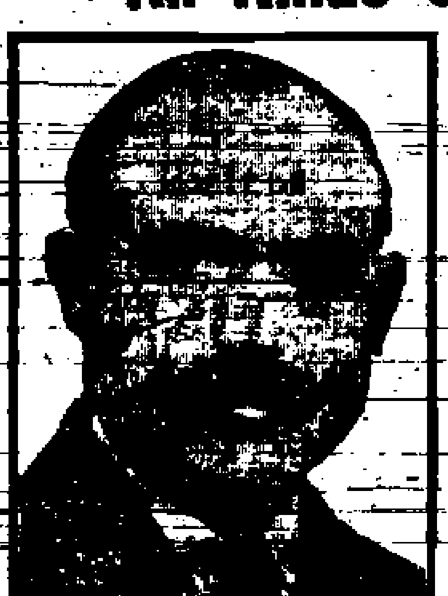
Contractor Works Outdoors in All Kinds of Weather



MR. P. VINCIGUERRA

Exposure to the elements has no terror for Mr. Vinciguerra who keeps his system in condition to resist and throw off disease germs by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I have occasion to use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey many times during rainy and slushy weather and consider it the best preventative from catching cold, or more serious ailments. I am a general contractor of mason and cement work, supervising my men in heavy down pours of rain to complete out door work. On these occasions, when one is cold and wet, the taking of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed is a preventative of disease."—Patsey Vinciguerra (Contractor) Rockaway Road, Jamaica, N. Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

when taken in tablespoonful doses in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring invariably gives the system power to throw off and resist coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis and lung troubles. It keeps the body in good general condition because it is a predigested liquid food which requires little labor of the digestive organs. Duffy's adds to the power of resistance and is of great assistance in destroying the cold breeding germs so prevalent at this season.

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well."

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY. Beware of imitations.

NOTE Get Duffy's from your local druggist, grocer or dealer. If he cannot supply you, write us. Useful household booklet free.

BILL SUNDAY'S FIRST FAILURE

Meetings at Trenton Are Not What He Expected.

Not Only Are They Numerically Small, But the Collections Are Not Satisfactory—Tells Audience That Obligations in Connection With Tabernacle Are Not His—Syracusans to Help Bolster It Up.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 7.—Billy Sunday's campaign in Trenton has not been a success so far.

Not only has the attendance been far below the mark of other cities, but the collections have dropped off alarmingly and are nowhere near those at Syracuse, where he was before coming here.

Billy thought he could stir up the Jerseyites with a new sermon, so he went to work and finished a new address and widely advertised it. He expected the tabernacle would be packed. Instead there were about one thousand people present.

Mr. Sunday feels that he is not making the progress that he should and in an effort to stir up enthusiasm has time and again flung hot shots at his hearers of the way he was received and the collections taken at Syracuse. Trentonites have listened and that's all. They have failed to respond.

Members of the party and the evangelist himself can not understand why the Jerseyites refuse to "warm up" and accept him and his message. Billy is working harder than he ever worked before and the harder he works the more indifferent the people seem to become. Hot-shots that elicited roars of laughter, jibes that brought dollars clanking into the collection pans in the Salt City fall here. Billy can't just understand it.

Additions have been made to the Sunday party since their arrival here to conduct the work in the shops. One Syracuse clergyman came along to work in the Italian section and another clergyman accompanied the party to assist at the shop meetings. In addition to that the Rev. Isaac Ward, who helped out in the Syracuse campaign, is working with the forces here, doing about the same line of work as in Syracuse, conducting meetings in missions, car barns and shops.

The women members of the party are also working hard, but they, too, have failed to meet with the success that crowned their efforts at their last stand.

An effort is being made to bolster up the campaign through the Syracuse Business Men's Billy Sunday League. The organization held a meeting yesterday and decided to send a delegation to this city some time within the next two weeks if possible. Another Syracusan, Miss Florence Whitbeck, who acted as Choirmaster Rodheaver's secretary when he was in Syracuse, has also arrived here to act in a similar capacity.

Mr. Sunday has not much to say regarding the campaign here. He does say, however, that Trenton audiences are not like those in Syracuse by a long shot. Time and again he has scored the congregations for their apparent stinginess. He has impressed upon them time and again that the bills owing for the tabernacle and other expenses are not his bills, but of the people who asked him to come to Trenton. On another occasion he remarked that it was a good thing that Uncle Sam coined nickels and pennies, as it enabled Trentonites to contribute according to the way they felt. Billy has also been somewhat peeved when he discovered the presence of half a dozen or so beer checks in the collection pans.

MAY BE BIRD MEN.

Captain Ball and Officers of D Company May Go Up in a Balloon.

Captain Ball and the other officers of Company D will probably be traveling around in a balloon this Summer. At least it is expected that Company D, of this city, will go into camp at Pine Plains and the celebrated balloon L'Ecureuil, now the property of the National Guard, will have a place in the manoeuvres.

L'Ecureuil won the Pittsfield balloon race in 1914, and was recently presented to the State by Robert Glendenning, of New York, in order to stimulate a real practice in the militia. It will receive its initiation into camp life at the Pine Plains reservation this year.

The National Guard with its balloon, may be outdone, however, by the Naval Militia, of Watertown, who are starting to raise a fund of between $6,000 and $7,000 to purchase an aeroplane.

HOW TO WALK ON ICE.

Deputy Superintendent of Streets Mahaney May Start Educational Campaign.

Deputy Superintendent of Streets Timothy Mahaney proposes a campaign to educate people how to walk on ice without falling. "Every year," said Mr. Mahaney at the City Hall today, "there are a number injured and then suits are brought against the city because the pedestrians are ignorant of the way to walk on ice. It's no trick if one knows how. Who ever saw a letter carrier or a policeman fall or ever heard of one of them falling. One morning this Winter when the pavement and sidewalks were like glass the postmen came along at a trot sorting their mail as they ran, apparently giving no heed to their footing, but not a single one of them fell. Many marvel at the ease and grace with which these men trot around in slippery weather, some of whom can be no longer called young excepting by courtesy.

"The trouble with most people in walking," Mr. Mahaney said, "is that they try to stand perfectly straight. The body requires a little non-slippery foothold to sustain itself. While you stand erect you are in danger of a tumble at every step you take—falls that may have serious results, too. If the pedestrian would only stoop forward a little, not very far, they would probably not have a fall all Winter, unless they should strike an incline somewhere." Mr. Mahaney says that he hasn't had a fall in five years, ever since he learned the trick of throwing the equilibrium of the body slightly in advance of the toes instead of back of the heels. Walking in the latter style may look a little better, Mr. Mahaney says, but on a slippery morning, with the sidewalks covered with a coating of ice, the forward stoop will save many a fall.
