A BODY ON THE TRACK.

How an R. W. & O. Train Ran Over a Man on the Western Division

An incident which resulted funnily enough, but seemed the heaviest kind of tragedy at the moment, occurred on the R. W. & O. railroad, two miles east of Wolcott, New Year's night. The westbound through freight train was coming heavily down the long grade known by every employe on the division as the "Lawville hill," when the engineer observed a man lying curled up on the track not a dozen feet ahead of the engine. Whistle and bell were sounded and the lever was instantly reversed, but to no purpose—the man, apparently in a drunken stupor, did not stir and the heavy train rolled over him and on for nearly a mile before its momentum could be overcome. When they passed over the man both engineer and fireman were sure that they felt a heavy jolt, while the trainmen declared that he heard one faint cry of anguish as the life was crushed from the unfortunate. The train was backed to the scene of the accident, and the crew hastily descended and picked up the remains. Their feelings and remarks may be imagined when the discovery was made that the "corpse" was merely a scarecrow from an adjacent cornfield which some mischievous boy had carefully placed on the track.—Rochester Democrat.

Dominion Notes.

—A boy named William Patterson, was accidentally shot and killed by a companion, at St. Catherines.

—William Smith, a nurse, was found dead in a fence corner, near Chatham. An inquest will probably be held.

—Justice Ross has decided the Hamilton Street Railway company is not violating the Lord's day act, the cars not being run for amusement purposes.

—George E. Henderson, Q C., ex-county attorney, is dead at the age of 77, at Bellville. He was for many years in the city council and was mayor in 1874.

—George S. Young, one of Brockville's prominent citizens, a son of the late Rev. William Young, a pioneer minister of the Methodist church and an ex-member of the town council, is dead.

—The board of fire underwriters has decided upon a new schedule of fire insurance rates for the city of Toronto. The rates are a slight reduction on those advanced at the time of the heavy conflagrations in January and March of last year.

There are many reasons why you should use One Minute Cough Cure. There are no reasons why you should not, if in need of help. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. Mead's drug store West side, A. D. McIntyre's, East Side.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Items of Interest Picked Up along the Tracks.

—W. F. Merrill, for the last five years general manager of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, relinquished his duties Thursday and started for the East to assume his new duties as second vice-president of the Erie lines. The new general manager, W. C. Brown, quietly and without noise, stepped into the harness and assumed the reins of management, with the statement that he intended no changes of any importance. Mr. Brown has been with the Burlington system since 1876.

—A special train last Wednesday, over the Santa Fe, Colorado Midland and Midland Terminal lines, Denver to Cripple Creek, eclipsed the record for fast running on Western railroads, making the run from Denver to Colorado Springs over the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, 75 miles, in one hour and 27 minutes; Colorado Springs to Divide, 4 per cent. mountain grade, 29 miles, in 55 minutes; Divide to Cripple Creek, 29 miles, mountain road one hour and three minutes, making the run from Denver to Cripple Creek, 133 miles, in three hours and twenty minutes, including about eight minutes' unavoidable delay. The train consisted of baggage car and one coach.

—L. J. Seargeant has issued a courteous circular letter to his recent subordinates announcing his retirement from the office of general manager of the Grand Trunk railway. He says: "We have worked together, as to many of you, for nearly 22 years, and I am honestly sorry to terminate the very pleasant and harmonious official relations which have existed between us. It is, however, a great satisfaction to know that my connection with the company does not end with this official retirement, and on the other side of the Atlantic I shall continue to take the greatest interest in Canada, in your provident associations and in all that relates to the Grand Trunk staff.

"I shall do this from the knowledge that a more loyal, better disciplined or more trustworthy staff nowhere exists."

—A ruling made by Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association Thursday on mileage books will likely cause a swarm of protests to pour down upon the western roads from business houses and traveling men. A very large number of mercantile houses have recently made application for mileage books for their traveling salesmen, who are out on the road. They have been told that the rules of the association require that each ticket shall be used by one person and that person must sign his name to it in the presence of an agent of the road selling it.

This rule, like many others that incumber the records of the Western Passenger Association, seems likely to work its own death. It is arbitrary against the public and it will probably only be a question of a few days before some line decides that in consequence of its enforcement it is losing business and will proceed to do business in its own way. Then there will be daily meetings for a time to try to settle the demoralization created by mileage tickets and eventually mileage books will be on sale to whoever has the price, regardless of the signatures, as has been the case for years back.

KNOCKED OUT BY A GOAT.

John L.'s Humiliation Is Now Complete and "Dan" Evened Up.

John L. Sullivan has been knocked out for the second time in a fair fight. It happened at La Salle, Ill., last night. Sullivan and "Paddy" Ryan are traveling with a dramatic company, another member of which is a large billy goat named "Dan." Sullivan had great delight in bantering the goat and watching the frantic efforts of the latter to resent it. John L. would slap Dan, pull his whiskers and offer other indignities that fairly drove his goatship insane with rage. When he could think of nothing worse Sullivan would turn Dan over on his back, where the goat would lie helpless, his spreading horns preventing him from turning over. Then Sullivan would spit in his face. Dan's feelings toward the ex-champion became such that he would snort with rage at the very sight of the pugilist. But his day of reckoning came. When the show was at La Salle Sullivan was seated in a dressing room near the stage engaged in putting on his shoes when the door opened and Dan, who was standing near, tied to the wall, as usual, got a glimpse of him. The goat made a plunge and snapped the rope. Before Sullivan realized that he was in any danger Dan had struck him with the force of a trolley car and the big fellow was knocked into a heap in the corner of the room. Sullivan tried to rise and the goat gave him another rap so hard that the big pugilist could not even yell. He just lay on the floor and gasped. A member of the company walked in at the moment and the goat gave him a butt in the stomach that laid him out completely. Sullivan had by this time regained his wind, and he let out a series of lusty bawls for help that brought enough reinforcements to subdue Dan. Sullivan for a time was wild with anger and nothing less than the murder of the goat would satisfy him. He finally changed his mind, however, and now says that Dan can whip any goat on earth and he is ready to back him.

Hop Markets.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4—Business was again slow and the market remains bare of enlivening feature Buyers are extremely indifferent and purchase only as stocks may need replenishing, or when something decidedly cheap comes their way. Selling pressure is no greater than it was a week ago, yet sufficient to keep values rather unsettled. Quotations are:

A Baby's Life Saved.

ADDISON, N. Y., April 8, 1894.—Hand Medicine Co:—I feel it my duty to write you in regard to my little daughter's sickness from teething and indigestion. She is seven months old. Two of the best physicians gave her up. One bottle of Dr. Hand's teething lotion relieved her so much that we tried Dr. Hand's Colic Cure also, and at once saw a change for the better. These remedies saved my baby's life.—Mrs. Wellington Brown.

Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion sold by all druggists 25c.
