The Globe:

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS.

And Newspaper for the People.

It will be seen by the annexed extract from a letter of Gen. Washington to David Stewart, dated New York, 17th March, 1790, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe, originated in the mind of the Father of his country. He said:

"It is to be lamented that the editors of the different gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical declamation, which few would read if they were apprised of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as well as the decisions, would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgment."—Sparks's Writings of Washington, vol. 10, p. 84.

THE DAILY GLOBE
AND
THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE.

In surrendering my interest in the organ of a great political party, I cherished the purpose of continuing the Congressional Globe, and, if possible, in time to perfect it into a full history of the action of Congress, giving the debates accurately and fully with the proceedings—all stamped with the verity of an official record. From the passage in the letter of General Washington, which I have quoted, it will be perceived that he thought this office ought to be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the anxiety of the public for news of the less important kind greatly contributes to give wings to the weightier matter which may be called Congressional news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress, and giving them the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad in connexion with the news of the day, in such haste as shall outstrip full and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of Government in any other form whatever. It will cause a despatch of the scraps of news forwarded to cities within two hundred and fifty miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers, (for instance, of the city of New York,) the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now lay before the public.

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Congress, each in succession will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them slip by slip in the hands of compositors, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock p. m. for the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 o'clock p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the cities two hundred and fifty miles from the Capitol before their daily morning papers are in circulation.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careful to gather from remote sections of the country by telegraph. I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of moment transacted in them, and, through agents employed for the purpose, all the city news of consequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington before the public mind at a distance had received its first impressions from irresponsible telegraphic dispatches, or by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a centre of political interest during all the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country—that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most correct intelligence.

It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to invite advertisements. I will publish advertisements of the Government. To subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village throughout the Union, where the Globe is sent daily under the franks of members of Congress, all of whom take it, and some of them a large number of copies.

The installation of a new Administration and a new Congress portends much change in the course of public affairs as the result of the next session. Many vast interests which were brought up in the last Congress were laid over by the Democratic majority to await the action of a Democratic Executive. The new modeling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of giving homesteads, and making every man a freeholder who may choose to become one; the appropriation of the Atlantic and Pacific Ocean by a national railroad across the territory of the Union; reforms in the Army, Navy, and civil offices—all these great questions, with a thousand minor ones, deeply affecting multitudes of men and every State in the Union, will, now being matured by public opinion, come up for the Government's decision. These new issues, co-operating with old ones, coming up to be disposed of by new actors on the scenes at Washington, will be apt to modify greatly, if not alter essentially, the party organization of the country.

To these elements of interest another is likely to be introduced by the interposition of the agitations of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe there is an evident restlessness that now seems fraught with tendencies threatening war; and if war comes, in all likelihood there will follow such universal change that the United States can scarcely hope to escape its vortex. Indeed, from late events it is apparent that our Government is already drawn into European difficulties. These circumstances are calculated to draw the public mind towards the next Congress with much expectation.

The DAILY GLOBE will be printed on fine paper, double royal size, with small type, (brevier and non pareil,) at five dollars a year.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE will also be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The Congressional Globe paper will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves will, together with the messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress, be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately; but this has not been found entirely satisfactory, inasmuch as it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress; and therefore I have concluded not to sell them apart, considering that neighbors can have the advantage of both by clubbing in case individuals shall find it too onerous to be at the charge of both.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe and cheapen it to subscribers, Congress passed last year a joint resolution making it free of postage. I annex it, as the law may not be accessible to post masters generally:

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the Laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contains the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress; Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

Approved, Aug. 6, 1852.

As I sell the Daily Globe at half the price of similar publications, so the Congressional Globe and Appendix is sold for half the cost of as much composition, press work, and paper. This I can afford to do, inasmuch as the subscription of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper. It requires the sale of about 8000 copies to reimburse expenses. If 500 only were sold, the cost of each copy would be about $104! The debates in the English Parliament cost about sixteen times as much as I charge subscribers for the debates in Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.

The next session of Congress will be a long one, and it is believed the Congressional Globe for it will reach 4000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3,842; and the long one before that made 4,000 royal quarto pages—four large volumes each session. If subscribers will be careful to file the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may miscarry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seventeen volumes will now command three times, and some of the subsequent ones twice, their original subscription price.

The subscription price for the Congressional Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.

Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the session is ended.

Subscriptions for the Daily should have their money here by the 5th, and for the Congressional Globe by the 15th of December. The money must accompany an order for either the Daily or the Congressional Globe. Bank notes current where a subscriber resides will be received at par.

FRUIT, AND ORNAMENTAL TREES. Shrubs, &c.

THIS is the proper time to commence autumn planting of Trees and Shrubs.

The proprietor of the OSWEGO NURSERY would notify the public that, for their convenience as well as his own, he has built an office and secured a large plat of ground, at the corner of E. First and Utica streets, where he is now setting, temporarily, for sale, a general assortment of Trees, Shrubs, and every thing pertaining to a general Nursery stock. Gentlemen from abroad will find his office and Tree Depot, directly on their walk from the Railroad Depot to the steamboat landing on the east side of the river; and he would claim with great confidence, both from theory and experience, that his trees are more valuable for our gardens and orchards, as well as northern localities, than those grown in any nursery in western New York. In the city he will deliver trees to any point ordered, and men to set them, and give a written guarantee that the shall live for one year, and bear the varieties of fruit that they are labelled, for a reasonable consideration being paid for labor and risk. He has a large stock of both dwarf and standard trees in a bearing state. J. W. P. ALLEN.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Astonishing Cure of Bad Legs, after 43 years' suffering.

Extract of a letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70 St. Mary's street, Weymouth, dated May 15, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61,) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her agonies were distracting, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your Advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without seam or scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the last 43 years, and contrast them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted in having been the means of so greatly alleviating the sufferings of a fellow-creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN.

A person 70 years of age Cured of a Bad Leg, of Thirty years' standing.

Copy of a letter from Mr. William Abbs, Builder, Gas Course of Rushcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg, the result of two or three different accidents at Gas Works; accompanied by scorbutic symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was even told that the leg must be amputated; yet, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in so short a time, that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact.

(Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be verified by Mr. W. P. England, Chemist, 13, Market street, Huddersfield.

A Dreadful Breast Cured in One Month

Extract of a letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Penshurst, Kent, dated December 13, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered from Bad Breasts for more than six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before healed an awful wound in my own leg by your unrivalled medicine, I determined again to use your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial in her case, and fortunate it was I did so, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that various other branches of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I now strongly recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDERICK TURNER.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

Bad Legs,	Chigo foot,	Fistulas,
Bad Breasts,	Chilblains,	Gout,

Professor Alex. C. Barry's Tricopherus.—A New Volume of Proof Opened.

Heretofore, Prof. Barry in his communications with the public through the press, has confined himself mainly to scientific descriptions of the modus operandi by which his Tricopherous produces such wonderful effects upon the Hair, Skin, and the Muscular System. It now occurs to him that the wonderful operation of the article as a means of cleansing, renovating, preserving, and beautifying the Hair, and of curing cutaneous diseases, Cuts, Bites, and all irritation of the Skin, being known throughout the Continent of America, and the rest of the civilized world, it may be well to exhibit the statistical proofs of its popularity. They constitute a chapter in the history of articles of personal use entirely unparalleled as the following account of sales for the past year at the depot and manufactory of Barry's Tricopherous will show:

Average Wholesale per Day.—Twenty gross, or two thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight bottles.

Average Receipts per Day.—Three hundred dollars, at wholesale and retail.

Number of Bottles Sold in the Year.—Six thousand two hundred and ninety gross, or nine hundred and thirty-eight thousand five hundred and sixty bottles.

Total Receipts for the year.—Ninety-three thousand six hundred dollars.

Be it remembered that this immense amount is derived from a preparation selling at 25 cents per large bottle retail, and a considerable reduction on that price wholesale. For sale wholesale and retail, at No. 137 Broadway, and by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c. Also by J. B. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Cure of a Disordered Liver and bad Digestion

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 7 Prescot-st., Liverpool dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY:

SIR,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad

An Extraordinary Cure of Rheumatic Fever, in Van Diemen's Land.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

Cure of a Pain and Tightness in the Chest and Stomach of a person Eighty-four years of Age.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—August 2nd, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtue. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

(Signed.) HENRY COE, North Street, Lynn, Norfolk.

PRIVATE AND CONFIDENTIAL

To whom it may concern; To the Intelligent; the Thoughtful; the Philanthropic. Your earnest attention is respectfully invited to the following advertisement of a New, Original, Popular, and very Important Work.

A Pocket Volume, 18mo, of 400 pages. Illustrated by nearly One Hundred Engravings,

ENTITLED,

Esoteric Anthropology

BY T. L. NICHOLS, M. D.

Principal of the American Hydropathic Institute, Educational and Therapeutical, at Portchester, N. Y., one hour's distance from New York City on the New York and New Haven Railroad.

A Comprehensive and Confidential Treatise on the Structure, Functions, Passional Attractions and Perversions, True and False Physical and Social Conditions, and the most intimate relations of Men and Women.

The title, Esoteric Anthropology, will seem strange to many, but it is thoroughly appropriate. Anthropology is from Anthropos, and Logos, a description. Esoteric from Eso, within, signifies private, secret, interior, and was used by the ancient philosophers to distinguish their private letters, given in the interiors of their dwellings, upon the sacred mysteries of science and philosophy, to their chosen disciples, from their Exoteric discourses, which were given to the public. Esoteric Anthropology is, therefore, a private treatise on Human Anatomy, Physiology, Phatology, Therapeutics, and Obstetrics—on the whole science of man—plain in language, full and faithful in illustration, and written in all the frankness of a private letter, under the seal of professional confidence. It contains the highest and deepest truths in every department of Human Physiology, with their individual and social application; the true nature and hidden causes of Disease; the condition of Health, physical and Passional; all that information which every human being needs, which few dare ask for, or know how to obtain, but which, amid the discordances and depravities of civilization, is of priceless value.

There are many subjects connected with the broad science of Human Life, of the deepest and most vital interest to man and the race, in regard to which a terrible ignorance everywhere prevails; an ignorance which is destroying the health, shortening the lives, and sacrificing the happiness of millions—a blight threatening the power of nations, and the perpetuity of races.

Professional works on Physiology are dry, mechanical, or chemical, scientifically ignorant, as well as technically incomprehensible. The popular works are superficial, meagre, and necessarily wanting in the most important matters. The quack books are full of errors, false in science, absurd in philosophy, mischievous in morals, and basely mercenary in their motives. In most cases these books are the advertising mediums of some spurious charlatan, who wants patients, or letters of consultation, or who has some instrument to sell or some nostrum to palm off upon the credulous.

The world has need of a very different book from any of these—such a book has never been written, and as can not now be published in the usual way, sold by book-sellers, and hawked by agents or peddlers. The author of Esoteric Anthropology, a Teacher, a Physician, a public and private Lecturer on all branches of Medical Science, has written this book with a freedom he could never have used in a work for the public, or one open to criticism. It is for his pupils and patients, for intelligent men and women, who wish to understand the deepest mysteries of life; especially is it for the noble and heroic few, who are brave enough to examine and accept new truths, and wise enough to profit by them. There can scarcely be any important question, which any man or woman can ever need to ask a physician, to which this volume does not contain an answer. It is so complete in this respect, that the author hopes and believes that no one who reads it will ever need to trouble him with a professional consultation. It is henceforth his chosen method of medical instruction and practice, and in it he has performed the duty he owes to mankind as Teacher of the sick, a preserver of health, and a teacher of the Laws of Life.

Among the subjects treated of in this work, are the following: Man, and his relations to the Spiritual and Material Universe; Human Anatomy; The Chemistry of Man; Principles of Physiology and the Active Forces of Nature; The Three Groups of Functions, Organic, Animal, and Generative; The whole Phylosophy and Processes of Reproduction; The True Law of Marriage; The Conditions of Health; Causes of Disease; Curative agencies; Processes of Water-cure; Diseases and Treatment; Passional Diseases; Diseases of the General System; Brain and Nerves; Respiration; Digestion; Generation; Gestation and Parturition; Lactation and the management of Infancy, etc., etc., including every important condition and process from the beginning to the close of life, and containing especially—

1. A clear and simple illustrated view of the structure of the body, and all its complex organism, male and female.

2. A full account of the functions of life, with such illustrated description of the evolution of the embryo as has not before been given.

3. All that is known of health and disease, with the means for the preservation of the former, and the cure of the latter.

4. So careful an explanation of the whole process of gestation and child-birth, as will enable every woman to dispense with the services of a physician or professional mid-wife.

Esoteric Anthropology is plain and simple in language, all its illustration, as common bowing: as the utmost curiosity can wish, and without one line of pandering, or be considered hunting of a few.

It must be evident that such a book, written with the necessary freedom, and illustrated with fullness, must not be profaned. It is not for the counter, the bookstall, the library shelf, or the center table. It is not to be offered for curious examination, nor urged upon those who can not appreciate its value. It is advertised, that every one who needs it may obtain it, if he will. Whether the social proprieties be true or false, the author cannot violate them, and as facts compel us to keep this book strictly esoteric, a private work. To be sent as a confidential answer to a professional consultation, and be trusts that no person will not apply for it who will not make it a private of honor to so consider it.

To all such persons it will be sent BY MAIL, to any designated address, POST-PAID, on the receipt of One Dollar, sent free of postage, to T. L. NICHOLS, M. D., Portchester, N. Y. 3m
