DIAMOND MATCH TO ALLOT STOCK IN SUBSIDIARY

Last Payment of Labor Dividend Will Be Made In June.

NEW YORK, April 23—Directors of the Diamond Match Company declared yesterday a dividend of four-fifths of a share of Pan-American Match Corporation stock of $25 par value on each share of Diamond common stock, in addition to two cash dividends of 25 cents a share each. They declared also a dividend of one-fiftieth of a share of Pan-American Match stock on each preferred share.

As a result of these distributions, all the company's holdings of 68,000 shares of Pan-American Match stock are being distributed among the Match stockholders. The present actual value of the Pan-American stock is equal to the par value, or $25 a share, the Diamond company announced.

The stock dividend on the company stock will be payable on June 1. The cash dividends will be payable on Sept. 1 and Dec. 1. The one-fiftieth share for the preferred stock will be paid on June 1.

W. A. Fairburn, president of Diamond Match, said Pan-American Match was organized with powers to invest not only in companies in the match business, but in associated and somewhat kindred industries in various American countries, although its field of operations is not restricted to the Americas. It also may be an operating company.

"The directors of Diamond Match," he said, "are of the opinion that there is a useful field in which Pan-American can operate, and that, unless unduly handicapped by taxation, general manufacturing and business conditions and specifically by the unsatisfactory conditions at present existing in the match and allied industry, it has an opportunity to show reasonable earnings and pay satisfactory dividends when conditions again become normal."

To Stop Labor Dividend

Diamond Match has abandoned its plan which has been in effect for the past several years whereby its steadily employed labor participated in earnings through extra wage dividends. In company's annual report, President Fairburn, stated this action was taken with the declaration of the wage dividend of $175,000 for the year 1936, payable June 1, next.

Mr. Fairburn said the termination of the labor dividend policy was due to the opposition of a few radical labor leaders who gradually worked themselves into a position to dominate the labor of two match factories and an associated engineering plant. "Whereas the labor affected by a mere handful of agitating leaders is a decided minority of the company total labor, it is," he said, "enough to make the carrying forward of the plan on my sound and fair basis absolutely impossible.

Under the plan, after the preferred and common stocks each received $150 a share annually, additional earnings were divided equally to preferred stockholders, limited, however, to not more than $2 a year total dividend return; common stockholders and labor steadily employed, but excluding management and salaried officers.

LONDON, April 23. (AP)—Official sources announced today three British food ships had reached Bilbao, Spain, without interference from the insurgent blockade fleet.

British warships, the sources said, did not actually convoy or escort the merchantment but "remained in the offing."

RECONCILIATION WITH CIO FAILS

Green Calls Federation Of Labor Leaders to War Parley In Cincinnati.

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor virtually removed today its last hope of reconciliation with John L. Lewis and his rival Committee for Industrial Organization.

President William Green summoned the federation's high command to a general war conference on May 18 in Cincinnati "to marshal the forces of labor in America."

He placed the blame for failure to heal the breach on "those responsible for having set in motion a group activity clothed in garments of good faith but inspired by a mind and heart bent upon destruction of the organized labor movement of America."

There was no immediate response from the Lewis camp. C. I. O. leaders have watched closely for developments in the federation council meeting this week while pressing forward with the organization of mass production workers.

Green invited the A. F. of L. executive council and the heads of all international and national unions to the Cincinnati conference.

A special convention of the federation will be called to expel the Lewis unions, he said, adding:

"It would ill become the executive council to add dignity to a group and to a procedure that from its inception has been steeped in the cesspool of illegality and irresponsibility."

Asked if he was reading the Lewis unions out of the federation or ignoring them entirely, Green replied:

"Put your own interpretation on it.

"Today no national or international union is immune or secure against the forces of destruction that have been let loose by the leaders of this movement."

The "rebel" unions, he said, "have demonstrated clearly and definitely that they no longer regard or consider themselves associated in any way with the A. F. of L."

The Lewis unions—10 of them—will remain on the federation's suspended list. No action taken by the executive council precludes a future move for formal expulsion.

FAVOR GAS TAX

did not intend to ask for any conference with Republican leaders on the tax problem.

As the week-end recess began, Republican legislators sought advice of leaders and constituents "back home" on the tax problem. With two of the six Democrats who voted against the gas tax in the Assembly back in line, only six Republicans would have to go along to pass the levy on a second ballot.

One plan under consideration to obtain passage of the motor fuel impost was to have the measure recalled from the Assembly by the Senate. On a new vote, a number of Republican senators would cast affirmative ballots and thus give a certain "moral support" to similar votes by their assemblymen.

In an unexpected move, Republican Assemblyman Abbot Low Moffat introduced a bill calling for repeal of the capital gains and losses provision of the personal income tax effective next year.

Success of the repealer, he emphasized, would depend on approval of the tax program designed to balance the budget. Moffat sponsored the substitute tax proposals.

"It is not only right," Moffat declared, "but it is sound economics to give relief to those who would be most affected by the bills which I have introduced."

He said the capital gain and loss provisions should be repealed because "they have proved unsatisfactory."

Moffat explained that an analysis of 100,000 returns by the state tax department last summer showed that abolition of the capital gain and loss provisions would decrease the state's revenue by $7,000,000.

OLD SCHOOLS WILL BE MEETING TOPIC

Dr. Skinner Among Speakers For Historical Meeting.

A discussion of the educational opportunities offered by the early private and public schools of Oswego county is the topic announced by the program committee for the next meeting of the Oswego Historical society to be held Thursday evening, April 29, at the Tannar Memorial building.

Nationally known through its Normal school, Oswego county has long been interested in its educational facilities. Even before the Normal school had its beginnings in the middle of the nineteenth century at the hands of Edward A. Sheldon, Oswego county boasted of select schools and academies which attracted students from distant parts of the state as well as from other states. Several of these schools were located in the city of Oswego. At Fulton was situated the famous Falley Seminary, and the old Mexico academy ranked high among the schools of the east.

The committee has been particularly fortunate in securing well qualified speakers for the several types of schools which existed in the county. Miss Ruth A. Raby of the faculty of Kingsford Park school will discuss early public education in Oswego telling something of the evolution of free schools. Mrs. Homan F. Hallock will present information about the early private schools in Oswego. Mrs. Hallock has the distinction of having organized the first private kindergarten in Oswego which she directed for two years, and at the request of former Mayor John D. Higgins, Mrs. Hallock organized the first public kindergartan for children of Oswego which met in the little brown school located on the corner of Eighth and Schuyler streets and was taught by a Miss Potter.

Dr. Avery W. Skinner, resident of Mexico and retired member of the N. Y. State Education Department, will speak on the significance of the old Mexico Academy which was organized just one hundred and ten years ago.

Considerable interest has already been manifest in the meeting of the society of which E. M. Waterbury is president.

If hospitalization is required while the subscriber is out of the city the corporation will pay any general hospital $5 a day for gainfully employed Class A subscribers and $3 a day for dependents under other classifications. The cost is rated at 70 cents a month for Class A, 40 for Class B and 20 for Class C subscribers.

AGAIN PASSES BILL TO REPAY POSTMASTER

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house has again passed the bill of Representative F. D. Culkin to reimburse Albert W. Wright of Richland, $304.33 lost when postmaster. Mr. Wright was postmaster in 1921, and the building in which the postoffice was conducted was broken into by burglars through no fault of the postmaster.

An investigation by the postoffice department revealed that the thieves broken open heavy doors and secured the money where Mr. Wright had it secreted, and he was completely exonerated. The bill passed the house during the last Congress but failed to get through the Senate. It now goes to the Senate. The Senate has decided that it will not after this Congress act favorably upon claims originating before 1925, and unless the bill gets through the Senate during this Congress it is not likely to become a law.
