B. & B.

To-day the ladies should see the bargains in Remnants of Silk Plushes, Dress Goods, Sateens, Ginghams and Wash Goods. On the bargain table in the front part of the store our midsummer sale has made many remnants, so that to-day our assortment will be larger than usual.

BUSH & BULL.

EXPERIMENTAL at first and necessarily imperfect and unsatisfactory, the Gas Stove has within the past two years made rapid strides toward perfection, and is now recognized among the most important fixtures and economies of the household.

STEP BY STEP it has found entrance to our parlors, bed-rooms, kitchens, offices, stores and counting rooms, proving particularly attractive to the occupants of flats, but making friends everywhere and holding them easily by force of merit.

Reluctantly our good mothers relinquished the open fireplace, and the kettle singing merrily on the crane still lingers fondly in their memories. But who will mourn the exit of the coal stove and range before the incoming gas appliances for heating and cooking? Surely not Bridget! She no longer carries coal and ashes, or rises two hours earlier to wrestle with the fire—a match and a minute do the whole work; and before her biscuits are ready her Quick Meal is impatiently waiting to do her bidding.

FOUGHT FOR BLOOD.

Three Ruffians Engage in a Drunken Brawl on the Flats.

John Chambers, William Dickes and Robert Watt got drunk yesterday afternoon and began a quarrel that resulted in a bitter fight. As their anger increased they mutually agreed to go to the river flats, where the police couldn't get them and fight the thing out. Accordingly the trio did as agreed.

Once on the flats they pulled off their coats and started in. Chambers led the battle by close sparring and rather forced Watt to disastrous conclusions, he being unable to parry the blows of his antagonist. Dickes took an active part in the battle and put in all the blows that his inebriated condition would allow. The three men were so drunk that they made a farce of the battle and a quick patrol call led Officers Burchill and Cummings to catch them and take them to Police Headquarters where they were locked up charged with being drunk and fighting. About 8 o'clock President Tracy of the Board of Aldermen appeared at Police Headquarters and asked that Chambers be paroled, he agreeing to be responsible. This aldermanic interference freed Chambers. Later Dickes was paroled while poor Watts, who had no political pull slept off his debauch in a dreary cell.

The Circus.

Probably 5,000 people attended Washburn & Arlington's circus at Riley's grounds on East Main street yesterday afternoon and evening. Although there was no menagerie connected with the exhibition, the feats of the athletes, the excellent riding and the antics of the clown gave each looker-on his full 25 cents' worth of amusement. The exhibition began with a "Wild West" scene in which a lone hunter while asleep was pounced upon and murdered in cold blood by Indians who, in their turn, were shot down by scouts. This scene was followed by a very interesting part in which "Wild Horse Jack" mounted and successfully maintained his seat on a professional bucker. Miss Clea Mendoza's mid-air performances on the rope and pole, while difficult, were easily and gracefully accomplished. The part of the exhibition most appreciated was the sword contest between two Arabs. In this exercise yesterday afternoon each participant seemed to become dangerously earnest in his attempts to strike down his opponent. During the excitement an Arab who was sitting near accidently received a blow in the face from the sword of one of the contestants. So excited was he, however in cheering on his favorite in the contest that he didn't seem to mind it.

A Receiver Refused.

Judge Kinney yesterday handed down a decision in the case of John H. Aubel vs. John Christ, denying a motion for the appointment of a receiver of the property of the judgment debtor, the defendant, in proceedings supplementary to execution. The judgment debtor with his wife is the owner of real estate in this city, conveyed to them in 1889, and this is the only real property in which the defendant has any interest. In an opinion written on the case, Judge Kinney holds that the power of the court to direct a surrender by a judgment debtor of property in his possession to a receiver thereof, appointed in proceedings supplementary to execution, is limited to the personal property of the debtor.

The City Attorney's Opinion.

City Attorney Ernst is busy in the preparation of opinions upon the questions submitted to him by the Common Council at the last meeting, relating to the new ballot reform law. A meeting of the law committee will be held Monday afternoon, when his opinion will be delivered. The city fathers are finding it quite a task to arrange the boundaries of the new districts. Alderman Tracy has defined the boundaries of the First ward's districts as follows: First, from Erie canal east to Scott alley; Second, from Scott alley to Pindell alley; Third, from Pindall alley to the river.

The Route to the Park.

Thursday afternoon was the date set for a conference between the executive committee of the Park Commission and John N. Beckley, of the electric railway company, to determine if possible the route the cars shall take to Genesee Valley Park. No quorum of the executive committee was present, however, and so the matter was only informally discussed. No date has been set for a second meeting for the reason that several of the park commissioners are out of the city.

A Successful Excursion.

The moonlight excursion given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Plymouth Avenue Baptist Church, Thursday evening, was largely patronized and very much enjoyed. Edson L. Cory was awarded the prize for having sold the most tickets, and was highly complimented for his interest and zeal to which much of the success of the evening was due.

The Clearing House.

Yesterday's transactions at the Rochester Clearing House were as follows: Clearings, $316,981.51; balances, $96,886.48.

THE SENECA FALLS FIRE.

A Talk With Colonel Noyes, Who Visited the Burned District.

Colonel H. T. Noyes of this city was called by telegram to Seneca Falls, his old home, immediately after the disastrous fire of Wednesday last. Colonel Noyes is interested in several business enterprises there and his losses are quite heavy, but he appears to be more affected by the losses his friends have sustained than his own. He returned to the city Thursday night and was seen by a DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE reporter last evening. He said:

"The very heart of the village lies in ruins. If you can imagine Powers Hotel and the surrounding buildings burnt to the ground you know what the condition of Seneca Falls is now, only of course the loss is proportionately greater as the village is smaller than the city.

"The burned district covers three acres and on that ground hardly a wall is left standing. While the fire raged it was terrific. Some of the best hose manufactured in the United States was burned in the middle of the street, while a stream of water was running through it.

"Many business men are ruined by the destruction of their property. They had good businesses paying them comfortable living incomes, but the fire swept everything away and now they have nothing with which to begin life again. If I could see them situated as they were before the fire, I would be willing to have my own losses increased many times."

"How was it that the insurance policies carried by the victims of the fire were for such small amounts?" asked the reporter.

"About a year ago some experts decided that the risks on the burned district were very great and in consequence advanced rates. A number of policy holders cancelled their insurance and many reduced the amount carried to a sum representing about one-fourth of the value of their property. Among the burned buildings were the ones that the insurance companies had decided were liable to go. Negotiations were in progress between the property holders and the company officials when the fire came and proved the insurance men to be about right in their prognostications. If it had been certain other portions of the village that had been burnt out, no one would have felt particularly bad about it, but as it was, the very best streets were gutted.

"Luckily, the heaviest loses fall on rich people with money invested in other enterprises, who can stand the losses, although they are severe, without a great reduction of their fortunes but the fire deprived many of all their possessions."

THE NEW HEADQUARTERS.

Second Day's Exercises at the West Avenue Temperance Rooms.

Yesterday was the second day of the opening exercises of the Eighth Ward W. C. T. U. headquarters, at No. 143 West avenue. In the afternoon about fifty children were present. They were addressed by Rev. Mr. Newman and Rev. Mr. Baker, and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

The attendance last evening was larger than at any time during the opening exercises, nearly 150 persons being present. A short literary and musical programme, including a recitation by Miss May Grilling and songs by Mrs. Fond, Mrs. Durgin and Miss Carroll, was rendered. In a speaking contest by six little children, Amy English, a little five-year-old girl, was awarded the prize. Ice cream and cake were served after the entertainment.

Several applications for meals were made at the rooms at noon yesterday by persons having mistaken the date of the opening of the dining-room. This is the opening day, and hereafter meals will be served three times a day, regularly.

The first gospel meeting in the new rooms is to be held to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and the second one next Thursday evening. Loyal Temperance Legion No. 1, of the Eighth ward, will meet in the new rooms next Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Griffing, Miss Vosburg and other ladies of the Eighth Ward Union, have worked early and late for the good of the new undertaking and their efforts should be crowned with success.

The Robbers Captured.

Last Sunday night the house of Magdelena Schubert, on the river road, in the town of Chili, was entered by burglars. The story of the burglary has already been told. Chief Hayden was notified last Monday, and Mrs. Schubert swore out warrants for James Doe and Richard Roe. Chief Hayden put Detectives Kavanagh and Furtherer on the case, and the officers, from the description given, located the men, who assaulted and robbed the old lady. At 4 o'clock yesterday morning Detectives Kavanagh and Furtherer with Lieutenant Baird and Officers McAllister and Banker found Edward Osburn at his home, on Tremont street, and arrested him. William Martin was arrested on Prospect street and both were locked up, charged with the crime. Chief Hayden learned that both of these men were in the neighborhood on the night of the robbery and the detectives shadowed them. Both are young men. Osburn has a hard name and has been arrested before and served time in the penitentiary. Mrs. Schubert will be given a chance to identify the burglars this morning.

Celebrating Emancipation Day.

The Empire and Star lodges, I. O. O. F. of this city, composed of colored citizens, united with the sister lodges of Buffalo yesterday in celebrating emancipation day. The Buffalo delegates were met at the Central-Hudson station by their Rochester brothers and escorted to Maple Grove. After dinner an address was made by H. J. Callis of this city, and the emancipation proclamation was read by Miss Alice Jeffrey. A ball was held at Washington Rink last night, Jackson's orchestra of Buffalo furnishing the music.

O'Rorke Post Drill Corps.

O'Rorke Post Drill Corps will go to Boston, to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R., fully armed, uniformed and equipped, and perfect in drill and discipline. So far as known this is the only G. A. R. organization that is fully armed and otherwise complete as a military organization. It has never yet attended a G. A. R. national encampment, and its appearance at Boston will be a surprise to the comrades, and a credit to the Flower City.

A Blind Run.

Twenty-five members of the Flower City Wheelmen enjoyed a club run from club headquarters to Brighton and back last night. The run was a "blind" one, nobody but the officers knowing its direction until East avenue was reached en route. The club returned to the rooms at 9:30 o'clock and feasted on watermelons. A meeting will be held on Monday evening at club headquarters, Room No. 5, Washington Hall block.

First Ward Republicans.

At the caucus of First ward Republicans last evening the following delegates to the Congressional convention were elected without opposition: C. D. Kiehl, John Runacre, William Nivan, Sr., Louis C. Cook, Adam Vogel.

GENERAL RAILWAY NEWS

Head-End Collision on the Erie Near Batavia.

JUMPING FOR THEIR LIVES

The Engineers and Firemen Escaped With Slight Injuries—The Engines Badly Wrecked—News of Local Interest Heard Along the Roads.

A serious head-end collision occurred on the Erie about three miles east of Batavia yesterday morning between an east bound wild cat engine and the west bound passenger train due in Batavia at 8:38 o'clock. No one was seriously injured, the engineers and firemen escaping by jumping, but both engines were wrecked and it will cost the company several thousand dollars to repair the damage.

The accident occurred on a sharp double curve, and the engineers barely had time to apply the air brakes before jumping for their lives. Harry Brock, of Rochester, was engineer of the wildcat, and William Sweeney, also of this city, fireman.

George Westfall and William Brothers were the passenger engineer and fireman. Brock was running to Lime Rock to meet the Attica way freight, but was behind time. Fireman Brothers had just thrown in coal when he saw Westfall suddenly apply the air brakes and then leap from the cab. The two men rolled down a ten-foot embankment, smashing a board fence, but escaped with slight bruises. Sweeney sprained an ankle in his jump, but Engineer Brock escaped unhurt. The pilots, cylinders and boiler heads of the two engines were crushed and the tenders were crowded through the cabs. The driving wheels remained upon the track.

The baggage car of the passenger train was telescoped and the baggage-master buried beneath a pile of trunks, but he was rescued with slight bruises.

Many of the passengers were severely bruised but none received serious injuries. The tracks were cleared within six hours. Considering the force of the collision the escape from fatal results is remarkable. The loss to the company will be about $4,000.

TWO FATAL ACCIDENTS.

Conrad Lesser, an Erie track-walker, was struck by the 9:45 o'clock train from this city near South Park yesterday morning. He was brought to the Court street station by the same train and removed to the City Hospital in the ambulance. Lesser was found to be severely cut about the head and one leg was crushed, requiring amputation. He died soon after the operation. Lesser was 36 years old and lived at No. 73 Oakland Park. He leaves a wife and three children.

James Malloy, a section boss on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg at Charlotte, was struck by a shifting engine while crossing the river bridge yesterday. Both legs were cut off below the knee. He was removed to St. Mary's Hospital where he died a few hours later. Malloy was 29 years old and unmarried. Coroner Kleindienst will hold the inquest.

NOTES.

—Superintendent Bell, of the Western New York & Pennsylvania, was in the city yesterday.

—It is stated that the passenger brakemen on the Hudson River railroad will combine for more pay. Head brakemen now receive $40 and will ask for $45.

—General Passenger Agent Daniels, of the Central, has issued a new publication to be called the Central-Hudson Magazine. It contains a variety of information useful to travelers, and will be published monthly for free distribution.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company on Thursday paid the last installment on account of the purchase of the main line of their road from the State of Pennsylvania. The check was filled out for $635,654, which includes interest. The main line of the road was purchased from the state in 1857 for something over $7,000,000, and the railroad company stipulated to pay for it in yearly installments of $460,000.

—The Baldwin Locomotive Works have recently completed, or are now building, locomotives weighing 150,000 pounds each for the Northern Pacific, Philadelphia & Reading, Cornwall & Lebanon, Pennsylvania & Northwestern, Central of New Jersey, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, and Wilmington & Northern. The use of these locomotives is rapidly extending, and the only obstacle to their immediate introduction on many roads is the insufficient strength of bridges.

MORTUARY MATTERS.

—The funeral of William H. Smith will be held at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the family residence No. 21 Dean street.

—Oliver, infant son of Elihu D. and Edith Brownson, died yesterday at No. 74 Silver street. Funeral at 8 o'clock this afternoon.

—Louis Evelyn, youngest son of Jonathan E. Pierpont, died at Manitou Springs, Colorado, last Tuesday, aged 25 years. Notice of funeral hereafter.

—The funeral of Andrew Hoffner will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning from the family residence on North Clinton street and at 11 o'clock at St. Michael's Church.

—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Peer will take place at 8:30 o'clock this morning from her residence No. 557 North street, and at 9 o'clock from St. Bridget's Church.

—The funeral of Mrs. Julia A. Hewlitt, who died at her residence, No. 58 Atkinson street, on Thursday last, will be held at Christ Church at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

—Mrs. Margaret Roach, aged 90 years, died suddenly yesterday at her home No. 33 Julia street. Coroner Graham issued a certificate of death from old age. The funeral will be held from the church of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday morning.

PURELY PERSONAL.

—Mrs. George Mason is chaperoning a party of young people at the Thousand Islands.

—Mrs. F. B. Allen, wife of Lieutenant F. B. Allen of the Police Department, is confined to the house by a sprained ankle.

—Hollis C. Clark, of the United States Corps of Cadets, West Point, is spending his furlough with his mother, Mrs. H. L. Clark, No. 89 Meigs street.

—John W. Clements, William L. Ratcliffe, William O. Morse and James C. Clements returned from Canadice Lake last night with a big string of fish and reports of a very pleasant trip.

BEAUTIFUL BIETRY BEACH.

The Best Summer Real Estate Investment in Western New York.

Passengers on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railway, from Windsor Beach to Charlotte, have been constantly attracted, during the present summer, by the handsome cottage, property bordering on the railway and extending down to the shore of Lake Ontario. This handsome property is Bietry Beach Park, by far the handsomest bit of property for cottages on the south shore of the lake.

A number of lots have been already sold and handsome and sightly cottages have been erected. A park has been laid out in the beautiful valley for the exclusive use of Bietry Beach property owners and trees and shrubbery are already growing. Each of the broad avenues are lined with shade trees. The water is furnished by a deep well, from which it is drawn by a picturesque windmill.

Bietry Beach is within three minutes walk of the station of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railway at Windsor Beach and affords great attractions for city people who desire a secluded, handsome and healthful location for a summer cottage. The proprietor of the park, Mr. Charles Salmon, whose place of business in the city is at the corner of Clinton and Andrews streets, has spent many thousands of dollars in improving and beautifying Bietry Beach Park. He has however, kept the price of lots at the figure originally placed upon them, and he is now offering them at figures which mark them as a very advantageous investment. That they will double in value several times goes without saying, as Bietry Beach Park is already recognized as the most attractive location on the lake shore.

There is no spot on Lake Ontario, in fact, more beautifully situated for summer homes than Bietry Beach Park. The building sites are on elevated ground. The drainage is natural and perfect, and the location is remote from swampy land. The view of Lake Ontario from all parts of the park is a beautiful one. The park has its own Lyceum building for amusements. Electric lights and still other improvements are in contemplation, and, taken all in all, the location, as has been said, is unrivaled. Any one who contemplates building a summer home, within a few minutes' ride of business in the city should consult Mr. Salmon before purchasing.

A MODERN MILL.

An Establishment Which Will Make the Englishmen Stare.

By invitation of Mr. Chase of the milling firm of Chase, Armstrong & Shaw, a DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE reporter yesterday visited the firm's remodelled Arcade mill on Aqueduct street.

The mill as now arranged has a capacity of 300 barrels of flour per day. During the past four months it has been supplied with entire new and modern machinery, which makes it by far the most complete flouring mill in the city. It now contains twenty-one pairs of rolls for grinding wheat by the new process. There are twenty-seven Odell separating machines and eight large Odell purifiers. The work of the mill is facilitated by thirty-two sets of elevators. On the upper floor is a large Washburn dust collector, using 180 yards of cloth similar to Turkish towelling. In addition to the dust collector there are, on the upper floor, four Cyclone dust collectors, which remove all the dust from the grain. The result is that much sought for desideratum, a dustless flouring mill.

In every department of the mill new and approved machinery, for manufacturing the choicest products has been placed in position.

The representative of the North American Miller pronounces the Arcade mill the finest and best equipped in the state, and calls particular attention to the standard brand of flour manufactured under the name "Pride of the Nation." The Arcade mill seems, indeed to be thoroughly equipped for turning out a brand of flour worthy of this name. The mill is now in full operation.

The senior member of the firm, John H. Chase, is president of the Chase-Hibbard Milling Company, of Elmira, which owns the largest flouring mill in Chemung county.

A Deep Cut.

The fact is, that on this first day of August it would take printed volumes to describe the nice goods we have in the line of wraps and blazers. We have again made substantial reductions in prices. We have no cheap garments on hand so far as make and appearance are concerned, but when intrinsic value is applied to the term they are so indeed. To-day we offer a beautiful line of white and colored flannel blazers, tailor made and very stylish in build and of fine material, for $2.89 and $3.50. Earlier in the season they sold readily for $5. On ladies' fancy and black silk shirts and blouses we have put a price which is somewhat near the cost of the raw material in them. We have boys' flannel blouses for 39c, boys' satine blouse waists for 89c. These comprise a great variety in flannel, silk and jersey cloths at different prices, but all of them extremely low. As everybody knows, we are headquarters for shawls in Western New York, and are now offering beautiful wraps for evening wear or for ocean or mountain travel.

How to Buy a Horse.

If you have a family carriage, and want a horse warranted to be large and strong enough to draw the same, just go to the different sales stables and call for bids, and give your contract to the lowest bidder, no matter if he is blind in one eye and goes a little lame on the off side, he can draw the carriage. But when you want a furnace to heat your house, and give pleasure as well as service don't follow the above rules, but look for a thoroughbred, found only at No. 21 South Clinton street, Hayward Building. "Cheerful Home" furnace, speed two six and a quarter.
