DR. WALKER'S CASE.

She Would Like Her Slander Suit Put Over the Term—Other Notes.

The case of Arthur D. Snoad against Dr. Mary Walker, for slander, is perhaps the most interesting case upon the calendar of the January circuit. Snoad sues to recover $10,000 damages. Dr. Walker would like her case put over the term and the following letter has been received by the clerk of the court:

LACONIA, N. H., Dec. 26. 1893.

To His Honor, Justice of Supreme Court that will be in Session, Jan 8:

DEAR SIR:—As I am not able to employ counsel, and must act as such, for myself, in a "slander" case brought by "alias" Arthur D. Snoad, whose other name as "alias," is Frank C. Almy, and whose real name is Henry L. Norcross, if I am unable to be present, will you postpone until next term?

Please reply at earliest moment, and oblige Yours sincerely,

MARY F. WALKER, M. D.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Summary of Interesting Events in the Fields of Sport.

—The war minister of Germany recently asked for an appropriation of $75,000 for the purchase of bicycles for use in the army.

—Joe Donoghue, champion amateur long distance skater of America, and A. D. Norseng, champion long-distance skater of Norway, have been matched in New York.

—Frank G. Appleby of Providence, who rowed a single scull shell from Pawtucket to Chicago last summer, challenges any man in the world to row a six day race, or against time.

—A denial comes from W. A. Brady regarding the Corbett over-trained story. Brady says Corbett stopped training for a few days on account of the heat, but has now resumed hard work.

—Out of 20,538 members of the League of American Wheelmen taken in during the first ten years of its existence as an organization, only 4,171 now remain members—just a few over one-fifth.

—Dick Moore, an aspirant for the middleweight championship of the world, and Aleck Greggains, have been matched to fight to a finish before the Metropole club Feb. 5, for a purse of $1,500. the largest purse ever given in New England. The men will fight at catch weights.

—The Metropole club of Providence has matched "Young Griffo," the Australian, and "Kid" Lavigne of Saginaw, Mich., to box February 28 for a $1,000 purse. This pair was matched to fight at the Columbian club at Roby, for a $3,500 purse, but the authorities closed the club.

—Sullivan and Mitchell have never been friends, but John will not say a word against the Englishman. When asked if he believed Corbett is a better fighter than Mitchell, he said: "I don't care to express my views of the men in that direction. My sentiment is naturally with Corbett, and to see the championship stay on this side would be consolation for my own defeat."—Buffalo Commercial.

—A despatch from London says that no negotiations have yet taken place to send a challenge to the New York Yacht club for a series of races this year for the America's cup, but there is still time for such negotiations. Mr. Grant, of the Royal Yacht squadron, added that he did not know whether the Vigilant, the winner of the cup last year, was coming to England. He further said that Admiral Montague, who since 1890 has built the racing cutters Siola, Corsair, and Vendetta, is open with a cutter he is now building for a race against the American forty-rater for a substantial stake. The winner must take two out of three races, sailed under the rules of the British Yacht Racing association. Both yachts shall measure forty Yacht Racing association rating. The opposing yacht must be designed by an American, but she may be built anywhere.

New Year's Reception at Orwell.

ORWELL, Jan. 1. — The Orwell Union Junior Endeavor society tendered its first, but presumably not its last, New Year's reception this evening to all who recognized and heartily seconded the moulding of these young lives "For Christ and the Church." One of the best friends of the juniors and a tireless worker is their pastor, Rev. Jago, who was general manager of the affair. A successful literary and musical program was given, largely by the children themselves. The members vied with each other to see who knew the most unique way of entertaining and serving a free collation. to the number of one hundred and sixty. The merchants each donated one pound of coffee. The committee in preparing the program had striven to weave the thought of this quotation:

"Then bless thy sacred growth, nor catch
At pain; but thrive unseen and dumb;
Keep clean bear fruit, earn life and watch
Till the white-winged reapers come."

Notice to Mariners.

The Canada Gazette contains the following notice regarding the Nine-Mile Point fog horn:

"From and after the opening of navigation in the spring of 1894 the fog bell heretofore maintained at Nine-Mile Point light station, on the west extremity of Simcoe Island, at the east end of Lake Ontario, in the county of Frontenac, Ontario, will be discontinued, and replaced by a steam fog horn which will give blasts of 8 seconds duration with intervals of 22 seconds between the blasts.

Lat. N. 44° 9' 12"
Long. W. 76° 33' 30"

The fog alarm building is a square wooden building painted white, with a brown roof and stands immediately northwest of the lighthouse tower. The horns point out to the southwest, and are elevated 16 feet above the level of the lake. The machinery is in duplicate, so that in the event of one horn or boiler becoming inoperative the other may be put in operation.

This notice affects Admiralty Charts Nos. 259a, 797 and 1,151, and Canadian list of lights and fog signals, Number 875.

A YOUNG MAN IN TROUBLE.

A New Yorker Under Arrest for Robbing the New Brighton, S. I. Postoffice—He is Held.

UTICA, Jan. 5.—Robert C. Brown, aged 25, a bright looking New Yorker, was brought to this city from Ilion yesterday afternoon by Postoffice Inspector Samuel P. Kyle of Syracuse, charged with a serious offense. On the night of Dec. 24 the postoffice at New Brighton, S. I., was entered and 81 postal notes stolen. They were stamped by the thief or thieves, and all that was necessary to obtain money upon them at a postoffice was to fill in the amount and name of the New Brighton postmaster. On Jan. 2d three of these postal notes were presented at the Herkimer postoffice, two at Ilion and the same number at the Utica postoffice and honored, and a short time after it was discovered that they had been stolen. Inspector Kyle was notified and he arrested Brown for the offense in Ilion. Upon him were found 40 of the postal notes.

Immediately upon his arrival in this city Brown was arraigned before United States Commissioner W. S. Doolittle. It is thought that the prisoner is quite a clever young man in more ways than one. He was neatly attired, wore patent leather shoes and and a pair of fur-lined gloves. Inspector Kyle was sworn and testified to the robbery, the arrest of Brown and finding the postal notes upon his person. Postmaster S. G. Heacock of Ilion testified that Brown presented two notes at his office on June 2, one for $4.99 and the other for $4.98, and that both were paid. Assistant Money Order Clerk J. B. German at the Utica postoffice testified that on the same day Brown presented two more notes, one for $4.97 and the other for $4.98, at the Utica postoffice, and they were paid. This completed the evidence, and Brown was held for the next grand jury, which meets in Albany this month, on $2,000 bail. He went to jail.—Herald.

ENDED A BURDENED LIFE.

A Sadly Afflicted Young Man Becomes Discouraged and Hurries Into the Great Future.

Tuesday afternoon Hobart Zoller, aged 25, hanged himself in a barn on his father's farm near Edwarsville, about 15 miles from Ogdensburg. Hobart Zoller is the son of John Zoller, a well-known farmer. Since his birth Hobart has been a cripple, one side being almost totally paralyzed. He has always been quiet and taciturn, and has often appeared to be brooding over some wrong or misfortune; perhaps his own deformity. Tuesday afternoon he went to the barn to do his regular work there; light work about the stables. Two hours later his brother, Frank Zoller, happened to go into the barn and noticed that Hobart's work had not been done. A few minutes later he entered one of the rear stables and was horrified to see Hobart hanging by a rope from an upper beam. His feet almost touched the floor and he was stone dead.

An Old Man Missing.

Robert Sloan, a farmer 73 years old, living in the town of Lisbon seven miles from Ogdensburg, went to that city on December 28th, and has not been seen since. Mr. Sloan possessed considerable property, among which was a valuable farm which he recently turned over to his son William. On Christmas day William Sloan had trouble with his brother-in-law, Milhinch, where Robert Sloan was then living, and the fight that resulted seemed to have considerable effect on the old man. Mr. Sloan went to Erwin's barn in Ogdensburg on the night that he disappeared and slept on a cot until about 10:30 o'clock, then left the place suddenly without his overcoat and mittens. He has not been seen since. Yesterday and Wednesday parties were engaged in dragging the river for the body.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Items of Interest Picked up along the Tracks.

—The Brooks Locomotive works resumed work January 2, with a limited number of men. An order for nine locomotives is being filled; eight for the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, and one for the Buffalo and Susquehanna.

—Referring to the Atchison-Frisco receivership a New York financial paper remarks:

"It will be interesting to note that this latest bankruptcy brings up the total bonded debt of American railroads now in receivers' hands to $1,301,000,000.

—The Big Four management is placing the equipment of the road in first-class condition. Rebuilt engines are being turned out of the several shops every few days, and the new engines are doing excellent service. The passenger equipment is going through the shops, and on the first of the year trains 17 and 18 will be made up of practically new cars from the baggage car to the parlor car.

—It is authoritatively stated another heavy reduction in the working forces of the Pennsylvania road will be made soon. The discharges will extend all over the line between New York and Pittsburg, but not further west. They will include the clerical forces, which it was thought would not be touched. A number of the employes about the Union Station and yards in Pittsburg have received notice of their dismissal, and others are to follow before the new year.

—It is understood that the Lehigh Valley strike was the immediate cause of traffic relations with the Jersey Central being ended although there has been a coolness of relations for some time. The Lehigh Valley was not satisfied with the protection which was given to its trains by the Jersey Central during that occurrence. It claimed that the Central, according to the contract for using the latter's tracks, was bound to guarantee the prompt departure of trains, and see that the crews were fully protected in taking out their trains. This, it is claimed, was not done, and the Jersey Central received a very unexpected notice of the Lehigh Valley's change to the Pennsylvania station. The arrangement with the Central was on a mileage basis. The Lehigh Valley meets the Pennsylvania at Waverly, and hence gets a longer haul than heretofore.

WILL MAKE ANSWER.

The Trouble Between Cornelius Sullivan and His Daughter, Mrs. Mary Heagerty.

Mrs. Mary Heagerty, through her counsel, will in due time make a verified answer to the complaint of her father, Cornelius Sullivan, which was published in the TIMES yesterday. The answer will deny all the allegations in the complaint, and particularly that part about the deed having been fraudulently obtained; and will assert that nothing was ever said about giving a mortgage by Mr. Sullivan; that the latter said in the presence of several persons that he intended giving Mrs. Heagerty the property and should dispose of it in no other way; that this gift was in consideration of Mrs. Heagerty's boarding him for two years past, and prospectively in the future; that the deed was read to Sullivan before he affixed his mark thereto; that as soon as the deed was read, a life lease of the property was drawn and given him as security for his maintenance by Mrs. Heagerty, Sullivan signing the same with her, accepting the terms.

$25.00 REWARD

Branch 136 C. M. B. A. will pay the above reward to any person or persons finding the body of Michael Kenefic, who is supposed to have lost his life while laboring under mental difficulty. O. MCNALLY, 5d3 President.
