

FEELS THIRTY YEARS YOUNGER.

Cal-cera Solvent, Dr. Kennedy's NEW Medicine, Warmly Praised by Mrs. Chaffee.

When Dr. David Kennedy said he regarded Cal-cera Solvent, his new medicine for the Kidneys, Liver and Blood, as the crowning achievement of his life, he made no mistake, as hundreds who have used it testify. Here is one letter from Mrs. A. F. Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., short and to the point.

"Dear Sir: I have never taken any medicine that did me so much good as Dr. Kennedy's latest medicine, Cal-cera Solvent. I can work hard all day and can do more work than I could even thirty years ago. I am 58 years of age and never felt better in my life." All druggists, $1.00.

mate of McKinley, "an Ohio President who always told me the truth", has a back-reach to it that the friends of those whom it may concern can settle for themselves.

When both Roosevelt and Root were ready to admit the charge of ineptitude against the former in 1898 and name another man for Governor, Platt's inquiry of the present President, "Are you a coward?" had a stinging and an arousing effect which prevented Augustus Van Wyck from becoming Chief Magistrate of New York State. Those who ever expect "a break" between the Senator and the President do not know the inside of enough history.

Neither do those who expect "a break" between "the Old Man" and Odell.

The maintenance of the gold standard at St. Louis in 1896, the accomplishment of consolidation in 1898-97, and the change of the State Excise law are three achievements to Mr. Platt's credit that will never be undone.

His shaking loose from Conkling after 1881, and his recovery of State leadership, following the split in the party in 1882, were extraordinary performances. The Governors to Mr. Platt's account are Cornell, Morton, Black, Roosevelt and Odell.

All of them, save Orvell, balked at times, but just when the Democrats expected an earthquake, suddenly there would come a calm. While it is not fully true to say that all the Republican members of the Court of Appeals and of the Supreme Court of the State were named by Mr. Platt, none of them could have been named against his opposition.

They average high and the debt of the State to his leadership on their account is not small.

The Senator has been criticized harshly for inferior choices for local lieutenants of officeholders. "Where is your mother?" asked the clergyman of the boy who answered the door, "Down at the Sewing Society," replied the lad. "That is good," remarked the clergyman. "And your father?" "Oh, he's gone to the mill," the boy responded. "And your mother?" "Inquired the priest. "At the mission school," the youngster answered. "And your older brother?" "He's gone to the dominion," "He's gone shooting with Jack Jones," "Jack Jones isn't the best company to go with," severely observed the pastor. "That's what a brother said," rejoined the boy, "but he couldn't find any better." Those who have found fault with Mr. Platt's aides have never offered to improve political service by taking it. The tools to hand are the ones that must be used when work is to be done.

But such men as T. L. Woodruff, N. N. Stranahan, George R. Sheldon, Charles G. Bennett, Norman S. Dike, William Warren, R. S. Morris, William Barnes, Jr., George W. Dunn, Dinah Bruce and others, have so raised the standard of lieutenantcy in late years that the foregoing story will not long need to be apologetically told.

A birthday, however, is not a time for any criticism or too much review. The Eagle congratulates Mr. Platt on this happy and auspicious anniversary. It trusts in the love of children and grandchildren he will find solace for remembered sorrows, and in the greetings of friends, who still companion with him, compensation for the loss of those who have not survived into this present. We could desire for him no better thing than that he be a Democrat, and for the Democracy no better lot than to find or make a leader who could keep it in power as long as he has kept his party there. — Brooklyn Eagle, Dem.

Exposure to wet dappness and cold, invariably results in a sudden chill, which if not attended to immediately will cause a cold. By mixing a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in half a glass of warm water or milk, the whole system will be heated and the danger of cold avoided. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Price 25c. and 50c.

This power of song is sometimes wonderful at times. This is well illustrated by a story, and a true one, told not long ago.

Two Americans who were crossing the Atlantic met in the cabin on Sunday night to sing hymns. As they sang the last hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," one of them heard an exceedingly rich and beautiful voice behind him. He looked around, and although he did not know the face, he thought he knew the voice. So, when the music ceased he turned, and asked the man if he had been in the Civil War. The man replied that he had been a Confederate soldier.

"Were you at such a place on such a night?" asked the first.

"Yes," he replied, "and a curious thing happened that night which this hymn has recalled to my mind. I was posted on sentry duty near the edge of a wood. It was a dark night and very cold and I was a little frightened because the enemy was supposed to be very near. About midnight, when everything was very still and I was feeling homesick and miserable and weary, I thought that I would support myself by praying and singing a hymn. I remembered singing this hymn:

"All my trust on Thee is stayed, All my help from Thee I bring; Cover my defenseless head With the shadow of Thy wing."

"After singing that a strange peace came down upon me, and through the long night I felt no more fear."

"Now," said the other listen to my story. "I was a Union soldier and was in the wood that night with a party of about a dozen men, standing although I did not see your face. My men had their rifles focused upon you, waiting the word to fire, but when you sang out

"Cover my defenseless head With the shadow of Thy wing," I said, "Boys, lower your rifles; we will go home."

"Sleeplessness. You can't sleep in the calmest and stillest night, if your stomach be weak, circulation poor, and digestion bad. Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the stomach, improves the circulation, perfects digestion, and brings about that condition in which sleep is regular and refreshing.

It does not do this in a day, but it does it—has done it in thousands of cases." 787

LEO HOLDS HIS OWN

He Shows Less Aversion to Nourishment Offered Him.

HIS GENERAL CONDITION IS BETTER

The Pope understands the Gravity of His Illness and Says He is Ready to Die, but Does Not Know His Immediate Danger.

ROME, July 18.—The pope is now reported to be in a somewhat quieter sleep than he had last night, although his breathing is perhaps not so easy. He showed less aversion to the nourishment offered him and took half a cup of consommé, a piece of toast and a few sips of old wine.

Dr. Mazzoni said after his visit that nothing in his condition had changed. While Leo did not want any one constantly in the room he, rang frequently for trivial causes, thus showing beyond doubt his desire for companionship. He took very frequently sips of meat broth, alternated with half spoonfuls of chicken gelatin.

When asleep the pontiff appeared to be dead. His cheeks were sunken, his eyes hollow and his jaws exceptionally prominent, the skin being tightly drawn over the bones. When awake the pope usually appeared to retain life only in his brilliant black eyes.

The pontiff fully recovered the lucidity of his mind and gave fresh proof of his wonderful memory, saying: "This is the feast of St. Leo. I have never failed to assist at mass since, when almost a boy, I came to Rome to participate in the jubilee of Leo XII. I wish to hear mass today."

The pontiff's desire was immediately gratified by Mr. Mazzoni, who celebrated mass in the chapel adjoining the sick room.

Leo understands the gravity of his condition and says he is ready to die, but he does not realize the imminence of his danger, as was again demonstrated when his confessor, Mr. Piffert, asked to see him. The pontiff, on being informed of the messengers' request, replied somewhat petulantly: "Not now. Tell him I shall not die without calling for him."

The doctors attending Leo, although not entertaining the least hope of their patient's recovery, considered his general condition somewhat better, whereas they expected him to be much worse.

The Cuban Loan of $35,000,000. HAVANA, July 18.—The senate has passed the appropriation recommended by President Palma for a commission to go to the United States and possibly to Europe to negotiate the $35,000,000 loan, with an amendment providing that others besides congressmen shall be eligible as members of the commission. It is expected that the permanent and postal treaties with the United States will be ratified before the adjournment of congress. President Palma has signed the bill providing for a Cuban exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. The newspapers comment with satisfaction on the ratification of the naval stations and Isle of Pines treaties as tending to strengthen the friendly relations between the United States and Cuba.

Paip Wood Destroyed by Fire. SARATOGA, N. Y., July 18.—The 200 outside laborers of the International Paper company's mill at Cortland, Saratoga county, threatened a strike here, but the union extended its ultimatum until its committee could confer with the company's officials at the mill of ice in New York city. The company's Cortland plant, valued at $300,000, has had a narrow escape from destruction by fire. Five hundred cords of pulp wood were consumed before the fire was subdued.

Paip Mills Kill the Fish. GLENS FALLS, N. Y., July 18.—The water in Lake Champlain is soon to be examined at different places and at different depths by the state board of health to ascertain the effect of the discharge into the lake of polluted water from streams on whose banks are located pulp mills. That the discharge of the waste chemicals into the water causes the death of large numbers of fish has been noted for several years.

Port Arthur Considered Impregnable. ST. PETERSBURG, July 18.—A telegram received from Port Arthur says that upon the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the cathedral the General Kuropatkin, the Russian war minister, made a speech in which he expressed the conviction that "Port Arthur is now becoming a fortress inaccessible to all enemies, no matter how great their number or whence they come."

New York Yacht Blocks Train. SYDNEY, N. S., July 18.—The steam yacht Halda, from New York via Halifax, N. S., blocked the draw for several hours at Grand Narrows railroad bridge, and before she was released all the traffic on the railroad had been brought to a standstill. A locomotive was used to extricate the yacht.

KOREA WANTS WIJU OPEN

Japan Afraid That Russia Will Get a Foothold on Yalu. WASHINGTON, July 18.—The roundabout method adopted by the Korean government to secure the opening of Wiju to foreign trade probably is necessary because of the existence of some treaty stipulations between China and Korea signed since the China-Japan war which require the consent of China before such a step is taken.

For many years most of the traffic between Korea and China has been by way of Wiju. The latter place is a big Korean mart on the Yalu river nearly opposite Tatungkiao, on the right bank of the Yalu, and the locality to be opened to international trade in Manchuria as a result of the strong representations which have been made to Russia by the United States for the open door in China.

Recent dispatches have shown that Russia has made claims to extensive timber concessions in Korea on the banks of the Yalu and that both Korea and Japan are apprehensive that through the medium of these claims Russia will obtain a strong foothold in Korea. Japan is believed to be at the bottom of this latest Korean move, with the Hermit Kingdom an anxious and willing ally.

Minister Conger Recalled to Peking. PEKING, July 18.—United States Minister Conger has been recalled from Newchwang, whither he went to investigate the situation there, an account of urgent business connected with the American commercial treaty with China. The announcement that Russia has assured the United States that Mukden and Tartungkiao will be made open ports is accepted here as meaningless unless the United States has secured Russia's positive command to Prince Ching to sign the American commercial treaty, after which (China would have no power over these ports.

While the opening of the two ports eliminates the United States from any active quarrel—though America is clearly the guardian of China's integrity—it contributes nothing to the solution of Japan's difficulties and promises no solution regarding Russia's encroachment in Korea or her evacuation of Manchuria. On the contrary, the Japanese regard Russia's promise to America with apprehension.

Car Men Held For Death of Victim. LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 18.—Coroner Hayden's decision on the Burt trolley accident inquest was made public. He holds Motorman Grove Bullock and Conductor E. Chaney of Buffalo, responsible for the death of Richard Farrell, who was fatally injured in the wreck at Burt. They are charged with manslaughter in the second degree for causing this death through their culpable negligence in disregarding orders or rules of the company or both. They have been arrested. The question of Operator Wardsworth's guilt or innocence is left to the grand jury.

Opening of Manchurian Ports. WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Japanese minister, Mr. Kogoro Takahira, received a cablegram from Tokyo announcing that the Russian minister in Japan had on the day previous called at the Tokyo foreign office and official assured the authorities that the Russian government would see to it that two ports would be opened in Manchuria to the world's commerce. The minister went at once to the state department and informed Secretary Hay of this fact. He there learned that similar assurances had reached the government.

The new boat led almost from the start and was in her usual position at the finish, but the Belmont boat after being set one time more than a mile astern came up with a rush at the close and was only fifty-nine seconds behind her rival at the line. As the Reliance allowed the Constitution 2 minutes and 17 seconds in thirty-seven miles, the length of the run, the latter won by 1 minute and 18 seconds. The time allowance, while in-

AT CIUDAD BOLIVAR

Armistice Between Gomez and Rebels Terminated. LIEUTENANT CULVER TAKES ACTION

Foreign Women and Children, Many of Them Germans, Take Refuge on Board American Steamers. Provisions Already Scarce.

SOLEDAD, Venezuela, July 18.—An armistice that had been arranged between General Gomez and the revolutionary forces at Ciudad Bolivar commanded by General Roldano has been terminated.

Lieutenant Commander A. F. Culver, commanding the United States gunboat Bancroft, which, with the French cruiser Joutroy, has just arrived off this port, has visited Ciudad Bolivar.

Notwithstanding that the armistice has terminated, no engagement between the government forces and the rebels has taken place. General Gomez has completed the investment of Ciudad Bolivar, and none can now leave the city.

Lieutenant Commander Culver after a long conference with the commanding officer of the Venezuelan squadron decided to take under his protection all the river steamers belonging to the American Orinoco Steamship company, which were recently seized by the revolutionists at Ciudad Bolivar. He also requested the women and children of the American and other foreign colonies at Ciudad Bolivar to take refuge on the steamers in order to escape the dangers of the siege, the shelling of the town and a possible battle.

In accordance with Lieutenant Commander Culver's invitation many women and children, a number of whom were of German nationality, embarked early on the American steamers, which, flying the American flag and escorted by the Bancroft, left in the direction of San Felix, probably on the way to the island of Trinidad.

Meat, milk and other provisions are already scarce in the besieged town. The British consul paid $150 for a cow. The swift current running in the Orinoco river, as the result of heavy rains, prevents direct communication between Soledad and Ciudad Bolivar. The revolutionists have also destroyed the means of transport between the two towns.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE. Mayor Harrison Urges the People to Keep the Streets Clear.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The riotous conduct of the strikers of the Kellogg Switchboard company and their sympathizers during the last four days impelled Mayor Harrison to issue a proclamation urging all people to remain away from the scene of the trouble and calling upon the rioters to cease from their work.

The proclamation insists that all people must keep off the streets near to and refrain from gathering in crowds around the Kellogg plant and declares that all persons who do this or in any other way interfere with the work of the police by the forming of blockades will be promptly arrested and punished.

Heavy rain prevented possible trouble by dispersing the mobs, and the work of handling freight from the plant of the Kellogg company was not interfered with as much as on former days.

Dam Contractors Get Hides. CLINTON, Mass., July 18.—Although there was no disturbance of any sort at the Wachusett dam, where a strike is in progress, the contractors considered it good policy to engage ten extra special officers and forty-six policemen were on duty. The contractors also received a consignment of rifles, which, with those they had in their possession before, is a sufficient number to arm most of the special police. Of the forty-six men twenty-one are former employees of the contractors. They will not use the guns unless the strikers offer violence.

Reliance Beaten. Southampton Making a Close Finish and Wins on Wilm's Allowance. NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 18.—The latest aspirant for cup defending honors, the Reliance, was defeated by the Constitution in the initial run of the New York Yacht club regatta from Glen Cove to this port. The new boat led almost from the start and was in her usual position at the finish, but the Belmont boat after being set one time more than a mile astern came up with a rush at the close and was only fifty-nine seconds behind her rival at the line. As the Reliance allowed the Constitution 2 minutes and 17 seconds in thirty-seven miles, the length of the run, the latter won by 1 minute and 18 seconds. The time allowance, while in-official, is believed to be within two or three seconds of the correct time. It was then seen that the Constitution was within her time allowance, and while the Reliance managed to cross in the lead the Belmont boat was one second less than a minute astern, both boats flying across the line under a great press of sail. The Columbia in the meantime had been dropped quite rapidly and was more than a mile astern when the other boats were finishing.

The day, with its light, shifting breezes, was long and at times tedious, but the close finish between the two nines made the end interesting as well as exciting.

SHAMROCK III. WINS AGAIN. Bevil's Great Sailing of Old Boat the Feature of the Race.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., July 18.—That Sir Thomas Lipton's gallant cup hunter was in her sweetest humor and finest racing trim she manifested by showing her clean heels to Shamrock I. from start to finish over a thirty mile course and winning by 11 minutes and 44 seconds elapsed time, a decisive victory.

Besides outstripping the old boat Captain Wingo and his cup candidate had to deal also with the shrewd sailing master of Shamrock I., Captain Bevil, and that keen hunter for a favorable start of wind was a factor to be reckoned with. Twice in the shifty wind the keen captain of the former candidate got the better of it in a shift of wind after the challenger had established a big lead. Only the challenger's superior heels enabled her to regain her advantage.

The upshot of it was the Shamrock III. beat Shamrock I. by 7 minutes and 38 seconds going to windward and 4 minutes and 6 seconds running home. If Captain Bevil had not sailed the old boat like a wizard it would have been minutes better.

King Charles Dropped Dead. DETROIT, Mich., July 18.—The closing events of the Windsor Driving club races were marred by King Charles, owned by D. W. Maloney of White Plains, N. Y., dropping dead on the track at the conclusion of the final heat in the 2:09 pace. The animal was making a hard fight for a position when he staggered and fell just as he reached the judges' stand. Over-exertion, resulting in the rupture of a blood vessel, was the cause of the animal's death. The horse was a well known performer on the grand circuit. From a racing standpoint the feature of the day was the remarkable ease with which Monte Carlo won the 2:10 trot.

BEAVERS TO BE HELD

Culmination of Investigation Since His Resignation. MANY OF HIS PROMOTIONS CANCELED

Present Whereabouts is Unknown, but Authorities Are Now Searching For Him to Place Him Under Arrest.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A bench warrant for the arrest of George W. Beavers, the former chief of the division of salaries and allowances of the post office department, has been issued and is the culmination of an investigation that has been in progress at intervals since his sudden resignation from office last spring.

A number of matters affecting his administration have been probed into, one of the first results of which was the cancellation of 3,046 promotions that had been passed by him to take effect at post offices throughout the country during the present fiscal year.

Subsequently other matters were taken up by the investigating officials. The case on which the present action of the grand jury is based, it is said, is a more recent development. The inspectors have worked continuously on the investigation, and it is said that it was only within the past two or three days that the evidence finally was secured that furnished a basis for action by the federal grand jury.

The authorities are now searching for Mr. Beavers to place him under arrest. His present whereabouts are unknown. The postal officials were charged to learn of the publicity of the action of the grand jury in advance of the serving of the warrant. They regarded the news as premature and declined to discuss the matter, on the ground that the time was not yet ripe to make a statement.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristol conferred with several of his assistants immediately after he learned that the action of the grand jury had become known. Subsequently he refused to answer all questions on the subject.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
