Flowers For Your Wedding

One of the most beautiful things about a wedding is the flowers. Whether your wedding is an intimate home ceremony, or a formal church wedding, the same care and thoughtfulness is given. You needn't be lavish with them, but they must be in perfect taste. We'll be glad to assist you in selecting "just the right flowers" for your bridesmaids, the perfect bouquet for you... all our weddings so your worries are over when you put your problems in our hands. The wise bride-to-be knows that Perkins is THE place for flowers.

ANNOUNCE THE BRIDE...

It begins here!

Nancy Corsoniti, Patrick Frawley
United in Pre-Christmas Ceremony

Miss Nancy Lee Corsoniti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nunzy Corsoniti, R.D. 1, Honey Hill Road, Fulton, and Patrick John Frawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Frawley, R.D. 2, East River Road, Fulton, were united in Holy Matrimony, Saturday, December 30, 1967 at the Holy Family Church. The Rev. William J. Brown officiated the solemn double ring ceremony. Escorting by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of silk organza, styled with a gently scooped neckline, long sleeves, and an A-line panel skirt. The madonna veil of cathedral length was made with a border of lace around the edge, which matched that of the gown.

Miss Jeanne Corsoniti, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a red velvet gown, styled with an empire waistline, long sleeves, and a victorian neckline. Lace, matching that of the bridal gown, trimmed the neckline and sleeves. She wore a white velvet bow as a headpiece and carried a white muff.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul McKinney and Miss Joyce Boyer, friends of the bride, and Mrs. John Jones, cousin of the bride. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor, matching red bows, and carried white muffs.

Miss Patricia Corsoniti, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white velvet gown, trimmed with red, wore a matching red velvet bow, and carried a white muff, trimmed with red flowers.

Stephen Frawley, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Thomas Frawley, brother of the groom, Anthony Corsoniti, brother of the bride, and Paul McKinney.

A reception was held at the Dante Aleghieri Lodge preceding the wedding trip to New York City. The bride is a graduate of State University College at Oswego and is now teaching at the Elm Street School in Phoenix. The bridegroom is presently a senior at Leflore College in Syracuse.
