LAW GOVERNING MAKING OF WINE

Washington, Sept. 21.—Warning that the making of intoxicating "home brew" is illegal was issued Monday by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. Numerous inquiries have been received recently, he said, concerning the home manufacture of fruit juices, growing out of reports that a head of a household was entitled to make 200 gallons of wine a year under permit. The prohibition unit's attitude on the home brew question was described by Mr. Haynes as follows: "Non-intoxicating fruit juice can be made in the home. Intoxicating wine, home brew and distilled spirits may not be made. Two hundred gallons of non-intoxicating fruit juice may be made tax free by the head of a family registering with a commissioner of internal revenue. This tax exemption provision has been the cause of confusion. The effect of this is not to allow the manufacture of 200 gallons of intoxicating wine free from restrictions of the national prohibition act, but merely to allow the manufacture of 200 gallons of non-intoxicating fruit juice tax free."

HON. WILLIAM H. HILL GETS DAILY NEWSPAPER

Binghamton Morning Sun Will Pass to Hill's Control October 1.—The Binghamton Morning Sun was announced that the Binghamton Morning Sun will pass into the control of William H. Hill, former state senator and former representative in Congress, October 1. The Morning Sun was established by George F. Johnson about two years ago, when Mr. Johnson bought the old Binghamton Republican-Herald and changed the name. Mr. Johnson bought an entirely new mechanical plant and moved the publication into the new Chamber of Commerce Building. He expended many thousands of dollars in making the paper an up-to-date publication. Under Mr. Johnson the Sun has been independent in politics. The new publisher will make the newspaper independently Republican.

ONE DRY AGENT TO WATCH EVERY FIVE FAMILIES

New York, Sept. 21.—One federal agent would be required to watch every five families in New York to enforce the latest ruling of the Internal Revenue Bureau that only kickless home brew can be made. Ernest M. Langley, chief supervisor of federal agents said yesterday. He added that he thought this was a conservative estimate based upon first hand knowledge of the attitude of the public here toward prohibition. Happiness Not Far to Seek. You traverse the world in search of happiness, which is within the reach of every man; a contented mind confers it on all.—Horace.

LOOKS LIKE ANDREWS IN THE SYRACUSE CONVENTION

WILL HAVE STRONG OPPOSITION FROM SOME OF THE DELEGATES BUT IT LOOKS AS IF HE WILL WIN OUT—BIG GUNS FOR HIM

Syracuse, Sept. 21.—The Republican State convention, scheduled for this city Thursday and Friday, is looking to result in the nomination of Judge W. S. Andrews for judge of the court of appeals. Early arrivals bring information that the delegates of the third judicial district, which includes the upper Hudson river counties, will have a candidate of their own. If signs do not fall, they meet tonight for caucus. There are two aspirants from the third district, Justice Aaron V. B. Cochran of Hudson and Justice Gilbert D. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston and the caucus method will eliminate one. It is believed that Justice Cochran will win out and will probably be the only candidate in the convention against Justice Andrews.

St. Lawrence county of the upper New York counties will probably vote for Cochran. The nomination of Judge Andrews seems certain, unless there are unforeseen developments. With the exception of Albany county, all the big Republican centers will vote for him, including Erie county, where Fred Grainger, reputed leader, is for him; Monroe county, where George W. Albridge, collector of the port of New York, rules; Onondaga county, Judge Andrews' home and Westchester county, where the Ward organization will support him. Early delegates for the convention and almost a score of newspaper men from all sections of the state are expected to reach Syracuse today. Among leaders who will arrive today and tonight are Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., who will be temporary chairman of the convention, and Senator William M. Calder of Brooklyn, who will be permanent chairman. Mr. Albridge, Mr. Grainger and most of the county leaders also are expected to reach town tonight. Most of the third district delegates will be in during the day in anticipation of the conference tonight. The convention opens tomorrow at noon in the Arena. After the speech-making an adjournment will be taken until Friday.

Mrs. Nathan L. Miller, wife of the governor, will give a reception to women delegates at the Miller home at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

THE NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET

New York, Sept. 21.—The State Department of Farms and Markets reported today that approximately thirty carloads of onions arrived from California by way of the Panama Canal and will be offered for sale this week. A cargo of 5,000 crates of Spanish onions was sold at auction yesterday, bringing $1.10 to $1.25 per crate, containing 10 to 12 onions. Onions from New York and sections are not finding much demand because of small size and poor quality. Heavy receipts of 12 cars of lettuce and light demand caused a decline of 25 to 50 cents per crate from the previous day. Shipments from upstate sections sold as high as $2.25 per crate, some as low as $1. Two cars of cucumbers from western New York sold at $1.50 to $2.25 per bushel. Demand good for fancy stock. Dills sold $2.50 to $2.50 per bushel. Of eleven cars of peaches received today only six were unloaded. The best sold as high as $5.50 per bushel basket. Of other fruits from New York state the receipts were three cars grapes, three pears, two plums and one quince. Market for these commodities is unchanged.

JEWISH HOLIDAYS WILL BE OBSERVED DURING OCTOBER

FIRST COMES THE JEWISH NEW YEAR ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 3, AND TEN DAYS LATER YOM KIPPUR WILL BE OBSERVED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD

Two important Jewish holidays will be observed in October. The Jewish New Year, better known by its Hebrew designation, Rosh Hashanah, occurs this year on Monday, October 3rd. According to the practice of the Synagog, it will be observed as a holy day from Sunday evening, October 2nd, until the evening of the following day. Among orthodox Jews, a second day of Rosh Hashanah is also observed in addition, on October 4. Rosh Hashanah shares with the Day of Atonement, which occurs ten days later, the distinction of being one of the last two most solemn and inspiring holy days of the synagog. Its Biblical basis is found in Leviticus 23:24: "In the seventh month (of the Hebrew calendar) on the first day of the month, shall be solemn rest unto you, a memorial proclaimed with blast of horns, a holy convocation."

The New Year's Day, as observed by the synagog, is not a day of rejoicing, merely, such as is in vogue at the beginning of the secular year. This New Year is a day of memorial or a "Day of Remembrance," on which the Jew is reminded of his duty and responsibility as a citizen and a member of the human family. His affiliation with his community binds him to do his share towards the promotion of the cultural and constructive endeavors of mankind. Among American Jews, New Year's Day is dignified by a high spiritual message, enjoining greater devotion to God and country, expressed in public worship. It is also used as an occasion to exchange greetings between members of a family and friends in the home, in which the hope is voiced that they be enrolled and inspired for prosperity, happiness, and service in the ensuing year. From sunset on Tuesday, October 11, until sunset or Wednesday evening, October 12, the Jewish people will, everywhere, gather for the observance of Yom Kippur in their several places of worship and in their meditation and prayer, forgetful of the world outside, revive their confidence in the eventual triumph of God's love and justice, and the brotherhood of man. The Day of Atonement, known as Yom Kippur in Hebrew, is mentioned in the Bible, in the book of Leviticus, chapter 16, the elaborate priestly ceremonial of atonement is described. In Leviticus 23: 26-35, the observance of Yom Kippur is enjoined as a holy day whereon affliction of the soul (fasting, etc.) is to be practised. A traditional observance on this day has, thus, long been fasting. Originally the high priest was the central figure of the ritual. He sought forgiveness for his own sins and those of his household, and then for all the people. The sacrifice of two goats, one for the Lord and the other set aside for "Azazel," was a means of purification from sin. In modern times a memorial service is also a feature of the day. This service reminds the worshipper that death is a consummation of life, and should not be feared. No one who has lived worthily is forgotten, nor is his life void.

AT THE STRAND For today and Thursday the attraction at the Strand is "The Best of Luck." Cecil Raleigh, master of melodramatic plays; Henry Hamilton and Arthur Collins, were responsible for the stage version of "The Best of Luck." At Drury Lane it created a furore. "The Best of Luck" tells of a dashing heroine, Leslie MacLeod, who foils the attempts of a villainous Spaniard, General Lanzana, to compromise her and cheat her out of a fortune which lies in the hold of a Spanish galleon sunk a century before. An all star cast appears in "The Best of Luck." Kathryn Adams is beautiful and fascinating as the dashing Leslie. Jack Holt gives a fine performance as the young Lord Glenary. Lillie Leslie is the scheming Lady Westmore, who conspires with Lanzana, played by Fred Malatesta, to outwit the heroine. Other added novelties include a Sennet comedy, "Wedding Bells Out of Tune" and other features.

Bishop Fiske of Utica Charles Fiske and their son and daughter became Uticans yesterday. The bishop and his family arrived in the city during the afternoon and took possession of their new residence at 778 Genesee street, in the old mansion on the Perkins property. Mrs. Fiske and her son and daughter arrived early in the afternoon and the bishop came on the 3 o'clock car from Syracuse. The furniture had been sent on ahead by motor truck. The Episcopal appointments for October are also announced in the Gospel Messenger as follows: Bishop Olmsted—Homer, McLean and Marathon. Bishop Fiske—Boonville, Forestport, October 2; Oswego and Candor, October 9; Spencer and Van Etten, October 16; Fayetteville and Jamesville, October 23, and Marcerburg, October 30.

AT THE CAPITOL

Today offers the last times to see Rupert Hughes' great story of home, "The Old Nest," and other added features at the Capitol. A human interest story backed up by dramatic incidents which climax in a mad cattle stampede is "The Sky Pilot," which will be shown for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The story is taken from Ralph Connor's book of the same title. King Vidor as director of this Catharine Curtis production, has faithfully carried out the sentiment of this popular novel. There is no doubt but that the scenes of the cattle stampede in which 4,000 panstricken cattle are seen dashing madly on toward the form of the helpless little ranch girl will forever remain in the minds of movie fans. Fearing that the excited animals would bowl over his cameramen and their tripods regardless of how strong his platform might be, King Vidor decided to film the scenes from a pit eight feet in the ground, ten feet long and five feet wide. Thus it was that he was able to picture the cattle veered by the "Sky Pilot" from the prostrate body of the crippled ranch girl. John Bowers plays the part of "The Sky Pilot," with Colleen Moore as Gwen; David Butler as the ranch foreman; and others in the cast are Harry Todd, Kathleen Kirkham, Donald MacDonald and James Corrigan. Also a Toonerville comedy and other added novelties on the program.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to our relatives and friends for their sympathy, kindness and floral tributes at the funeral of our loved son and brother, Private Clarence Albert Hamlink. Our appreciation and thanks to the American Legion of Mexico, the World War Veterans who acted as betters and the firing squad from Oswego. MR. AND MRS. A. A. HAMLINK, MR. AND MRS. A. DUELL, MR. AND MRS. MONTCLAIR. 20421-228
