A LOAD of misery is taken from women, by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Weaknesses that distress your womanhood can be relieved and cured by it, safely and certainly. It has done this for thousands of suffering women—and the makers are willing to guarantee, if it doesn't benefit or cure you, they'll return the money.

Bearing-down pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, organic displacements, weak back, and all kindred ailments are cured by the "Favorite Prescription."

Nye, Putnam Co., W. Va.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—Mine is a case of eleven years' standing, which baffled the skill of the best medical aid procurable. I obtained no good effect, until I began the use of the "Favorite Prescription," which lifted the burden which was seeking my life.

My gratitude I owe to the "Prescription." I hope that all suffering humanity (as in my case) may profit by the result of my experience.

WORDS APPLICABLE TO OSWEGO.

Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Minn., was in Chicago Sunday last and in an interview discussed the recent outbreak in which Debs and Sovereign have played such prominent, wildly foolish, and criminal or semi-criminal parts. He unhesitatingly denounces the whole class and type of movements for which they and the other labor agitators like them stand, and there is that in his words that certain Oswego malcontents, lawbreakers and their sympathizers may well con and heed, and which all intelligent men will warmly indorse. And here are his words:

"The fatal mistake which has been made in connection with this strike is that property has been destroyed. the liberty of citizens interfered with, human life endangered, social order menaced, the institutions and freedom of the country put in most serious jeopardy, The moment such things happen all possible questions as to the rights and grievances of labor must be dropped out of sight and all efforts of law-abiding citizens and of public officials made to serve in maintaining public order and guarding at all costs the public weal. Labor must learn that, however sacred its rights be, there is something above them and absolutely supreme—social order and the laws of public justice. There is no civil crime as hideous and pregnant of evil results as resistance to law and the constitutional authorities of the country. This resistance is revolution; it begets chaos; it is anarchy; it disrupts the whole social fabric which insures life and safety to the poor as well as to the rich, to the employe as well as to the employer. Labor, too, must learn the lesson that the liberty of the citizen is to be respected. One man has the right to cease from work, but he has no right to drive another man from work. He who respects not the liberty of others shows himself unworthy of his own liberty, and incapable of citizenship in a free country. Never can riots and mob rule and lawless depredation be tolerated. The country that permits them signs its own death warrant.

Riots and mob rule such as have occurred in Chicago do immense harm to the cause of labor, and set back its advance for whole decades of years. Labor thereby loses the earnest sympathy of thousands of friends, and gives courage and triumph to its enemies. Worse yet, the principle of popular government suffers. It is no wonder that reading of the occurrences in America, Europeans announce that the republic is a failure and that strong monarchy only can hold society together. Nowhere on earth has the poor man such liberty, civil, social, and industrial, as that which he enjoys in America. Is this liberty to be used in tearing down the republic which blesses and protects them?"

There is a solid logic in these words of Archbishop Ireland that is unanswerable. The moment lawbreaking and a flagrant disregard of the property and personal rights of others are set on foot there is a duty enjoined on the public before which all other considerations must give way. That duty is to suppress every form of disturbance and to bring as many of the offenders to punishment as hands can be laid on. That the destruction of a great business plant, the support of hundreds of families, should be attempted, and that workingmen here in Oswego should be followed to their homes and be beaten at night by ruffians are matters to arouse the deepest indignation and resentment on the part of a decent public sentiment. There is no excuse, no palliation for such conduct, and there should be no leniency in dealing with the perpetrators of these infamies.

THE LESSON FROM SANTO.

The trial of Santo, the assassin of President Carnot, begins on Thursday of next week. The bravado is pretty much out of the wretch, according to the accounts that come from him. To him this ordeal will be a school of instruction. He will be duly impressed for the first time in his life that his own small mind has but poorly grasped the problem of the life and welfare of the millions, including his own life and welfare, a problem which, out of his ignorance, egotism and wrong-headedness, he has tried to solve with his stiletto by slaying the intelligent and duly constituted head and choice of a great nation. Santo's enlightenment and end will come at the same time; but there is hope that the special course of instruction to which he is now being subjected in the way of a careful inquiry into the details of his crime and its characterization subsequently, emphasized as the final judgment of it is to be on the block, will have a signal effect on the minds of others of a similar cast to Santo's. Such will be healthfully taught by his experience that organized intelligent society looks upon their kind, not as friends, but as enemies, and that it is strong to avenge itself upon their crimes against it. The disposition about to be made of Santo will serve to clear the air of France of the dangerous poisons that have been suffered to exhale themselves there too freely and for too long a period. Good, too, will spread thence elsewhere. The whole civilized world is interested in and will be benefited by the trial and example about to be made of Santo,—of Santo, not the liberator of society, as he and his egotistic kind would like to have themselves esteemed, but a low-bred, vulgar, ignorant assassin, a mean and unnatural excresence unfit to be a part of society.

DEMOCRACY MEANS BLIGHT.

About one-third of the people are out of employment and everybody is looking to Congress for help.—Cleveland Plain Dealer, Dem.

This is evidence, in the nature of an admission, of what democracy can and does do for the country when given full swing. One-third of the people who labor out of employment means 7,000,000 of idle persons out of the 21,000,000 who habitually labor for gain. In the whole history of this hitherto prosperous nation was there ever anything to parallel it before? There is but one construction to be put upon the case, as thus presented by democracy's own side—democracy means blight.

If this democratic reign holds much longer an income tax will serve in the nature of a reminder that the business men of the country once had incomes.

What is claimed to have been the fastest long-distance freight run ever made in this country was made from Memphis to Kansas City by a special train loaded with bananas on June 13, the speed averaging 40.04 miles an hour for 484 miles, and reaching a maximum of sixty-four miles an hour, which was kept up for six miles.

The number of students who have matriculated in the twenty-one universities of Germany for the summer term is 27,800. This shows a decrease of 150 as compared with last year. Half of the students were connected with the Prussian University. Nearly 5,000 of the 27,800 are to study theology, over 8,000 to study medicine, 7,716 philosophy and science, and 7,415 law.

If it is his personal choice in the matter, Debs has chosen wisely in going to jail. He will be safer there from the men he has fooled than almost anywhere beside. The resentment of the thousands whom his confidence game has put out of good situations will break out some day in a form that no prudent man, if given its way, would care to have visited upon him.

Incendiaries Shot.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—Dr. A. J. Stone of this city arrived home today after being detained three weeks in consequence of the Northern Pacific strike. He says while the train was coming east through Montana an advance guard of regulars discovered a man pouring oil on a trestle ten miles east of Livingstone preparatory to firing it. The soldiers called to him but he ran, and they shot him dead. The guard near Hope, Idaho, had a similar experience, and the criminal was shot in the same way.

CROP BULLETIN.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY,
ITHACA, N. Y., July 17, 1894.

The following information has been condensed from the reports of crop correspondents for the week ending with Saturday, July 14th, 1894:

Cayuga county—(Scipio)—Haying the work of the week and many about finished. A few wheat fields have been damaged by "lodging," but crop generally is satisfactory. Potatoes, corn, buckwheat and pastures need rain. Oats making great improvement. Rain, 0.19. (Sherwood)—Much hay secured in fine condition; crop above the average. Growing crops, especially potatoes, and berries need rain very much. Oats are light; straw and heads short, barley heads very long. Apples continue to drop badly. Rain, 0.21.

Jefferson county—(Adams Centre)—Crops promising except oats which will be light on account of blight. Haying progressing and an average crop. Hops look well. Apples falling badly and the outlook for fruit not promising. Rain, 0.39. (Carthage)—Much hay secured in fine condition the first of week, but yield below average. Oats are improving; potatoes and corn about average.

Oswego county (Demster)—Rain, 1.09. (Palermo)—With good weather an average crop of hay will be secured. Crops looking well except oats, which are badly rusted. Pastures kept well by frequent showers, but the terrible pest, the Texan fly, has made cows shrink in milk. Rain, 0.55. (Pennellville)—Rye and wheat harvest begun. Grasshoppers increasing and damaging grasses, grains and berries. Complaint of fruit, especially apples and peaches, dropping badly. Oats improving, but cannot make half an average crop. (Oswego)—Rain, 0.67.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The week has been unusually fine harvesting weather, cool and with very little rain. Much hay has been secured in fine condition, and cutting wheat and rye has been pushed rapidly forward. Although in vicinity of Washington county only there has fallen sufficient for the needs of growing crops, yet in many places cloudy and threatening weather with light showers have retarded haying as well as wheat and rye harvest. The showers usually have been so light and so irregularly distributed that in many sections of the state, and especially in the S. E. the crops are greatly in need of rain. Corn in some localities is curling up with the hot sun, in Orange county many of the onion fields are almost burned up, while early potatoes, which probably are the greatest sufferers from the drouth, will be greatly reduced and in central Winchester county, are reported as almost a total failure in many cases. Corn and tobacco, however, have usually stood the dry weather very well and both may be considered generally in fine condition, although corn is tasselling somewhat short in some localities and is still rather backward in western sections. Wheat and rye are harvesting well, and some barley is ready to cut. Harvesting is nearly over on Long Island and other advanced regions, and oats will be cut this coming week. Reports on oats are still discouraging although in many places there has been a slight improvement shown in heading out. Pastures are getting short and dairy interests consequently affected. Hop lice have appeared in small numbers in some yards of Franklin county, but usually the crop is in very good condition. Grasshoppers are increasing in numbers and are threatening to become the pest in some localities they were last year. Potato bugs continue very thick and very troublesome.

Reports would indicate that the prospects for fruits are not so promising as at the first of the season. Cherries, currants, raspberries and small fruits in general are good and plentiful, but apples have continued to drop and prospects for a good crop are daily lessening, and in some places they are already pronounced a failure.
