LITTLE EUGENIA MEHAN.

An Agent of a Humane Society Attempts to Take Her to New York on a Judge's Order—The Child Spirited Away—Minnie Mehan's Will—A Guardian Appointed for the Child—Lively Intestines Probable.

There was great excitement about the house of Capt. John Navagh in the First ward yesterday afternoon over the possession of the child known as Eugenia Mehan, the daughter of Minnie Mehan, the unfortunate woman who died suddenly a short time ago.

Early in the week a gentleman giving his name as Fellows Jenkins, an agent for the society for the prevention of cruelty to children, made his appearance here and demanded the possession of the child which was in the care of Capt. Navagh and his wife and was very kindly treated. They had become attached to the little one and refused to give her up. Mr. Fellows had not the proper papers with him and returned to New York. He again reached this city yesterday afternoon bringing with him a warrant from Judge Donahue of the supreme court commanding him to bring Eugenia Mehan to New York.

Officers Saffier and Chauncey were detailed and went with Mr. Fellows to Capt. Navagh's house but there did not appear to be any one at home. On their way back they met Capt. Navagh and Mr. Jenkins told him what was wanted. Navagh said they had concluded not to give up the child but would go with him to his lawyer. Mr. Jenkins insisted that the order of Judge Donahue must be obeyed but went with Mr. Navagh to his attorney, W. A. Foucher, and they looked the papers over. Mr. Charles Rhodes was also present. Mr. Foucher advised Capt. Navagh that they could take the child on such papers but that Capt. Navagh had his remedy and could get the child back by a proper course. It was decided to give up the child and Mr. Jenkins acted the services of a girl who had formerly acted as nurse for the child and went to the house. Dr. Milne was there and said he had advised them not to give Eugenia up. There was considerable discussion and when search was made it was discovered that little Eugenia had disappeared and could not be found. Mr. Fellows said he had no time to search farther but started for his train with the express purpose of acquainting Judge Donahue with the manner in which his warrant had been defied in Oswego. He left at 7:30 p. m.

It is clear that Mr. Fellows does not quite understand the situation. When on her death bed Mrs. Mehan or Higgins dictated a will which is now in the possession of one of the persons named in it directing who should be guardian of the child. She also willed Eugenie $10,000 in bonds and other property. The statement also gives the name of her father, his street and number in New York and identifies him in the most complete manner. There is no question about the existence of this paper.

The amount of money obtained by Mrs. Mehan was about $35,000 and the $10,000 was all that remained after the lawyers had got their share. This child is said to be the undoubted heir, besides the mother's property, of an estate amounting to $2,000,000 and in the opinion of many citizens is entitled to better care than she could receive from any founding society or protectorate and the defenders of the child insist that it is the desire of the relatives of the father to obtain possession of her for the purpose of destroying her identity and stealing away her birthright and while people who know the most about it have the greatest desire that the order of Judge Donahue should be obeyed, lawyers here are of the opinion that Eugenia is legally in the care of her mother or the person appointed by her until the father appears either personally or by attorney and fully establishes his identity and right to the custody of the child. It may be further said that if she is taken to New York the guardian will appear with his attorney and see that the rights of the little girl are respected in every way.

It is hinted that Capt. Navagh at Dr. Milne's will be taken to New York on contempt proceedings. It is not likely that any further move will be made in the case until next week. A dispatch was sent to the father of the child this afternoon asking him what disposition should be made of the child. It is the evident intention to make him show himself in the affair.

A Fine Donahue. Yesterday Mr. T. Kingsford & Son presented the Oswego fire department with $500 as a recognition of their services at the time of the great fire in the box shop. This is in addition to $50 presented on another occasion. It will be divided pro rata among the men. It was a very thoughtful act on the part of the firm.

Bargains in Books. You have only to call at Hees' bookstore and get prices to be convinced that he is selling books lower than any store in this city. He is offering good books suitable for presents at less than the binding cost. He is bound to dispose of his immense stock of goods before the season is over. Look at his albums, they are sold at almost your own price. Novelties in endless quantities at rock bottom prices. Go to Hees' bookstore.

THE SAWDUST CIRCLE.

Only Hart, F. Burns and Cole on the Track—A Large Attendance Last Night. There was an excellent attendance on the track last night at the big tramp. All through the day considerable walking was done but it was plain that none of the contestants could make the 225 miles within the prescribed time. The feature of the day was the persistent work of Cole of Binghamton, who kept on the track almost continually his heavy lumbering tread covering a good deal of ground during the day. The dogged persistence of the man made him many friends who were anxious that he should at least hold the place which he had gained—second, but at the opening of the walk last evening Hart was slightly ahead. Neither Hart nor Burns showed any symptoms of fatigue, while Cole looked jaded and worn. Through last evening Cole and Burns had some lively spurs at heel and toe walking and at one time ran several miles at a high rate of speed. Burns trying his best to shake off the persistent colored man who was dogging him, but he still kept his place close to the runner's shoulder, Cole never looking up as the runners flashed by them. Both Hart and Burns took frequent rests but Cole scarcely left the track. It had been announced that Burns and Clement of Oswego would run a five mile race for a purse. At the last moment Clement refused to run until to-night causing a great deal of disappointment to those who had come to the track for the express purpose of seeing the race. It is but fair to Manager Frisbie to say, however, that he is not in any way responsible for the failure of this race. E. Frisbie of this city then consented to go on and run a five mile race with F. Burns and he ran a capital race although overmatched. Burns won by four laps.

At 9:30 a. m. the score stood as follows: Hart, 134 m.; Cole, 134 m.; Burns, 124 m., 5 laps. At 2 p. m. all the men were on the track. Very little running was being done. Cole said his right knee was a little out of shape but otherwise he was feeling fine. Hart and Burns appear to be perfectly fresh. The score stood as follows: Hart 143, Cole 141, D. Burns 134.

This evening J. B. Clement who claims the championship of three counties will run a three mile race with F. Burns for a purse of $25.

A WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. Thirty-five Years of Wedded Life—An Agreeable Surprise.

Last evening a number of the relatives and personal friends assembled by previous appointment at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wetherby, to pay them their united respects, the occasion being the thirty-first anniversary of their marriage which occurred in this city, December 13, 1850, the notice of which was read by one of the company from a copy of a newspaper entitled "The People's Journal" owned and published by the late Calvin S. Sumner of this city, and was as follows: "In this city, last evening, by the Rev. Dr. Condit, Mr. Luther Wetherby to Miss Martha Ellis, all of Oswego, N. Y."

The visit of these friends was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Wetherby, who had not the slightest notice prior to their coming, and it is hardly necessary to say that it was none the less agreeable. After an hour or two spent in social intercourse, enlivened by music, instrumental and vocal, Mrs. D. E. Taylor presiding at the piano, the company adjourned to the dining room, where an elegantly spread table, with tempting and choice viands to which ample justice was done by all. The beautiful arrangement of the table with its bountiful display of good things must be credited to the excellent taste and skill of Mrs. J. G. Harding and Mrs. D. E. Taylor, (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wetherby,) who on this occasion give evidence of their being efficient housekeepers, who can "cook well to the ways of their households."

After the repeat, another hour was devoted to conversation and music, when the company dispersed to their several homes well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

PLEASE READ THIS ABOUT CLOAKS. In consequence of the unusual mild season warm clothing of all kinds have sold rather slowly, therefore I would say to ladies requiring cloak, either Russian circulars, Newmarkets or wraps, that they can purchase them on very satisfactory terms just now at CLANCY'S.

A CHRISTMAS PIE.

For weeks we have been setting forth a royal banquet at our stores for the delectation of Christmas buyers, and now we come with

"Soft persuasive speech, to charm thy patient ear" to bid you hail and welcome to our Yule-tide feast and a merry sharing in our Christmas pie.

"Tables richly spread in regal mode With grapes piled and gifts of no least sort." invite your roving fancy and lure you to range at will amid the countless beauties of our holiday array. Our pie is rich in every ingredient to commend it to your critical taste, and as you come about our Christmas board we bid you freely pluck out plums of your own choosing.

It is said "the measure of choosing well is whether a man likes what he has chosen," and we especially commend our stock as being rich in gifts which leave no room for after regrets that you had not chosen otherwise. You may have already made your choice but all the same we bid you come and look and see how easily you may go on to better things even than you thought, because the best things range so low.

What need to specify the attractions where every article is a thing of beauty? What need to say look here or there, see this or that, when, no matter where the eye may turn it rests upon the glare and glitter of a thousand gems of light? We only say come here and look and realize how completely your disposition to give can find full and fit expression within the limit of the most moderate income.

We speak again of house supplies,—of carpets, rugs and hangings for your home, that keep before your mind the memories of the Christmas past, cheering both heart and body with their cozy comfort. Of warm and comfortable overcoats for father, brother, son; of snug and cheery Newmarkets and wraps for the good wife, and fair-haired daughters; of the new dress, the ribbons, the little femininities for the miss just merging into "teens"; of shoes that fit so neatly; of jaunty ties and gloves; of laces, delicate and dainty as a wreath of driven snow; of perfumes from "far Cathay" and the "spicy shores of Araby the blest," which add the aristocratic air; all these are here and ready for your choosing. So we say:

"Give to thy friends: for never at Christmas, Doth the poison of suspicion spoil the favor of their love, To look for latent motives."

It shall be ours to aid you to a choice.

GREAT CLOSING OUT SALE

OF WINTER WEIGHT CLOTHING.

Our immense complete stock of heavy weight Men's Youths', Boys' and Children's Clothing must be largely reduced before January 1st, 1886.

The unexpected dullness of the fall trade has brought us to the necessity of a forced sale of all Garments for Winter Wear, and sweeping reductions have been made in prices as an inducement to buyers to assist us in getting rid of our surplus stock which we cannot carry until next Fall. We mean to do what we say, and the advantages offered by this great sale should be appreciated by all who intend purchasing.

An examination of our stock and prices will satisfy you that we are determined to sell our goods and give our customers the benefits of the low prices that will prevail for the next few weeks.

Our established reputation for fair dealing is a sufficient guarantee that we intend to do as we advertise. Remember the old reliable firm.

OULD & KLOCK, Clothiers.
