—Cold enough for March this morning.

—Crocket players are preparing for the summer campaign.

—Joe Jefferson had a large and highly delighted audience in Syracuse, last night.

—Townsend has got another year, but the boyspeople have been unable as yet to be sufficiently near to his lordship for an introduction.

—Lawrence Barrett, the popular tragedian, will appear at Decollito hall next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, in Richelieu and Hamlet.

—A first rate performance is given every night at the Mansard Opera House. The company is a good one without weak points. Go and see them.

—The newspapers of the State are filled with reports of murders, suicides, sudden deaths, railroad accidents, drowning and other casualties which have occurred this week.

—It is said that the sparrows did not suffer for want of food during the recent snow storm. They picked the young buds off the fruit trees, and found ample subsistence thereon.

—Weather permitting M. M. Wheeler's new vessel will be launched from the foot of Third street at 9 o'clock next Saturday afternoon. It will be necessary to have a calm day.

—The members of the C. I. J. H. society desire us to state that they are not interested in the party advertised by the A. O. F. S. society in another column. Their name was used without their knowledge or desire.

—The Evening Journal, in speaking of the prominent men of the Legislature, places Hon. Geo. B. Stone, of this city, first on the list of the new members who have distinguished themselves for ability, prudence and fidelity to the interests of the State.

New and elegant styles of fine jewelry received nearly every day at Wendell.

Notice.—There will be a meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the East M. E. Church to-morrow evening at the residence of Morris Place, East 4th street, between Utica and Albany streets.

Estimates made on cases of solid silver by Richards late with Wendell.

Y. M. C. A.—Hon. O. J. Harmon will deliver his Bible lecture to-night, accompanied by illustrations, at the rooms of the Association. The lecture will be a very interesting one.

No one in Oswego can compete with Wendell in fine Watches. A lot of fine movements made to his order and imported by him, which will be used to order.

M., on the invitation of Abraham S. Hewitt, John O. Stevens, and Charles W. Oplkye, the Trustees under the first mortgage.

SCHOOL BOARD NOTES.—In our notice of the School Board yesterday we stated that Commissioner Wallace had already served four years, we should have said six years. He was elected on Tuesday for his fourth term. During the past year Com. Wallace has held the position of chairman of the Executive Committee, and as such, with the co-operation of the Board he has reduced the expenses of the schools for the fiscal year ending February 4th, over $3,800 below the budget for that year, and this too, after the budget itself had been reduced nearly ten thousand dollars below that of the previous year.

We think this is the first time in the history of the Board that the expenses have been brought below the budget for the year.

Verily, neither the Executive Committee, or the present Board, need be ashamed of their financial record.

Commissioner Herrick is also elected for his fourth term.

Attention Schoolmen.—There will be a meeting of the St. Andrew's Society at their rooms in the Beattie Block, Thursday, May 7th, at 7:30 P. M. A full attendance is desired as this is the quarterly meeting of the Society.

Leatherstockings.

A short meeting of the Leatherstocking Club was held last night. Several communications reported progress. The ground committee reported they had hired the grounds at the head of West Oneida street and West of the old skating park. By a vote of the club, the various committees were directed to set, with power. Under this resolution the work of preparation will go on for the coming State meeting without delay, each committee to carrying out its plan of work.

Personal.

The Syracuse Journal says: William Green, formerly of this city, has opened an office in Oswego as Attorney and Counselor. Mr. Green was two years editor and proprietor of the Syracuse Daily and Onondaga Weekly Democrat, also years a practicing attorney at the bar of the State. His old friends and associates in Syracuse cordially wish him abundant success in his new field of professional labor.

—Senator Conkling's daughter is to be one of the bridesmaids at Miss Nellie Grant's wedding May 21st.

Business.

Probably the most extensive stock of crockery, glass ware, china ware, &c., ever shown in this part of the State can be seen on McCarthy's China Hall. The proprietors of this well known establishment have recently made large additions to their previously large stock and it is now particularly immense, embracing everything in their line and all varieties and styles of goods. The assortment of French china ware is the finest ever seen in Oswego. It comprises large pieces of gold banded, decorated and plain china ware in dinner and tea sets, chamber sets, &c. McCarthy & Co. have also put in a complete stock of silver plated ware, for the display of which they have had built a large and handsome case extending along the north side of their store, where it can be seen to advantage. The China Hall is filled with a bewildering profusion of articles of beauty which are tastefully arranged on all sides. Besides the china ware and silver plated ware which occupy prominent positions, there are crockery, vases, lamps, handkerchiefs, toilet sets, &c., &c., in great variety. With this immense stock McCarthy & Co. are entering on the Spring campaign with a determination to do a larger business than ever before. A visit to their store will amply repay any of the readers of this notice.

John H. Phillips has arranged to build on the corner of West First and Cayuga streets in connection with Mannisfer Wright and he will have a meat market in the building when completed.

Eggers' market is to be moved to the next lot south of where it is at present and will take the place of the old shanties which are to be torn down.

G. S. Nicholson, Undertaker, has removed his workrooms from 28 East Bridge to 103 East First, in the Fitzhugh House block.

A Wolf.

The following interesting literary setup was poked up by a gentleman in this city. Not being acquainted with the author, he thinks it will be a kindly act to send it to him, perchance, through the columns of the Times, and give the public the benefit at the same time:

HOW EASY HARTLY BROKE HIS NECK.—A BRIEF STORY BY STEPHEN K. WRIGHT.

NOTICE SCRIBER, N. Y.—The subject of this story was born in Connecticut. His father raised onions in vast quantities; he had 17 which had all of which had to be worked by hand; they were on their knees so much that large callosities formed on their knees, so large that they could not carry them round and dainties carried them round in wheelbarrows. After a very few years in Connecticut Peter Henry Hartly, the father of the subject of this story, moved to Wisconsin and bought a farm, which was very rich land. He planted 3 acres, and the potatoes grew so large that in harvesting they had to use hooks and a cable and had to lift them in. Even so, he participated the operation and by a mishap the hooks caught in his pants, and the team traveled on and up went Levi, and after he was hoisted up 35 feet he fell and struck his nose against a stray wood post and knocked it off clean and complete, then fell on until his head came in contact with a potato and went through it and hit his head on a rock, and broke his neck just below his ears, which was a very great catastrophe.
