THE RECORDER'S RECEPTION.

A Lengthy Session—A Surprise Party—Drinks—Malicious Mischief—Assaults and Brawls—Wipe of Your Chin, &c., &c., &c.

This pleasant morning called out a large audience who gathered in force behind the railing and played checkers with their noses between the pickets, and trying to see who could spit the farthest with the Court room. That audience was a curiosity and we doubt if any other city could produce a match for it. It was composed, of course, almost exclusively of idlers, men of leisure who won't work when they can, and are only glad of an excuse to say they can't work. It is an ever-changing audience and one which carries evidence of its presence from the City Hall to the Court room.

Mr. Buckhout then objected to the gas bill on the ground that there was no contract and they never knew when they got through paying. The bill was ordered paid.

COUNTY TOWNS.

WEST ARDEN. -March 8.—Our town meeting passed off quietly yesterday with the general result in favor of the Republican ticket. The Democrats elected Philip Hess, Supervisor, by seven majority; they also elected George Lang, Assessor; by 25 majority; and John H. Taylor, Auditor. The remainder of the ticket was Republican by about forty majority.

Our district school, which has been taught by Mr. John W. Cole, closed last week. The term has been a successful one and has given general satisfaction.

Our new school Commissioner is spending much of his time among the schools and we learn that he is much liked.

There are 231 convicts confined in the Onondaga Penitentiary.

There was an unusual large attendance at Judge Wilson's bankruptcy court in Syracuse Tuesday. One hundred and ten motions in admiralty and about seventy motions in the County Court, the attendance of legal gentlemen from abroad was large.

Ben. Hine, of Brewerton, had a wife killed by a horse. He had been married quite a year when his wife fell from a horse. He was working and was driving a horse-drawn carriage. The horse was frightened and threw her overboard. She was killed on the spot.

On Thursday morning, Mrs. George Powell residing in the town of Levey, was in a creek near the house. Her husband left her in the house and went to his father's near by, and when he came back he found her dead body in the creek. She had been sick but had not appeared to be insane. Mrs. Powell was perhaps 23 or 24 years old, and had been married a long time. The motive for the deed is not known.

Waterbury is nearly free from small-pox. This is but one case now under treatment.

The funeral of the late Simon Hoover, of Evans Mills, who was murdered by Charles Taylor, took place in the residence last Tuesday. The house was densely packed, scores filled the yard, and upwards of one hundred beams were in the parlors. The services were conducted in attendance. The funeral service was preached by the Rev. Mr. Ellis.

ORWELL. -The town meeting held in this town yesterday, passed with considerable excitement and a great degree of enthusiasm and persistent zeal on the part of the Republicans to win the party in this town. The result is such that every Republican may justly feel proud, and richly compensated for all the efforts made. The entire Republican ticket was elected by a handsome majority. One fact that deserves notice is that out of 174 Republican votes, 96 were unopposed by a single ticket of Democracy. The prohibitions endorsed the head and a part of the Democratic ticket, and from circumstances growing out of this event, party feeling ran high but not lively.

The following is the result: Supervisor, Norman Hall, 91; John Clark, 75; Frank J. Parker, 56; John W. Taylor, 45; Assessor, Seymour Davis, 26; Commissioner of Highways, Jas. Shors, 66; Overseer of the Poor, Henry Finster, 50; Collector, James C. 186; J. W. Cogwell, 138; M. Gibbs, 94; Inspectors of Election, George Ferguson, 104; Erwin Beecher, 75; R. W. Springsteen, appointed.

No License received 183 to 89. Commissioner of Excise, G. McKinney.

NEIGHBORING COUNTIES. -CAVADA. -From the Auburn Bulletin of Wednesday: "We are glad to hear that two little boys of about 8 years, who were drowned in Onondaga River yesterday afternoon. The lads were Johnnie Savage and Bertie Ditch, the latter a son of Aaron Ditch. The boys had been playing on the ice opposite the new ice house on the upper dam, and accidentally slipped from the edge into the water. They were trying to get to the ice. Mr. Mitchell, an employe of Messrs. Wright & White, witnessed the act and immediately ran for the boys, but they were probably with the intent to throw it to the boys, thinking to pull them ashore. In going to them, the ice gave way, and all three sank. The boys were recovered, and while efforts were in progress for their resuscitation, the bodies of Mr. Mitchell and Johnnie Savage were recovered by dragging with grapnels, when the lads were found clinging to his attempted resuscitation, while both were entangled in the rope.

THE POTSDAM COURTS. -The Potsdam Courts states that Messrs. Ketchum and Clark have made no formal announcement of the result of their investigation of the books of ex-County Treasurer Rodway. Mr. Rodway has attended the examination and given whatever explanations he could. The Courser says: "We are sorry to be compelled to state that from the best information at hand the judges at the report of Messrs. Ketchum and Clark do not show the deficiency less than $30,000 to $35,000. Such a report would be received with indignation by the supervisors' committee's investigation, in that there is an item of $4,800 in the 'bond account' as found by the supervisors' committee, which is not accounted for and which, we understand, Ketchum and Clark think is satisfactorily explained, and hence that it should not be included in the report. The report of Messrs. Crapper, Mould and Mattison will be here today, ready to resume operations. If there is no material difference between the report of the committee except as to the item of $4,800, it is quite likely that little difficulty will be experienced in coming to a decision. The report of the committee, as we understand, is in favor of Messrs. Rodway and Freeman. Messrs. Rodway has turned over $28,000 to Messrs. Usher, Brooks & Parker as security for the collection of the bondmen. The bondmen on Monday drew up and signed a petition, asking the trustees to request Mr. Rodway to put up a few thousand dollars more collateral to other property in case the deficiency exceeds the amount already in the hands of the trustees. The petition was placed in Rodway's hands, but he has not yet proposed to do as has not transpired. The bondmen would like to have him 'chip up' $10,000 more collateral."

A competent architect has declared the present County Poor House unfit for the repairs proposed to be made upon it, and has advised the County call for an entire new structure.
