MAY CHANGE CREWS.

Suggested That Columbia and Shamrock Race under New Conditions.

SIR THOMAS WILLING.

Sec'y Odie, of New York Yacht Club, Does Not Favor Plan—Columbia Goes Out of Commission—Shamrock Probably Not Taken to England Till Next Year.

Boston, Oct. 5.—The remarkable closeness of the races between Columbia and Shamrock has given rise to the opinion that a better test of the merits of the boats could be had if the sloops would race with the crews changed. To this end the Boston Journal telegraphed Sir Thomas Lipton as follows:

"Would you agree to a race between Shamrock and Columbia if it could be arranged, in which Shamrock should be sailed by Captain Barr and American crew, and Columbia sailed by Captain Sycamore and English crew?"

The following dispatch was received in reply:

"Sandy Hook, N. J. I have your telegram suggesting a race between Shamrock and Columbia, Shamrock to be sailed by Captain Barr and American crew, and Columbia by Captain Sycamore and English crew. To this I would gladly agree in the interests of the sport of yachting if the other side is willing. (Signed) LIPTON."

Sec'y Odie Objects to Changing Crews.

New York, Oct. 5.—Secretary Odie, of the New York Yacht Club, said the plan to change crews of Columbia and Shamrock and then race the yachts was not favored by him. Whether arrangements might be made by Sir Thomas and the committee looking toward another race of any kind he could not say.

SAYS RACE WAS "THROWN."

New York World Charges Bad Management of Shamrock—Parade Planned in Honor of Columbia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Columbia won and the America's cup is safe, so the American public and their English cousins are turning their attention to other countries.

Sir Thomas Lipton leads in the almost universal opinion that the best boat won and that everything was conducted fair and square. A few hard losers are making wild suggestions this morning that yesterday's race was "thrown" by bad management on the Shamrock.

The World today prints the opinion of John R. Spear, that Willie Jameson, sailing master of Shamrock either deliberately threw the race or displayed execrable management in the yacht races. Spear insinuates that Jameson was plucked because Sir Tom would not let Mrs. Jameson sail on the Challenger.

Charges Unfounded.

Yachtmen to-day recall that Spear over his own signature as the yachting expert of the World declared repeatedly that Shamrock was the better boat. Considering the race of the previous days, Spear's charges seem to be rather unfounded.

In thrashing to windward, Columbia, in all the contests, showed to better advantage and it was not to be wondered that she pulled up on the challenger in the heat home yesterday. Again it must be remembered that it was on a long tack off shore that Shamrock gained a big lead over Columbia yesterday while the American held in shore. Spear states that Shamrock deliberately split tacks and threw away any advantage she had gained.

Big Water Parade Planned.

There is talk to-day of a big water parade to be given by the various yacht clubs around New York in honor of Columbia. The defender will head the procession under sail. When Sir Thomas Lipton was approached with the suggestion he said: "The people of New York should show their appreciation of the Columbia and their pride in her work by giving some sort of public demonstration. A parade of the yachts of the principal yacht clubs would be welcomed, I am sure, by those who have sailed the winning boat. She is a winner in every sense. I cannot say that I will take part in such a demonstration, because I don't know that I can be in New York when it takes place."

THE SCRANTON STRIKE

Trolley Company Imports 75 Non-union Men from New York.

STRIKERS OUTWITTED

Wait at Station for New Men, but Later Are Unloaded Outside of City and Huddled to Barns under Police Protection—A Few Cars Running To-day.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 5.—Seventy-five strike breakers were brought here last night by the Scranton Traction Company to take the places of the striking employes. Word had been received early in the evening at the headquarters of the strikers that the non-union men had left New York, and a close watch was kept for their arrival.

A great crowd began to assemble early in the evening at the depot. The strikers, however, were outwitted by the agents of the company, who caused the train to stop at a point in the outskirts of the city, where the men were unloaded and quickly hustled through back streets, under the protection of detectives, to the company's barn on Linden Street.

GOES OUT OF COMMISSION.

Columbia Passes up East River to City Island—Shamrock Will Not Go Home This Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The cup champion Columbia passed up the East River in triumph to-day under tow for City Island, where she will go out of commission.

The Shamrock was towed to the Erie basin this afternoon. She will probably not be taken to England until next year. It was learned to-day that the Shamrock's hull has been leaking more or less during all the races, but that Sir Tom was too good a sportsman to speak of it to outsiders, fearing that in the event of defeat it would be accepted as an attempt at excuses.

Sir Thomas Lipton addressed the Shamrock's crew to-day complimenting them on their behavior and on the way they had handled the yacht.

NO LOVE FOR ASSASSIN

Other Criminals in Auburn Prison Hold Themselves Far Superior to Czolgosz.

AUBURN, Oct. 5.—Leon F. Czolgosz is spending all of his time in his cell in murderers' row at the prison in reading books furnished him from the prison library. Czolgosz is still reticent and has refrained from discussing his deed.

The other occupants of the cells for the condemned do not consider themselves in the same class with Czolgosz, and, while they hold conversations with each other, they have refrained from conversing with the assassin. The most bitter one of the quartet is Clarence Egnor, the young giant who killed Guard Benedict at the prison nearly a year ago. He has a picture of President McKinley, which he secured immediately following his death, and it is heavily draped and hangs on the wall of his cell.

On the morning that Czolgosz steps out of his cell to meet the Warden and the little silent band to begin his last journey along the corridor to the death chamber, the picture of the martyred President will be suspended on the outside of the door of Egnor's cell in plain view of the wretched assassin. Egnor will dare the wretch to look at the likeness of his victim.

FIFTY FRESHMEN HAZED

Compelled to Eat Soap and Quinine Bark and Drink Stale Beer and Milk.

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—Fifty freshmen were hazed by thirty sophomores at the University of Buffalo Thursday night and the experiences of the freshmen were the most severe ever undergone by new students at that institution. The freshmen dined the sophs and a fierce rush resulted that ended in a victory for the sophomores who succeeded in locking the freshmen in one of the big rooms of the college building. The freshmen then were taken from the room one by one and were put through a course of stunts calculated to dispel all their veridancy. Each was mounted on a pedestal, where, after singing a few songs, he was commanded to eat bits of soap. Some balked at the soap, and by dint of various forms of torture, such as sophomores know how to invent, they were forced to chew quinine bark. Stale beer in nursing bottles was then administered and in some instances the beer was followed with doses of milk until the poor freshmen were almost gagged. Yesterday nearly the entire freshman class was unable to report for studies.

The climax, however, was capped when several freshmen who had fought the hardest against being hazed were marched down Main Street with ropes tied around their necks and their clothing turned inside out. On the way they were fed with bread and milk. The freshmen now are figuring on how to get even, and the class being larger than the sophomore class, it is feared a terrific rush will soon take place at the university.

If Sampson Is Issued His Inability to Appear Will Probably Be Alleged—Court Still Considering Correspondence Regarding Santiago Fight.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—A typewriter's error threatens to involve Sampson in the Schley inquiry, despite all the efforts of the Judge Advocate and the court to keep him out of it.

Sampson sent to Schley at Cienfuegos a Department order directing the latter to proceed to Santiago. But Sampson also enclosed the "Dear Schley" letter in which he told the Admiral to remain at Cienfuegos until more definite information regarding the alleged presence of Cervantes' fleet in Santiago had been received. Through the letter, Sampson refers to Cienfuegos, except in one sentence, wherein he says: "Until we, then, receive more positive information we shall continue to hold Havana and Santiago."

AN AGGRESSIVE POLICY

Insurgents Who Slaughtered Company C Will Be Taught a Lesson—Active Hostilities Expected—History of American Occupation of Island.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Vigorous measures have been taken by General Chaffee to punish the treacherous natives who took part in the massacre of Company C, Ninth Infantry, at Balangiga on the Island of Samar. That is and will be the scene of active hostilities for some time to come, for it is intended to teach the rebellious inhabitants a lesson and force them to respect the power and sovereignty of the United States.

DEPEW SURRENDERS.

Senator to Wed Miss May Palmer, a Beautiful New York Girl.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Senator C. M. Depew has announced his engagement to Miss May Palmer, daughter of the late Henry Palmer, and granddaughter of John Palmer, founder and first President of the Merchants' Bank of this city. Miss Palmer is young and beautiful, but is little known in New York Society, having lived abroad for a number of years.

The Senator, who has denied rumor after rumor of engagements to various ladies of fashion and fortune during the last few years, at last admits his complete surrender to Cupid. To a reporter Senator Depew said:

True This Time.

"It is true that I am to be married. The lady who has honored me by promising to become my wife, is Miss Palmer, whom I have known for years."

Miss Palmer is now at the Waldorf. Astoria having returned from abroad with her sister, Mme. Von Andra, on Sept. 17. She is a beautiful young woman, greatly resembling her mother who was one of the three Hermans sisters of New Orleans, famous all over the country for their beauty not more than a generation ago. She was educated abroad and is highly accomplished. As a musician it is said she has earned the praise of many European masters. Her father died in Europe, leaving a widow and two daughters.

Constant Fighting Since Then.

Since that date fighting in Samar has been almost continuous. United States arms were invariably victorious until the recent disaster. Notwithstanding they were usually greatly outnumbered by the enemy.

General Lucban, the insurgent leader, is known as "Lucban, the irreconcilable." His family is one of prominence. He was educated at Manila, is a physician by profession and is about forty-six years of age, and of considerable force of character. Sergeant George F. Doe, Company I, Forty-third Volunteer Infantry, who was captured in March, 1900, by the insurgents of Samar, says Lucban is very brutal in his treatment of the men under him and instances a case in which some eight or ten forces, who had been captured by his forces, were punished by decapitation. On this occasion Lucban had about 200 riflemen armed with Mausers, Remingtons and Krags and about 500 holmen.
