AT THE RICHARDSON. "An Irish Gentleman," there is no doubt of the popularity of Andrew Mack, the clever Irish actor...

this year enhances that reputation. Crowded houses have greeted him wherever he has been, thus far, this season, and to judge from the reports from the box office, there is no reason to believe that this city will prove an exception to this rule.

A THEATRICAL BUDGET

"Are You a Mason?" Proves to Be Really Funny.

THE ADAPTATION IS WELL MADE.

An Excellent Cast Interprets the Farce—Plans of Lillian Blauvelt, Edward J. Morgan Again to Play His Old Role of John Storm.

In many respects the funniest farce which has struck Broadway in a good many years is "Are You a Mason?" which is the current attraction at Wallack's theater.

LILLIAN BLAUVELT. for the American stage by Leo Dietrichstein, himself a German. Mr. Dietrichstein at the outset of his career in this country gave promise of becoming one of our best actors.

However, it is with "Are You a Mason?" and not with Mr. Dietrichstein that this little screed is intended to deal.

The cast of "Are You a Mason?" is one of the strongest ever put together in this country for the exploitation of farce.

Mr. Edward J. Morgan, the original John Storm of "The Christian" when it was produced at the Knickerbocker theater in this city some years ago, is to be the virtual star of a special company which has just been organized for the exploitation of that perennially popular drama.

The engagement of Mme. Lillian Blauvelt, the American soprano, to sing in Verdi's "Requiem" in Rome a couple of weeks ago at the memorial exercises conducted by the Royal Academy of St. Cecilia of Rome, the oldest singing society in the world, was a distinct honor for this popular American singer.

THE "WIZARD'S" RETURN.

Billiardist Schaefer Coming From Paris With Foreign Experts. Again the profession and amateur billiardists are stirred up over the probable return of "Wizard" Jacob Schaefer to this country.

To those familiar with the billiard situation in Paris the stopping of the betting means that there will be no pickings, not even pocket money, for professionals. Letters that have been received here in America indicate that Edouard Fournel, a French expert, and the German champion Kirtau are likely to come over with Schaefer.

SPECULATIVE FEVER IS STILL RISING.

Market Will Probably Continue Its Present Course for Some Time to Come.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The weekly report of the banking house of Henry Clews & Co. says:

The speculative fever is rising instead of falling, and ordinary experience is of little value in judging the course of the market.

There seems to be no end to the creation of new deals, and each successive one adds new oil to the flame of excitement.
